

WENTWORTH MILITARY ACADEMY

ESTABLISHED 1880 — LEXINGTON, MD.

HIGH SCHOOL AND JUNIOR COLLEGE

WENTWORTH'S PURPOSE

It is the purpose of Wentworth Military Academy to provide the best conditions possible for the all 'round development of worthy boys and young men.

To attain this high purpose, the Academy places greatest emphasis upon these four points:

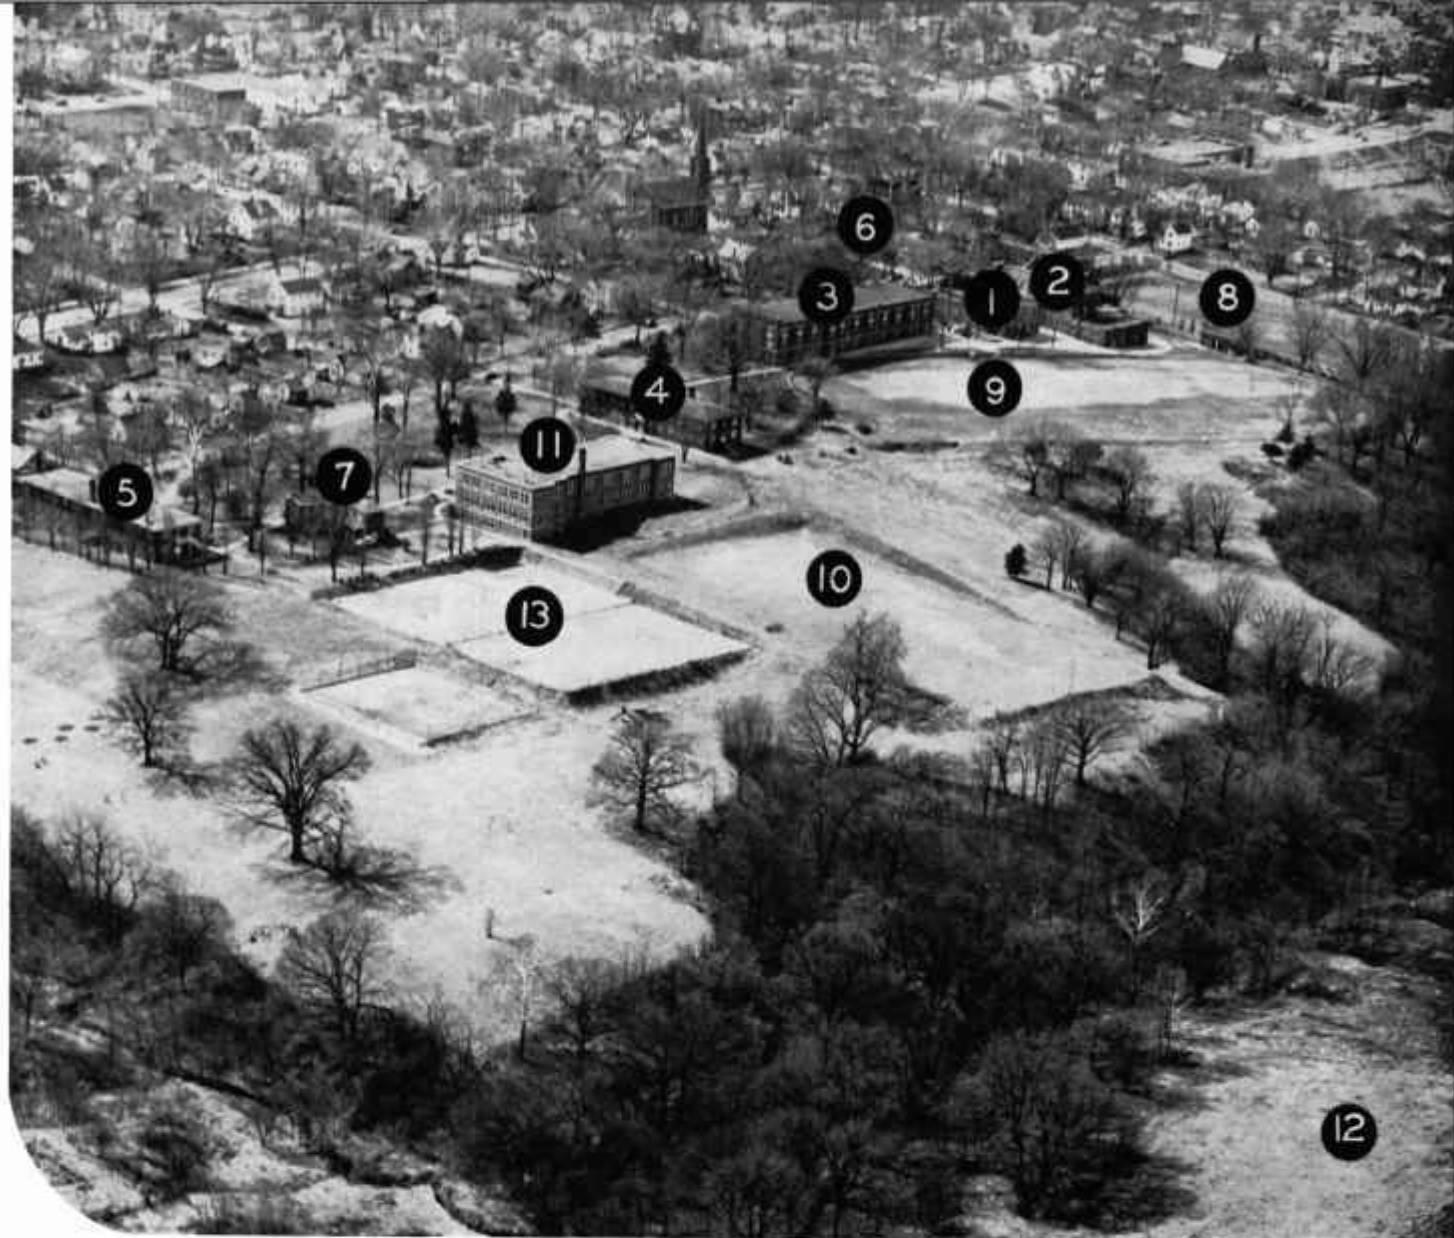

First, it is the Academy's aim to assemble only the highest types of students—deserving youths of good parentage—to assure wholesome associations and greater progress. Every precaution is taken to keep undesirable boys—all those that might prove detrimental to others—out of the Academy.

Second, to employ only men of highest character and ability for its faculty. It is not enough for a Wentworth faculty member to be merely scholarly and a splendid instructor. He must also possess a spirit of friendliness and a sincere desire to give kindly help whenever necessary. He must thoroughly understand the innermost problems of boys—be patient with them—and be ready to serve each boy to the best of his ability.

Third, to provide the very best equipment throughout every department to the end that every boy will have all those things necessary to his health and happiness and that none shall want for anything that will help him to make progress.

Fourth, to provide a program for each day that will best serve the interests of every student.

Wentworth 1912, University of Chicago; A. B. 1917, Phi Beta Kappa 1916; Sigma Xi; Beta Theta Pi; Major U. S. Marine Reserve 1917-1920; Distinguished Service Cross; Navy Cross; Silver Star; Purple Heart; Croix-de-Guerre; Past President of Association of Military Colleges and Schools of the United States; Officer in Grand Lodge and Grand Commander of Missouri.

From the beginning the late President Sellers surrounded himself with the ablest faculty available—strong men of proved qualities and Christian character. Under his wise and forward-looking direction, Wentworth has grown steadily. Each year has shown marked improvement over the preceding year. Today Wentworth stands as one of the truly great educational institutions of our country—second to none in the opportunities it offers boys and young men for thorough preparation for professional studies, business and for life.

SINCE EIGHTEEN EIGHTY

One of the chief reasons why Wentworth has been able to achieve its lofty purpose lies in the fact that the Academy has been under one continuous administration since its founding. For nearly three-score years, Colonel Sanford Sellers was president of Wentworth. He enjoyed one of the most enviable records in the history of American education.

The Academy was founded by Stephen G. Wentworth, scion of a distinguished English family and a prominent Lexington banker, in 1880, as a memorial to his deceased son, William Wentworth. Mr. Wentworth immediately vested control of the institution in the hands of a board of trustees composed of a duly elected representative of each of the Evangelical churches of Lexington, and a president. Colonel Sellers was called to the new school in its first year and remained as its active head until 1938. Mr. Wentworth served as president of the Board from 1880 until his death in 1897.

It was the firm conviction of the founder, his board of trustees and President Sellers that a military boarding school provides the most effective possible means for giving young men the thorough mental, moral and physical training necessary to develop in them the highest traits of manhood. Thus, Wentworth became the first military school in the Missouri River Valley.

AN HISTORIC BACKGROUND

Throughout over half a century the Wentworth purpose has remained unchanged. The ideals which led to the Academy's founding and which have carried it steadily forward, shine just as brightly today as ever: the desire to give each youth every opportunity to develop fully his own individual personality; the aim that every cadet shall acquire a keen sense of duty and responsibility, both to himself and toward others; that he shall have the mental and moral power to make accurate judgments between right and wrong and the physical power to stand by his convictions.

These high standards have dominated Wentworth for generations. But to maintain them and assure their full and continuous application, it has been found necessary to limit the enrollment. Wentworth today is a relatively small school—many times larger than in 1880, to be sure, yet small enough that every individual student is given the private attention so essential to his all-round development.

The surrounding country affords a wealth of historically important Civil War sites and the town of Lexington itself retains much of the tradition of the old south. Here enthusiasm for the reminders of our country's glorious past is combined with the enthusiasm for modern adventure to promote the rapid development of the boy's mental, moral and physical resources.

YESTERDAY

and TODAY

The Wentworth Military Academy of today is vastly different from the Wentworth of 1880. From year to year it has enlarged its facilities, increased its enrollment and changed its physical appearance until there is little to remind one of the early days. Numerous modern and attractive buildings have been erected as they were needed. Old buildings have been torn away when they were no longer useful. Spacious military and athletic fields have been added. One of the finest gymnasiums in the country has been built. Every new method in teaching that has been found definitely superior to older methods has been adopted. Yet, some of the fundamental principles that guided the first company are adhered to just as strictly today.

MILITARY DEPARTMENT

MILITARY training at Wentworth has always been a strong feature, but it is never permitted to interfere with the scholastic work of the Academy. It can be shown, moreover, that military discipline has a decidedly advantageous effect upon classroom work.

In recognition of the superior military work done at Wentworth, in 1889 the Academy became a post of the Missouri National Guard. Graduates of the Academy who resided in Missouri, became eligible for commissions in this organization.

Wentworth has been under the direct supervision of the War Department of the United States Government since 1895, when the first active army officer was detailed to the Academy. This officer, assisted by active non-commissioned officers of the army, is in charge of all military work. In addition, the War Department furnishes around $50,000 worth of equipment to be used for instruction purposes. Wentworth is one of the original Honor Schools of the United States, the highest rating given by the War Department. The Academy has been a unit of the Reserve Officers' Training Corps from the time that organization was established.

* This monument, erected on the campus by the Alumni Association, to the memory of Wentworth cadets who died in the World War No. 1, typifies the loyal spirit of generations of former Wentworth cadets.

* Patriotism is no sham at Wentworth. Every cadet is taught the real meaning of our flag. Each day, with appropriate ceremonies, the Stars and Stripes are raised and lowered on the towering flag pole.

The cadet whose face shows under the curve of the flag is now Ex-Lt. Wm. Bates, who flew a bomber in the European theater of operations; controlling the flag ropes is Kenneth Winters, late of the Navy. The bugler is Lieut. Max Condron, a flier killed in the service.

ADMINISTRATION BUILDING

Within Wentworth's Administration Building are handsomely furnished parlors, corridors and reception rooms. Among its furnishings and decorations students and guests alike find many articles of interest and rare beauty. Its comfortable furnishings amid peaceful surroundings afford a homelike atmosphere where the new cadet readily adapts himself to a wholesome, happy experience.

Here in an atmosphere of quiet dignity, every student is privileged to entertain his guests or to spend his leisure moments as governed by his daily schedule. None of the comforts of the modern home have been excluded in Wentworth's plan to provide the finest training and quarters available.

About the CAMPUS

* A part of the Quadrangle where Wentworth Battalion assembles.

* Marine Hall.

Nature and man have joined forces at Wentworth to produce a campus of outstanding beauty. Magnificent trees, of many varieties, blend in perfect harmony with modern, attractive buildings and spacious grounds. The Academy is located just at the edge of Lexington and covers 52 acres. The front campus extends over four city blocks and is dotted with massive elms and glorious flower banks that provide enchantment and inspiration. The back campus includes athletic and military fields and the new stadium. There are eight thoroughly modern buildings on the campus, each built for the exact purpose it serves. They are of brick and stone construction and are heated by steam and hot water.

THE WENTWORTH COUNTRY CLUB

Located on one of the most beautiful spots overlooking the Missouri River, the Golf Course and Country Club add variety to the many facilities available to the Wentworth students. The nine-hole golf course is most attractive and sporty. The club house, with its catering equipment, is ideal for many informal parties held throughout the year. And in the stable are found horses suitable for the tyro as well as the expert rider.

* Teeing Up

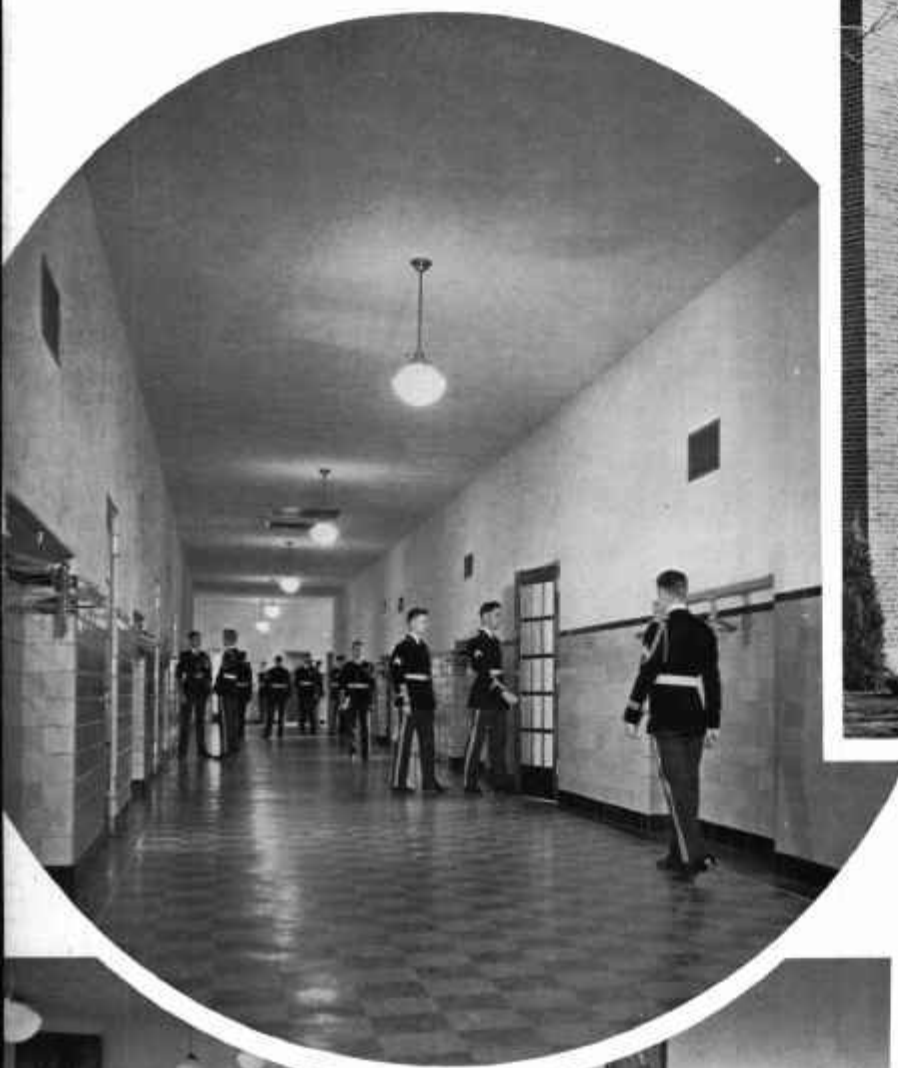

* Two stylish mounts. Every Wentworth student will ride.

SCHOLASTIC

Wentworth's new $80,000 Sellers-Wikoff Scholastic Building is the nucleus of the scholastic department. This magnificent structure contains one of the most splendid libraries possessed by any institution of this kind. Four completely equipped laboratories provide excellent facilities for the practical study of the sciences. In addition to classrooms for all classes, it houses the Dean's and Commandant's offices. It is with justifiable pride that Wentworth points to this new achievement in its effort to provide up-to-the-minute methods and scholastic accoutrements.

* The attractive library contains thousands of volumes, providing every necessary supplement to the student's texts and manuals.

* Commercial class rooms are large and well lighted and are equipped with modern business machines. The latest recognized business methods are taught by competent instructors.

★ Sellers-Wikoff Scholastic Building.

★ Geology is a science of particular interest to boys of the Midwest.

DEPARTMENT

The scholastic department is divided into two separate and distinct units: the high school, which offers four years of preparatory work, and the junior college, which offers two years of liberal arts and science. Each has its own organization separate from the other. Both divisions are fully accredited by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, an organization composed of the leading colleges and preparatory schools in twenty states. This recognition means that graduates of either department are eligible to enter any institution in the United States that receives students by certification.

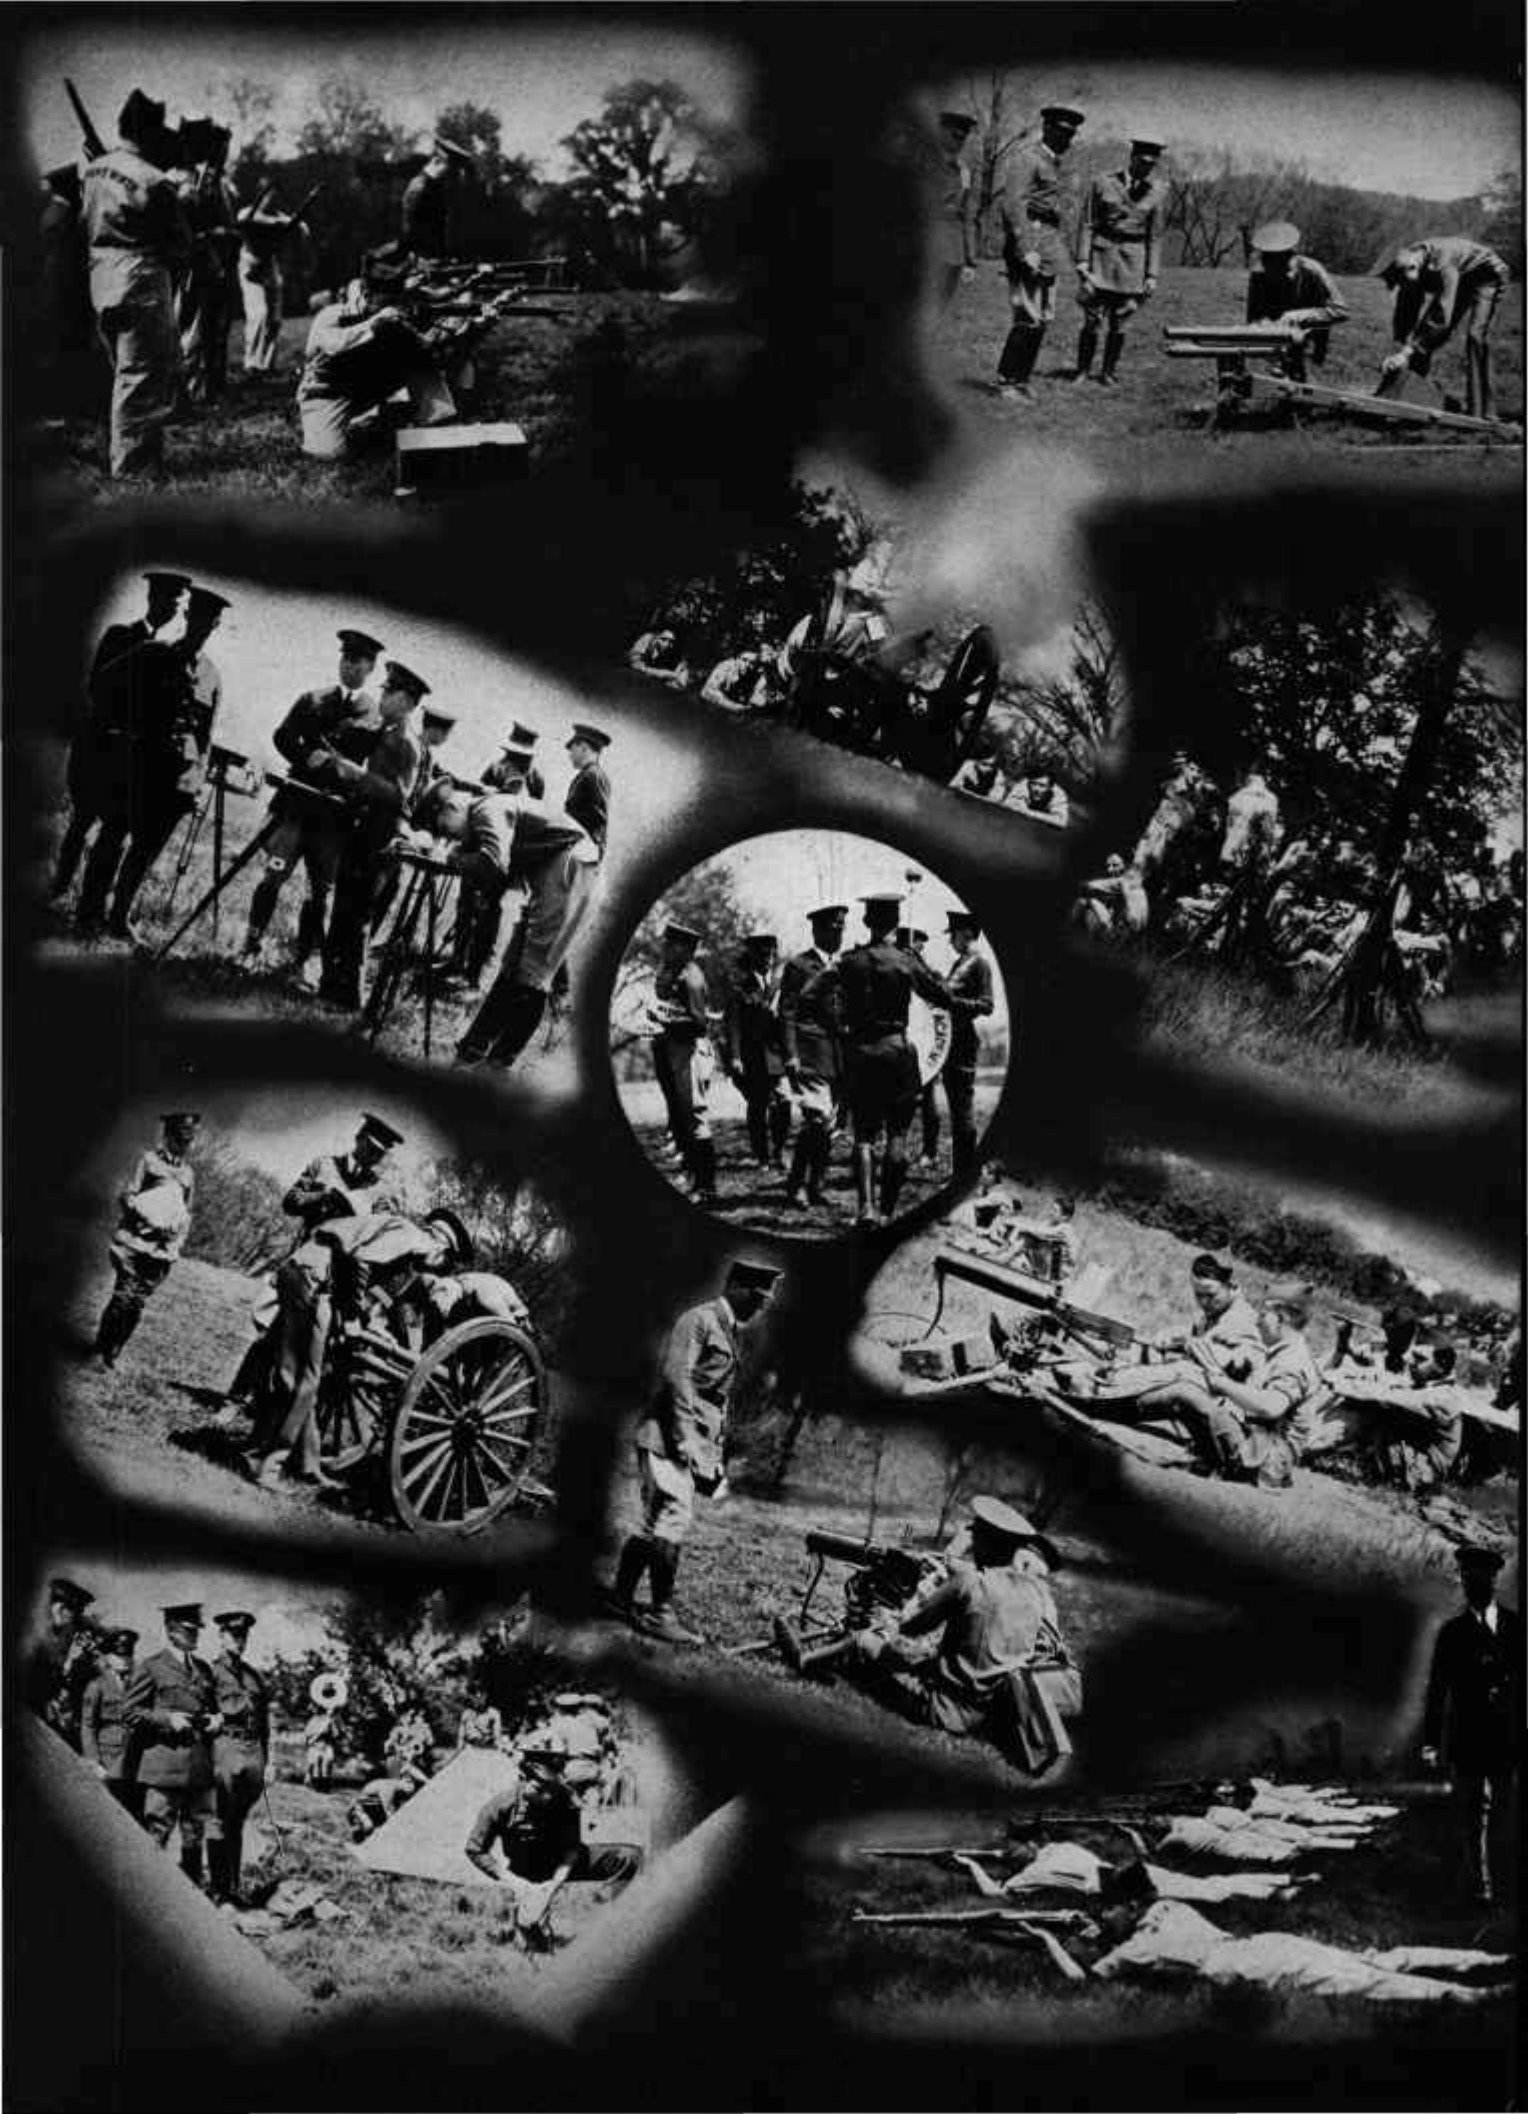

It is our aim to see that each cadet masters every lesson thoroughly. To accomplish this, every student is taught correct study methods and thoroughly schooled in correct uses of libraries and laboratories. Classes are small, averaging from 8 to 15 students, which permits individual attention. Most of the faculty members live in the buildings with students. They are readily accessible for special help. From time to time a personal study is made of each cadet to determine his points of weakness and help him overcome them.

★The laboratory for elementary classes in chemistry provides many costly instruments not provided for in many schools but which Wentworth believes are important to the proper study of chemistry.

★The laboratory for the advanced chemistry classes is even more completely equipped.

AVIATION

Wentworth participated in the Civil Aeronautics Administration Civilian Pilot Training Program from its inception in 1939 through the change to C. A. A. War Training Service until June, 1943, when all but 80 out of 712 colleges and universities throughout the country were eliminated due to curtailment of this type of training. However, the academy administration, believing aviation training to be very important now and in the future to the youth of the nation, secured permission from C. A. A. officials to continue flight training on a civilian basis and at the expense of the trainee.

Wentworth operates in conjunction with the Lexington Airport as a certified flying school fully approved by the C.A.A. The flight training program including ground school, far surpasses the minimum requirements set forth by the civil aeronautics administration. It consists of 45 hours of dual and solo flight time and ground school courses in navigation, meteorology, civil air regulations, and operation of aircraft.

The records of the graduates of the Wentworth Flight Training are outstanding. During the war the graduates of this training program fought every front where Americans were in combat.

A DAY

AT WENTWORTH

NO TWO days at Wentworth are quite the same, for a widely varied program of scholastic, military, athletic and other activities is used to keep the interest of the cadets at high pitch and their appetites for learning well whetted. Furthermore, no two students have quite the same duties to perform throughout any given day. There is, however, a definite routine that all cadets follow each day. It is used to instill perfect regularity and promptness in attendance upon all duties prescribed for one and all cadets alike.

While it requires some adjustments for new students to become accustomed to this routine, any slight hint of monotony is soon lost in the kaleidoscopic whirl of the school year.

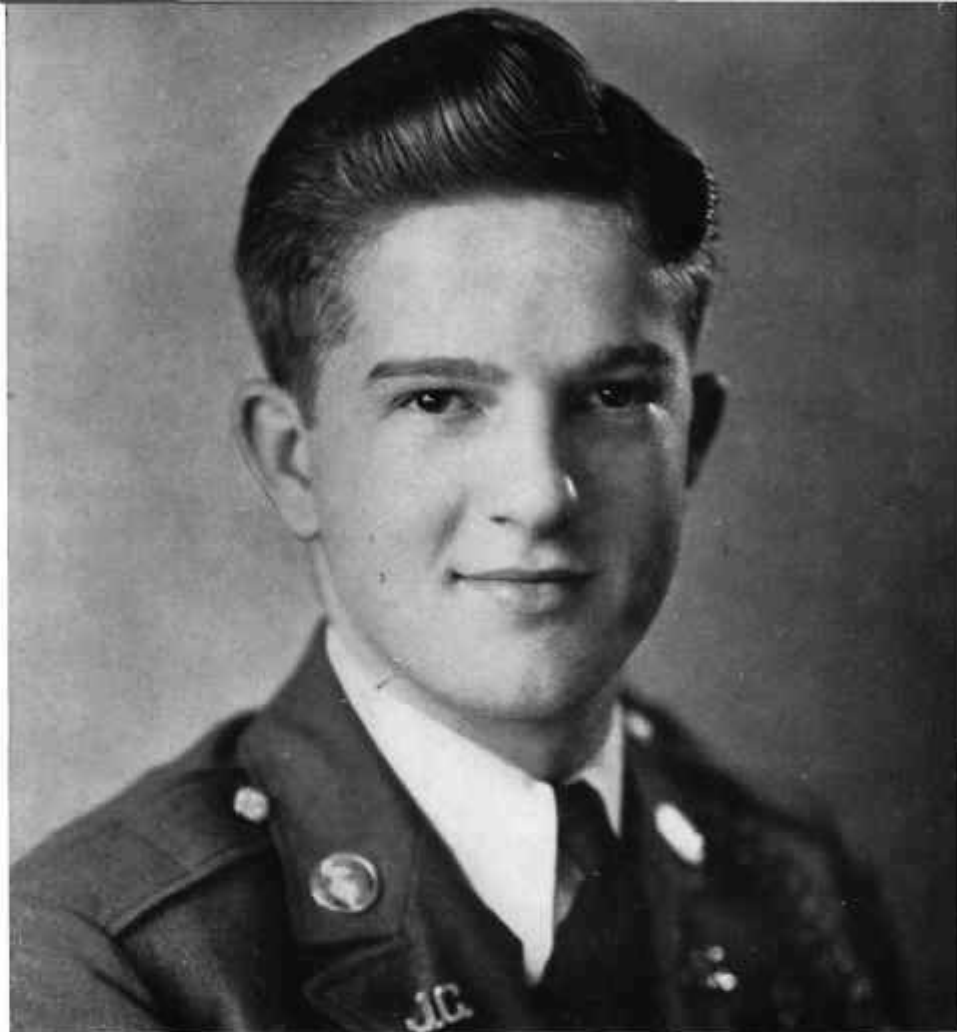

To give parents and others a better insight, the following pages have been used to set forth, pictorially, the day's activities from Reveille to Taps, of a typical Wentworth boy whom we will designate as Cadet Harlan.

The pictures in this section were taken ten years ago. However, since they illustrate life at Wentworth of today, they are still timely. They are retained because so many of the cadets shown served in the Armed Forces of their country and so well illustrate the value of military training as received while at Wentworth.

Since the importance of military preparedness is becoming increasingly evident by the changing world situation, the training illustrated in this picture section has a special significance.

There have been some uniform changes as may be seen by referring to the section on Wentworth uniforms.

* Harlan—a typical Wentworth cadet.

HERE is Harlan, a typical Wentworth cadet—a fine young American—manly, scholarly and upright. His respect for duty and responsibility has won for him the rank of sergeant. He may have come from a large city or a very small town—that makes no difference to the democratic spirit that prevails at Wentworth. He may be from a wealthy family or a family in meager circumstances—most of his classmates would never know, nor even be curious, unless he chose to tell them. But he typifies all the fine qualities of a deserving and ambitious youth as he goes through the tried and age-proved Wentworth process of becoming a real man, a real asset to himself, his family and friends, and society as a whole.

Harlan, like all the others, participates in many activities besides those shown. But let's follow him through a typical day.

Harlan "Butch" Heffelfinger, who graduated in the class of 1937 and posed as the model cadet in the view book, served as a Major in the last war.

His brother, Hugo, another Wentworth alumnus, also a Major, and served with distinction with the Rangers.

Artie Heffelfinger served with the Navy Air Corps as an Ensign.

* Harlan's first duty is a thorough, refreshing wash before breakfast.

"I CAN'T GET 'EM UP," blows the bugler, but he does, and at 6:35 o'clock another day is under way. Cadet Harlan goes first to the sanitary lavatory on his floor. A good washup is part of the routine, for a cadet is expected to keep himself clean at all times. At 6:50 he goes to a well-prepared breakfast.

After breakfast, rooms must be cleaned. One of the basic aims of our system is to form personal habits of order. Each morning Harlan makes his own bed, puts his clothes in order and helps his roommate clean the room.

* Harlan makes up his own bed.

Strict inspection of quarters is a daily routine. Formal inspection of Harlan's person, room and equipment occurs on Sunday morning. At this time unusual care must be taken in cleaning the room. Our friend sees that hidden corners are carefully dusted, chairs polished, and everything put in order. Then he takes care of his person. There's brass to shine, leather to polish, hair to brush, and whiskers to be removed. A certain time is allotted for this preparation and all work must be done within that time. This young fellow knows that any deficiency in this work receives what is known in Academy language as a "skin"—which counts against one's company in color competition.

* Harlan is ready for the inspector—brass gleaming, shoes shined—room as clean as the proverbial "hound's tooth."

* Here Harlan delves into things scientific. Modern equipment is provided for all laboratory work.

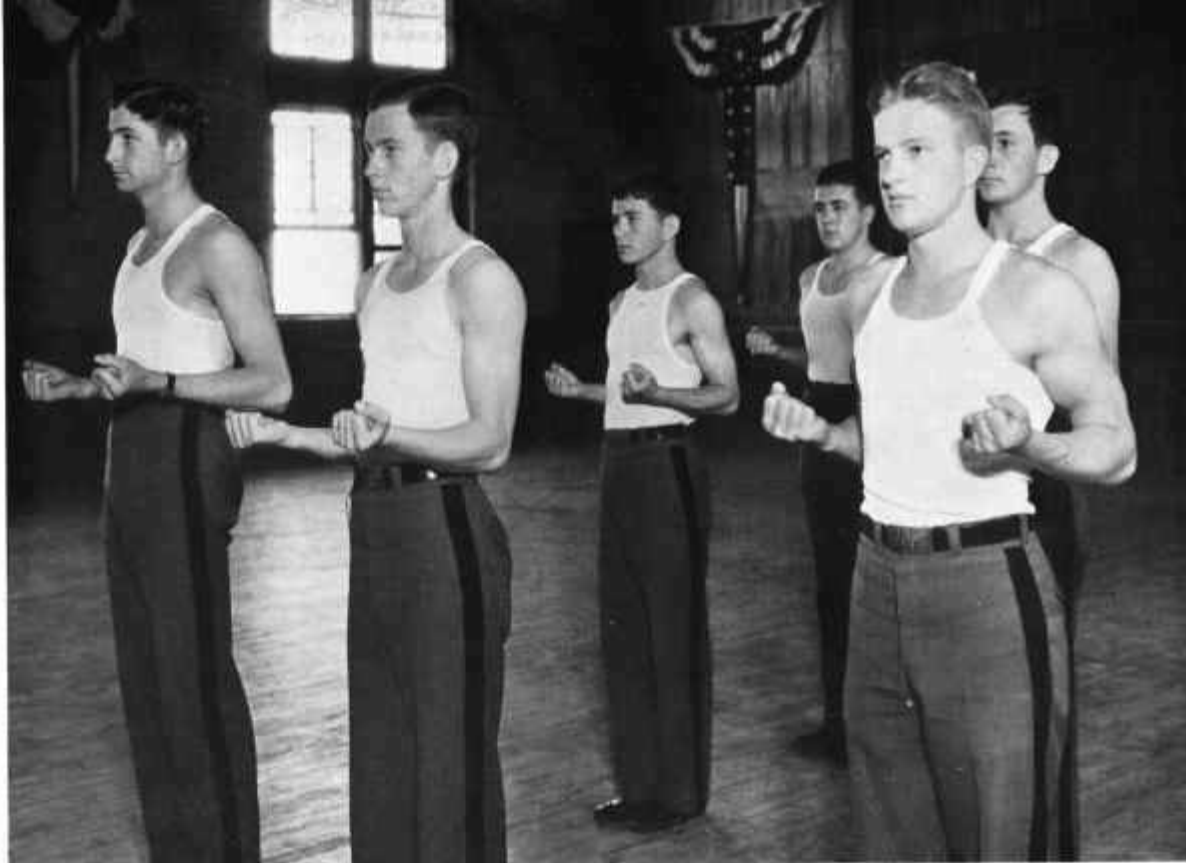

AT 8 O'CLOCK in the morning, classes convene. Harlan makes his way to a small class on his schedule where personal attention is his at any time it is needed. Our cadet is carefully instructed in the handling of delicate scientific equipment. He is not forced to grope blindly for information. That which is true of the science laboratories is equally true in all other classrooms.

Time passes rapidly in the classroom or laboratory because the work is interesting. The scholastic day is divided into two equal parts, with three classes in the morning and three in the afternoon.

* Our Cadet goes through a course of calisthenics to promote grace and health.

All the cadets shown in the picture were in the Armed Service. The second from the left, Lieutenant Tom Henderson, Jr., of Haynesville, La., was killed in the fighting for Munda Airfield.

CALISTHENICS play an important role in the physical education of Cadet Harlan. No effort is made to indulge in this or any other exercise in the early morning hours when the body is at its lowest ebb. All such exercises are taken by our cadet after a hearty breakfast and morning classes. The exercises are intended to promote graceful movement as well as better health. The calisthenics used by the United States Army are followed. They are led by senior cadet officers.

So long as the weather permits, the calisthenics are held in the open, but they are taken in the large gymnasium, where an entire battalion may take part at the same time, when rain or cold is in the air.

* The ten excellent tennis courts are always popular.

* Cadet Harlan reports to the Professor of Military Science and Tactics for drill duty.

Cadet Lieutenant Jack Ramsdell commanding the platoon shown in these two views, participated as an officer in the landing on North Africa. He was decorated with the Silver Star for heroism in action and Purple Heart.

DRILL is a very formal affair. It is on the drill field that Harlan learns much of courtesy, discipline and alertness. He, with his entire battalion, is thoroughly schooled in good citizenship, taught the proper respect for superiors and trained in leadership.

Learning to drill a squad is the first training in leadership. Throughout the year squad drill and competition is a part of the regular military routine. The squad is the smallest military unit and consists of nine men, one of whom is a corporal and another a first class private. All instruction is conducted by cadets under the personal supervision of members of the military faculty.

Although military work takes but one hour each day, the training is intensive and much more thorough than that found in larger units. Personal attention is given the individual cadet on the military field as well as in the classroom, and each cadet has an equal chance to advance to important positions in Wentworth's military realm. In the army, the navy and the marine corps Wentworth is glorified by its alumni who have received their commissions and are distinguishing themselves in official capacities of these respective branches of service.

Like many other cadets, Harlan finds the extended order drill more interesting. This drill consists of combat methods. He is taught to make use of cover, to advance and to fire. No actual firing is done during this drill, however, for all the ammunition used is dummy material. Initiative and leadership are required in this work. Situations arising in the problems furnished by the War Department call for quick thinking and immediate action.

Here our typical cadet finds extended order drill interesting and instructive.

The Cadet Officer using the field glasses was Captain Woodrow Wylie, U. S. Army. He participated in the fight on Beten, was captured and has been reported as having died in a prison camp.

The cadet about to insert the cartridge in his rifle is Major Milton Moran, U. S. Marine Air Corps. He has participated in considerable action in the South Pacific.

★ Eating — an always-popular "sport" with Harlan and his fellow cadets! Meal time is always a time for good food and good fellowship.

The Faculty Officer at the head of the table is now an aviation instructor on the West coast. Five of the cadets facing the camera were officers in the United States Army. Two of them were fliers.

FOLLOWING the morning classes comes lunch time and our cadet is ready to eat. Academy menus are always varied and pleasing. Meals are carefully planned to suit the needs of all cadets. They are healthful and nutritious and just what active, hard-working boys require. Meal times are at 7:00 in the morning, 12:10 and 6:10. This schedule is varied only on Sunday, when dinner becomes a more elaborate meal served at 12:30.

After dinner there is a recreation period during which Harlan and other cadets may do pretty much as they choose. The recreation room is a popular place at this time.

* Maybe Harlan is "behind the 8-ball" here! Like all other cadets he takes part in zestful competition in the recreation room.

* A letter from mother . . . or maybe the girl from home writes—

* She will be down for the "Military Ball."

THE recreation room proves a haven of rest, relaxation and zestful indoor competition. Pool, billiard and ping-pong tables are provided. A few try their hand at bridge, while others read, or relax in comfortable chairs.

* (Right) Our friend attends a chapel period, held twice each week.

* (Below) "We must get in there and fight!" says Harlan as he makes a short "pep" talk on the eve of a game.

CADET HARLAN attends an interesting, informative and inspirational meeting in the chapel, immediately before lunch. These meetings are conducted by the Academy Chaplain, but are not strictly religious. Travel talks, health lectures, scientific demonstrations and short sermons, presented by outstanding speakers, are frequently on the program. The service is opened with a hymn, prayer and responsive readings, and closed with the singing of "Wentworth," the Academy song.

"Pep" meetings, preceding important athletic contests, are also held in the chapel. These are always occasions of great fun. Students and faculty make rousing speeches. The cadet band furnishes gay, martial music and everyone anticipates the big game on the morrow. Athletic contests are important recreational events. Every cadet attends them.

*While a majority of the faculty members live in the barracks with cadets, some live in residences such as this on the campus.

*All shined up for Sunday inspection.

*Our Cadet receives personal attention from a faculty member in the library.

In this picture, the Technical Officer, James Simmons, graduate of Wentworth, is now a Lieut. Col. in the United States Army. He participated in the capture of Attu and Kwajalein.

Next to him, Lieutenant Orman, paratrooper, who took part in the Sicilian campaign and the capture of Naples, and was killed on Normandy beach. On the right, Captain James L. Gist, Army Aviator, killed in action over Japan.

PERSONAL attention is not confined to the classroom nor to the evening study periods. Harlan and many other cadets seek assistance in the spacious Academy library. The faculty officer in charge is always ready and willing to help any student, no matter what his problem. Whatever the subject, the faculty officer is qualified to give the guidance needed.

Wentworth's library is one of the most important places on the campus. It contains more than 8,000 books on nearly every subject one could imagine. Reference books include the famous Oxford English Dictionary and many sets of encyclopedia.

* Harlan plays football—and mighty well, too! No wonder! His uncle was an All-American at Yale.

* In winter months our boy turns his attention to basketball and other indoor sports.

TRAINING for leadership is important on the football field as well as everywhere else at Wentworth. More than fifty cadets answer the varsity call each year and large squads turn out for company teams. All players receive intensive training, both in the art of the game and in clean sportsmanship.

Football ranks as the number one sport, and the Red Dragon elevens are consistent winners. The fine spirit of players and corps is credited with being a strong determining factor in every contest.

In the winter months basketball comes into the spotlight. Again there are the varsity and company teams and a place for every cadet who desires to play. Home games are played in the spacious gymnasium where there are two courts and ample space for spectators.

Wentworth is a member of the Junior College Interstate conference, an athletic association numbering six schools as members. The Wentworth High School teams are members of the Pony Express Conference of Western Missouri. Almost every major and minor sports are on the Wentworth program—all played under competent coaches—and every cadet is required to participate.

*The gymnasium is 220 x 55 feet. It contains two regular basket ball courts, a large stage, a swimming pool 20 x 60 feet, locker rooms, showers and gymnastic equipment.

* Here our man-in-the-making is ready for his daily plunge in the pool.

THE sparkling, crystal-clear water of the swimming pool is inviting to cadets the year 'round. The pool is of regulation size (20x60) and is the scene of frequent water sports and aquatic meets. It is the purpose to teach every cadet to swim well. The water is warmed to a healthful temperature and kept pure by efficient filtration and chemical treatment.

* (Above) Hi-dee-ho! Harlan and his friends tune in a radio program during the recreation period immediately following the evening meal.

* The orchestra provides musical diversion both for members of the group and the corps.

* (Below) Perfect study conditions prevail in Harlan's room. (Note the latest type of reading lamp.)

Just before the evening study period is the favorite tune-in time for Cadet Harlan and other radio devotees. Permission to have a radio in the room is regarded a privilege, the abuse of which causes the student to lose this favor.

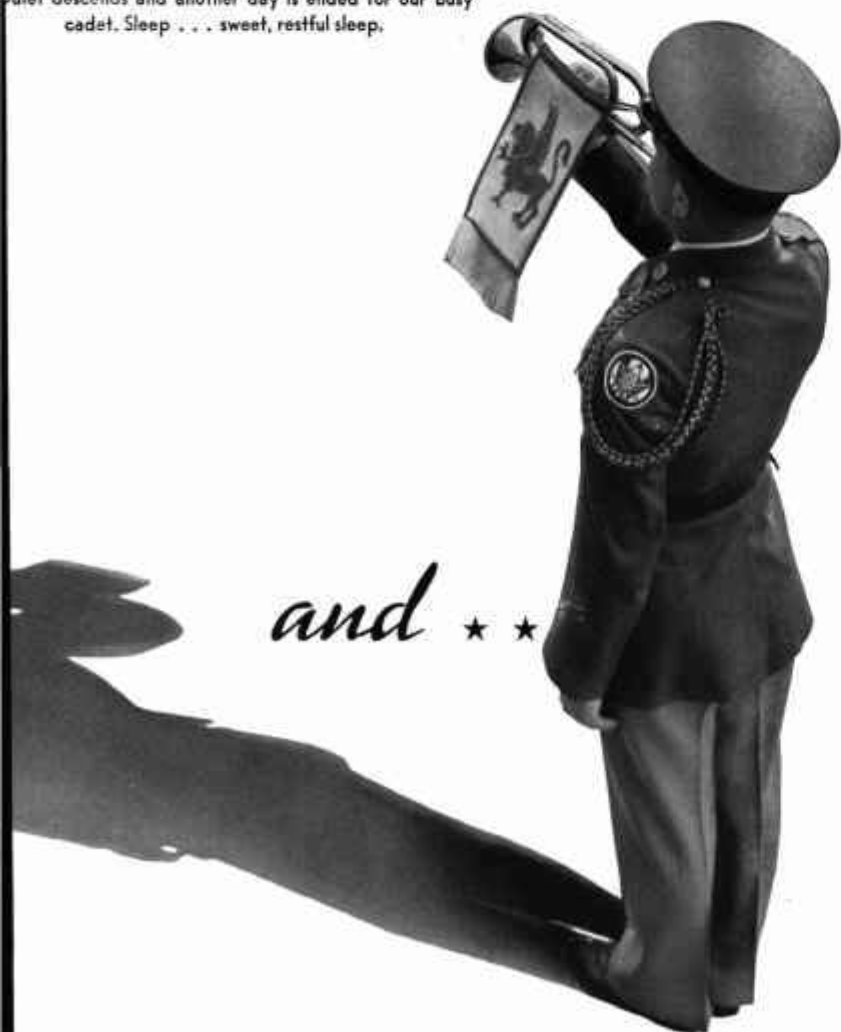

After thirty-five minutes of recreation following the supper hour, evening study is begun at 7 o'clock. Each cadet retires to his own room for a two-hour period of quiet. There is no stuffy, noisy hall in which cadets are confined. Instead, individual initiative is encouraged. Faculty officers are in constant attendance throughout the period, giving advice where it is needed and encouragement at all times.

Quiet descends and another day is ended for our busy cadet. Sleep . . . sweet, restful sleep.

TAPS, at which time all lights must be turned out and all cadets remain quiet, is sounded at 10 o'clock. The soft notes of the bugle call to close the activities of an eventful day and the peace of slumber envelops healthy young bodies until another dawn.

The purpose of this book has been to give you an accurate, but necessarily inadequate glimpse of the Wentworth Military Academy and cadet life. In order fully to appreciate the Academy, it will be necessary for you to visit the campus in person, see the beautiful grounds and buildings and meet members of the faculty. The Administration offices are open the year 'round and your visit will be welcomed at any time.

MEMORIES OF 1949-50

By JOE CADET

September 5—Registration for all new students started today at 1:00 P.M. I have already met a lot of other new boys. It looks as though this year is going to be a lot of fun.

September 6—The old boys started to arrive today. You know, they don't seem a bit mean. One of them came into my room before I got up this morning and was looking for one of his friends that was here with him last year. He even said he was sorry for waking me up by mistake.

September 7—I got my books today, bought a lot of other stuff that I will be needing this year. I also wrote Mom and Dad this evening. I told them that this is going to be a lot of fun. They thought it was going to be rather hard for me to get used to, but I have gotten onto it pretty good already.

September 8—They have redecorated "A" company and it has a swell locker room in the barracks basement. Captain Karl Berninger was elected president of the Pony Express conference at a meeting yesterday.

September 9—We went to our first classes today; they were only short classes and lasted about 15 minutes each. I received just the schedule I wanted and all my teachers seem to be swell instructors; they really know the ropes.

September 10—Captain Spence McClain is going to teach English and speech this year. He is a new member of Wentworth's academic staff. I think I heard someone say that he may coach the high school basketball team this winter.

September 11—Major Dallas Buck has been appointed dean this academic year. Captain William Stagner was appointed assistant to the treasurer, Colonel Lester B. Wikoff. Captain Frank W. Thompson was appointed assistant to the dean, Major Buck.

September 12—Today we went over to the gym and had our measurements taken for the first time. I will be anxious to know how much I have grown and how much weight I have put on by Christmas.

September 13—The whole cadet corps received M-1 rifles this year. They were procured by the Military Department from the U. S. Army during the summer.

September 14—There are seven sons of Old boys at Wentworth this year. I was talking to one of them today and he said his father was company commander of Company "C" back in 1922.

September 15—Jalal Kurdi of Amman, Transjordan, today discussed with me his talk before the Rotary club in Duncan, Oklahoma, last month. I talked to him today between classes and he told me he came to the United States to finish his education, following his schooling in his own country. We had a nice talk and he said that he was really enjoying his stay in America.

September 16—Six new tactical officers have been appointed as lieutenants on the academy faculty staff. They will act as assistants to Major Frank W. Brown, commandant.

September 17—Plans have been started by Mrs. Beth Helper, hostess of Wentworth, to have a dance here the first of October. A couple of fellas and I are going out to the country club tomorrow, Sunday, and go horseback riding.

September 18—We went out to the country club and went riding for a couple of hours this afternoon. We had a lot of fun and got a few pointers on the art of riding from the man that takes care of the horses. The honor guard had tryouts today.

September 19—The Oklahoma club, sponsored by Captain Robert Pease, held its first meeting and elected officers today. Plans for the Dads Day program on October 29 have been started. I sure hope Dad will be able to make it.

September 20—Captain Karl Berninger, announced today that all boys from the fifth through the eighth grades will be admitted to the home football games without charge. Our first game is on the twenty-third when our Jr. Dragons will play the Missouri Military Academy eleven here.

September 21—The Academy faculty had a bridge party out at the country club tonight. The band has been practicing for their trip to Waverly for the annual Apple Festival to be held there on the twenty-fourth.

September 22—Took a permit tonight and went to the show. What a riot it was; I don't know when I have laughed so hard.

September 23—We went to our first football game today. Our high school team played Missouri Military Academy and won a hard fought 12-6 victory. We may have a small team in weight this year, but we sure have a mighty strong bunch of fighters in that small eleven.

September 24—Our band went to Waverly today to perform at the annual Apple Festival there. The cadet musicians probably will be back late tonight.

September 25—I'm rather tired tonight, since I was on post all day and was really kept busy. "Take this to such and so. Better get a move on and get the class slips collected. It's time to take the hospital book up the hill." I suppose I'll be running all night in my sleep. Oh well, it was something different to do.

September 26—The Trumpeter held its first staff tryout meeting today. Cadets interested in journalistic activity attended the meeting.

September 27—I received a letter from my girl at Stephens today and she said she would be down on October 1 for our dance. She said she couldn't resist coming to a military school and see all the fine cadets enrolled. I guess I'm lucky that she goes to school so darn close and I'm able to see her so soon after coming down here.

September 28—I received my grades today for the first three weeks period. I hope the folks will realize that it is rather hard getting used to the studying rules and what not down here. I won't disappoint them next time; I'm going to give it all I have from now on.

September 29—I read an interesting article in the school paper this week about a cavalry outfit which formerly existed here at Wentworth. They must have been quite good, for they were highly publicized for their excellence in trick riding.

September 30—Our high school team played Lafayette at St. Joseph and won with the close score of 6-0. As I said before, that high school team is going to show some of that Wentworth spirit this year. We have a lot of tough little players on our side.

October 1—I went to the dance tonight. Girls from Stephens and Cottey attended. My girl came and we had a wonderful time at this, our first fall dance. I sure am glad that we can have girls from the schools around here come to our dances.

October 2—My girl from Stephens left today. She ate lunch in the mess hall with us and really got a kick out of watching the corps march in and out after lunch. There were also some students from William Chrisman High School on the campus today.

October 3—Back to my homework and classes today after a wonderful weekend. Next week ends the grading period. I better start studying if I'm going to make the honor roll and get that extra permit.

October 4—We had our first company football game today. "C" company beat "D" company, 13-7. It is kind of early to decide who is going to take that title and steak dinner, but from what I hear, each coach is looking forward to eating out with his team. It is going to prove interesting in the next month.

October 5—Colonel Sellers reported that the fall tennis tournament is ready to get under way. The championship play-off will bring top honors for the fighting cadets participating.

October 6—The rifle team won some turkeys, due to their excellent marksmanship at a turkey shoot. The entire team went to Sergeant Mullenious's mother-in-law's house for a turkey dinner.

October 7—Our college football team took a hard fought beating by the Bacone "Indians" here tonight. The Bacone team was a fast fighting, hard hitting team that just had our team outplayed. We have a darn good team and we are going to take our share of the games this year.

October 8—The company football teams show a lot of spirit this year as in the past, and it's going to be anyone's steak dinner.

October 9—Bill Esslinger of "B" company has a new television set in his room. It was given to him by his parents. Oh, what is this modern world coming to!

October 11—Dancing classes started today. This is the first in the series of lessons under the direction of Mrs. Hepler offered by the academy.

October 12—It seems that Capt. Collins is quite an authority on the conditions in China. He gave a speech about China during assembly today.

October 13—We had a pep meeting tonight. The cadet corps certainly show a lot of spirit this year.

October 14—Our high school fought to a tie in the battle with Central High School of St. Joseph. The final score was 13-13.

October 15—The band went to the American Royal in Kansas City. They sure have a lot of trick drilling and numbers to present to Kansas City. Some of the boys left for a dance at Cottey College today. I wish I could have gone with them, but my studies need some extra work, if I'm to make the honor roll.

October 16—Some R.O.T.C. students from Kansas City were on the campus to see how a military school operates. The Spanish speaking cadets were guests of Central Missouri State College at Warrensburg.

October 17—"B" company has been designated Color Company due to their hard work the past grading period.

October 18—The cadets are getting excited about Dads Day being so near. I hope my girl can make it for the celebration. The first Philharmonic concert in Kansas City started tonight. Quite a few cadets went to hear the concert.

October 19—We had a study period during chapel, because of a movie scheduled during CQ tonight. Mr. Marlin Perkins, Wentworth alumnus and head of the Chicago Lincoln Park Zoo, presented the movie on "Bushman," the greatest ape in captivity.

October 20—Six cadet cheerleaders have been putting out a lot of work and effort at recent football games. Deserving a lot of credit for a splendid job are Loren McMurray, Bill Knudsen, Kurt Eggmann, Pete Heintzelman, George Palmer and Gene Waide.

October 21—North Kansas City high school came here to Wentworth and defeated our high school, 14-6. The college team left for Elsea, Illinois, to play Principia.

October 22—There was a three-way rifle match here today, and W. M. A. was triumphant. Some of the cadets went to Stephens College for a dance. I was one of the lucky ones and got to see my girl. It was formal and they had a wonderful band.

October 23—Dr. T. Luther Purdom, professor of education and director of the Bureau of Appointments and Occupational Information at the University of Michigan, is on the campus to advise the cadets about their problems. The Oklahoma Club held a banquet at the Auditorium Cafe this evening.

October 24—Mr. J. C. Penny talked at chapel. He discussed the prerequisites for success in life.

October 25—The Iowa Club had a dinner at the Victory Cafe in Lexington tonight.

October 26—Col. L. B. Wikoff, Capt. Lowell Stagner, Capt. V. M. Willoughby, Harvey Mavel and William Braun went to Kansas City to attend a meeting of the Missouri-Kansas division of the Educational Buyers Association.

October 27—There was a close company football game today between "A" and "B" companies. "B" company won because of two yards greater penetration than "A" company. The final score was 13-13.

October 28—Our high school "B" team beat Mercy Academy of Marshall, Missouri. It sure doesn't seem like fall because we've been having lovely weather.

October 29—Today is Dads Day, and every cadet on the campus has been waiting patiently for it to come. My girl and her folks are down for the game between the Blue Devils and the Red Dragons. The Dragons lost 19-6.

October 30—Breakfast was held at the Lexington Airport for cadets enrolled in aviation, but I had breakfast with my girl and her parents. We visited the Anderson Museum and then she left for Stephens.

October 31—Mr. J. S. Slaughter of Perryton, Texas, treated the college variety team to a T-bone steak dinner at the Victory Cafe. The faculty had a Halloween party at the country club this evening.

November 1—It was announced that the entire corps will make a trip to Columbia, Missouri, to see the Missouri University vs. Oklahoma University football game. I hope I get a chance to see my girl while I'm down there.

November 2—It seems we have considerable talent in the cadet corps. Cadet Jim Slusher, an amateur magician, was featured at the assembly this morning. Orders for positions on the battalion staff and companies were announced in the mess hall today.

November 3—Our high school football team went to Boonville, Missouri, to meet Kemper's Yellow Jackets. The fighting cadets came through with a 37-0 victory.

November 4—All cadets from Kansas City had a banquet at the Auditorium Cafe this evening.

November 5—Chillicothe Business College outplayed our college team this evening, but our team never gave up their fighting spirit. The game ended with Chillicothe winning 27-7.

November 6—Less than a week and we'll see who's going to take the honors in the Missouri University vs. Oklahoma University game.

November 7—Captain Charles Norris, former assistant PMS&T, sailed Friday for Japan. His wife will join him there later. Good luck, Captain.

November 8—Captain Berninger's daughter, Miss Joan Berninger, joined the Women's Army Corps (WAC). We wish her the best of luck in her new adventure. The Mozart trio, a tenor, violinist and pianist, entertained the cadets during assembly today.

November 9—It has been announced by the military department that the Military Ball is to be held February 4. I think I'll write to my girl tonight for her picture and enter it in the beauty contest.

November 10—The NCO orders came out this evening. The boys who made the grade are quite proud of their stripes. Any minute I expect to see one of the cadets handing out cigars.

November 11—Col. L. B. Wikoff delivered an Armistice Day address at Columbia, Missouri. The band also went to Marshall to participate in the Armistice Day ceremonies.

November 12—The cadet corps went to Columbia, Missouri, to see the M.U.O.U. football game. O.U. won by quite a margin, 27-7.

November 13—We slept until nine this morning. Not a sound in the barracks before then. I guess everyone was still dreaming of how he would have won the game for M.U. yesterday.

November 14—Classes started off again as usual this morning. Quite a few of the cadets didn't know their class assignments. I guess there was just too much weekend.

November 15—Colonel Sellers announced in the mess hall that today was to be a "stop day." This news was accepted throughout the corps with plenty of excitement.

November 16—Mr. Howard H. Butts talked about this year's educational trip to Mexico. It sounds like a good deal. I think I'll write to my folks and see if they will let me go.

November 17—The company football championship was determined today by a play-off. Company "A" beat company "B", 12-0. This year's company football players deserve a lot of credit for their interest in football to have such an interesting season.

November 18—It was announced in the mess hall tonight that Christmas vacation will start December 16th instead of the 17th.

November 19—"A" company had its football championship dinner at the Victory cafe. The grid stars report that all their efforts to win really paid off.

November 20—Lt. Kendrick D. Farrow was elected president of the Tau Chapter of the Phi Theta Kappa, junior college scholastic fraternity.

November 21—"Beat Kemper" is a familiar echo to the corps. With Homecoming just around the corner, that BEAT KEMPER spirit is really here.

November 22—Lt. Robert J. Stephanchick, tactical officer, was recently awarded the rank of 2nd Lieutenant in the Officers Reserve Corps, Infantry.

November 23—Richard Carson and Philip Wolf, popular young actors and entertainers, appeared in a colorful program of dramatic portraits from great literature at assembly.

November 24—Today was the big day for an event greatly anticipated by all cadets . . . the annual Kemper-Wentworth rivalry football game. The entire battalion met the Kemper corps at the station and then paraded through Lexington. Later in the afternoon, the corps watched the Wentworth and Kemper college teams battle for honors. Our college team defeated the Yellow Jackets, 32-6.

November 25—We had a late breakfast because of the extra activities during the past two days. I signed up for my winter sport. I hope I can keep up my grades, so that I can stay on the varsity team.

November 26—Cadet 2nd Lt. Paul J. Simon was named the Honor Guard commander for this academic year, according to Honor Guard Orders No. 1, published today.

November 27—Miss Mary E. Null, academy registrar, attended a meeting of the Missouri Collegiate Registrars and Admissions Officers at Columbia, Missouri.

November 28—Lt. Don Fetrow, tactical officer at the academy, was featured on the cover of the November issue of "The Golden Key," official publication of the Phi Theta Kappa fraternity.

November 29—The Public Relations office announced that official entry forms are available for cadets who wish to enter pictures of their girl friends, sisters, or cousins in the Military Ball queen contest. Had better write the little woman and get that picture down here in a big hurry!

November 30—Cadet William E. Fintzell was initiated into the Ancient Arabic Order of the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine at the Abu Bekr Temple in Sioux City, Iowa.

December 1—Although the military ball is two months away, cadets are already lining up their dates for the big social event. My honey has promised to come, and am I happy!

December 2—Everyone is counting the days before Christmas furlough starts. Today Mrs. Hepler told me that my reservation for a lower berth was confirmed by the Santa Fe office. Good enough!

December 3—A group of thirty-seven cadets went to Cottey college at Nevada, Mo., to attend a formal dance. Lt. Robert Stephanchick and Lt. John Gover chaperoned the cadet group.

December 4—Company "A" was awarded the scholastic and disciplinary guidons at parade today. Company "D" received the military guidon.

December 5—Pinky Rosenberg, manager of the college varsity basketball squad, was host to the team at a steak dinner at the Victory cafe tonight.

December 6—Paul Eitel promised to take me to the Swiss Chalet at the Hotel Bismarck if I visit him in Chicago during the winter vacation. His dad runs the Bismarck, you know. I am going to make every effort to take him up on that invitation.

December 7—Another Trumpeter issue rolled off the press and it is an alumni special issue this time. There's just gobs of news about Wentworth grads in it.

December 8—Major Brown is reminding everyone about regulations pertaining to furlough. He doesn't have to remind me. I have memorized the regulations and will do my part to get an early clearance from here the day furlough starts.

December 9—Capt. Carl Berninger is unusually happy today. Must be because of a publicity story that came out of the University of Missouri news office about his daughter, Joan. The public relations officer at M.U. announced that Joan was one of the top-flight scholars in the women's division last year.

December 10—Col. Lester B. Wikoff and Capt. Lowell Stagner attended a meeting at the Kansas City Advertising and Sales Executive club. Nationally recognized men in the advertising field were on the program.

December 11—Company "A" certainly looked sharp at parade today, but then there are some sharp lads in that company.

December 12—Lt. Col. James B. Wells has created a new personnel efficiency report system. Under the changed organization, each individual student will be graded by his immediate superiors as to his efficiency in leadership, drill and command.

December 13—The Ambassador Quartet entertained the corps yesterday morning. The program consisted of classical selections and music of a lighter vein.

December 14—According to Major Brown, five cadets will remain on the academy campus during the Christmas holidays. They will live on the fourth floor of Company D.

December 15—Well, luggage has been checked out, the Christmas dinner has been held, and the holiday edition of The Trumpeter has been printed. Happy! You bet, for we leave for home after our last classes tomorrow.

December 16—I was up early this morning, double-checking the train schedule and making certain that I had not lost my train ticket. Sure was tough concentrating on class work, but now whoopee—it's homeward bound, and goodbye regulations until January 4.

January 4—Back to school again. Christmas furlough sure was swell while it lasted.

January 5—A lot of talk was going around today about experiences during Christmas furlough and some of the stories sure are wild.

January 6—I rated a permit tonight, so I took in a fascinating mystery thriller playing at the local motion picture theater.

January 7—Maj. James M. Stafford, the school's chaplain, dedicated chapel hour today to Aubrey J. Egan, '05, of Manitowoc, Wisc., who died late last fall.

January 8—Since today is Sunday, I decided to spend this afternoon swimming in the academy pool with my buddy. He is on the college swimming team, and can give me a lot of pointers.

January 10—The summer school and camp catalogue came out today. The catalogue is more profusely illustrated this year than in previous years. After looking at the pictures in the booklet showing the good times everyone had last year, I've decided to enroll for this year's session.

January 11—Maj. Dallas C. Buck, dean, gave a speech at the monthly luncheon meeting of the Kansas City Mothers club today. Major Buck discussed "College Preparatory Courses."

January 12—Capt. Berninger has outlined the winter minor sports schedule. Everyone is looking forward to the Golden Gloves bouts in St. Joseph and Kansas City.

January 13—Started my semester exams today. I see where this kid doesn't take a permit for awhile.

January 14—The school has announced that registrations are now being accepted for next September. I'm going down to see Maj. Brown tomorrow, so that I'll be sure to get my old room again.

January 15—Doug Bennett is really making clever posters publicizing the Military Ball. They have stirred up a lot of interest throughout the corps.

January 16—A surprise on the menu greeted cadets at noon meal today. Cadet Chuck Taylor treated the corps to an elk he bagged, and it was his first hunt too.

January 17—Got all registered for the second semester today. Hope I can do OK in my new courses.

January 18—Karl Robinson, well known lecturer and cameraman, gave a film-lecture on "Journey to Japan." It was very interesting and educational.

January 19—Lt. Col. James B. Wells boosted the Military Ball fever by announcing that Griff Williams and his famous orchestra have been engaged to play for that event.

January 20—Cadet Dorman E. Parker has been awarded the Handbook of Chemistry and Physics. This award given by the Chemical Rubber Co. of Cleveland, Ohio, is for outstanding work done in college freshman chemistry.

January 21—Roger Meissner and Donald Donner announced that they will publish this year's student directory.

January 22—My folks stopped at the academy today while on their way to Kansas City. I took a "soupy," which is a treat for me since I'm a new boy.

January 23—Col. James M. Sellers represented Wentworth at the annual meeting of the Association of Military Colleges and Schools of the United States.

January 24—This company basketball is really hot. The "A" Company boys are out in front, but "B" Company is close behind.

January 25—It has been announced that Capt. Donald S. Lintvet will return to Wentworth and replace Capt. Ronald Euler who has resigned.

January 26—We had a "stop day" today. They sure are nice to have once in awhile, but I still have a lot of studying to do.

January 27—Col. Lester B. Wikoff was the guest speaker at the convention of the Southwestern Lumbermen's association held in Kansas City. His speech was entitled "Everybody's Business."

January 28—Rabbi Nathan Hershfield gave an interesting speech on "Youth Faces the Mid-Century" in chapel today.

January 29—The military department has published another Special Order. After the cadets read the promotions, there was a mad rush for the Q.M. to buy stripes and buttons.

January 30—Took a permit and went to a movie. It was a comedy. Real good too!

January 31—I was put on the committee to decorate the gym. What a job! I didn't know there was that much crepe paper in the world.

February 1—This morning in chapel we had a very interesting speaker, John Thornberry, who talked on "How to Win Over and Influence Important People." He cited examples of famous men who had at one time used their personalities to influence people and thus help them to get much farther in life than if they had just ignored those people that were hard to know and understand.

February 2—It's getting mighty close to the Military Ball and tonight I helped finish decorating the gym for the ball. It really looks sharp now. We were informed that the queens have been picked for the Military Ball. They were chosen by Rhonda Fleming who selected Miss Barbara Westfall of Nebraska City, Nebr., as Battalion queen; Miss Joyce O'Dell of Chillicothe, Mo., as Headquarters queen; Miss Marian Walker of Evanston, Ill., as "A" Company queen; Miss Sharon Sheldon of Ogallala, Nebr., as "B" Company queen; Miss Barbara Van Loon of Independence, Mo., as "C" Company queen; and Miss Janet Lewis of Kansas City, Mo., as "D" Company queen.

February 3—I spent most all my time studying today, so that I will have all my homework done for classes on Monday and will have more time to spend with my girl over the week-end.

February 4—The Military Ball was a huge success. It was covered by KCMO of Kansas City, and the orchestra was out of this world. The queens looked real swell tonight, but as luck would have it I didn't even have a chance to dance with any of them. Oh well, I think my girl was just as much a queen as any of the ones chosen and I'm not too hurt that I didn't dance with any of the others.

February 5—I went to church with my girl today and had dinner with her at the Victory cafe. She left shortly after parade this afternoon, so as all wonderful things must come to an end, this week-end has.

February 6—Everything is back to normal again. Classes are the same as they were and all the calls still go on the designated time schedules as they have in the past and will in the future.

February 7—Our high school team beat Kemper, 47-45 tonight. We sure have licked Kemper this year. Of course, the Yellowjackets have won high school and swimming and boxing, but we trimmed them in basketball and football.

February 8—Our college swimming team went down to Kemper today. They lost 36-30, but by all reports the Dragons were ahead by one point until the last relay.

February 9—The high school basketball team is playing North Kansas City tonight. They aren't back yet, so I hope they won. If they did win we are leading the Pony Express conference.

February 10—The high school lost last night. "A" company had its banquet out at the country club tonight and from all reports, it must have been worth while working for.

February 11—We had our first physical training exercises today at drill. Our college basketball team beat OMA, 67-49, but our wrestling team lost 5-29, to Oklahoma.

February 12—We went to the show tonight and saw "Sands of Iwo Jimo" and "Rusty Saves a Life." Both pictures were darn good.

February 13—Our boxers went to Richmond to participate in a benefit show today. I hope they make a good showing tonight.

February 14—Our high school team beat Lafayette, from St. Joe, and our college team beat Kemper, 38-39. This ended a wonderful Valentine's Day.

February 15—We took a beating from Kemper today. The Kemper rifle and wrestling teams beat us at Boonville this afternoon.

February 16—Our swimming team beat Southwest Baptist today. I boxed a little tonight and later ran light laps around the track. Got a package from home today from mom and we had a feast tonight.

February 17—Was it a beautiful day today! Sweaters were regulation from noon on. Gosh it won't be long now and we'll all be going home for spring furlough.

February 18—The college team played Graceland and was defeated to a tune of 45-61. My roommate went down and saw the game. Our rifle team won its match this afternoon. We had our four mile run today, during drill period.

February 19—Went to the show tonight. Saw two good pictures, "Pinky" and "Tale of the Navajoes."

February 20—It was another beautiful day today. The temperature was in the high forties. I saw my first robin today, so it won't be long before spring will really be here.

February 21—Our college team played Moberly here tonight and was swamped, 56-37. It was an exciting game.

February 22—Today in chapel Sam Molen gave a wonderful talk on the funny side of sports.

February 23—The swimming team beat Southwest Baptist by about 40 points today. The studies are starting to pile up now for the six weeks tests next week, so everyone is really beginning to buckle down.

February 24—We took a beating tonight when our college team fought again against Chillicothe and lost, 72-49.

February 25—I went to the show tonight. Saw "Mr. Soft Touch." We had a lot of fun out at drill today with tug-o-war and Indian wrestling.

February 26—Went to the show again tonight and saw "Adam's Rib" with Spencer Tracy.

February 27—Wow! This is the week for tests and studying and I'm afraid I've gotten a little behind. I studied both CQs and only made a small dent in what should be done. Oh well, tomorrow is another day.

February 28—The college team is fighting it out. The Red Dragons beat Monett, so they'll remain another day and play Mo-Ark at the Moberly tournament.

March 1—The track schedule was announced today, and it was reported that we would have seventeen events on the schedule.

March 2—Twelve cadets were upped in rank in a special order published by the military department. In this order my friend Bill Hill from Sedalia was made a cadet major.

March 3—Colonel Sellers has organized a chess club and twelve cadets meet with him once a week to master the fine points of the game.

March 4—An informal dance was held in the gymnasium tonight. Dick Elliott entertained with several piano numbers during intermission. About three hundred cadets and dates were there and it turned out to be a swell party.

March 5—The Phi Theta Kappa chapter had a meeting after parade. I came near missing the meeting and forgot about the date. Kay Kilpatrick caught up with me just as I was leaving the grounds for the matinee. So I did get to the meeting.

March 6—Major Buck left today for Columbia to attend the second annual Freshman-Principal Conference at the University of Missouri. He was one of the fifteen school administrators invited to participate in the conference.

March 7—Shortly after breakfast twenty-four cadets and Col. and Mrs. Lester B. Wikoff boarded the school bus for Kansas City's airport where they found a special plane ready to take them on the school's annual educational tour. The boys are headed for an excursion to Mexico. I just couldn't get Dad to let me go. Maybe he will allow me to take next year's tour.

March 8—More new books have come in at the library. I checked out Tracy's "Chesapeake Cavalier" today and after reading the first chapters, I think I am going to like it.

March 9—Spring furlough started after our last class. Since I live in California, I decided to remain on the campus for the five-day period. About twenty other lads are here with me and we should have fun.

March 10—Breakfast was optional today, so I decided to catch up on some much needed shuteye.

March 11—I hear Raymond Settle's book on, "The History of Wentworth" is finally ready for the printers. I am reserving my copy now. It will be nice to refer to it in years to come.

March 12—Ah boy, we had fried chicken today and I had been wanting to dig into some chicken for a long time. The strawberry shortcake was good too.

March 13—I went over to chew the fat with The Duchess, and she gave me the lowdown on the forthcoming "W" Club show. She says rehearsals on the production will go into high gear once the cadets return.

March 14—Well, furlough is over. The vacation ended at 6:00 p.m. Some of the lads were still in a mood for more vacation, but most of them were glad to get back to settle down to the tough schedule facing them.

March 15—Twelve cadets are meeting every week with Capt. John Dickson. These are the Camera Club boys who have been mastering the fine points of photography. I sat in on today's meeting and found it both interesting and instructive.

March 16—The Military Department means business as far as the federal inspection is concerned. Instructors are cracking the whip in classes. Colonel Wells gave us quite a pep talk today and urged us to put forth our best in the army inspection next month.

March 17—A lot of shamrocks blossomed out on the campus today, and you can probably guess why. Major Brown refused to lift regulations to permit wearing of green neckties. Meanie!

March 18—Shortly after midnight the cadets who made the educational trip returned from Mexico. I discovered that five members of the Wentworth party caught big fish at Acapulco. Tom Taylor, Albert McClure, Jim Strader, Colonel Wikoff and the pilot of the Wentworth special plane caught the fish, each one catching a blue marlin that measured at least nine feet in length. Sounds like a good fish story, but the boys brought back pictures as proof.

March 19—A nasty day and loads of sleet. I did not venture out after parade. Since I was caught up on all my work, I turned to a good murder mystery that I borrowed from Captain Clemens.

March 20—Dick Nelson and Ellen Neale are practicing the wedding march. Lloyd Lisk and Rita Martin also have marriage on their minds. The two couples will marry in June. I'll be on hand to kiss the brides and give moral support to Dick and Lloyd. Not only that but I bought five pounds of rice today.

March 21—The public relations office disclosed that Capt. Edgar A. Muench is starting his second quarter century as a track coach at Wentworth this spring, which is a longevity record hard to surpass in this part of the country.

March 22—Received a letter from my girl down at Stephens today and she wants me to be sure to be on hand for the spring formal there. I'm broke but I guess I can borrow five dollars from Rodney Hartsing. That should finance the trip.

March 23—Three weeks tests are on and for some reason or other my tests have been crowded into the latter part of the week. Oh, well, such is life at Wentworth.

March 24—Major Buck returned from Chicago where he had attended a meeting of the North Central Association. Now I'll have to get back to concentrating on my French courses, since Major Buck, the instructor, is back again.

March 25—Today our high school track boys left for Columbia to open their spring activities. The event is the State Indoor Meet at the University of Missouri. The college boys have another week before they roll into action.

March 26—I spent a lot of time in the library this afternoon. With all the magazines and newspapers that the school gets, it is easy to keep up with current events.

March 27—Another blue Monday, or so it seems to me. It is always a little difficult getting down to business again with classes after a relaxing week-end.

March 28—Bill Lennan and I had permits tonight, so we double-dated. I always thought he was quiet and retiring, but he fooled me. Did he feed the girl friend a super line!

March 29—Capt. S. V. Heghin has purchased a farm a couple of miles from town and he spends his spare time there getting the place fixed the way he and his wife want it.

March 30—Rumor has it that Capt. George Canning has a strong feeling for a girl back East. No wonder he made a trip to New York during spring furlough.

March 31—Lt. Robert Stephanchick's mail from Cottey comes in with great regularity these days. Could it be—No, well, one never can tell.

April 1—I am going to get busy on my term papers today, as I don't want these projects to pile up till the last few weeks of school. I have papers to write for Captains Thompson, Pease and Canning. Looks like loads of hard work ahead for me.

April 2—More visitors than usual at parade today, and that is certainly a good sign, for big crowds usually start coming to the weekly parades with arrival of the good weather.

April 3—It seems that the Canasta bug has even hit Wentworth. I understand the "B" Company lads especially take the game seriously and they are ready to take on all comers, including Capt. and Mrs. Ben Johnson who are Canasta hot-shots.

April 4—New members of the "W" club are facing their initiation ceremony. Some of the things members have to do certainly are good for hearty laughs.

April 5—The Quartermaster has announced that commencement invitations and rings for the graduating class are now available. This announcement brings home the fact that we have just about seven more weeks of classes this semester.

April 6—This year I am going to enter the National Society of Colonial Daughters patriotic essay contest. Wouldn't Dad be proud of me if I won the gold medal that the society is offering for the best paper.

April 7—Well, the "Whiz-Bang Follies" were presented to the corps tonight by the "W" Club boys who played the roles of dimpled darlings. Too bad talent scouts were not present. They might have been able to find some gifted cadets. The show was a riot and everyone went away feeling the "W" club members did a superb job of entertaining their fellow students.

April 8—The annual apron-overalls dance was held tonight, and even the faculty turned out in informal attire. You should have seen Colonel Wikoff in his picturesque garb. He certainly would rate a big red apple if we had any big red apples to award.

April 9—Many of the beautiful dolls who attended last night's dance, including my own Barbara Lou, remained in town overnight. By using my charm on Mrs. Hepler, our hostess, I secured an official dinner invitation for my girl and we sat at Mrs. Hepler's table.

April 10—Harry Arthur broke down and told us that he has changed his mind about being a bachelor. He says he will settle for an 118-lb. blonde with blue eyes and a sugary line. He has no objection to teaming up with Betty Grable.

April 11—Spring fever is hard to fight, or should I try to fight it! To top it off, I can't get any co-operation from my roommate. He just has his mind on birds, trees, bees, and women.

April 12—After my last class I started to walk downtown. I had not gotten far when our genial chaplain, Major Stafford, picked me up and gave me a ride to the business section. Not only that but he invited me into one of the local drug stores and treated me to a coke.

April 13—I have a 500-word theme to write over the week-end on the subject, "How I Plan to Make My First Million." That fellow Captain Canning must have a lot of faith in my ability to lay hands on that much cash.

April 14—John Gover passed out cigars to the tactical officers and O'Henry bars to the office girls. No, it isn't what you think. He just received his G.I. insurance dividend check and he was merely sharing his wealth.

April 15—The dean's office has named this year's candidates for graduation and my name is on the list. I am supposed to drop into Miss Null's office next week and tell her how I want my name engraved on the diploma.

April 16—Had a "soupy" tonight, so I went down to the Auditorium cafe where I had a steak dinner and watched the television show on the new set installed by the management.

April 17—The week is here. Government inspection will be held on Wednesday and Thursday. The Military Department today took over in earnest. Cadet Capt. Ryburg has started a spic-and-span campaign in Company "A" and all of us are polishing floors, cleaning windows and making our quarters as attractive as possible.

April 18—Capt. V. M. Willoughby is on a good-will tour in Nebraska, looking up Old Boys in that famous state.

April 19—Now that baseball time is here, it is possible to catch Major Brown off guard. The Major's favorite team, the Detroit Tigers, are getting off to what Major Brown says will be a fairly good season.

April 20—It's all over now. The inspecting officers sent down from Fifth Army headquarters kept us on our toes the last two days and the formal inspection ended this afternoon. The inspectors seemed favorably impressed and we believe that we passed with a superior rating.

April 21—Leland (Pop) Dorsey is the campus Dorothy Dix. If you have heart-throb trouble, Pop will sympathize with you and tell you to let women alone hereafter.

April 22—Roger Meissner and I took in a movie tonight. Later, over a coke he gave me a chamber of commerce pep talk on the great city of La Porte and the great state of Indiana.

April 23—Today's parade went over smoothly, but then by this time of year the corps puts on a rather snazzy demonstration . . . we're just that good!

April 24—Bill Glisson, star athlete here the past two years, is monopolizing the time of a young lady in the dean's office.

April 25—Quite a few "C" Company boys dropped in to Major Brown's office today to make room reservations for next year. They know that by registering now, they get a choice of room and roommate.

April 26—Spent a good portion of the afternoon listening to Bernie Husbands spief off some of his experiences with the Marine corps. Gosh, to hear him talk, you wouldn't think there were other units that get into action now and then.

April 27—Dropped into "C" Company to listen to Jim Williams' new square dance records. He and Buddy Burrows tell me they are going to take me to some square dance parties when I visit them in Texas this summer on my way to Mexico.

April 28—I am always glad to see Friday afternoon roll around, for that means a week-end and a week-end brings respite from class assignments. I think I'll see if Major Brown will let me go fishing with Captain George tomorrow.

April 29—A big box of goodies came in from home today and later there came a special delivery package containing a new electric razor. You guessed it; it is my birthday.

April 30—Walked to church with Harold Ring today. He certainly has a steady line of chatter. Not only does he have the gift of gab but also a fine personality, and he should do well later as a lawyer or salesman.

May 1—It is difficult to realize that a month from now school will be over and I shall be on my vacation. Gosh, time goes by at rapid clips around here.

May 2—Had a letter from Dad telling me that he bought a TV set for the family. Now I can look forward to seeing some of the baseball games on the set this summer.

May 3—Colonel Sellers announced that Col. Henry Fox of The Kansas City Star will again present wrist watches to top military students here. One of the watches will go to the best company commander, while the other will be a surprise award with details about it to be disclosed at a later date.

May 4—Dad's birthday is on Sunday, so I went downtown and got him a pipe. I sent it off special delivery this afternoon.

May 5—Some of the faculty have blossomed out in summer uniforms. When this happens you know the warm weather is here to stay.

May 6—We had a big air-ground attack problem at the historic Lexington battlefield. The Marine Reserve flyers from Kansas City participated and the zooming planes during the attack added realism to the problem.

May 7—Quite a few visitors flocked to the campus today, many of them being prospective students for next year. I saw at least seven out-of-state cars parked near the Administration Building just before parade time.

May 8—Today we started the last three-weeks grading period. Major Buck, our dean, exhorted us to make our final effort to bring up our grades and to end the year with splendid academic records.

May 9—Captain Carroll has been unusually happy today and I have just discovered the reason. In the mail today he received two tickets for "South Pacific," which is being given in Kansas City this week-end. He says he got the tickets without pulling any strings, but we wonder!

May 10—A Wednesday afternoon, so I decided to relax by swimming in the academy pool. It was so much fun and I realize I should have done this oftener during the year.

May 11—You know that commencement is drawing near, for everyone is discussing his summer plans. Captain Simpson reports that he plans to do quite a bit of fishing in the Ozarks this summer. Already he is inspecting his fishing paraphernalia and preparing for the grand beginn from here at the end of the month.

May 12—Some of the college students are having a rough time meeting term paper deadlines, especially in English and social studies. Fortunately I completed my three papers by May 1.

May 13—Many Rotarians arrived today for the big district meeting which starts tomorrow. Between 200-300 are expected to arrive by tomorrow afternoon. Mrs. Hepler has made reservations in town for most of these men and their wives.

May 14—I made a tour of the Anderson House today after parade. Then I hiked down to The Victory and feasted on a large "T"-bone steak with all the trimmings.

May 15—Captain Whistler, former member of the staff, has returned to Wentworth. It was announced today that he will travel in Kansas in the interests of the school this summer.

May 16—Now that the year is drawing to a close there is very little griping. Most fellows now admit that things might have been tough once or twice, but on the whole it has been a good year and W.M.A. is a grand school.

May 17—I saw Colonel Wikoff puttering around his yard late this afternoon. He says he has been doing that for years and years, and that there is nothing that he enjoys better than working around his home after office hours.

May 18—All companies are now preparing for field day exercises staged in connection with commencement activities. I'll bet my company takes first place in everything.

May 19—Colonel Sellers was out on the tennis courts getting in some effective licks this afternoon. He plays a good game and when you play against him, you must keep on your toes. I know, for I took him on today and he certainly beat me in no-time flat.

May 20—The new students' directory is out and all companies report brisk sales. To Cadets Meissner and Donner goes the credit for publishing the 1949-50 edition.

May 21—Went to the Presbyterian church for the last time today. Next Sunday morning we will have our baccalaureate exercises in the gymnasium.

May 22—Final exams are now in progress. Most of the instructors must have gone out of their way to think up tough questions. The zoology exam this morning was certainly a dilly. I hope that Captain Etter is in a good mood when he grades those papers.

May 23—Two tests today. I spent most of the morning in the library, studying for the examinations which I had this afternoon. I did a little better in today's tests. If I can do as well tomorrow, I should qualify for the semester honor roll.

May 24—Well, most of the heavy academic work is over, so I relaxed tonight by practicing up on my Canasta with John Gover. You see, my girl has fallen for the craze, and she says we will pair up for a little playing this summer.

May 25—Parents started to come into town today for the commencement activities which are now underway. My folks will not arrive here until Saturday evening, but I certainly am eagerly awaiting their arrival.

May 26—I received a copy of my hometown paper and discovered that the editor carried my picture and a story on my graduation. Very nice, very nice indeed.

May 27—Mother and Dad came in this evening and I enjoyed their company for a couple of hours. Then brought down the family chariot and Dad told me that I could do the driving when we start for home on Monday morning.

May 28—A busy day indeed. Loads and loads of visitors. Major Stafford delivered the baccalaureate sermon in the morning. Roe Bartle, president of Missouri Valley College gave the commencement address this evening. Naturally, the graduates are happy. We have our diplomas now and consider them appropriate rewards for our years of scholastic efforts. It certainly made me feel good when Mother told me she was proud to have me in this year's graduating class.

May 29—Well, so long Wentworth. We're leaving today, but we'll be back. Those who are eligible to return will be back in September. The graduates, now alumni, will also return now and then for Homecoming and other major school events. As we leave we take with us cherished friendships, pleasant memories; and we go pledging our deep loyalty to Wentworth, a school worth attending and worth remembering.
