

WENTWORTH MILITARY ACADEMY

ESTABLISHED 1880 — LEXINGTON, MO.

HIGH SCHOOL AND JUNIOR COLLEGE

WENTWORTH'S PURPOSE

It is the purpose of Wentworth Military Academy to provide the best conditions possible for the all 'round development of worthy boys and young men.

To attain this high purpose, the Academy places greatest emphasis upon these four points:

First, it is the Academy's aim to assemble only the highest types of students—deserving youths of good parentage—to assure wholesome associations and greater progress. Every precaution is taken to keep undesirable boys—all those that might prove detrimental to others—out of the Academy.

Second, to employ only men of highest character and ability for its faculty. It is not enough for a Wentworth faculty member to be merely scholarly and a splendid instructor. He must also possess a spirit of friendliness and a sincere desire to give kindly help whenever necessary. He must thoroughly understand the innermost problems of boys—be patient with them—and be ready to serve each boy to the best of his ability.

Third, to provide the very best equipment throughout every department to the end that every boy will have all those things necessary to his health and happiness and that none shall want for anything that will help him to make progress.

Fourth, to provide a program for each day that will best serve the interests of every student.

* Colonel James M. Sellers, A. B.,
Superintendent.

Wentworth 1912, University of Chicago, A. B. 1917, Phi Beta Kappa 1916; Sigma Xi; Beta Theta Pi; Major U. S. Marine Reserve 1917-1920; Distinguished Service Cross; Navy Cross; Silver Star; Purple Heart; Croix-de-Guerre; Past President of Association of Military Colleges and Schools of the United States; Officer in Grand Lodge and Grand Commanderies of Missouri.

From the beginning the late President Sellers surrounded himself with the ablest faculty available—strong men of proved qualities and Christian character. Under his wise and forward-looking direction, Wentworth has grown steadily. Each year has shown marked improvement over the preceding year. Today Wentworth stands as one of the truly great educational institutions of our country—second to none in the opportunities it offers boys and young men for thorough preparation for professional studies, business and for life.

SINCE EIGHTEEN EIGHTY

One of the chief reasons why Wentworth has been able to achieve its lofty purpose lies in the fact that the Academy has been under one continuous administration since its founding. For nearly three-score years, Colonel Sanford Sellers was president of Wentworth. He enjoyed one of the most enviable records in the history of American education.

The Academy was founded by Stephen G. Wentworth, scion of a distinguished English family and a prominent Lexington banker, in 1880, as a memorial to his deceased son, William Wentworth. Mr. Wentworth immediately vested control of the institution in the hands of a board of trustees composed of a duly elected representative of each of the Evangelical churches of Lexington, and a president, Colonel Sellers was called to the new school in its first year and remained as its active head until 1938. Mr. Wentworth served as president of the Board from 1880 until his death in 1897.

It was the firm conviction of the founder, his board of trustees and President Sellers that a military boarding school provides the most effective possible means for giving young men the thorough mental, moral and physical training necessary to develop in them the highest traits of manhood. Thus, Wentworth became the first military school in the Missouri River Valley.

AN HISTORIC BACKGROUND

Throughout over half a century the Wentworth purpose has remained unchanged. The ideals which led to the Academy's founding and which have carried it steadily forward, shine just as brightly today as ever: the desire to give each youth every opportunity to develop fully his own individual personality; the aim that every cadet shall acquire a keen sense of duty and responsibility, both to himself and toward others; that he shall have the mental and moral power to make accurate judgments between right and wrong and the physical power to stand by his convictions.

These high standards have dominated Wentworth for generations. But to maintain them and assure their full and continuous application, it has been found necessary to limit the enrollment. Wentworth today is a relatively small school—many times larger than in 1880, to be sure, yet small enough that every individual student is given the private attention so essential to his all-round development.

The surrounding country affords a wealth of historically important Civil War sites and the town of Lexington itself retains much of the tradition of the old south. Here enthusiasm for the reminders of our country's glorious past is combined with the enthusiasm for modern adventure to promote the rapid development of the boy's mental, moral and physical resources.

YESTERDAY

Above is pictured the first company ever assembled at Wentworth. From this humble beginning, the Academy has marched forward over a trail of development that has placed it in the front rank of America's best military schools.

and TODAY

The Wentworth Military Academy of today is vastly different from the Wentworth of 1880. From year to year it has enlarged its facilities, increased its enrollment and changed its physical appearance until there is little to remind one of the early days. Numerous modern and attractive buildings have been erected as they were needed. Old buildings have been torn away when they were no longer useful. Spacious military and athletic fields have been added. One of the finest gymnasiums in the country has been built. Every new method in teaching that has been found definitely superior to older methods has been adopted. Yet, some of the fundamental principles that guided the first company are adhered to just as strictly today.

MILITARY DEPARTMENT

MILITARY training at Wentworth has always been a strong feature, but it is never permitted to interfere with the scholastic work of the Academy. It can be shown, moreover, that military discipline has a decidedly advantageous effect upon classroom work.

In recognition of the superior military work done at Wentworth, in 1889 the Academy became a post of the Missouri National Guard. Graduates of the Academy who resided in Missouri, became eligible for commissions in this organization.

Wentworth has been under the direct supervision of the War Department of the United States Government since 1895, when the first active army officer was detailed to the Academy. This officer, assisted by active non-commissioned officers of the army, is in charge of all military work. In addition, the War Department furnishes around $50,000 worth of equipment to be used for instruction purposes. Wentworth is one of the original Honor Schools of the United States; the highest rating given by the War Department. The Academy has been a unit of the Reserve Officers' Training Corps from the time that organization was established.

* This monument, erected on the campus by the Alumni Association, to the memory of Wentworth cadets who died in the World War No. 1, typifies the loyal spirit of generations of former Wentworth cadets.

* Patriotism is no sham at Wentworth. Every cadet is taught the real meaning of our flag. Each day, with appropriate ceremonies, the Stars and Stripes are raised and lowered on the towering flag pole.

The cadet whose face shows under the curve of the flag is now Ex-Lt. Wm. Bates, who flew a bomber in the European theater of operations; controlling the flag ropes is Kenneth Winters, late of the Navy. The bugler is Lieut. Max Condon, a flier killed in the service.

ADMINISTRATION BUILDING

Within Wentworth's Administration Building are handsomely furnished parlors, corridors and reception rooms. Among its furnishings and decorations students and guests alike find many articles of interest and rare beauty. Its comfortable furnishings amid peaceful surroundings afford a homelike atmosphere where the new cadet readily adapts himself to a wholesome, happy experience. Here in an atmosphere of quiet dignity, every student is privileged to entertain his guests or to spend his leisure moments as governed by his daily schedule. None of the comforts of the modern home have been excluded in Wentworth's plan to provide the finest training and quarters available.

About the CAMPUS

* Marine Hall.

Nature and man have joined forces at Wentworth to produce a campus of outstanding beauty. Magnificent trees, of many varieties, blend in perfect harmony with modern, attractive buildings and spacious grounds. The Academy is located just at the edge of Lexington and covers 52 acres. The front campus extends over four city blocks and is dotted with massive elms and glorious flower banks that provide enchantment and inspiration. The back campus includes athletic and military fields and the new stadium. There are eight thoroughly modern buildings on the campus, each built for the exact purpose it serves. They are of brick and stone construction and are heated by steam and hot water.

* In the shade of the elms.

* "B" Barracks.

* A part of the Quadrangle where Wentworth Battalion assembles.

* Looking over the River from the Wentworth Country Club Porch.

THE WENTWORTH COUNTRY CLUB

Located on one of the most beautiful spots overlooking the Missouri River, the Golf Course and Country Club add variety to the many facilities available to the Wentworth students. The nine-hole golf course is most attractive and sporty. The club house, with its catering equipment, is ideal for many informal parties held throughout the year. And in the stable are found horses suitable for the tyro as well as the expert rider.

* Teeing Up

* Two stylish mounts. Every Wentworth student will ride.

* Interior of the Club House—available for many informal gatherings.

* One of the spacious, well lighted and immaculate corridors in the Sellers-Wikoff Scholastic Building.

SCHOLASTIC

Wentworth's new $80,000 Sellers-Wikoff Scholastic Building is the nucleus of the scholastic department. This magnificent structure contains one of the most splendid libraries possessed by any institution of this kind. Four completely equipped laboratories provide excellent facilities for the practical study of the sciences. In addition to classrooms for all classes, it houses the Dean's and Commandant's offices. It is with justifiable pride that Wentworth points to this new achievement in its effort to provide up-to-the-minute methods and scholastic accoutrements.

* The attractive library contains thousands of volumes, providing every necessary supplement to the student's texts and manuals.

* Commercial class rooms are large and well lighted and are equipped with modern business machines. The latest recognized business methods are taught by competent instructors.

★ Sellers-Wikoff Scholastic Building.

★ Geology is a science of particular interest to boys of the Midwest.

DEPARTMENT

The scholastic department is divided into two separate and distinct units: the high school, which offers four years of preparatory work, and the junior college, which offers two years of liberal arts and science. Each has its own organization separate from the other. Both divisions are fully accredited by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, an organization composed of the leading colleges and preparatory schools in twenty states. This recognition means that graduates of either department are eligible to enter any institution in the United States that receives students by certification.

It is our aim to see that each cadet masters every lesson thoroughly. To accomplish this, every student is taught correct study methods and thoroughly schooled in correct uses of libraries and laboratories. Classes are small, averaging from 8 to 15 students, which permits individual attention. Most of the faculty members live in the buildings with students. They are readily accessible for special help. From time to time a personal study is made of each cadet to determine his points of weakness and help him overcome them.

★ The laboratory for elementary classes in chemistry provides many costly instruments not provided for in many schools but which Wentworth believes are important to the proper study of chemistry.

★ The laboratory for the advanced chemistry classes is even more completely equipped.

AVIATION

Wentworth participated in the Civil Aeronautics Administration Civilian Pilot Training Program from its inception in 1939 through the change to C. A. A. War Training Service until June, 1943, when all but 80 out of 712 colleges and universities throughout the country were eliminated due to curtailment of this type of training. However, the academy administration, believing aviation training to be very important now and in the future to the youth of the nation, secured permission from C. A. A. officials to continue flight training on a civilian basis and at the expense of the trainee.

The ground school and flight program is identically the same as given by the Army and Navy when they used C. A. A. facilities. It consists of 45 hours actual flight and 24 hours navigation, 24 hours meteorology, 14 hours Civil Aeronautics Regulations, 10 hours General Service of aircraft.

Wentworth is one of the few schools in the country possessing its own airport and conducting its own aviation training.

The records of the graduates of the Wentworth Flight Training are outstanding. During the war the graduates of this training program fought on every front where Americans were in combat.

From REVEILLE TO TAPS

A DAY

AT WENTWORTH

NO TWO days at Wentworth are quite the same, for a widely varied program of scholastic, military, athletic and other activities is used to keep the interest of the cadets at high pitch and their appetites for learning well whetted. Furthermore, no two students have quite the same duties to perform throughout any given day. There is, however, a definite routine that all cadets follow each day. It is used to instill perfect regularity and promptness in attendance upon all duties prescribed for one and all cadets alike.

While it requires some adjustments for new students to become accustomed to this routine, any slight hint of monotony is soon lost in the kaleidoscopic whirl of the school year.

To give parents and others a better insight, the following pages have been used to set forth, pictorially, the day's activities from Reveille to Taps, of a typical Wentworth boy whom we will designate as Cadet Harlan.

The pictures in this section were taken nine years ago. However, since they illustrate life at Wentworth of today, they are still timely. They are retained because so many of the cadets shown served in the Armed Forces of their country and so well illustrate the value of military training as received while at Wentworth.

Since the importance of military preparedness is becoming increasingly evident by the changing world situation, the training illustrated in this picture section has a special significance.

There have been some uniform changes as may be seen by referring to the section on Wentworth uniforms.

★ Harlan—a typical Wentworth cadet.

HERE is Harlan, a typical Wentworth cadet—a fine young American—manly, scholarly and upright. His respect for duty and responsibility has won for him the rank of sergeant. He may have come from a large city or a very small town—that makes no difference to the democratic spirit that prevails at Wentworth. He may be from a wealthy family or a family in meager circumstances—most of his classmates would never know, nor even be curious, unless he chose to tell them. But he typifies all the fine qualities of a deserving and ambitious youth as he goes through the tried and age-proved Wentworth process of becoming a real man, a real asset to himself, his family and friends, and society as a whole.

Harlan, like all the others, participates in many activities besides those shown. But let's follow him through a typical day.

Harlan "Butch" Haffelfinger, who graduated in the class of 1937 and posed as the model cadet in the view book, served as a Major in the last war.

His brother, Hugo, another Wentworth alumnus, also a Major, and served with distinction with the Rangers.

Astle Haffelfinger served with the Navy Air Corps as an Ensign.

* Harlan's first duty is a thorough, refreshing wash before breakfast.

"I CAN'T GET 'EM UP," blows the bugler, but he does, and at 6:35 o'clock another day is under way. Cadet Harlan goes first to the sanitary lavatory on his floor. A good washup is part of the routine, for a cadet is expected to keep himself clean at all times. At 6:50 he goes to a well-prepared breakfast.

After breakfast, rooms must be cleaned. One of the basic aims of our system is to form personal habits of order. Each morning Harlan makes his own bed, puts his clothes in order and helps his roommate clean the room.

* Harlan makes up his own bed.

Strict inspection of quarters is a daily routine. Formal inspection of Harlan's person, room and equipment occurs on Sunday morning. At this time unusual care must be taken in cleaning the room. Our friend sees that hidden corners are carefully dusted, chairs polished, and everything put in order. Then he takes care of his person. There's brass to shine, leather to polish, hair to brush, and whiskers to be removed. A certain time is allotted for this preparation and all work must be done within that time. This young fellow knows that any deficiency in this work receives what is known in Academy language as a "skin"—which counts against one's company in color competition.

* Harlan is ready for the inspector — brass gleaming, shoes shined—room as clean as the proverbial "hound's tooth."

* Here Harlan delves into things scientific. Modern equipment is provided for all laboratory work.

AT 8 O'CLOCK in the morning, classes convene. Harlan makes his way to a small class on his schedule where personal attention is his at any time it is needed. Our cadet is carefully instructed in the handling of delicate scientific equipment. He is not forced to grope blindly for information. That which is true of the science laboratories is equally true in all other classrooms.

Time passes rapidly in the classroom or laboratory because the work is interesting. The scholastic day is divided into two equal parts, with three classes in the morning and three in the afternoon.

* Our Cadet goes through a course of calisthenics to promote grace and health.

All the cadets shown in the picture were in the Armed Service. The second from the left, Lieutenant Tom Henderson, Jr., of Haynesville, La., was killed in the fighting for Munda Airfield.

CALISTHENICS play an important role in the physical education of Cadet Harlan. No effort is made to indulge in this or any other exercise in the early morning hours when the body is at its lowest ebb. All such exercises are taken by our cadet after a hearty breakfast and morning classes. The exercises are intended to promote graceful movement as well as better health. The calisthenics used by the United States Army are followed. They are led by senior cadet officers.

So long as the weather permits, the calisthenics are held in the open, but they are taken in the large gymnasium, where an entire battalion may take part at the same time, when rain or cold is in the air.

* The ten excellent tennis courts are always popular.

* Cadet Harlan reports to the Professor of Military Science and Tactics for drill duty.

Cadet Lieutenant Jack Ramsdell commanding the platoon shown in these two views, participated as an officer in the landing on North Africa. He was decorated with the Silver Star for heroism in action and Purple Heart.

DRILL is a very formal affair. It is on the drill field that Harlan learns much of courtesy, discipline and alertness. He, with his entire battalion, is thoroughly schooled in good citizenship, taught the proper respect for superiors and trained in leadership.

Learning to drill a squad is the first training in leadership. Throughout the year squad drill and competition is a part of the regular military routine. The squad is the smallest military unit and consists of nine men, one of whom is a corporal and another a first class private. All instruction is conducted by cadets under the personal supervision of members of the military faculty.

Although military work takes but one hour each day, the training is intensive and much more thorough than that found in larger units. Personal attention is given the individual cadet on the military field as well as in the classroom, and each cadet has an equal chance to advance to important positions in Wentworth's military realm. In the army, the navy and the marine corps Wentworth is glorified by its alumni who have received their commissions and are distinguishing themselves in official capacities of these respective branches of service.

Like many other cadets, Harlan finds the extended order drill more interesting. This drill consists of combat methods. He is taught to make use of cover, to advance and to fire. No actual firing is done during this drill, however, for all the ammunition used is dummy material. Initiative and leadership are required in this work. Situations arising in the problems furnished by the War Department call for quick thinking and immediate action.

Here our typical cadet finds extended order drill interesting and instructive.

The Cadet Officer using the field glasses was Captain Woodrow Wylie, U. S. Army. He participated in the fight on Bataan, was captured and has been reported as having died in a prison camp.

The cadet about to insert the cartridge in his rifle is Major Milton Moran, U. S. Marine Air Corps. He has participated in considerable action in the South Pacific.

★ Eating—an always-popular “sport” with Harlan and his fellow cadets! Meal time is always a time for good food and good fellowship.

The Faculty Officer at the head of the table is now an aviation instructor on the West coast. Five of the cadets facing the camera were officers in the United States Army. Two of them were fliers.

FOLLOWING the morning classes comes lunch time and our cadet is ready to eat. Academy menus are always varied and pleasing. Meals are carefully planned to suit the needs of all cadets. They are healthful and nutritious and just what active, hard-working boys require. Meal times are at 7:00 in the morning, 12:10 and 6:10. This schedule is varied only on Sunday, when dinner becomes a more elaborate meal served at 12:30.

After dinner there is a recreation period during which Harlan and other cadets may do pretty much as they choose. At this time there is a rush for the cadet post office. Every cadet receives his mail twice daily. The recreation room is also a popular place at this time.

* Maybe Harlan is "behind the 8-ball" here! Like all other cadets he takes part in zestful competition in the recreation room.

* She will be down for the "Military Ball."

THE recreation room proves a haven of rest, relaxation and zestful indoor competition. Pool, billiard and ping-pong tables are provided. A few try their hand at bridge, while others read, or relax in comfortable chairs.

* (Right) Our friend attends a chapel period, held twice each week.

* (Below) "We must get in there and fight!" says Harlan as he makes a short "pep" talk on the eve of a game.

CADET HARLAN attends an interesting, informative and inspirational meeting in the chapel, immediately before lunch. These meetings are conducted by the Academy Chaplain, but are not strictly religious. Travel talks, health lectures, scientific demonstrations and short sermons, presented by outstanding speakers, are frequently on the program. The service is opened with a hymn, prayer and responsive readings, and closed with the singing of "Wentworth," the Academy song.

"Pep" meetings, preceding important athletic contests, are also held in the chapel. These are always occasions of great fun. Students and faculty make rousing speeches. The cadet band furnishes gay, martial music and everyone anticipates the big game on the morrow. Athletic contests are important recreational events. Every cadet attends them.

*While a majority of the faculty members live in the barracks with cadets, some live in residences such as this on the campus.

*All shined up for Sunday inspection.

*Our Cadet receives personal attention from a faculty member in the library.

In this picture, the Tactical Officer, James Simmons, graduate of Wentworth, is now a Lieut. Col. in the United States Army. He participated in the capture of Attu and Kwajalein.

Next to him, Lieutenant Orman, paratrooper, who took part in the Sicilian campaign and the capture of Naples, and was killed on Normandy beach. On the right, Captain James L. Gist, Army Aviator, killed in action over Japan.

PERSONAL attention is not confined to the classroom nor to the evening study periods. Harlan and many other cadets seek assistance in the spacious Academy library. The faculty officer in charge is always ready and willing to help any student, no matter what his problem. Whatever the subject, the faculty officer is qualified to give the guidance needed.

Wentworth's library is one of the most important places on the campus. It contains more than 7,500 books on nearly every subject one could imagine. Reference books include the famous Oxford English Dictionary and many sets of encyclopedia.

* Harlan plays football—and mighty well, too! No wonder! His uncle was an All-American at Yale.

* In winter months our boy turns his attention to basketball and other indoor sports.

TRAINING for leadership is important on the football field as well as everywhere else at Wentworth. More than fifty cadets answer the varsity call each year and large squads turn out for company teams. All players receive intensive training, both in the art of the game and in clean sportsmanship.

Football ranks as the number one sport, and the Red Dragon elevens are consistent winners. The fine spirit of players and corps is credited with being a strong determining factor in every contest.

In the winter months basketball comes into the spotlight. Again there are the varsity and company teams and a place for every cadet who desires to play. Home games are played in the spacious gymnasium where there are two courts and ample space for spectators.

Wentworth is a member of the Junior College Interstate conference, an athletic association numbering six schools as members. The Wentworth High School teams are members of the Pony Express Conference of Western Missouri. Almost every major and minor sports are on the Wentworth program—all played under competent coaches—and every cadet is required to participate.

* The gymnasium is 220 x 55 feet. It contains two regular basket ball courts, a large stage, a swimming pool 20 x 60 feet, locker rooms, showers and gymnastic equipment.

* Here our man-in-the-making is ready for his daily plunge in the pool.

THE sparkling, crystal-clear water of the swimming pool is inviting to cadets the year 'round. The pool is of regulation size (20x60) and is the scene of frequent water sports and aquatic meets. It is the purpose to teach every cadet to swim well. The water is warmed to a healthful temperature and kept pure by efficient filtration and chemical treatment.

* (Above) Hi-dee-ho! Harlan and his friends tune in a radio program during the recreation period immediately following the evening meal.

* The orchestra provides musical diversion both for members of the group and the corps.

* (Below) Perfect study conditions prevail in Harlan's room. (Note the latest type of reading lamp.)

Just before the evening study period is the favorite tune-in time for Cadet Harlan and other radio devotees. Permission to have a radio in the room is regarded a privilege, the abuse of which causes the student to lose this favor.

After thirty-five minutes of recreation following the supper hour, evening study is begun at 7 o'clock. Each cadet retires to his own room for a two-hour period of quiet. There is no stuffy, noisy hall in which cadets are confined. Instead, individual initiative is encouraged. Faculty officers are in constant attendance throughout the period, giving advice where it is needed and encouragement at all times.

Quiet descends and another day is ended for our busy cadet. Sleep . . . sweet, restful sleep.

TAPS, at which time all lights must be turned out and all cadets remain quiet, is sounded at 10 o'clock. The soft notes of the bugle call to close the activities of an eventful day and the peace of slumber envelops healthy young bodies until another dawn.

The purpose of this book has been to give you an accurate, but necessarily inadequate glimpse of the Wentworth Military Academy and cadet life. In order fully to appreciate the Academy, it will be necessary for you to visit the campus in person, see the beautiful grounds and buildings and meet members of the faculty. The Administration offices are open the year 'round and your visit will be welcomed at any time.

SUMMER SCHOOL—A military summer school and camp of 8 weeks duration begins in early June. Activities are divided equally between scholastic work and recreation. Instruction is on a tutorial basis and nearly any subject may be taken.

The Wentworth Midgets, coached by Col. Lester B. Wikoff, played a difficult schedule and consistently encountered teams with players who were much heavier and taller, but they came through the season with only two defeats.

BOXING TEAM

The boxing team enjoyed a series of good matches this season including Golden Gloves competitions at Chillicothe, St. Joseph, and Kansas City. The fist experts brought their successful season to a close with a dual meet with the Oklahoma Military Academy at Claremore, Oklahoma.

MEMORIES OF 1947-48

By JOE CADET

September 1—A large group of husky athletes arrived early for the Wentworth football training camp. A few members of the faculty returned to the campus from various vacation spots.

September 2—The majority of prospective football players both college and high school students, arrived today in preparation for early fall training. The ground force is working very hard to accomplish everything possible in order that the plant will be in shape prior to the arrival of the complete cadet corps.

September 3—Fall practice started today, and there are some mighty good prospects for the gridiron teams of the coming year. Our boys are really working!

September 4—The cadet gridiron are enjoying themselves thoroughly. After a difficult day of working out, they settled down to a delicious meal prepared under the supervision of the academy dietitian.

September 5—Practically all of the faculty members have returned to school, and are making preparations for the coming academic year.

September 6—A scrimmage was held today for the football teams. Gaines Hill hurt his shoulder, but I sincerely hope that he will be able to play in future games against other schools. Gaines is an important man on the field, as he is the co-captain of the high school football team.

September 7—A large number of new boys arrived on the campus and they were quite impressed with the swell Wentworth facilities. They look like pretty nice fellows, and I sure will enjoy working with them this year.

September 8—More new faces appeared today as new cadets enrolled for the opening of Wentworth's 68th year. Registration began today, and the fellows are looking forward to a most exciting and interesting year. . . . In the evening, a picnic supper was held, and everyone enjoyed a swell time. Mrs. Marge Thompson sure fixed a delicious meal.

September 9—Former students returned to the Academy with many hopes and anticipations for the many enjoyable events of the coming school term. With the return of the old boys, the first semester officially opened.

September 10—Short-period classes met for the first time. All of the cadets hated to resume scholastic work after a happy summer vacation, but were very satisfied with their new assigned classes and instructors. Looks as if I'll have to settle down and start working again.

September 11—Major Frank W. Brown, Academy commandant, is starting his twenty-fifth year at Wentworth.

September 12—Major Leon Ungles recently stated that three new instructors have been added to the teaching staff. Captain James M. King will teach English. Lieutenant Colonel Marvin T. Edmison will instruct mathematics and science. Captain A. R. Park will teach engineering, drawing and mathematics.

September 13—Captain Stagner, aviation director, announced that the varied interests expressed by cadets during the registration period point toward a most successful flying year. That aviation program is really a swell deal!

September 14—Today was a Sunday, typical of those to follow throughout the year. The day included a formal inspection of rooms and the weekly dress parade. New cadets learned that they enjoyed actually marching in a parade rather than being the "outsiders."

September 15—Colonel Lester B. Wikoff said that quite a large number of outstanding programs are on the list for special weekly convocations during the assemblies of the coming year.

September 16—A special course has been added to the Wentworth curriculum. Captain Leroy Carroll, of the Spanish department, is teaching a course in English for Latin-American cadets. This new class is following the general trend of many colleges and universities all over the United States. Now the Latin-American students need not blush about their improper use of English when they ask a local "senorita" for a date.

September 17—Today was designated as the annual processing day, and cadets were given thorough physical examinations, checked for uniforms, and given several personnel tests.

September 18—The many athletic activities are getting into full swing. The company football teams are organized and it looks as if there will be some mighty rough competition between teams in the offering. Sure would enjoy seeing our company team going to the top of the ladder!

September 19—Chaplain (Maj.) James M. Stafford stated that a memorial service dedicated to Wentworthians who have died during the year will be an annual feature at the Academy. The first service will be held on November 1.

September 20—Members of the college team are very fortunate this year as new red, white, and blue uniforms have been selected for the football togs. The spectators will probably jump to attention when our boys troop out on the field now!

September 21—It was announced that Major General William M. Hoge, '12, commanding officer at Ft. Belvoir, Va., will be the principal speaker at the Old Boy dinner on the eve of the Homecoming game with Kemper.

September 22—The first issue of the Trumpeter rolled off the press today. Cadets were very interested in the twelve pages of news pertaining to the alumni and academy events and plans.

September 23—Wentworth Junior college was invited to the Missouri Intercollegiate United Nation's association at the University of Missouri.

September 24—Captain Ronnie Euler, a graduate of both the high school and junior college divisions here, returned to Wentworth as assistant to the commandant, Major Brown.

September 25—Major Ungles stated that Captain George Stier has been appointed to the teaching staff and will offer courses in the field of business administration.

September 26—The Wentworth Mothers' club of Kansas City held its first fall meeting. The high school varsity football team defeated Missouri Military academy 13-6. Stanley Farber was the main sparkplug in the tilt with the Colonels.

September 27—Want to learn the art of tripping the light fantastic? Yes, once again, as in past years, Mrs. Lurene King, Iowa Falls, Ia., will teach cadets intricate dancing steps. Quite a few cadets have expressed their desire to develop into howling successes on the dance floor.

September 28—The Latin-American club had its first social event of the year today. Colonel Sellers was Grand Senior Warden at an informal gathering of the Grand Commandery officers at St. Louis.

September 29—Twenty-three photography fans have organized under the sponsorship of Herbert Garber, Wentworth's official photographer, and formed the Camera Club.

September 30—Colonel Sellers was advanced to the office of Grand Senior Steward at the Grand Lodge Communication.

October 1—The marching band is rapidly gaining prestige and favor with the cadet corps and visitors, as its playing and complicated drills become snappier and more precise. All of the band members are eagerly awaiting a few of the many trips in store. I wonder if I could learn to play some instrument, and go along, too.

October 2—Major Ungles left to attend the Thirteenth Annual Conference of the Missouri Association of Secondary School Principals at Columbia, Mo.

October 3—Dr. Luther T. Purdom, University of Michigan's vocation guidance expert, will be the banquet speaker at the Dad's Day dinner on October 31.

October 4—Charles Hare, former British tennis champion and Davis cup player, and his wife, Mary Hardwick, former captain of the Wightman cup team, staged a tennis clinic this afternoon. I never knew before that tennis can be played scientifically.

October 5—Since today is Sunday, I took the opportunity to go horseback riding. They sure have some swell horses out at the Wentworth Country Club.

October 6—The Guardsmen Male quartet, a musical group from Hollywood, appeared before the cadet corps this morning. They sure do provide some fine entertainment here!

October 7—Thirteen cadets qualified for admission to the Honor society on the basis of last year's record.

October 8—Tryouts for the Honor Guard are being held, and Sergeant William Mullenious reports that approximately sixty candidates have applied for admission. If I work hard, maybe I'll have a chance.

October 9—Our Advanced College Spanish class had a most interesting period. We took a trip to a neighborhood grocery store, and named every article with its correct Spanish name. That is really a swell way to learn Spanish!

October 10—The Latin-American club met to elect officers for the new school year. Alejandro Llerena was elected president of the club.

October 11—Nineteen lucky cadets attended a formal dance at Lindenwood College at St. Charles, Mo. Never saw so many beautiful women in all my life!

October 12—Colonel Per Ramee, PMS&T at De La Salle Military academy, and Lieutenant Colonel K. A. Jorgensen, commanding officer of the Marine Reserve battalion of Kansas City, received the parade. Four Kansas Citizens, members of the tennis team at the University of Kansas City, staged a tennis clinic and exhibition immediately after the parade.

October 13—Bohumir Kryl and his all-girl orchestra has been engaged to present a concert here on December 15.

October 14—Captain Robert M. Levy has been assigned to Wentworth by the War Department as assistant to the professor of military science and tactics. Captain Levy looks like a swell Joe, and I'm sure he will do a fine job in his new position.

October 15—Forty-two cadets attended the first concert of the 1947-48 season of the Kansas City Symphony in Kansas City.

October 16—The company grid slate was chalked up twice in the opening company games. Company A beat Company D, 27-0. In the intramural game, Company B defeated Company C, 12-0.

October 17—The White Hussars, a nationally known ensemble of musicians, directed by Maj. Herbert Petric, appeared before the cadet corps today.

October 18—The Wentworth band went to Columbia, Mo., to participate in a band day program held at the University of Missouri in connection with that school's grid contest with Kansas State college. Maj. Dallas C. Buck, dean of instruction, and director of the junior college, attended the convention of the Council of North Central Junior colleges at Minneapolis.

October 19—I sure was glad to see Mom and Dad up here this afternoon. After the parade, we enjoyed a delicious picnic supper out at the park. Hope they can make it up here again before long.

October 20—Dr. Warren G. Kennard, Lexington dental surgeon is giving the prospective golf team candidates a lot of practical advice and instruction. Our golf team really should go places this year.

October 21—It won't be long until the first six weeks grading period will be entirely completed. I would sure like to see my name on the honor roll, so I guess I'd better buckle down for the rest of the period.

October 22—The Public Relations office announced today that "It Pays to be Smart," a popular radio quiz program, will once again be presented at Wentworth. The program this year will cover American History, Civics, and current events.

October 23—At a regional meeting of the Educational Buyers association held at the Hotel Continental in Kansas City, Colonel Lester B. Wikoff was elected chairman of the Missouri-Kansas division of the association.

October 24—The dean's office stated that seventeen approved activities will meet weekly under faculty supervision. From such a wide selecting range, it would be impossible to go wrong.

October 25—Thirty-two cadets were granted permission to attend a dance given by Cottey College of Nevada, Mo. Boy, that sure was a gorgeous blonde!

October 26—Arrangements have been completed for the broadcasting of the Wentworth-Kemper grid contest on Thanksgiving day over Radio Station KCKN.

October 27—Every cadet is looking forward to that special day of gaiety and excitement . . . Dad's Day. It would really be swell if Dad could come up.

October 28—Boy, that cold water sure felt good on this hot day. I really enjoy that marvelous swimming pool. They are conducting classes for swimming beginners and life-savers now. Hope I can pass my senior lifesaving course down here.

October 29—The committee on accredited schools and colleges of the University of Missouri, headed by Claude A. Phillips, committee chairman, and professor of education at the university, inspected the Wentworth junior college.

October 30—A few fathers of Wentworth cadets arrived on the campus, and they can hardly wait until tomorrow.

October 31—Approximately 230 Dads were guests of the academy at the annual Dad's Day celebration. The entertaining program included visits to academic classes, a special regimental review and parade, and a drill period in which the sons put their fathers through the phases of close order drill. After a delicious meal, Dr. Luther Purdom spoke. Later, the dads attended the grid contest between Wentworth and Kansas City, Kans. Blue Devils, and cheered on the Red Dragons to a 45-6 victory over the Kansans.

November 1—Major James M. Stafford, chaplain, paid tribute to seven alumni who died during the last four years in his annual memorial service.

November 2—The cheerleaders deserve a hearty pat on the back for their efforts in spurring our teams on to victory. They are George McNeerney, Herbert Eissman, Chris Ravins, Fred Turner, and Carlos Valverde.

November 3—Plebes have been introduced to the finer points in etiquette by our capable hostess, Mrs. Beth Hepler. Now, little Willy has no excuse whatsoever to use improper manners.

November 4—The Wentworth Cavaliers, under the direction of Cadet Doug Klusmeyer, are really going places. Several social engagements have been planned and the members are looking to the future for a swell time.

November 5—A new cadet has arrived on the campus from Amman, Transjordan. Abdo Fares Bayazeed has created considerable interest among both the faculty and the cadets.

November 6—Wentworth has purchased the Southside Laundry in Lexington which will add immensely to its facilities.

November 7—Colonel Lester B. Wikoff spoke on the subject, "Your Boy," over Radio Station KFEQ in St. Joseph at 3:45 p. m. Also today, he was the principal speaker at the 1st District convention of the Missouri Federation of Women's clubs at the Hotel Robidoux.

November 8—First Sergeant William Van Vactor of the Military Department is assisting the local Veterans of Foreign Wars and American Legion posts in the organization and training of an honor guard.

November 9—Captain Edgar A. Muench, boxing coach, reports that the prospects for the boxing squad this year are quite good, and there will probably be some excellent results in the Golden Glove's tournament.

November 10—The stamp club, sponsored by Colonel Wikoff, is rapidly gaining fame on the campus list of activities. Many philatelists have joined, and are inviting other amateur collectors to do likewise.

November 11—Any cadet Romeos in the crowd? The Trumpeter staff has received communications from corresponding bureaus in many countries, and the staff states that it is happy to turn over all leads to female acquaintances in other lands.

November 12—The members of the Wentworth Mothers club of Kansas City were the guests of the faculty wives at a luncheon. Mrs. James H. Danglade was selected as president of the club. Several travel representatives took reservations at the academy for cadets desiring to make travel reservations.

November 13—It won't be too long until Christmas vacation is here. Sure will be glad to see Mom and Dad again.

November 14—The junior college varsity team "swam" their way through a sea of mud, to defeat a hard fighting Oklahoma Military Academy eleven 9-0. The Little Dragons beat William Chrisman 7-0.

November 15—"Beat Kemper" is the battle cry of the cadet corps.

November 16—An enrollment breakdown today showed that ninety-eight Missourians are enrolled at Wentworth this year. I guess my state is really tops.

November 17—The Wentworth Glee club has been organized and the group is now preparing for public appearances in the near future according to Captain Ben Johnson, director.

November 18—Major and Mrs. Ungles made fishermen out of Captain and Mrs. Willoughby, and the four Wentworthians now spend many happy hours in the pursuit of their new hobby.

November 19—The Special Order pertaining to the promotion of cadets was read at chapel. Robert Walker was promoted to the rank of Cadet Lieutenant Colonel and named battalion commander.

November 20—Capt. E. P. (Chink) Coleman, president of the National Junior College Athletic association, plans to assemble the All-American team, composed of representatives selected from Junior colleges, for a game in Kansas City in connection with the Wentworth coaching school next August. Colonel James M. Sellers, superintendent, attended the annual meeting of the Association of Military Colleges and Schools of the U. S. at Washington, D. C.

November 21—The Wentworth Junior College Red Dragons, undaunted by rain and mud, downed Joplin Junior College 47-7.

November 22—Company A beat Company B 13-0 to win the company grid championship.

November 23—A new official R.O.T.C. patch, which adds glamour to the uniform, has been added to the overcoats, blue blouses, and battle jackets of the cadets.

November 25—PROM Magazine, a monthly publication covering various high schools and colleges in the vicinity of Kansas City, honored Wentworth by devoting a full page of photographs to activities taking place here at the Academy.

November 26—A few old boys are beginning to troop in from practically every state in the union for Homecoming tomorrow. They really have the spirit, and the cry "Beat Kemper," is echoing throughout the campus.

November 27—Today was a great day of fun and excitement. Old boys returned to Wentworth for reunions and a most enjoyable time. Major General William Hoge was the distinguished guest of honor at the annual banquet. Following the banquet, the alumni watched the college Red Dragons scalp the Kemper Yellowjackets, 47-0. Climaxing the activities scheduled, an alumni dance was held in the Wentworth gymnasium.

November 28—A great wave of excitement swept over the cadet corps immediately following the rousing victory over Kemper. The Red Dragons were assured of a bid to the Papoose Bowl in a grid competition with Northeastern Oklahoma A. & M. college at Miami, Okla..

November 29—Cadets very enthusiastically received the announcement that a special train for the corps and fans, "The Papoose Limited," would be chartered, and everyone would attend the game at Oklahoma City. Whoopie!

November 30—The college Dragon squad is getting quite a few pats on the back. With a swell team like that, how can we lose? We're going to be up against a rough and ready opponent but I'm sure our boys will fight their hardest and live up to the creeds, "Sportsmanship Always" and "Never Be Licked."

December 2—We made the funnies! Yes, one of the comic magazines, "WILBUR" ran a two-page cartoon series on cadet activities at Wentworth.

December 3—Christmas is not too far away. I went downtown and put down a deposit on a gift that I have in mind for mother. It is something that I know she will like.

December 4—The local businessmen are getting ready for Christmas. I noticed loads and loads of red and green lights being strung along the business section of Main Street.

December 5—A clearing house for foreign girls wanting pen pals sent a "please write" SOS to Wentworth. John Vissering immediately sat down and polished off six letters to six different girls. Fast worker, isn't he?

December 6—Well, we lost the Papoose game, but we put up a clean fight against terrific odds. Bob Price's injury on the gridiron was a terrible shock to everyone who knows him.

December 7—Charlie Hoover came through with a good wisecrack at the table. He reminded us that a marriage license is like a hunting license. It allows you only one deer!

December 8—Ben Raney is happy. He received a confirmation on his reservation to Indiana for the holidays.

December 9—Word has just been received here about the informal inspection of the Military department made here recently by Major Roy A. Kane, inspecting officer for the Fifth Army headquarters. To sum up Major Kane's report . . . "We're tops!"

December 10—John Ritzler offered to join the Trumpeter staff, if he could interview all the pretty girls who visit the campus. Dick Nelson rejected the offer . . . he reserves the choice assignments for himself.

December 11—Bobby Easter was placed on the NEA junior college All-American team as quarterback. Congratulations, Bob. You certainly deserve the honor.

December 12—Bobby Price was buried here this afternoon after full military honors. Bobby died of injuries sustained in the Papoose Bowl game. Nearly 2,000 people attended the funeral, which is certainly a tribute to one of the finest cadets ever to grace the Wentworth campus.

December 13—Major Brown has put out regulations regarding furlough. Most members of the corps have memorized the instructions, just to make sure that they can leave here without any delay when the vacation gets started.

December 14—Bohumir Kryl, famed Czech composer, thrilled his cadet audience here tonight. Needless to say, his all-women's symphonic group made a hit with the boys. I suspect that some of the boys were interested in the girls as well as the music.

December 15—Dick Ransweiler has been working night and day to complete his Charles Atlas course. What's wrong, Beaky, did the rifles get too heavy for you?

December 16—Another honor roll was published by the dean's office. I made it again. That should make them feel happy at home.

December 17—Mrs. Anna Gibbons put the finishing touches to the beautiful Christmas tree placed at the entrance to the Administration building. Another reminder that Christmas is nearly here.

December 18—We just finished our annual Christmas dinner. Everything was just right and there was plenty of food for those who craved "seconds."

December 19—Homeward bound! Boy, what a wonderful feeling to be going back home. Since I have worked hard the past three months, I feel that I deserve the vacation. Yeh, Santa Claus, here I come!

January 4—Christmas vacation is over for all of us. It was swell while it lasted.

January 5—Despite the long vacation, everyone settled down to normal in record time. The boys knew their lessons and the instructors seemed pleased.

January 6—The military department stimulated interest in next month's Military Ball by announcing that Don Reid's orchestra had been signed to play for the event.

January 7—Major Buck is certainly on the ball. This morning he started advance registrations for the second semester. It seems that it was just yesterday that we were starting this semester.

January 8—I rate a permit tonight, so I think I'll sign out and take in a movie, especially since the theater is featuring a good murder mystery.

January 9—Little John, III, has been cutting up in the dining room. His mother says that he has another tooth on the way.

January 10—Captain Ben Johnson was in charge of a piano clinic at the University of Missouri today.

January 11—Bob Berryman has been giving us pep talks, urging us to turn in pix of our girls for the Military Ball beauty queen competition. I think I'll turn in mine tomorrow.

January 12—I wrote a letter to Lee Pemberton today, wishing him a speedy recovery. Lee is in a hospital at St. Joseph, Mo.

January 13—They tell me that Major Buck is quite a bridge player. I wonder if I dare challenge him to a game.

January 14—Another issue of The Trumpeter rolled off the press and was distributed today. I think I'll glance over the sports page again before going to bed.

January 15—Colonel Wikoff's stamp club met in his office this afternoon. The boys evidently enjoy their hobby. They all report getting much out of their meetings this year.

January 16—I went down to Professor Wright's office to take an aptitude test to help me in my selection of future courses. I'll know the results in a couple of days.

January 18—A new member of the Academy secretarial staff is Miss Pat O'Malley. She is slated to take Major Ungles' dictation.

January 19—Miss Virginia (Pinkey, but don't ask us why they call her Pinkey) Ball is quite elated. She made Landon Laird's column today, and as a result, she has been all smiles to everyone.

January 20—Members of the executive staffs of Wentworth and three other military schools—Kemper, Western, and Missouri Military, held a business meeting on the Wentworth campus today.

January 21—Major James M. Stafford addressed a district convention of the United Daughters of the Confederacy at Marshall, Missouri. He talked about Generals Lee and Jackson.

January 22—Some of the jokers in my company tried to get my goat today. They tried to make me believe that my girl back home is dating someone else. I just refuse to believe it.

January 23—Col. James M. Sellers was the guest speaker on Radio Station KMBC's Heart-of-America program, being interviewed about various activities at Wentworth by John McDermott, the station's director of special events.

January 24—An old boy, Kenneth MacKenzie of Topeka, Kans., was instrumental in bringing the Cavaliers to Topeka to play before the Kansas Restaurant association group at their dinner and for a concert over a radio station. The cadet musicians say they were treated royally while in Topeka.

January 25—This is the last day for the first term. A lot of the boys will be sweating out the grades which will be published next week and then sent home.

January 26—"PROM" Magazine of Kansas City reported that they will send down a photographer to cover this year's military ball. Hope that the fellow shoots me and my girl for the magazine.

January 27—The Alligator Company of St. Louis, a Trumpeter advertiser, does not sell alligators. If you think they do, write and order a couple of them. Furthermore, the raincoats which they sell to Wentworth are not made from alligator skins. Ask Packman. He wrote to St. Louis and tried to get the lowdown on this alligator stuff.

January 28—Not a letter in today's mail. Heck, no one loves me anymore.

January 29—My girl slipped up again. If I don't hear from her soon, I'm going to start dating the girls in the office.

January 30—Mrs. Anna Gibbons has been beaming all morning. Ten of her students received Gregg awards for excellence in typing.

January 31—Who says that time passes slowly here? It won't be long before I shall be recording the last entry of the year in this diary.

February 1—Seventeen new boys entered Wentworth at the beginning of the second semester.

February 2—Robert Roadman has been added to the Wentworth service staff as an assistant to Mrs. Marge Thompson, the school's dietician.

February 3—Major Stafford, our chaplain, is resting comfortably at his home, recuperating from a hip injury incurred when he fell on the ice last week. He has had quite a few cadet visitors during the last few days. My roomie and I dropped in on him today to say "hello."

February 4—A new flight class is being organized by Captain Stagner. Next year I hope that I can talk dad into letting me take up flying.

February 5—Today Colonel Wikoff received from Enrique A. Romay, Mexican Consul General in Chicago, a letter requesting copies of Wentworth's blueprints for submission to President Miguel Aleman. It seems that our friends south of the border are interested in building a new military school and they are interested in studying the Wentworth plant layout.

February 6—Catherine Benfer, Wichita university student from Newton, Kans. has been picked as the battalion queen for the annual Military Ball to be held here on Saturday, February 14. Ronald Reagan, Warner Brothers star, did the judging. Her picture was submitted by Keith Hay.

February 7—The military department has received an assortment of musical instruments which they have turned over to the music department.

February 8—For awhile Lieutenant Levy thought that he was Korea bound in a hurry. Today he received an order staying the transfer until the end of this academic year.

February 9—Today we started working on the gymnasium, getting it ready for the big military ball on Saturday night. Since I am a member of the decorating committee, I don't expect to have much free time this week.

February 10—A red letter day, for Mom sent a package containing cookies, fudge, fruit, and nuts. You should have seen all the visitors in my room after this evening's CQ.

February 11—I see where Dick Nelson is still doing a good job in writing the Wentworth column for PROM magazine. Dick, as we all know, is top man on this year's Trumpeter staff.

February 12—The faculty played the college varsity cage team and lost the game by a mere two points. Lieutenant Colonel McKee was the water boy on the faculty team. You should have seen Colonel Wikoff prancing about the floor in his shorts. For old men, the faculty put up a game fight.

February 13—A squad of ten novice class boxers has been working out with Captain Muench. The cadet fighters have a dual meet with Oklahoma Military academy next week. They are giving a good account of themselves this year.

February 14—Yes, another Military Ball, and this one was the best yet. There were loads and loads of pretty girls. We all had a wonderful time, and are now looking forward to next year's ball.

February 15—Captain Charles Norris was presented with a Bronze Star medal at the battalion dress parade today. Many visitors who came down for last night's ball were on hand to see him decorated. Colonel McKee made the presentation.

February 16—Company A went to the Wentworth Country club today to enjoy a banquet given to them by the school for winning the disciplinary award for the previous semester.

February 17—Carlos Saucedo, Bill Ballard, Robert Nicola, and Keith Hay won their bouts against O.M.A. cadets at Claremore, Okla. today.

February 18—Jim Wardwell has promised to publish his All-American basketball team selections in the next issue of The Trumpeter. I'll bet that I can guess at least three of the players he will pick.

February 19—The PRO announced this week that Herbert Garber, the school photographer, took 227 pictures of cadets and their dates at the Military Ball. I believe it, for I saw flash bulbs going off all evening. Needless to say, he took a picture of me and my honey, too.

February 20—Captain Berninger's fighting Dragons chalked up another win over St. Joseph Benton, winning by a 35-27 score.

February 21—Captain Wilbur Stagner was called to Longmont, Colo., by the illness of his father. Hope that all turns out well, and that he is back with us soon.

February 22—Twenty cadets who established eligibility during the first semester were admitted to the Honor Society for the present term.

February 23—Mrs. H. W. Sullivan, mother of Cadet Shane Sullivan, donated a number of good books to the Academy library.

February 24—We learned today that the annual government inspection will be held on April 22-23, which is considerably earlier than last year. That means that we have to settle down to hard work to make a favorable impression on the inspecting officers.

February 25—Since the college instructors were attending the sessions of the National Junior College convention in Kansas City, college students had no classes. I wish the high school instructors would go off for a day, and give the rest of us a break, too.

February 26—Here I am munching on my popcorn, taking life easy. I had a light day today. Wish there were more light days, but seriously, I don't care. I can take anything that they want to hand out.

February 28—I made an E in my English recitation today. Whoopee!

February 29—Mom and Dad came down to see me. They accompanied me to church, and then took me out for a short drive after the dress parade.

March 1—The Wentworth marching band was featured as "The Band of the Month" in "Streep Music News," a trade magazine.

March 2—Major Leon H. Ungles is constantly finding himself on new committees. Today he was elected a member of the Lexington hospital board of directors.

March 3—The high school boys received official word to the effect that they are the Pony Express basketball champions. Congratulations, gang. Hope we can repeat that feat every year from now on out.

March 4—Wes Hultquist was assured by his cronies that he can still get married, even if he possesses a bachelor's degree.

March 5—I talked to Reverend Raymond Settle today and he gave me many interesting facts about Wentworth's early days. He is now writing a history of the school, a book that we are all anxious to see in print.

March 6—The college and high school basketball lettermen were awarded their letters today.

March 7—We had banana cream pie for dessert at the noon meal. That is my favorite dessert. I hope Mrs. Marge Thompson includes it on the menu again in the very near future.

March 8—Major Brown tried to tell me that Michigan is the best state in the union. Evidently he has never been down in Oklahoma.

March 9—Once again Radio Station WHB officials of Kansas City were down here to transcribe the popular program, "It Pays to be Smart." This year's quiz show featured the history and social science quiz kids on the campus. The program will go out over the air this coming Saturday morning.

March 10—The band went to Sedalia, Mo. today to participate in festivities centering around the world premiere of the movie, "Scudda-Hoo! Scudda-Hay!"

March 11—Spring furlough! I was able to check out right after my second class. I arrived home around 11:00 p. m.

March 12—I remained in bed until noon. This is the life for me.

March 13—I was invited out to a party tonight. I decided to wear my dress blue uniform, and it sure made a hit with the girls.

March 14—It felt strange today being at home and not having to worry about personal inspection and parade.

March 15—Dad and I spent most of the day together. We had many heart-to-heart talks, and he gave me some good tips which will help me in my work when I return to school.

March 16—I barely made the retreat formation, for my train was a little late in getting into Kansas City. Anyway, I am back at Wentworth and am on the ball again.

March 17—Cadet Abdo Bayazeed, our boy from Trans-jordan, gave a talk at the Lexington Lions club at noon. Abdo sure has made a hit with the cadets, and I know that the Lions must have liked him too.

March 18—Major Dallas Buck was elected vice president of the Missouri Association of College debate at Warrensburg.

March 19—The outdoor bleachers have been erected and the hurdles have been placed around the cinders track. Yep, track season is here again, and I think that I'll give that sport a try this year.

March 21—Sunday, and I decided to spend most of my time in getting my lessons up for tomorrow, for I usually have a heavy schedule on Mondays.

March 22—Well, the wrestlers were made happy today, for their letters were awarded by Captain Coleman.

March 23—The summer school catalog is now off the press and it is available to those who are interested. The book is certainly a great improvement over the one printed last year.

March 24—One of the back offices has been painted an appealing greenish-blue color upon the recommendation of industrial engineers. If the color experiment proves satisfactory to the girls in that office, maybe the other offices, and even the barracks might get the same color treatment.

March 25—Last, but not least, Colonel Wikoff presented his little group, the Wentworth Midgets, with basketball letters.

March 26—I just discovered that John Buckman is a licensed official in Iowa. Johnny has done a sweet job in officiating company games here this year.

March 27—John L. Ryburg, Kay Souigny, Burton K. Hanbury, Frank R. Hamer, and James H. Priest were admitted into the Honor Guard today.

March 28—Headquarters company was awarded a scholastic guidon for academic competition for the second three weeks of the second semester. The band boys made a total score of 95 and achieved a company rating of 2.335.

March 29—We heard a local damsel say that in her opinion Berryman is the most dignified cadet officer on the campus this year. We think that maybe she has something.

March 30—Captain George Simpson had his class rolling in the aisles. He told the yarn about the cross-eyed teacher who was unable to control her pupils.

April 1—The usual pranks were played on unsuspecting cadets today, but one can expect such things on April Fools' Day.

April 2—The school authorities announced today that Roe Bartle, Kansas City Boy Scout executive, a high-powered speaker, would deliver this year's commencement address.

April 3—The tennis teams have been working out under the direction of Colonel James M. Sellers. The Colonel seems to be well pleased with the performance of the boys. We should go places in tennis this year.

April 4—The Military department has just received word to the effect that the Academy's rifle team placed sixth in the annual Fifth Army intercollegiate postal rifle match among 18 midwestern colleges and universities and military schools.

April 5—The high school relay team composed of Kent Wikoff, John Fulgency, Manuel Font, and Ernest Vincent won the 880-yd. relay at the 16th annual state track meet held at the University of Missouri.

April 6—Dr. George L. Robinson, recent chapel speaker, paid a fine tribute to the cadets. In a letter to Colonel Sellers today, he said, "Tell those students they are among the best listeners I ever had."

April 7—I understand that the Academy will have a genuine Indian Village in connection with the summer camp this year. I wish that they had the village back in the days when I was eligible to attend the camp.

April 8—Andrew Ponzi, three times champion of the world at pocket billiards, will stage an exhibition in the "rec" room during the last week of the month, according to an announcement from the athletic department.

April 9—Captain E. P. (Chink) Coleman was re-elected president of the National Junior College Athletic association at the meeting held at Springfield, Mo.

April 10—The annual "W" Club dance was held this evening. Colonel Wikoff stole the show with his rather bizarre costume.

April 11—Now that basketball, wrestling, and boxing are matters of ancient history, the corps is participating in spring sports. I signed up for company softball. Watch my outfit win the championship this season.

April 12—Mrs. Anna Gibbons joined the new car owners select group this week when she signed papers for the purchase of a 1948 Ford.

April 13—Talk about your spring fever, I sure have it. I'll have to snap out of it in a hurry or my grades will suffer.

April 14—The school will schedule an eighth grade class next September, according to Colonel Wikoff. My brother Harry will complete the sixth grade this year, but he will be able to point the eighth grade group in another year, thus being able to come to Wentworth a year earlier than he had planned.

April 15—Major Brown tells us that there are still some choice rooms available for those returning next year. I took care of my enrollment a month ago and I am going to have a splendid roommate.

April 16—We are really taking military work seriously these days, for Government Inspection is just about a week away.

April 17—Thirty athletes were admitted into the membership of the "W" Club today. Lucky boys!

April 19—Lester Hamilton has been sitting on top of the world since he won a No. 1 rating in corner at the Central Missouri district music contest.

April 20—I walked into the library today and discovered that fifty new books had just been received. I am going to check out some of these new volumes as soon as the military inspection is out of the way.

April 21—Major Leon H. Ungles, dean of administration, was elected president of the Lafayette county alumni of the University of Missouri.

April 22—Government Inspection! Boy, oh Boy, but those inspectors were rough. We have one more day of the routine, too. I knew all the questions they asked me. I hope I can do as well tomorrow.

April 23—Well, the inspectors left early in the afternoon. We were given free time in the afternoon and were rewarded with permits in the evening.

April 24—Cadet John H. Suttle, Fayetteville, Ark., learned that he won first place in the recent Time Magazine current events quiz.

April 25—I had a "soupie" permit and decided to eat out for a change. Took in a movie after dinner.

April 27—I learned today that Captain Clyde Etter would be back on the Wentworth staff next year. Swell! We'll be glad to see him back.

April 28—Robert Walker, William Ballard, William Lee, Don Unger, George Robbins, and George McNerney have been selected to attend the camp at Ft. Riley this year. That means they are well on their way to becoming commissioned officers.

April 29—I received a surprise package from mother and dad. Guess what! They sent me a gift that I really appreciate, a nice portable typewriter.

April 30—One hundred and one cadets are candidates for graduation this year, and they are thrilled at the idea of possessing Wentworth diplomas.

May 1—The Wentworth campus is certainly very pretty at this time of the year. When one looks around at the pleasant surroundings, he wonders whether he really wants to go home when school lets out at the end of the month.

May 2—Another Sunday afternoon, and quite a few visitors were down on the campus, many of them prospective students who are looking over their future alma mater.

May 3—Got a letter from home today. Dad said that he had a summer job lined up for me with a friend of his.

May 4—Jim Wardwell is kept busy officiating at softball games. He had a busy day, having worked a doubleheader this afternoon.

May 5—That little cutie down at Stephens has accepted my invitation to attend the commencement dance. Now I really have something to look forward to.

May 6—Captain John Garner was seen putting around on the golf course. Not only was he putting around, but he was also playing a very fine game.

May 7—The cadets are already talking in terms of final examinations. Gosh, and it seems that we just started this school year about a week ago. One never has to complain about time on his hands at Wentworth.

May 8—Some of those college students are having a rough time meeting term paper deadlines. Well, I too shall have that to worry about next year, for I am slated to be a college freshman in September.

May 9—Kent Wikoff has been going to town with the high school track team this year. Looks as if he is going to be an outstanding athlete, just like his father.

May 10—Colonel Wikoff is away on an extended trip. For the past few days he has been in Columbus, Ohio. Now he is attending a Rotary International conference in St. Joseph, Mo.

May 11—We know that spring is really here when we see Capt. and Mrs. Edgar Muench cycling around the countryside.

May 12—Mother wrote that she and dad will be down to see me on Sunday. After the parade we are going to drive out to College Park for a real picnic dinner, which will include fried chicken and all the trimmings.

May 13—The Cavaliers have been booked heavily for this month. Doug Klusmeyer has done a swell job in organizing the group and giving us one of the best dance orchestras here in many years.

May 14—Just heard from a boy who lives in the same block at home. He says that he too will come to Wentworth next year. He has heard me brag so much about the school that he has decided to enroll, too.

May 15—The boys are quite excited about the fact that Glen Cunningham, one of the star milers of all times, will be an assembly program feature next year.

May 16—Sunday, and a reminder that we have but one more Sunday to spend in Lexington, a fact that we regret very much.

May 17—Many of the college instructors started their final examinations today. The tests will run throughout the week. Boy, will I be glad when I get my exams out of the way.

May 18—I have just double-checked my train reservation with Mrs. Beth Hepler, our hostess. Now that I have a lower on a fast train, I feel like shouting with joy.

May 19—Gee, but I hate the thought of not seeing the graduates again, especially the junior college grads who go on to the universities. They're all swell guys, and they will be hard to replace at Wentworth. However, advance dope points to next year's cadet crop as being regular fellows, too, and I know that I and the other old boys will take great pleasure in helping them to get adjusted.

May 20—Captain George Simpson has been spending his spare time in taking brief fishing excursions. Any time that you want some pointers on angling, you might run down to Company "C," for Captain George is really an authority on the subject.

May 21—Stopped in at the QM and Captain Willoughby asked me if I would be back next fall. "Sure," I told him, "you couldn't keep me away."

May 22—Took in a movie tonight. I got back to the barracks in time to write a letter to mother before taps sounded.

May 23—The baccalaureate service was held this morning. Our beloved skipper, Maj. (Ch.) James M. Stafford, delivered the message, and he certainly made us do some serious thinking about the better life for ourselves and for others.

May 24—Field day activities and all the companies are getting ready for the competitions which will be held here the next two days.

May 25—Well, it is all over but the shouting. At least we are through with our school work. We polished off the last exam this morning.

May 26—The band gave its annual public band concert this evening. The boys sounded good and they drew rounds and rounds of applause.

May 27—The graduation exercises were held this evening. Roe Bartle, Kansas City Boy Scout executive gave a very dramatic talk to the graduates.

May 28—You will have a difficult time trying to find anything more beautiful than the final flag ceremony which was held this morning, just before the cadet corps was dismissed. All boys leaving Wentworth, all graduates, kiss the flag which is passed from cadet to cadet. The first lesson and the last lesson that one is taught here is that of patriotism. Every graduate loves that flag and stands ready to defend it at any time. After the flag service Cadet Lt. Col. Robert Walker yelled out "Dismissed." Another year at Wentworth had come to a close, and before too many hours had passed most cadets were homeward bound. It will be a long three months waiting for September to roll around and for school to re-open again, but you can depend upon one thing, I'll be one of the first ones back when the new term gets underway.
