ESTABLISHED 1880 — LEXINGTON, MO.

WENTWORTH'S PURPOSE

It is the purpose of Wentworth Military Academy to provide the best conditions possible for the all 'round development of worthy boys and young men.

To attain this high purpose, the Academy places greatest emphasis upon these four points:

First, it is the Academy's aim to assemble only the highest types of students—deserving youths of good parentage—to assure wholesome associations and greater progress. Every precaution is taken to keep undesirable boys—all those that might prove detrimental to others—out of the Academy.

Second, to employ only men of highest character and ability for its faculty. It is not enough for a Wentworth faculty member to be merely scholarly and a splendid instructor. He must also possess a spirit of friendliness and a sincere desire to give kindly help whenever necessary. He must thoroughly understand the innermost problems of boys—be patient with them—and be ready to serve each boy to the best of his ability.

Third, to provide the very best equipment throughout every department to the end that every boy will have all those things necessary to his health and happiness and that none shall want for anything that will help him to make progress.

Fourth, to provide a program for each day that will best serve the interests of every student.

Wentworth 1912, University of Chicago, A. B. 1917, Phi Beta Kappa 1916; Sigma Xi; Beta Theta Pi; Major U. S. Marine Reserve 1917-1920; Distinguished Service Cross; Navy Cross; Silver Star; Purple Heart; Croix-de-Guerre; Past President of Association of Military Colleges and Schools of the United States; Officer in Grand Lodge and Grand Commanderies of Missouri.

From the beginning the late President Sellers surrounded himself with the ablest faculty available—strong men of proved qualities and Christian character. Under his wise and forward-looking direction, Wentworth has grown steadily. Each year has shown marked improvement over the preceding year. Today Wentworth stands as one of the truly great educational institutions of our country—second to none in the opportunities it offers boys and young men for thorough preparation for professional studies, business and for life.

SINCE EIGHTEEN EIGHTY

One of the chief reasons why Wentworth has been able to achieve its lofty purpose lies in the fact that the Academy has been under one continuous administration since its founding. For nearly three-score years, Colonel Sanford Sellers was president of Wentworth. He enjoyed one of the most enviable records in the history of American education.

The Academy was founded by Stephen G. Wentworth, scion of a distinguished English family and a prominent Lexington banker, in 1880, as a memorial to his deceased son, William Wentworth. Mr. Wentworth immediately vested control of the institution in the hands of a board of trustees composed of a duly elected representative of each of the Evangelical churches of Lexington, and a president. Colonel Sellers was called to the new school in its first year and remained as its active head until 1938. Mr. Wentworth served as president of the Board from 1880 until his death in 1897.

It was the firm conviction of the founder, his board of trustees and President Sellers that a military boarding school provides the most effective possible means for giving young men the thorough mental, moral and physical training necessary to develop in them the highest traits of manhood. Thus, Wentworth became the first military school in the Missouri River Valley.

AN HISTORIC BACKGROUND

Throughout over half a century the Wentworth purpose has remained unchanged. The ideals which led to the Academy's founding and which have carried it steadily forward, shine just as brightly today as ever: the desire to give each youth every opportunity to develop fully his own individual personality; the aim that every cadet shall acquire a keen sense of duty and responsibility, both to himself and toward others; that he shall have the mental and moral power to make accurate judgments between right and wrong and the physical power to stand by his convictions.

These high standards have dominated Wentworth for generations. But to maintain them and assure their full and continuous application, it has been found necessary to limit the enrollment. Wentworth today is a relatively small school—many times larger than in 1880, to be sure, yet small enough that every individual student is given the private attention so essential to his all-round development.

The surrounding country affords a wealth of historically important Civil War sites and the town of Lexington itself retains much of the tradition of the old south. Here enthusiasm for the reminders of our country's glorious past is combined with the enthusiasm for modern adventure to promote the rapid development of the boy's mental, moral and physical resources.

YESTERDAY

Above is pictured the first company ever assembled at Wentworth. From this humble beginning, the Academy has marched forward over a trail of development that has placed it in the front rank of America's best military schools.

and TODAY

The Wentworth Military Academy of today is vastly different from the Wentworth of 1880. From year to year it has enlarged its facilities, increased its enrollment and changed its physical appearance until there is little to remind one of the early days. Numerous modern and attractive buildings have been erected as they were needed. Old buildings have been torn away when they were no longer useful. Spacious military and athletic fields have been added. One of the finest gymnasiums in the country has been built. Every new method in teaching that has been found definitely superior to older methods has been adopted. Yet, some of the fundamental principles that guided the first company are adhered to just as strictly today.

MILITARY DEPARTMENT

MILITARY training at Wentworth has always been a strong feature, but it is never permitted to interfere with the scholastic work of the Academy. It can be shown, moreover, that military discipline has a decidedly advantageous effect upon classroom work.

In recognition of the superior military work done at Wentworth, in 1889 the Academy became a post of the Missouri National Guard. Graduates of the Academy who resided in Missouri, became eligible for commissions in this organization.

Wentworth has been under the direct supervision of the War Department of the United States Government since 1895, when the first active army officer was detailed to the Academy. This officer, assisted by active non-commissioned officers of the army, is in charge of all military work. In addition, the War Department furnishes around $50,000 worth of equipment to be used for instruction purposes. Wentworth is one of the original Honor Schools of the United States, the highest rating given by the War Department. The Academy has been a unit of the Reserve Officers' Training Corps from the time that organization was established.

* This monument, erected on the campus by the Alumni Association, to the memory of Wentworth cadets who died in the World War No. I, typifies the loyal spirit of generations of former Wentworth cadets.

* Patriotism is no sham at Wentworth. Every cadet is taught the real meaning of our flag. Each day, with appropriate ceremonies, the Stars and Stripes are raised and lowered on the towering flag pole.

The cadet whose face shows under the curve of the flag is now Ex-Lt. Wm. Bates, who flew a bomber in the European theater of operations; controlling the flag ropes is Kenneth Winters, late of the Navy. The bugler is Lieut. Max Cordron, a flier killed in the service.

ADMINISTRATION BUILDING

Within Wentworth's Administration Building are handsomely furnished parlors, corridors and reception rooms. Among its furnishings and decorations students and guests alike find many articles of interest and rare beauty. Its comfortable furnishings amid peaceful surroundings afford a homelike atmosphere where the new cadet readily adapts himself to a wholesome, happy experience. Here in an atmosphere of quiet dignity, every student is privileged to entertain his guests or to spend his leisure moments as governed by his daily schedule. None of the comforts of the modern home have been excluded in Wentworth's plan to provide the finest training and quarters available.

Nature and man have joined forces at Wentworth to produce a campus of outstanding beauty. Magnificent trees, of many varieties, blend in perfect harmony with modern, attractive buildings and spacious grounds. The Academy is located just at the edge of Lexington and covers 52 acres. The front campus extends over four city blocks and is dotted with massive elms and glorious flower banks that provide enchantment and inspiration. The back campus includes athletic and military fields and the new stadium. There are eight thoroughly modern buildings on the campus, each built for the exact purpose it serves. They are of brick and stone construction and are heated by steam and hot water.

THE WENTWORTH COUNTRY CLUB

Located on one of the most beautiful spots overlooking the Missouri River, the Golf Course and Country Club add variety to the many facilities available to the Wentworth students. The nine-hole golf course is most attractive and sporty. The club house, with its catering equipment, is ideal for many informal parties held throughout the year. And in the stable are found horses suitable for the tyro as well as the expert rider.

SCHOLASTIC

Wentworth's new $80,000 Sellers-Wikoff Scholastic Building is the nucleus of the scholastic department. This magnificent structure contains one of the most splendid libraries possessed by any institution of this kind. Four completely equipped laboratories provide excellent facilities for the practical study of the sciences. In addition to classrooms for all classes, it houses the Dean's and Commandant's offices. It is with justifiable pride that Wentworth points to this new achievement in its effort to provide up-to-the-minute methods and scholastic accoutrements.

* The attractive library contains thousands of volumes, providing every necessary supplement to the student's texts and manuals.

* Commercial class rooms are large and well lighted and are equipped with modern business machines. The latest recognized business methods are taught by competent instructors.

★ Sellers-Wikoff Scholastic Building.

DEPARTMENT

The scholastic department is divided into two separate and distinct units: the high school, which offers four years of preparatory work, and the junior college, which offers two years of liberal arts and science. Each has its own organization separate from the other. Both divisions are fully accredited by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, an organization composed of the leading colleges and preparatory schools in twenty states. This recognition means that graduates of either department are eligible to enter any institution in the United States that receives students by certification.

It is our aim to see that each cadet masters every lesson thoroughly. To accomplish this, every student is taught correct study methods and thoroughly schooled in correct uses of libraries and laboratories. Classes are small, averaging from 8 to 15 students, which permits individual attention. Most of the faculty members live in the buildings with students. They are readily accessible for special help. From time to time a personal study is made of each cadet to determine his points of weakness and help him overcome them.

★ The laboratory for elementary classes in chemistry provides many costly instruments not provided for in many schools but which Wentworth believes are important to the proper study of chemistry.

★ The laboratory for the advanced chemistry classes is even more completely equipped.

AVIATION

Wentworth participated in the Civil Aeronautics Administration Civilian Pilot Training Program from its inception in 1939 through the change to C. A. A. War Training Service until June, 1943, when all but 80 out of 712 colleges and universities throughout the country were eliminated due to curtailment of this type of training. However, the academy administration, believing aviation training to be very important now and in the future to the youth of the nation, secured permission from C. A. A. officials to continue flight training on a civilian basis and at the expense of the trainees.

The ground school and flight program is identically the same as given the Army and Navy when they used C. A. A. facilities. It consists of 45 hours actual flight and 24 hours navigation, 24 hours meteorology, 14 hours Civil Regulations, 10 hours General Service of aircraft.

Wentworth is one of the few schools in the country possessing its own airport and conducting its own aviation training.

The records of the graduates of the Wentworth Flight Training are outstanding. During the war the graduates of this training program fought in every front where Americans were in combat.

A DAY

AT WENTWORTH

NO TWO days at Wentworth are quite the same, for a widely varied program of scholastic, military, athletic and other activities is used to keep the interest of the cadets at high pitch and their appetites for learning well whetted. Furthermore, no two students have quite the same duties to perform throughout any given day. There is, however, a definite routine that all cadets follow each day. It is used to instill perfect regularity and promptness in attendance upon all duties prescribed for one and all cadets alike.

While it requires some adjustments for new students to become accustomed to this routine, any slight hint of monotony is soon lost in the kaleidoscopic whirl of the school year.

To give parents and others a better insight, the following pages have been used to set forth, pictorially, the day's activities from Reveille to Taps, of a typical Wentworth boy whom we will designate as Cadet Harlan.

The pictures in this section were taken nine years ago. However, since they illustrate life at Wentworth of today, they are still timely. They are retained because so many of the cadets shown served in the Armed Forces of their country and so well illustrate the value of military training as received while at Wentworth.

Since the importance of military preparedness is becoming increasingly evident by the changing world situation, the training illustrated in this picture section has a special significance.

There have been some uniform changes as may be seen by referring to the section on Wentworth uniforms.

★ Harlan—a typical Wentworth cadet.

HERE is Harlan, a typical Wentworth cadet—a fine young American—manly, scholarly and upright. His respect for duty and responsibility has won for him the rank of sergeant. He may have come from a large city or a very small town—that makes no difference to the democratic spirit that prevails at Wentworth. He may be from a wealthy family or a family in meager circumstances—most of his classmates would never know, nor even be curious, unless he chose to tell them. But he typifies all the fine qualities of a deserving and ambitious youth as he goes through the tried and age-proved Wentworth process of becoming a real man, a real asset to himself, his family and friends, and society as a whole.

Harlan, like all the others, participates in many activities besides those shown. But let's follow him through a typical day.

Harlan "Butch" Heffelfinger, who graduated in the class of 1937 and posed as the model cadet in the view book, served as a Major in the last war.

His brother, Hugo, another Wentworth alumnus, also a Major, and served with distinction with the Rangers.

Artie Heffelfinger served with the Navy Air Corps as an Ensign.

* Harlan's first duty is a thorough, refreshing wash before breakfast.

"I CAN'T GET 'EM UP," blows the bugler, but he does, and at 6:35 o'clock another day is under way. Cadet Harlan goes first to the sanitary lavatory on his floor. A good washup is part of the routine, for a cadet is expected to keep himself clean at all times. At 6:50 he goes to a well-prepared breakfast.

After breakfast, rooms must be cleaned. One of the basic aims of our system is to form personal habits of order. Each morning Harlan makes his own bed, puts his clothes in order and helps his roommate clean the room.

* Harlan makes up his own bed.

Strict inspection of quarters is a daily routine. Formal inspection of Harlan's person, room and equipment occurs on Sunday morning. At this time unusual care must be taken in cleaning the room. Our friend sees that hidden corners are carefully dusted, chairs polished, and everything put in order. Then he takes care of his person. There's brass to shine, leather to polish, hair to brush, and whiskers to be removed. A certain time is allotted for this preparation and all work must be done within that time. This young fellow knows that any deficiency in this work receives what is known in Academy language as a "skin"—which counts against one's company in color competition.

* Harlan is ready for the inspector—brass gleaming, shoes shined—room as clean as the proverbial "hound's tooth."

* Here Harlan delves into things scientific. Modern equipment is provided for all laboratory work.

AT 8 O'CLOCK in the morning, classes convene. Harlan makes his way to a small class on his schedule where personal attention is his at any time it is needed. Our cadet is carefully instructed in the handling of delicate scientific equipment. He is not forced to grope blindly for information. That which is true of the science laboratories is equally true in all other classrooms.

Time passes rapidly in the classroom or laboratory because the work is interesting. The scholastic day is divided into two equal parts, with three classes in the morning and three in the afternoon.

★ Our Cadet goes through a course of calisthenics to promote grace and health.

All the cadets shown in the picture were in the Armed Service. The second from the left, Lieutenant Tom Henderson, Jr., of Haynesville, La., was killed in the fighting for Munda Airfield.

CALISTHENICS play an important role in the physical education of Cadet Harlan. No effort is made to indulge in this or any other exercise in the early morning hours when the body is at its lowest ebb. All such exercises are taken by our cadet after a hearty breakfast and morning classes. The exercises are intended to promote graceful movement as well as better health. The calisthenics used by the United States Army are followed. They are led by senior cadet officers.

So long as the weather permits, the calisthenics are held in the open, but they are taken in the large gymnasium, where an entire battalion may take part at the same time, when rain or cold is in the air.

★ The ten excellent tennis courts are always popular.

* Cadet Harlan reports to the Professor of Military Science and Tactics for drill duty.

Cadet Lieutenant Jack Ramsdell commanding the platoon shown in these two views, participated as an officer in the landing on North Africa. He was decorated with the Silver Star for heroism in action and Purple Heart.

DRILL is a very formal affair. It is on the drill field that Harlan learns much of courtesy, discipline and alertness. He, with his entire battalion, is thoroughly schooled in good citizenship, taught the proper respect for superiors and trained in leadership.

Learning to drill a squad is the first training in leadership. Throughout the year squad drill and competition is a part of the regular military routine. The squad is the smallest military unit and consists of nine men, one of whom is a corporal and another a first class private. All instruction is conducted by cadets under the personal supervision of members of the military faculty.

Although military work takes but one hour each day, the training is intensive and much more thorough than that found in larger units. Personal attention is given the individual cadet on the military field as well as in the classroom, and each cadet has an equal chance to advance to important positions in Wentworth's military realm. In the army, the navy and the marine corps Wentworth is glorified by its alumni who have received their commissions and are distinguishing themselves in official capacities of these respective branches of service.

Like many other cadets, Harlan finds the extended order drill more interesting. This drill consists of combat methods. He is taught to make use of cover, to advance and to fire. No actual firing is done during this drill, however, for all the ammunition used is dummy material. Initiative and leadership are required in this work. Situations arising in the problems furnished by the War Department call for quick thinking and immediate action.

Here our typical cadet finds extended order drill interesting and instructive.

The Cadet Officer using the field glasses was Captain Woodrow Wylie, U. S. Army. He participated in the fight on Bataan, was captured and has been reported as having died in a prison camp.

The cadet about to insert the cartridge in his rifle is Major Milton Moran, U. S. Marine Air Corps. He has participated in considerable action in the South Pacific.

★ Eating — an always-popular "sport" with Harlan and his fellow cadets! Meal time is always a time for good food and good fellowship.

The Faculty Officer at the head of the table is now an aviation instructor on the West coast. Five of the cadets facing the camera were officers in the United States Army. Two of them were fliers.

FOLLOWING the morning classes comes lunch time and our cadet is ready to eat. Academy menus are always varied and pleasing. Meals are carefully planned to suit the needs of all cadets. They are healthful and nutritious and just what active, hard-working boys require. Meal times are at 7:00 in the morning, 12:10 and 6:10. This schedule is varied only on Sunday, when dinner becomes a more elaborate meal served at 12:30.

After dinner there is a recreation period during which Harlan and other cadets may do pretty much as they choose. At this time there is a rush for the cadet post office. Every cadet receives his mail twice daily. The recreation room is also a popular place at this time.

* Maybe Harian is "behind the 8-ball" here! Like all other cadets he takes part in zestful competition in the recreation room.

* A letter from mother . . . or maybe the girl from home writes—

* She will be down for the "Military Ball,"

THE recreation room proves a haven of rest, relaxation and zestful indoor competition. Pool, billiard and ping-pong tables are provided. A few try their hand at bridge, while others read, or relax in comfortable chairs.

* (Right) Our friend attends a chapel period, held twice each week.

* (Below) "We must get in there and fight!" says Harlan as he makes a short "pep" talk on the eve of a game.

CADET HARLAN attends an interesting, informative and inspirational meeting in the chapel, immediately before lunch. These meetings are conducted by the Academy Chaplain, but are not strictly religious. Travel talks, health lectures, scientific demonstrations and short sermons, presented by outstanding speakers, are frequently on the program. The service is opened with a hymn, prayer and responsive readings, and closed with the singing of "Wentworth," the Academy song.

"Pep" meetings, preceding important athletic contests, are also held in the chapel. These are always occasions of great fun. Students and faculty make rousing speeches. The cadet band furnishes gay, martial music and everyone anticipates the big game on the morrow. Athletic contests are important recreational events. Every cadet attends them.

* While a majority of the faculty members live in the barracks with cadets, some live in residences such as this on the campus.

In this picture, the Tactical Officer, James Simmons, graduate of Wentworth, is now a Lieut. Col. in the United States Army. He participated in the capture of Attu and Kwajalein.

Next to him, Lieutenant Orman, paratrooper, who took part in the Sicilian campaign and the capture of Naples, and was killed on Normandy beach. On the right, Captain James L. Gist, Army Aviator, killed in action over Japan.

PERSONAL attention is not confined to the classroom nor to the evening study periods. Harlan and many other cadets seek assistance in the spacious Academy library. The faculty officer in charge is always ready and willing to help any student, no matter what his problem. Whatever the subject, the faculty officer is qualified to give the guidance needed.

Wentworth's library is one of the most important places on the campus. It contains more than 7,500 books on nearly every subject one could imagine. Reference books include the famous Oxford English Dictionary and many sets of encyclopedia.

* All shined up for Sunday inspection.

* Harlan plays football—and mighty well, too! No wonder! His uncle was an All-American at Yale.

* In winter months our boy turns his attention to basketball and other indoor sports.

TRAINING for leadership is important on the football field as well as everywhere else at Wentworth. More than fifty cadets answer the varsity call each year and large squads turn out for company teams. All players receive intensive training, both in the art of the game and in clean sportsmanship.

Football ranks as the number one sport, and the Red Dragon elevens are consistent winners. The fine spirit of players and corps is credited with being a strong determining factor in every contest.

In the winter months basketball comes into the spotlight. Again there are the varsity and company teams and a place for every cadet who desires to play. Home games are played in the spacious gymnasium where there are two courts and ample space for spectators.

Wentworth is a member of the Junior College Interstate conference, an athletic association numbering six schools as members. The Wentworth High School teams are members of the Pony Express Conference of Western Missouri. Almost every major and minor sports are on the Wentworth program—all played under competent coaches—and every cadet is required to participate.

*The gymnasium is 220 x 55 feet. It contains two regular basket ball courts, a large stage, a swimming pool 20 x 60 feet, locker rooms, showers and gymnastic equipment.

* Here our man-in-the-making is ready for his daily plunge in the pool.

THE sparkling, crystal-clear water of the swimming pool is inviting to cadets the year 'round. The pool is of regulation size (20x60) and is the scene of frequent water sports and aquatic meets. It is the purpose to teach every cadet to swim well. The water is warmed to a healthful temperature and kept pure by efficient filtration and chemical treatment.

* (Above) Hi-dee-ho! Harlan and his friends tune in a radio program during the recreation period immediately following the evening meal.

* The orchestra provides musical diversion both for members of the group and the corps.

Just before the evening study period is the favorite tune-in time for Cadet Harlan and other radio devotees. Permission to have a radio in the room is regarded a privilege, the abuse of which causes the student to lose this favor.

After thirty-five minutes of recreation following the supper hour, evening study is begun at 7 o'clock. Each cadet retires to his own room for a two-hour period of quiet. There is no stuffy, noisy hall in which cadets are confined. Instead, individual initiative is encouraged. Faculty officers are in constant attendance throughout the period, giving advice where it is needed and encouragement at all times.

Quiet descends and another day is ended for our busy cadet. Sleep . . . sweet, restful sleep.

TAPS, at which time all lights must be turned out and all cadets remain quiet, is sounded at 10 o'clock. The soft notes of the bugle call to close the activities of an eventful day and the peace of slumber envelops healthy young bodies until another dawn.

The purpose of this book has been to give you an accurate, but necessarily inadequate glimpse of the Wentworth Military Academy and cadet life. In order fully to appreciate the Academy, it will be necessary for you to visit the campus in person, see the beautiful grounds and buildings and meet members of the faculty. The Administration offices are open the year 'round and your visit will be welcomed at any time.

MEMORIES OF 1948-49

By JOE CADDET

August 31—Football camp opened today, and eighty candidates reported to compete for varsity berths on the gridiron team. Two new coaches, Captains John Readecker and Dick Nines, were on hand to welcome the prospective football players.

September 1—Members of the academy began arriving on the campus from vacation spots all over the country. In the varsity spotlight, conditioning exercises were emphasized and the first practice was held in tee shirts and shorts.

September 2—Major Leon H. Ungles, dean of administration, was elected to the office of Vice-President of the Pony Express Athletic Conference.

September 3—According to votes of a gridmen poll, Raymond Barker and Bobby Pribble were selected as team captains of the college and high school football squads respectively. Certainly wish them the very best of luck in guiding their teams on to victory in the forthcoming games!

September 4—The grounds and maintenance staff is accomplishing a general cleanup of the buildings and campus to get everything in complete readiness for the arrival of cadets tomorrow.

September 5—A large number of new cadets arrived at Wentworth today, and were satisfactorily impressed with all of the many excellent facilities here at school. They seem like a very friendly bunch of fellows, and I sincerely hope that they enjoy their stay at the academy throughout the year.

September 6—More future Wentworthians arrived today, and they were promptly registered and classified immediately after stepping on the campus. The new boys all appear to be eagerly anticipating the joys and thrills of a new scholastic and military routine.

September 7—Formal registration of new enrollees continued today, and a picnic supper was held, under the supervision of the school dietitian, at the Country Club. Never ate so much in all of my life, as Mrs. Marge Thompson really can prepare very delicious meals.

September 8—Former students returned to the academy today, and are awaiting a future year of excitement, knowledge, and lasting friendships. With the return of the old boys, the 69th year of Wentworth was officially opened.

September 9—Short period classes started today, and cadets forgot the joys of summer vacation and began studying their subjects. Students met their new instructors and, from all reports, were completely satisfied with their arranged program of courses.

September 10—It was announced that this year's cadet corps includes youths from 24 states and 11 foreign countries. An entire total of 385 cadets are enrolled for the first academic semester.

September 11—Major Ungles recently stated that nine new faculty instructors have been added to Wentworth's excellent teaching staff. The curriculum has been expanded by offering courses in various fields of psychology, speech, bookkeeping, and mechanical drawing.

September 12—Today was an example of a Sunday routine, typical of those to follow throughout the year. Included in the busy schedule were room inspections and the weekly battalion parade. The corps looked exceedingly snappy during the parade, and everyone is expecting an excellently drilled battalion within a few months.

September 13—One of the newly added courses, psychology, has attracted considerable attention from all cadets. V. C. Wright of the Guidance Department is the instructor of the subject for the prospective Freud's of the school. Think I will really enjoy the course ... maybe I can psychoanalyze my girl friend.

September 14—Colonel Lester B. Wikoff announced that a group of outstanding speakers have been scheduled for the weekly assembly programs. Principal speakers included Czech official Dr. Stephen Osusky, competitive racer Glenn Cunningham, voodooist David Storey, and Lt. General Raymond S. McLane, Chief of Information for the Department of the Army.

September 15—The first issue of the school paper, "The Trumpeter," rolled off the press today, and cadets were greatly interested in the twelve pages of news concerning the alumni and future events of the year.

September 16—According to the school authorities, "The Lexington Advertiser News" will be supplied, through the compliments of the paper's publisher, free of charge to all cadets.

September 17—A great deal of interest from cadets, visitors, and faculty members has been focused on the two new buildings now being erected on the campus. One structure will be used primarily for laundry maintenance and tailor work while the other building will be used as a cleaning establishment.

September 18—Plans are moving ahead for the Dad's Day program on October 15, and from all indications fathers who make the jaunt to Lexington are going to have a rip-roaring time. Certainly hope Dad can make the trip as he will have a swell time. Humorist Tom Collins will be the main public speaker.

September 19—Dr. Ovid Sellers, son of Mrs. Sanford Sellers, Sr., has been reported safe in Palestine after a plane crash episode. Dr. Sellers, dean of the Presbyterian Theological Seminary in Chicago, was on a plane traveling from Jerusalem to Amman, which crashed upon being set afire by a machine gun burst from an Israeli plane.

September 20—Top cadet officers for the academic year 1948-49 were named in Special Orders 1-2 published by the Military Department. William T. Ballard was selected for the rating of Cadet Lieutenant Colonel, Battalion Commander.

September 21—The first faculty bridge and pinochle party was held at the country club in the evening. Mrs. Karl Berninger and Capt. A. R. Park proved themselves experts at bridge games, while Mrs. Al Bullock and Capt. Leroy Carroll excelled in pinochle.

September 22—The Howell Glass Blowers, a husband and wife team from New Jersey, illustrated the fine art of glass blowing and the making of delicate objects at assembly today.

September 23—Recent visitors on the campus included former cadets Vance Frick, Gus Schopper and Myers Campbell.

September 24—The Junior College Red Dragons went down in defeat on the first opener of the season here with the University of Missouri's B Team. The final score was 50-32, and our fighting cadets did their best against a team outweighing them approximately 30 pounds per man on the line.

September 25—Tonight, the fall dance was held in the gymnasium, and approximately 325 cadets attended. Music was adequately furnished by the school dance band, the Cavaliers. Sure enjoyed tripping the light fantastic with my girl!

September 26—Mother and Dad come up to Wentworth to spend the day today, and we threw a picnic out at the country club. The fried chicken and the potato salad certainly were good, and I only wish that we had more picnics.

September 27—Fifty-one cadets have been selected to be members of the school marching band unit. The complicated snap drill, for which the Wentworth band is famous, has practically been perfected, and cadet members are looking forward to the many forthcoming trips. Wish I could play a horn, and go too.

September 28—Prof. Marvin Edminson, member of the teaching faculty last year, is working towards his Ph. D. degree at Oklahoma A & M college at Stillwater, Oklahoma. He is also teaching a class of 65 Home Economics students, 55 of which are girls. Think I will take up teaching!

September 29—Captain Karl Berninger, athletic director, stated that all boys from the fifth through the eighth grades in public and parochial schools here will be admitted to the Knot-hole section of the stands free for all Wentworth home games this season.

September 30—Company football teams show traces of great competitive spirit this year as the season gets under way. The champions of the battalion will receive a delicious steak dinner at the Victory Cafe in Lexington.

October 1—The Wentworth Junior College eleven bowed to McNeese Junior College from Lake Charles, Louisiana, to the score of 39-0. Our boys showed that they had strong determination against a very heavy and speedy team, however.

October 2—It was announced today that a special train has been reserved for the cadet witnesses of the famous rivalry football game against Kemper. The entire battalion will make the rail movement as a unit, and all spectators are assured a great show of enthusiasm and action on the gridiron.

October 3—After eating a very good dinner at the academy and forming for inspection and parade, my roommate and I decided to attend a good picture at the Mainstreet Theatre.

October 4—Dr. T. Luther Purdom, professor of education and director of the Bureau of Appointments and Occupational Information at the University of Michigan, arrived today to counsel with interested cadets about their problems.

October 5—Cadets Bruce Davis, Leland Dorsey, Frederick Glauner, and Arnold Winkleman were awarded the distinction of being admitted to the Honor Society this semester on the basis of last semester's record. Maybe if I start working right away on scholastic, military, athletic, and disciplinary work, I'll have a chance next semester.

October 6—The college varsity team left the academy today for an eventful trip to Roswell, New Mexico, to meet New Mexico Military Institute for a competitive grid game. Sure wish our boys all of the luck in the world because they certainly will need it against the oncoming team.

October 7—Wentworth will again support a full flight program for all potential flyers, according to Capt. Lowell Stagner. This will mark the tenth year of flight training and ground school integrated into the curriculum at Wentworth.

October 8—The college debate team, under the direction of Maj. Dallas Buck, has been working out in preparation for forensic tournaments which are scheduled for early dates at Kirksville, Mo., and Winfield, Kas. Maybe, I had best start practicing up on my vocal powers of oration.

October 9—Mrs. Westphal, commonly known as the Duchess of the academy hospital is to be congratulated for the five blue ribbons and the sweepstakes award which she won in the flower and poppy show held in Lexington recently. Didn't know that we had an expert horticulturist in our midst.

October 10—Since today is Sunday, several friends and I took the afternoon off to venture over to the country club and improve upon our riding techniques. They really have some fine horses out there, and I enjoyed myself thoroughly.

October 11—Colonel Sellers reported that the fall tennis tournament was completed, and that many exciting games were played as cadets competed for top honors. The championship play-off proved to be very close between Bruce Davis and Jerry Battlestein, but Battlestein finally succeeded in winning.

October 12—Colonel Wikoff left today to attend a meeting of the Missouri-Kansas-Iowa regional groups of the National Association of Educational Buyers at Des Moines, Iowa. He is the president of the Missouri-Kansas group and will conduct one of the regional sessions.

October 13—Dr. Glenn Cunningham, one of the greatest distance runners of all time, who has had an outstanding record of achievement in the field of physical education, addressed the corps at assembly this morning. His subject was "Physical and Mental Fitness."

October 14—Major Buck, dean of instruction, represented the academy at a three-day meeting starting today of the North Central Council of Junior Colleges at Des Moines, Iowa.

October 15—A new record for Dad's day attendance was set today as 206 fathers of cadets registered in the lobby for the annual celebration. Sure enjoyed drilling Dad during drill period and taking him to all of my classes. At the banquet in the evening, Tom Collins, foremost humorist, was the guest speaker, and a game between Graceland College, Lamoni, Iowa, and Wentworth followed.

October 16—One hundred and twenty-five cadets made the Academy's Special Distinction and Honor Roll lists for the six weeks grading period ending today. Only hope that I can work enough to bring up my next grading period's grades to make Special Distinction.

October 17—A letter was received by the military department from Phillip Maxwell of "The Chicago Tribune," stating that gold and silver medals will once more be awarded to outstanding cadets in military schools and colleges throughout the country.

October 18—Five cadet cheerleaders have been strutting their stuff at recent football games and thusly encouraging the corps and visitors to respond with cheers galore. Deserving a lot of credit for doing a splendid job are Tom Phifer, Marvin Suvalsky, Bill Lunsford, Carlos Valverde and Bill Conley.

October 19—Rate an evening permit tonight, and am seriously considering attending the local motion picture theater as I hear there is a fascinating mystery thriller playing.

October 21—Mr. Forrest Roberts, owner of Roberts' Drug Store here in Lexington, gave a highly inspirational talk on "The Importance of the Individual" at assembly today.

October 22—Think I'll improve upon my reading since approximately one hundred new books have been received in the school library recently. Besides educational literature, there are some mighty good novels.

October 23—Twenty-six cadets ventured to Nevada, Mo., to attend a dance at Cottey college. From all reports, they certainly have some beautiful girls down there.

October 24—Since today is Sunday, I decided to take advantage of the hot afternoon and go swimming in the academy swimming pool. Maybe if I practice enough, I will have a chance to qualify in a letter award for varsity swimming.

October 25—A new addition to the long list of faculty '48 car owners is Mrs. James McBrayer Sellers, wife of the superintendent, who just received a new Ford with all of the trimmings.

October 26—The Kansas City Wentworth Alumni Club held a smoker meeting at the office of the club's president, Allan Chambers this evening. The purpose of the short get-together was to rouse up interest and spirit for the Homecoming celebration on November 4.

October 27—Does anyone have any ambition to become a foremost amateur philatelist? If so, contact Col. Wikoff, a specialist in stamps, who has formed a club which meets every Thursday during activity period.

October 28—Two splendid recipes, used by Mrs. Marge Thompson school dietitian, were published in the October issue of "Marketing News." Guess the authorities really know their business when it comes to selecting the dining room staff.

October 29—It was announced today that the annual military ball, the thirteenth in the history of Wentworth, will be held on February 5. Guess I had better write now, and line up a date for the biggest social event of the year.

October 30—Golf is only a minor sport here at school but a large number of cadets are proving themselves very capable in the game. Looks as if an excellent golf team will be present in the spring as Captain Hepler is a very good instructor.

October 31—Cadet John W. Willer is establishing a very favorable reputation around Lexington due to his musical abilities. John played the organ at the Presbyterian church today, and shows great talent in the unusual art.

November 1—Colonel Sellers, superintendent, had breakfast with President Harry Truman at the Kansas City Club this morning. Forty-five Masons of the highest rank attended the meal at the club's Florentine room.

November 2—The heartiest congratulations of the entire corps should be given to those unsung heroes of the athletic meets, the cadet cheerleaders. Deserving a great amount of applause are Marvin Suvalsky, William Lunsford, Robert Stephanchick, Carlos Valverde, and Loren McMurray.

November 3—Mrs. Rena Elsea is the academy's new dining room hostess, and will assist Mrs. Marge Thompson, dietitian. Cadets have found her very sympathetic in their demands for "more chow" as she sees to it that everyone has plenty of nourishing food to eat during meals.

November 4—Quite a few old boys began arriving today in preparation for the homecoming celebration tomorrow, and it certainly was wonderful to see so many familiar faces again. A banquet and pep meeting was held in the gym for the returning alumni, and Capt. V. M. Willoughby, alumni secretary, was toastmaster for the occasion.

November 5—After the battalion paraded downtown, the program got under way with a grid classic between Wentworth and Kemper. Amid constant cheering from returning classmates, our team won the game 7-0. At the evening game, the college team bowed to Chillicothe Business college to the tune of 2-7. Climaxing the schedule of activities, a homecoming dance was held in the gymnasium. Needless to say, everyone had an excellent time.

November 6—At a recent meeting in Kansas City, Major Leon Ungles was elected vice-president of the Missouri State Secondary School Principals association.

November 7—Certainly had a delicious Sunday dinner today consisting of baked ham and all of the extra trimmings. My roommate and I ate so much that we spent our free afternoon just sleeping and loafing.

November 8—The visual education program, under the supervision of Capt. Frank W. Thompson, is gathering momentum fast, and many teachers are presenting movies to assist in the classroom instruction. Wentworth now has film equipment and material comparing with those in large schools and colleges all over the nation.

November 9—Did you know that it takes 11 men to make a football team, but almost three times that number to make a football? I didn't either until the fact was mentioned in the Trumpeter. Guess I should show more respect toward the pigskins in the future!

November 10—Members of the Kansas City Wentworth Mothers' Club were guests of the academy faculty wives at a luncheon today. After eating dinner with their sons in the recreation room, the mothers participated in an entertaining bridge session.

November 11—Captain Pirhalla, Public Relations Officer, announced recently that the personnel has been selected to manage the Trumpeter staff. Top men on this year's paper are Lt. Richard Nelson, Harold Gillespie, Rodney Wilson, Fred Scheer, John Gover and Richard Burgess.

November 12—Company A ended the company grid season with an unbeaten and unscored upon team, a remarkable record. Looks as if we will have some mighty good talent as representatives on next year's college gridiron team!

November 13—Special Orders No. 3 and No. 4 were published today announcing the cadet promotions for the battalion. Highest ranking cadet on the new orders was Frederick Glauner who was promoted to the rating of Cadet Major, Executive Officer on the Battalion Staff.

November 14—Another cadet and I decided to take full advantage of our three rides offered for the academic year by venturing out to the Country Club for another horseback jaunt. Really enjoyed a pleasant ride over the countryside.

November 15—Honor Guard appointments were announced in Special Orders No. 5, and Lyle Hoppmann was appointed to the post of the guard commander. Qualifications for the Honor Guard are based upon superior scholastic, military, and disciplinary achievement.

November 16—Seventeen cadets have been selected as members of the academy dance band, the Cavaliers; this year, and Lt. Douglas Klusmeyer will direct the musicians. From all reports, the school orchestra is expected to have a busy year fulfilling engagements on and off the campus.

November 17—The fascinating movie, "A Touch of Venus," was recently shown at the local movie theater, and such Casanovas as Roy Jones, Murray Johnson and Tom Mohr are wandering around the campus with far away looks on their faces. After all, fellows, it was just a movie!

November 18—Colonel Wikoff was recently appointed regional chairman of the Missouri University Alumni association at a luncheon held at the home of Dr. Frederick A. Middlebush, the university's president.

November 19—Today was the big day for an event greatly anticipated by all cadets . . . the annual Kemper-Wentworth rivalry football game. The entire cadet battalion left Lexington at 8:00 a.m. Boonville bound on an eight car special Missouri Pacific train. After arriving in Boonville, a two school parade was held in honor of the occasion. Later in the afternoon, the corps watched the Wentworth and Kemper college teams battle for honors in snow and biting wind, and saw the Kemper Yellowjackets defeat the Wentworth Red Dragons 13-0. Although our team was unfortunate in the gridiron event, cadets returned to the campus with happy sportsmanship attitudes.

November 20—Yes, it did happen here! It couldn't happen in the Mediterranean area with the Jews and Arabs constantly fighting, but it could occur at our weekly chapel service. Two cadets, Bernard Rosenberg and Abdo Bayazeed, represented the two races, and assisted the chaplain, Major Stafford, in his nondenominational service.

November 21—A change in the Christmas furlough schedule giving every cadet an extra day home was announced by Colonel Sellers today. Certainly is swell to have that extra day free, and I am sure that everyone appreciates the change.

November 22—It appears as if we have quite a radio man in our midst. James Irwin has had four years experience in radio, and has been featured as a vocalist on KBON in Omaha. While serving in the army in the Pacific theater, he supervised a program, "Requestfully Yours."

November 23—An exciting wheelchair basketball game brings forth with many thrills and spills as proven tonight when the Bulldozer squad of disabled veterans of Kansas City challenged the Dragons to a game. Discovering that practice makes perfect, the cadets bowed 9-70 to the proficient veterans.

November 24—The all-victorious Company A football team celebrated its splendid season by feasting on steaks at a dinner given in their honor at the Victory cafe. The team members who dined in style certainly deserved a treat.

November 25—Relief for half a day was given in place of regular classes, and cadets really appreciated the Thanksgiving Day break. As many of my friends were doing, I spent the free time listening to the radio play by play report of the exciting M. U. - K. U. game.

November 26—The college geology class, under the direction of Captain W. L. Stagner, left today for their annual field journey into areas surrounding Joplin, Mo. Sure wish I had signed up for a geology course now.

November 27—"Who has the liniment?" is a familiar expression heard around the campus as the physical fitness program is started by the military department. Stiff joints seem to be contagious, but cadets are realizing that steady conditioning exercises only serve to promote a more active body and better health.

November 28—The winter athletic program will start tomorrow, and I am busily thinking about the desired sport for me. With college, high school, and company basketball, not to mention boxing, wrestling, rifle team, and swimming, how can one go wrong?

November 29—Mr. V. C. Wright, vocational guidance director at Wentworth, spoke on guidance planning to the Lexington Child Welfare Board in an informal meeting today.

December 1—The Public Relations office announced that official entry forms are available for cadets who wish to enter pictures of their girl friends, sisters, or cousins in the Military Ball queen contest. Had better write the little woman and get that picture up here in a big hurry!

December 2—Bobby Gadt, fullback, and Billy Beard, end, were listed on the Interstate conference football all-star team compiled by Bob Busby of "The Kansas City Star" from the ballots of the coaches in the loop. Three other Dragons, Verlyn Roskam, Jack Sanders, and John Swengel, were listed on the second all-star eleven.

December 3—Colonel L. B. Wikoff, a member of the State Chamber of Commerce board of directors, attended a luncheon meeting of the Missouri business group at the Hotel Jefferson, St. Louis today.

December 4—Mrs. Beth Hepler, academy hostess, is quite busy these days attempting to solve the travel problems for Christmas furlough, and she has served as a constant guide for many worried cadet travelers.

December 5—Now that the 1948 football season is completed, a great deal of credit must be given to the members of both the college and high school teams. Stiff competition proved exceptionally rough, but the players demonstrated Wentworth's famous motto, "Sportsmanship always, and never be licked," in every game.

December 6—Major Brown, commandant, published instructions today concerning the close of school for the Christmas holidays. Better be absolutely sure that everything is clear disciplinarily so I can leave when the rest do!

December 7—Winton K. Sexton, a former Wentworthian, is the author of an unusual and very thrilling book, "We Fought for Freedom," a story about the writer's personal experiences as an escaped German prisoner of war in Italy. The book will probably be on the bookshelves during the holidays.

December 8—Thirteen extra-curricular activities are scheduled on the campus. Fields ranging from music to photography are offered, and every cadet has an excellent opportunity to receive information on a large number of hobbies.

December 9—Mrs. Sanford Sellers, mother of the superintendent, observed her 90th birthday today. The quiet and unassuming lady has become a mother to many cadets during her 66 years on the Wentworth campus.

December 10—Spent the day helping to decorate the gymnasium with lights and streamers for the Christmas dance tomorrow. It really looks swell, and the brightly colored Christmas tree lends an air of satisfying reality to the affair.

December 11—The Christmas dance was held tonight, and it turned out to be quite the event. The Cavaliers furnished a brilliant array of beautiful dance arrangements, delighting the cadets and their dates to a considerable extent.

December 12—From all appearances, the alumni are really doing big things in the world. Word was just received that George Jack has been appointed to Grinnell College's radio staff, and is working wonders with various transcribed network programs.

December 13—Colonel Sellers was named chairman of the committee in charge of sponsoring the presentation of Handel's "Messiah" this year at a meeting of the Lexington Chamber of Commerce.

December 14—With Christmas furlough just around the corner, you can find cadets who are counting the days and hours before they will be on their way home to their families and friends. Jack Sanders has worn most of his fingers to the bone counting.

December 15—Sports relations between Wentworth and Oklahoma Military academy of Claremore, Oklahoma, are assured for another two years, Capt. Karl Berninger announced today, after an agreement between the two schools.

December 16—It was reported today that the newly built service building will be ready for steady use after the vacation is completed. Consisting of laundry, storage, tailor, and storage equipment, it will be a welcome addition to the academy's facilities.

December 17—Began packing today in preparation for our furlough, and I am all set to go. Had a very tempting and delicious Christmas dinner this evening, and there was plenty left over for those hungry cadets craving "seconds."

December 18—Well I am finally homeward bound. Will certainly be glad to be back with my family and best girl, and know I'll spend a marvelous vacation!

January 4—Christmas Furlough is all over. Oh well it was swell while it lasted.

January 5—Everybody settled down to normal again. Everyone seemed to know their lessons. Studies, however, were punctuated by tales of furlough adventures.

January 6—Col. and Mrs. Sellers broke bread with President Truman at a dinner honoring him and Mrs. Truman in Independence recently.

January 7—The new service building has opened its doors. It's quite a place.

January 8—"The Trumpeter" got up in the big time of collegiate journalism by being admitted to the Missouri College Newspaper Association.

January 9—Captain Readecker's little girl is sure cute. She reminds me of my little sister.

January 10—Maj. Thompson boosted the Military Ball fever by announcing that Leighton Noble and his famous orchestra have been engaged to play for that event.

January 11—Col. Wikoff has announced that the Academy is going to sponsor an educational trip to Florida and Cuba this March. It sounds like a pretty good deal.

January 12—Capt. Berninger has outlined the winter minor sports schedule. Everybody is especially looking forward to the Golden Gloves bouts in Kansas City.

January 13—Word has gotten around that we have an actor in our midst. Cadet Mills, it seems, is one of the members of the Civic Players of Colorado Springs, Colorado.

January 14—Academy officials and old boys were saddened to hear of the death of Mrs. Laura Knickerbocker, former hostess at Wentworth, at her home in Topeka.

January 15—Got all registered for the second semester today. Hope I can do OK in the new courses.

January 16—Dad dropped in on his way to Kansas City. It was sure a swell surprise.

January 17—The summer school and camp catalogues came out today. I picked up a copy and, after looking at the pictures showing the good times that everyone had last year, I've about decided to enroll for this year's session.

January 18—"The Trumpeter" printed the news that Bruce Davis is engaged to be married. Well, what do you know!

January 19—Started my semester exams today. Boy, am I having to study. No permits for this kid for a while.

January 20—Capt. Berninger picked all-star teams in basketball and football for the period of time that he has been at Wentworth. It was interesting to compare his choices with my own.

January 21—Jim Hostetler has been elected president of the Iowa Club. The Hawkeye State has forty-seven representatives on the campus this year.

January 22—The rifle team seems to be getting off to a good start. They have already beaten Benton, and if hard work means wins, these boys should take every match.

January 23—My girl had better get on the ball with some mail.

January 24—No letter from Aggie again today. The family sent me a big box of food, though.

January 25—At last a letter from Aggie. She'll be down for the Ball. Now, I'd better see about getting her a room and some flowers.

January 26—Snow, snow, snow! I've never seen so much white at one time in my life.

January 27—Took a permit and went to a movie. It was a comedy. Real good too!

January 28—My turn again. I pulled duty and spent the day in the rec. room.

January 29—Got put on the committee to decorate the gym. What a job! I didn't know there was that much crepe paper in the world.

January 30—Capt. Whittaker of A Company is really sweating it out. It seems that he slipped up somehow and now has two dates for the Ball.

January 31—Made E on an algebra test today. That's a good start. I'm going to try to keep it up all semester.

February 1—The Military Department has published another Special Order. Immediately following the reading of same, there was a wild rush for the Q. M. to buy stripes and buttons.

February 2—Mrs. Gibbons has been beaming. Twelve of her typing students received membership in the Order of Artistic Typists.

February 3—Mary Powell of Topeka, Kansas has been picked as the battalion queen for the Military Ball. Jack Carson, Warner Brothers star, did the judging. Her picture was submitted by Jim Lagerberg. (Lucky boy.)

February 4—Tomorrow's the big day, the Military Ball. All the cadets are so excited they can't sit still.

February 5—I do believe that this year's Ball was the best yet. The band was better; the girls were prettier; and the gym was more beautifully decorated than ever before. The whole corps seems to have had a grand time and all the fellows are looking forward to next year.

February 6—Aggie left today. It's going to be hard to get back to books and rifles after the fun of this weekend.

February 7—The school has announced that registrations are now being accepted for next year. I'm going down and see Maj. Brown tomorrow, so that I'll be sure to get my old room again.

February 8—The W. M. A. boxers were presented with a trophy for sportsmanship, boxing ability, and general appearance at the St. Joseph Golden Gloves.

February 9—The rifle team paid tribute to Sgt. Smith in a surprise farewell dinner tendered in his honor at the Victory Cafe. Sgt. Smith, the team's coach, is leaving for an assignment on the West coast.

February 10—All of Wentworth, its alumni, and its friends felt a deep personal loss today when it was announced that Mrs. Lucia Sellers, Wentworth's First Lady had passed away. Mrs. Sellers had spent most of her 90 years at the Academy, and it will be hard for anyone to think of the school without her.

February 11—Col. Wikoff has received an invitation to speak to the Rotary Club of Boston, Massachusetts. Just how big-time can you get!

February 12—Speaking of the Rotary Club, some of our Latin-American cadets made quite a hit with the members of that organization in Lexington when the cadets spoke to them at luncheon recently.

February 13—This company basketball is really hot. The A Company boys are out in front without a loss thus far.

February 14—The high school cagers are doing okay. They swatted Kemper's yellowjackets 39-30 on the basketball court the other night.

February 15—The Department of the Army has announced that Advanced R. O. T. C. students in the Fifth Army area will attend summer camp at Camp McCoy, Wisconsin, this year.

February 16—The Duchess has been going like a house afire getting the W Club Show rolling. The first draft of the script has been completed and already some of the cadets are practicing in their rooms.

February 17—Thirty-five cadets have been admitted to the Honor Society. They sure deserve a lot of credit, for membership in the Honor Society requires work.

February 18—Qualitative analysis lab is getting more interesting all the time. Lloyd Lisk had better watch out, though, or he'll have the whole Scholastic Building falling down around our ears.

February 19—The corps was shown a movie of last year's Papoose Bowl game recently. I could pick out a lot of the guys I know.

February 20—Sundays are nice. All I did today after parade was listen to the radio and catch up on my letter writing.

February 21—I hear Gillespie's been writing love letters for some of the guys in A Company. Think I'll drop in and look over his samples. Maybe he can write something to Aggie for me.

February 22—Some of our band boys did all right for themselves at the music clinic they attended at Warrensburg the other day.

February 23—Dick Elliott won an amateur contest at the Mainstreet Theater tonight. He can sure play a lot of piano.

February 24—The Military Department has received word that the annual government inspection of the school will take place about April 19.

February 25—Somebody poured some after-shave lotion on the radiator in Sullivan and Larivee's room. The whole south end of the barracks smells like a perfume shop.

February 26—Five letters in today's mail. That's the way I like to see the envelopes piled up on my desk after fourth hour class.

February 27—We had to have parade inside the gym today. The snow was just too deep to plow through.

February 28—Another month gone. Who said that time passes slowly here? It sure seems to be flying as far as I'm concerned.

March 1—It's been announced that Ely Culbertson, famous lecturer on international affairs and author of the book "Must We Fight Russia?" will be the Commencement speaker this year.

March 2—Went to the hospital with a sore throat today. The Duchess is taking good care of me. It's swell to have breakfast in bed.

March 3—The Honor Roll has been announced for the first six weeks and by some miracle I made it. Sure took a lot of work on chemistry too.

March 4—Spring seems to be here at last. What is even better news is that I'm going to be able to leave the hospital tomorrow so I can really enjoy the nice weather.

March 5—The basketball letter awards to members of the college, high school, and midget squads have been made and the sweaters have really blossomed out on the campus.

March 6—The local chapter of the alumni association is planning quite a blow-out for April 28. It will be a buffet dinner for Lexington high school boys interested in entering the Academy next fall.

March 7—The record shop downtown had a sale today. I picked up some swell albums for only half-price.

March 8—Twenty-two college and twenty high school students have qualified for membership in the "W" Club.

March 9—Spring furlough starts tomorrow. Hot dog! I'm not going home this year. My roommate has invited me to spend the holidays with him. It'll be interesting to compare Iowa with good ol' Texas.

March 15—Back to school again. It was sure a grand vacation. I've decided that Iowa is my second favorite state.

March 16—A lot of talk was going around today about experiences during furlough. The guys who had the most tales to tell were the ones who went on the educational tour to Florida and Cuba. That must have been some jaunt.

March 17—Col. Wikoff took Abdul Bayazeed, from Transjordan and Edgar Hoepker, from Costa Rica, to Marshall, Missouri, for a Rotary Club meeting. The boys spoke on life and customs in their countries.

March 18—All of us were saddened to hear of the death of Robert Globus' mother. I met her once when she was here for a visit, and she was really a wonderful person.

March 19—There are forty cadets out for spring football practice and from the looks of things, W. M. A. should have a great eleven next fall.

March 20—Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Mavel of Independence will have charge of the mess-hall next year. They'll replace Mrs. Marge Thompson who's moving to sunny California.

March 22—The cadets from Texas, Louisiana, and New Mexico, (The Tex-La-Mex Club), had a dinner at the Auditorium tonight. It was a swell feed too.

March 23—The bleachers are up at the edge of the drill-field and the hurdle high-jump bar, and shot-put ring are all in place. Yep, track season is really here. Think I'll try it this year.

March 24—The Honor Guard really proved itself at St. Joseph and Kansas City's R. O. T. C. Circuses recently. Complimentary letters have been pouring into the front office.

March 25—Rehearsals are in full swing for the "W" Club Show on April 8. I have the part of a girl this year. Oh brother, wait'll Aggie sees me in my baby-blue formal.

March 26—Lt. William T. Ballard, our battalion commander, was married to Miss Toni Beltram of Lexington in Spartansburg, South Carolina. Everyone wishes them the best of luck.

March 27—Cadets Gene Hagen and Wilbur Swart are compiling a student directory which will list the names and addresses of all of the cadets in the battalion. Sounds like a good deal to me.

March 28—Had an economics test today. Wow! Capt. Pease can sure think up the questions.

March 29—I spent a lot of time in the library this afternoon. With all of the magazines and newspapers that the school gets for us, it's easy to keep up with what's going on in the world.

March 30—I wonder why Wade Myers blushes every time someone mentions mud puddles to him. Can it have anything to do with a certain Miss M. M. from Christian College?

March 31—The "W" Club fete is only a little over a week off now. Aggie wrote that she'll definitely be here for it.

April 1—The very popular academy college octet displayed a great deal of talent while acting in the "Land of Cotton" minstrel show held at the Lexington auditorium. From all reports, they certainly deserve credit for putting on an excellent performance.

April 2—The Wentworth band and Honor Guard presented outstanding snap drill routines for a most admiring audience at the annual Kansas City R. O. T. C. circus held this evening. The spectators were both amazed and delighted at the drills.

April 3—Sad news hit the campus today, when it was reported that Cadet Mike Ramsey lost his life in a plane crash fifty miles north of his hometown, Riverton, Wyoming. Mike was on a medical furlough when the accident occurred.

April 4—The cadet corps was one of the main features of the annual Army Day celebration held in downtown Lexington today. An unusually large array of interesting military events were presented by the academy in the scheduled program, and a great number of entertaining activities were displayed.

April 6—The college track team seems to show some mighty good talent this year by defeating St. Joseph Junior College in a dual track meet today, scoring 107 points to 26 points for the visitors. Certainly hope that we are able to keep up the good work, as the track athletes are doing superior work on the cinders.

April 7—The Missouri-Kansas division of Educational Buyers association met in the recreation room for a roundtable discussion today, and Colonel Wikoff, chairman of the regional group, presided at the meeting.

April 8—Fun, frolic, and hilarity were promoted in a laugh-provoking "W" Club show, held this evening in the academy gymnasium. The show, an annual event, is sponsored by a select group of major lettermen, and features a large variety of acts and sidelights. This year's show, titled "Corn's a Poppin'," appeared to the onlookers as the biggest, most riotous affair yet.

April 9—Tonight was the night for the yearly Apron and Overall dance, under the direction of the "W" Club. The Cavaliers played for the dance, and, needless to say, a good time was had by all who attended. Was glad that my girl was able to come home from college for the event, and know that she had fun.

April 10—Three Wentworth cadets, Lester B. Hamilton, Joe Harris, and John V. Otts, qualified for distinct honors in the Central Missouri District music competition, festival, and curricular contests held at Warrensburg, Missouri, recently.

April 11—The academy had the honor of adding two more generals to its list of alumni who achieved that rank after having distinguished themselves in the service. William C. Ashurst, class of '16, and R. Dinwiddie Groves, class of '10, were the two former cadets recently promoted to the coveted rating of brigadier generals.

April 12—Spring football training ended today when the grid candidates were divided into two teams, the Reds and the Whites, for a game before the corps. The teams were so evenly divided that the game ended in a 6-6 deadlock. From all appearances, Wentworth should have a fine team on the gridiron next fall.

April 14—Colonel Wikoff was the chairman of a panel on "Economic Stability," at the annual convention of the Missouri State Chamber of Commerce in St. Louis today.

April 15—As in past years, the National Society of Colonial Daughters will again sponsor a patriotic essay contest here. At commencement time, a beautiful gold medal will be awarded to the cadet submitting the best essay. Guess I had better pick a good patriotic theme, and get to work right away. Sure would like to be the proud owner of that medal!

April 16—One hundred and fifty-eight cadets made the Dean's special distinction and honor roll lists for the six weeks grading period ending recently. Made the honor roll list again this time but am going to work harder this next period and see my name on the special distinction list.

April 17—A Wisconsin club was organized at a dinner meeting at the Victory cafe, and numerous plans were established for other social events. Louis Vits, Manitowoc, Wisconsin, was nominated president of the club.

April 19—E. P. (Chink) Coleman, former athletic director and coach at the academy, has informed officials here that he has submitted a bid for the 1950 National Junior College tennis tournament to be held at Wentworth. He also informed officials that he has resigned his position as president of the National Junior College association.

April 20—The faculty wives were guests of the Kansas City Mothers club at a bridge-luncheon held today at the Women's Club in that city. Twelve ladies from the academy attended the function.

April 21—The annual War Department inspection was started today, and the corps was in excellent shape for the program. Three Fifth Army representatives, Col. Hans C. Minuth, Maj. Irwin Walsh, and Capt. R. W. Goss, conducted the inspection on both practical and theoretical work of the cadets in various phases of military training and instruction.

April 22—The government inspection was completed a little before noon today, and the entire cadet corps is eagerly anticipating the final rating placed upon Wentworth. Last year, Wentworth was rated superior in all phases of military activity, and it is hoped that the same rating will be placed on this year's work.

April 23—Twenty cadets, accompanied by their instructor, Capt. W. L. Stagner, left today on a three-day geology field trip to the Ozarks over the weekend to study sedimentary rock structures and topography of the area. On the schedule are trips to Bennett Springs State Park, the Grand Glaze Area, and the Ha-Ha-Tonka sector.

April 24—Colonel James M. Sellers spoke at the April luncheon of the Marshall chapter of the D. A. R. recently upon the theme, "The Importance of Intelligence Tests in Relation Defense."

April 25—Miss Virginia Ball was honored at a tea given by the Wentworth office staff in the parlors here today. Miss Ball is leaving the academy, and is to be married next week.

April 26—The Junior College golf, tennis and track teams went to Kemper today.

April 28—The band went to Kansas City today to play for the opening of the Kansas City Blue's home season.

April 30—Our college track team went to Baldwin, Kans., today to participate in the Baker relays.

May 1—The new boys took over Parade today. Some of the mistakes made were a riot.

May 2—The tennis team lost its match with Warrensburg. The boys put up a battle, though, and the score was close.

May 3—The track team was in fine form today, beating C. B. C. by a wide margin.

May 4—Mr. Jack Whitaker of Kansas City spoke in assembly this morning. His talk was informative as well as inspiring.

May 5—The whole corps was given chest X-rays by a mobile Tuberculosis unit. It's a good idea in my opinion to have a check-up like that ever so often.

May 6—Some of the members of the Trumpeter staff made a trip to Columbia, Missouri, for a meeting of college newspapermen at the University of Missouri.

May 7—We had a battalion problem out at the battlefield this afternoon. It was quite a show too, complete with planes from the Marine Air Base at Olathe, Kansas, and observers from many of the military schools in this district.

May 8—Gee, I wish I could have been home for Mothers' Day. Hope Mom liked the roses I wired her.

May 9—Col. Wikoff took off today for Boston where he will speak before that city's Rotary Club. That man sure gets around.

May 10—The Cavaliers are booked heavily this month, playing for all sorts of proms and spring formals. I think they're better this year than they've been for a long time. I especially enjoy Jim Irwin's singing.

May 11—Golf has taken the corps by storm this year. Jerry Shannon is one of the more serious addicts, sneaking off to the Country Club every chance he gets.

May 12—Some of the college students are having a rough time meeting term paper deadlines. Since several of the instructors have hinted that they are partial to typed essays, the boys who can pound the Royals have been doing a land office business.

May 13—Preparation for field day is the order of the day during drill periods nowadays. B and C Companies are out to repeat their victories of last year. A, D, and Headquarters are out to keep them from it. So, everyone is working like the proverbial beaver.

May 14—Maj. Stafford, our chaplain, dedicated the chapel service today to Mike Ramsay, a member of this year's corps who was killed in an airplane crash in March.

May 15—Sunday, and now there's just one left. Golly, this year has sure flown by.

May 16—All the boys are happy because they have their reservations for the trip home, though all of them admit they will miss the other fellows.

May 18—Major Ungles went to Kansas City today to address the Kansas City Mother's Club.

May 19—Had a bull session in our room today, discussing the good times we have had during the past year. Many of the boys are already looking forward to returning next year.

May 20—Just looked out my window and saw some of the boys working off excess. That's one item which has to be taken care of before school is out. Sure glad I don't have any.

May 22—Today was the beginning of graduation ceremonies, with Major James M. Stafford delivering the message at the baccalaureate service held in the gymnasium.

May 23—There was an alumni banquet tonight. Quite a few of the old boys are around for the graduation exercises.

May 24—Don't think the cadet corps wasn't proud of the band tonight when the boys gave the annual public band concert. They have done an excellent job this year, and deserved the applause they received.

May 25—Today is a day of thrills—Awards Assembly this afternoon and Commencement Ball tonight. Sure will be glad to dance with my girl again.

May 26—Final dress parade today and commencement tonight. This will be the last we'll see of some of the friends we have made this year, and we sure hate to say goodbye.

May 27—If you have never seen the final flag ceremony, it is hard to picture what actually takes place. All the boys leaving Wentworth kiss the flag which is passed from cadet to cadet. When Cadet Lt. Col. William Ballard yelled out "Dismissed," all the boys threw their hats in the air and ran for the barracks and suitcases. That's it until next year.
