

WENTWORTH MILITARY ACADEMY

ESTABLISHED 1880 — LEXINGTON, MD.

HIGH SCHOOL AND JUNIOR COLLEGE

WENTWORTH'S PURPOSE

It is the purpose of Wentworth Military Academy to provide the best conditions possible for the all 'round development of worthy boys and young men.

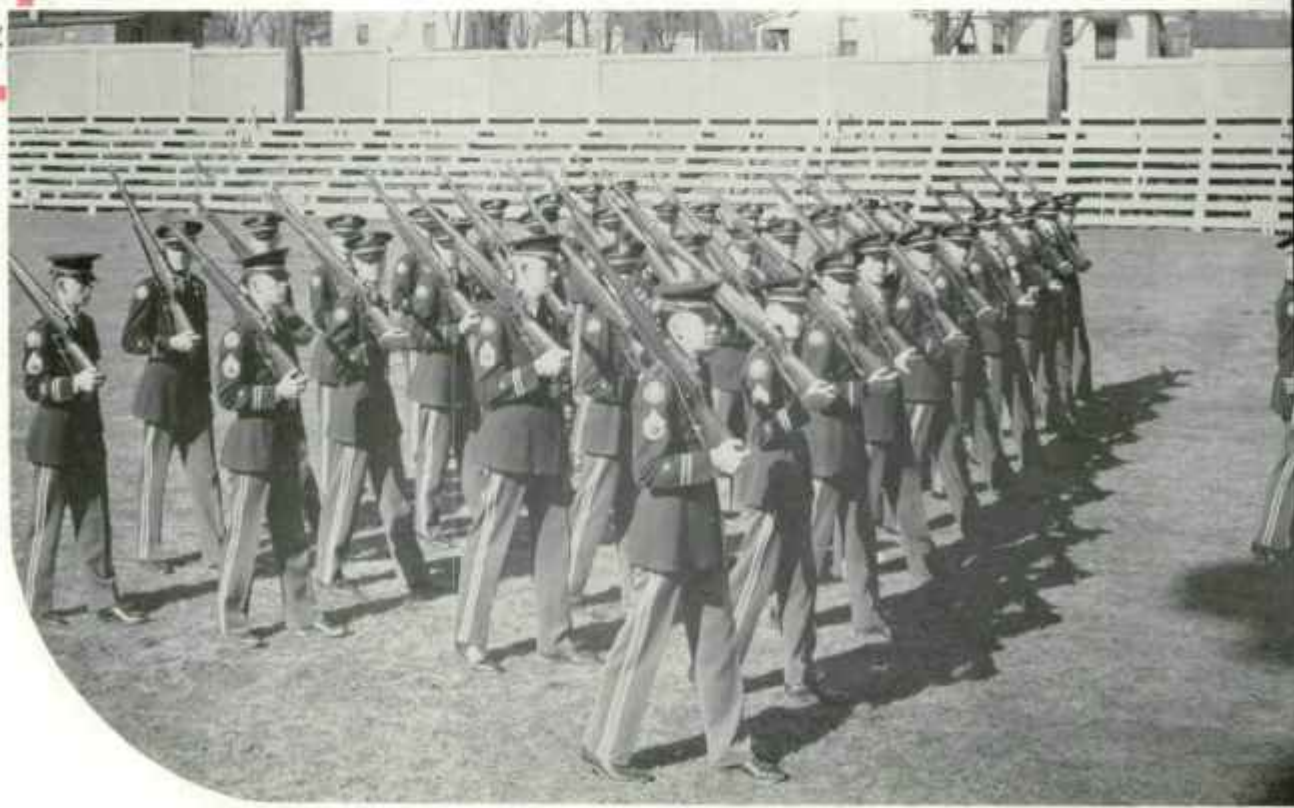

To attain this high purpose, the Academy places greatest emphasis upon these four points:

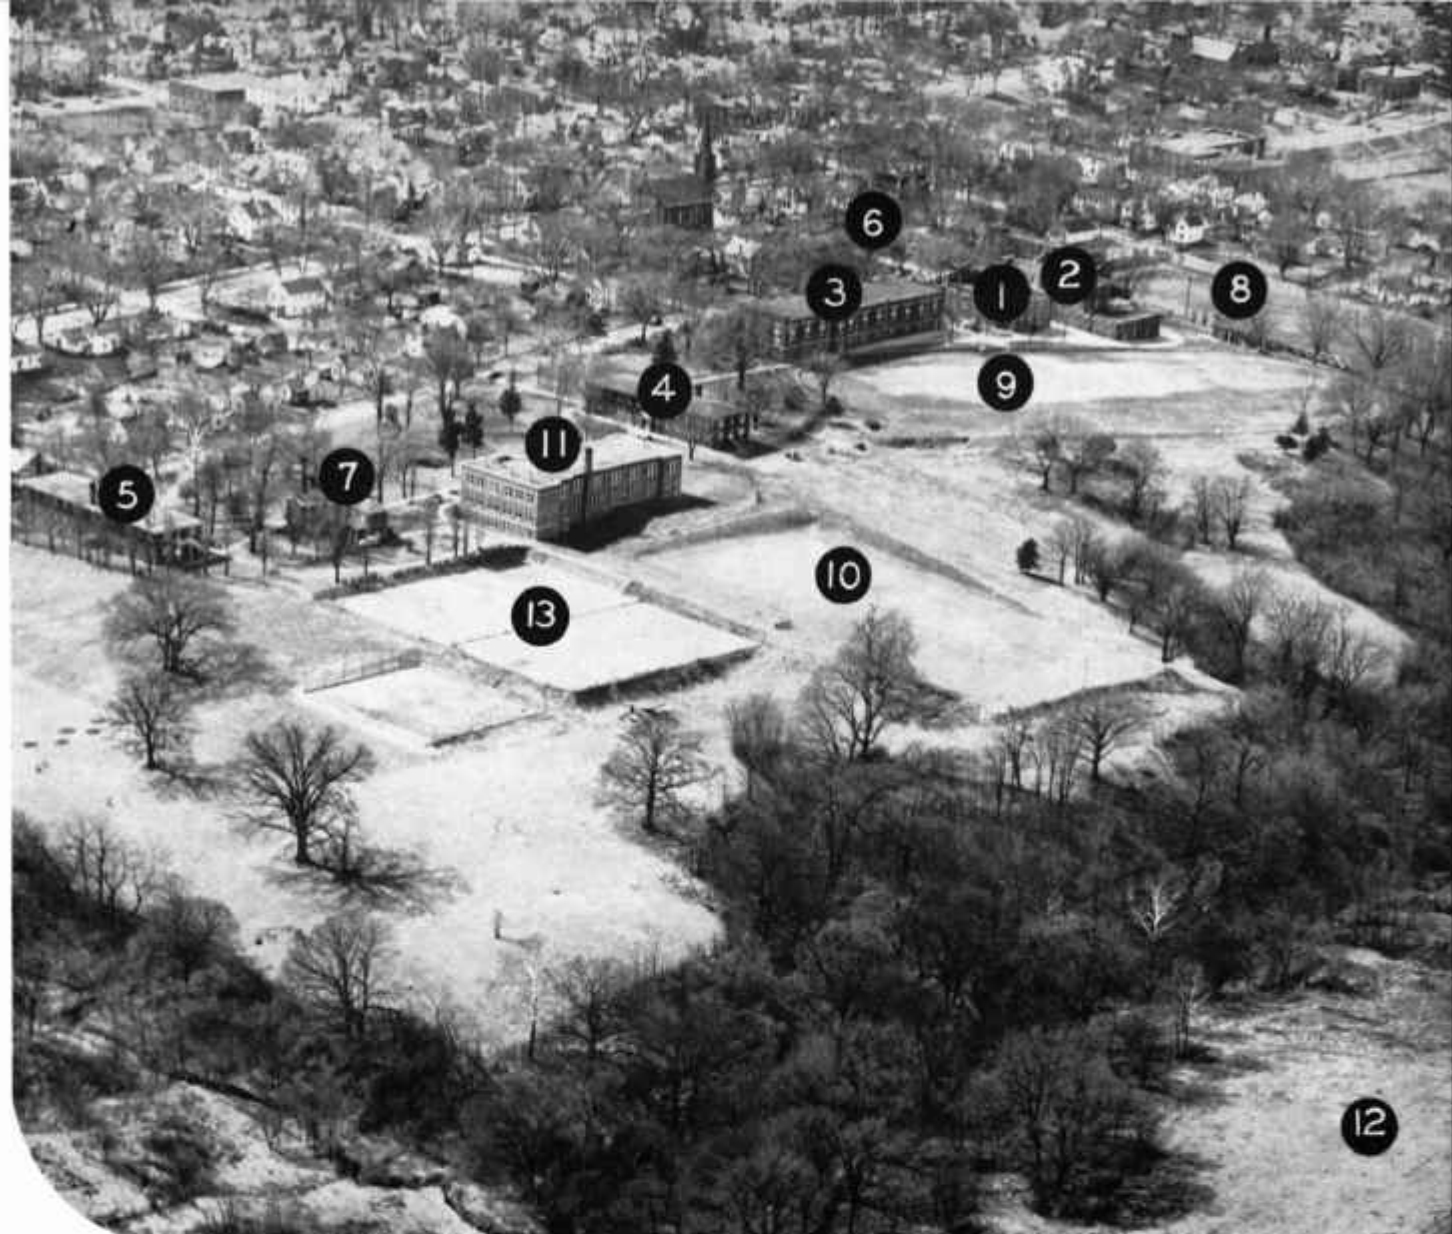

First, it is the Academy's aim to assemble only the highest types of students—deserving youths of good parentage—to assure wholesome associations and greater progress. Every precaution is taken to keep undesirable boys—all those that might prove detrimental to others—out of the Academy.

Second, to employ only men of highest character and ability for its faculty. It is not enough for a Wentworth faculty member to be merely a scholar and a splendid instructor. He must also possess a spirit of friendliness and a sincere desire to give kindly help whenever necessary. He must thoroughly understand the innermost problems of boys—be patient with them—and be ready to serve each boy to the best of his ability.

Third, to provide the very best equipment throughout every department to the end that every boy will have all those things necessary to his health and happiness and that none shall want for anything that will help him to make progress.

Fourth, to provide a program for each day that will best serve the interests of every student.

Wentworth 1912, University of Chicago, A. B. 1917, Phi Beta Kappa 1916; Sigma Xi; Beta Theta Pi; Major U. S. Marine Reserve 1917-1920; Distinguished Service Cross; Navy Cross; Silver Star; Purple Heart; Croix-de-Guerre; Past President of Association of Military Colleges and Schools of the United States; Officer in Grand Lodge and Grand Commanderies of Missouri.

From the beginning the late President Sellers surrounded himself with the ablest faculty available—strong men of proved qualities and Christian character. Under his wise and forward-looking direction, Wentworth has grown steadily. Each year has shown marked improvement over the preceding year. Today Wentworth stands as one of the truly great educational institutions of our country—second to none in the opportunities it offers boys and young men for thorough preparation for professional studies, business and for life.

SINCE EIGHTEEN EIGHTY

One of the chief reasons why Wentworth has been able to achieve its lofty purpose lies in the fact that the Academy has been under one continuous administration since its founding. For nearly three-score years, Colonel Sanford Sellers was president of Wentworth. He enjoyed one of the most enviable records in the history of American education.

The Academy was founded by Stephen G. Wentworth, scion of a distinguished English family and a prominent Lexington banker, in 1880, as a memorial to his deceased son, William Wentworth. Mr. Wentworth immediately vested control of the institution in the hands of a board of trustees composed of a duly elected representative of each of the Evangelical churches of Lexington, and a president. Colonel Sellers was called to the new school in its first year and remained as its active head until 1938. Mr. Wentworth served as president of the Board from 1880 until his death in 1897.

It was the firm conviction of the founder, his board of trustees and President Sellers that a military boarding school provides the most effective possible means for giving young men the thorough mental, moral and physical training necessary to develop in them the highest traits of manhood. Thus, Wentworth became the first military school in the Missouri River Valley.

AN HISTORIC BACKGROUND

Throughout over half a century the Wentworth purpose has remained unchanged. The ideals which led to the Academy's founding and which have carried it steadily forward, shine just as brightly today as ever: the desire to give each youth every opportunity to develop fully his own individual personality; the aim that every cadet shall acquire a keen sense of duty and responsibility, both to himself and toward others; that he shall have the mental and moral power to make accurate judgments between right and wrong and the physical power to stand by his convictions.

These high standards have dominated Wentworth for generations. But to maintain them and assure their full and continuous application, it has been found necessary to limit the enrollment. Wentworth today is a relatively small school—many times larger than in 1880, to be sure, yet small enough that every individual student is given the private attention so essential to his all-round development.

The surrounding country affords a wealth of historically important Civil War sites and the town of Lexington itself retains much of the tradition of the old south. Here enthusiasm for the reminders of our country's glorious past is combined with the enthusiasm for modern adventure to promote the rapid development of the boy's mental, moral and physical resources.

YESTERDAY

and TODAY

The Wentworth Military Academy of today is vastly different from the Wentworth of 1880. From year to year it has enlarged its facilities, increased its enrollment and changed its physical appearance until there is little to remind one of the early days. Numerous modern and attractive buildings have been erected as they were needed. Old buildings have been torn away when they were no longer useful. Spacious military and athletic fields have been added. One of the finest gymnasiums in the country has been built. Every new method in teaching that has been found definitely superior to older methods has been adopted. Yet, some of the fundamental principles that guided the first company are adhered to just as strictly today.

MILITARY DEPARTMENT

MILITARY training at Wentworth has always been a strong feature, but it is never permitted to interfere with the scholastic work of the Academy. It can be shown, moreover, that military discipline has a decidedly advantageous effect upon classroom work.

In recognition of the superior military work done at Wentworth, in 1889 the Academy became a post of the Missouri National Guard. Graduates of the Academy who resided in Missouri, became eligible for commissions in this organization.

Wentworth has been under the direct supervision of the War Department of the United States Government since 1895, when the first active army officer was detailed to the Academy. Now 3 officers, 4 non-commissioned officers and one civilian assistant are in charge of military instruction. In addition, the War Department furnishes around $50,000 worth of equipment to be used for instruction purposes. Wentworth is one of the original Honor Schools of the United States, the highest rating given by the War Department. The Academy has been a unit of the Reserve Officers' Training Corps from the time that organization was established.

* This monument, erected on the campus by the Alumni Association, to the memory of Wentworth cadets who died in the World War No. 1, typifies the loyal spirit of generations of former Wentworth cadets.

* Patriotism is no sham at Wentworth. Every cadet is taught the real meaning of our flag. Each day, with appropriate ceremonies, the Stars and Stripes are raised and lowered on the towering flag pole.

The cadet whose face shows under the curve of the flag is now Ex-Lt. Wm. Bates, who flew a bomber in the European theater of operations; controlling the flag ropes is Kenneth Winters, late of the Navy. The bugler is the former Lieut. Max Condon.

ADMINISTRATION BUILDING

Within Wentworth's Administration Building are handsomely furnished parlors, corridors and reception rooms. Among its furnishings and decorations students and guests alike find many articles of interest and rare beauty. Its comfortable furnishings amid peaceful surroundings afford a homelike atmosphere where the new cadet readily adapts himself to a wholesome, happy experience. Here in an atmosphere of quiet dignity, every student is privileged to entertain his guests or to spend his leisure moments as governed by his daily schedule. None of the comforts of the modern home have been excluded in Wentworth's plan to provide the finest training and quarters available.

About the CAMPUS

★ Marine Hall.

Nature and man have joined forces at Wentworth to produce a campus of outstanding beauty. Magnificent trees, of many varieties, blend in perfect harmony with modern, attractive buildings and spacious grounds. The Academy is located just at the edge of Lexington and covers 52 acres. The front campus extends over four city blocks and is dotted with massive elms and glorious flower banks that provide enchantment and inspiration. The back campus includes athletic and military fields and the new stadium. There are eight thoroughly modern buildings on the campus, each built for the exact purpose it serves. They are of brick and stone construction and are heated by steam and hot water.

THE WENTWORTH COUNTRY CLUB

Located on one of the most beautiful spots overlooking the Missouri River, the Golf Course and Country Club add variety to the many facilities available to the Wentworth students. The nine-hole golf course is most attractive and sporty. The club house, with its catering equipment, is ideal for many informal parties held throughout the year. And in the stable are found horses suitable for the tyro as well as the expert rider.

* Teeing Up

* Two stylish mounts. Every Wentworth student will ride.

* Interior of the Club House—available for many informal gatherings.

* One of the spacious, well lighted and immaculate corridors in the Sellers-Wikoff Scholastic Building.

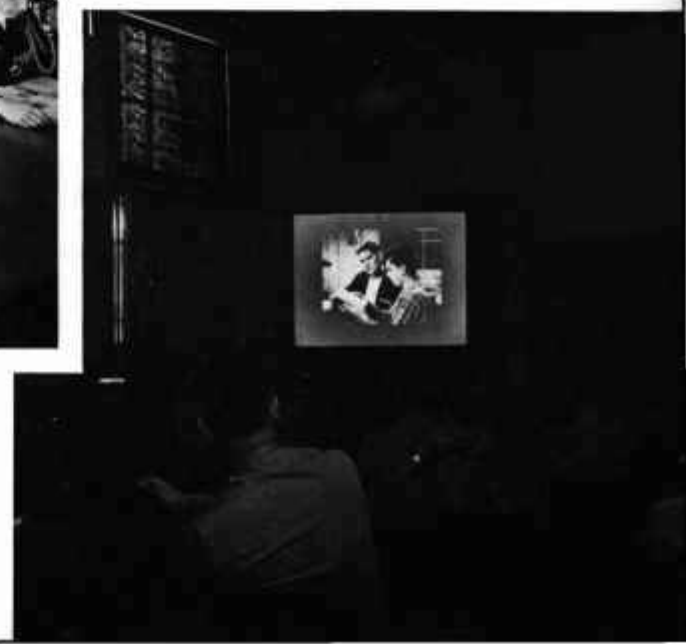

SCHOLASTIC

Wentworth's new $80,000 Sellers-Wikoff Scholastic Building is the nucleus of the scholastic department. This magnificent structure contains one of the most splendid libraries possessed by any institution of this kind. Four completely equipped laboratories provide excellent facilities for the practical study of the sciences. In addition to classrooms for all classes, it houses the Dean's and Commandant's offices. It is with justifiable pride that Wentworth points to this new achievement in its effort to provide surroundings which are conducive to academic advancement.

* The attractive library contains thousands of volumes, providing every necessary supplement to the student's texts and manuals.

* Visual Aids are being used to a great extent to supplement lectures by instructors. The Academy has the best equipment available and has established a liberal budget for rental of motion pictures for class work.

★ Sellers-Wikoff Scholastic Building.

★ Geology is a science of particular interest to boys of the Midwest.

DEPARTMENT

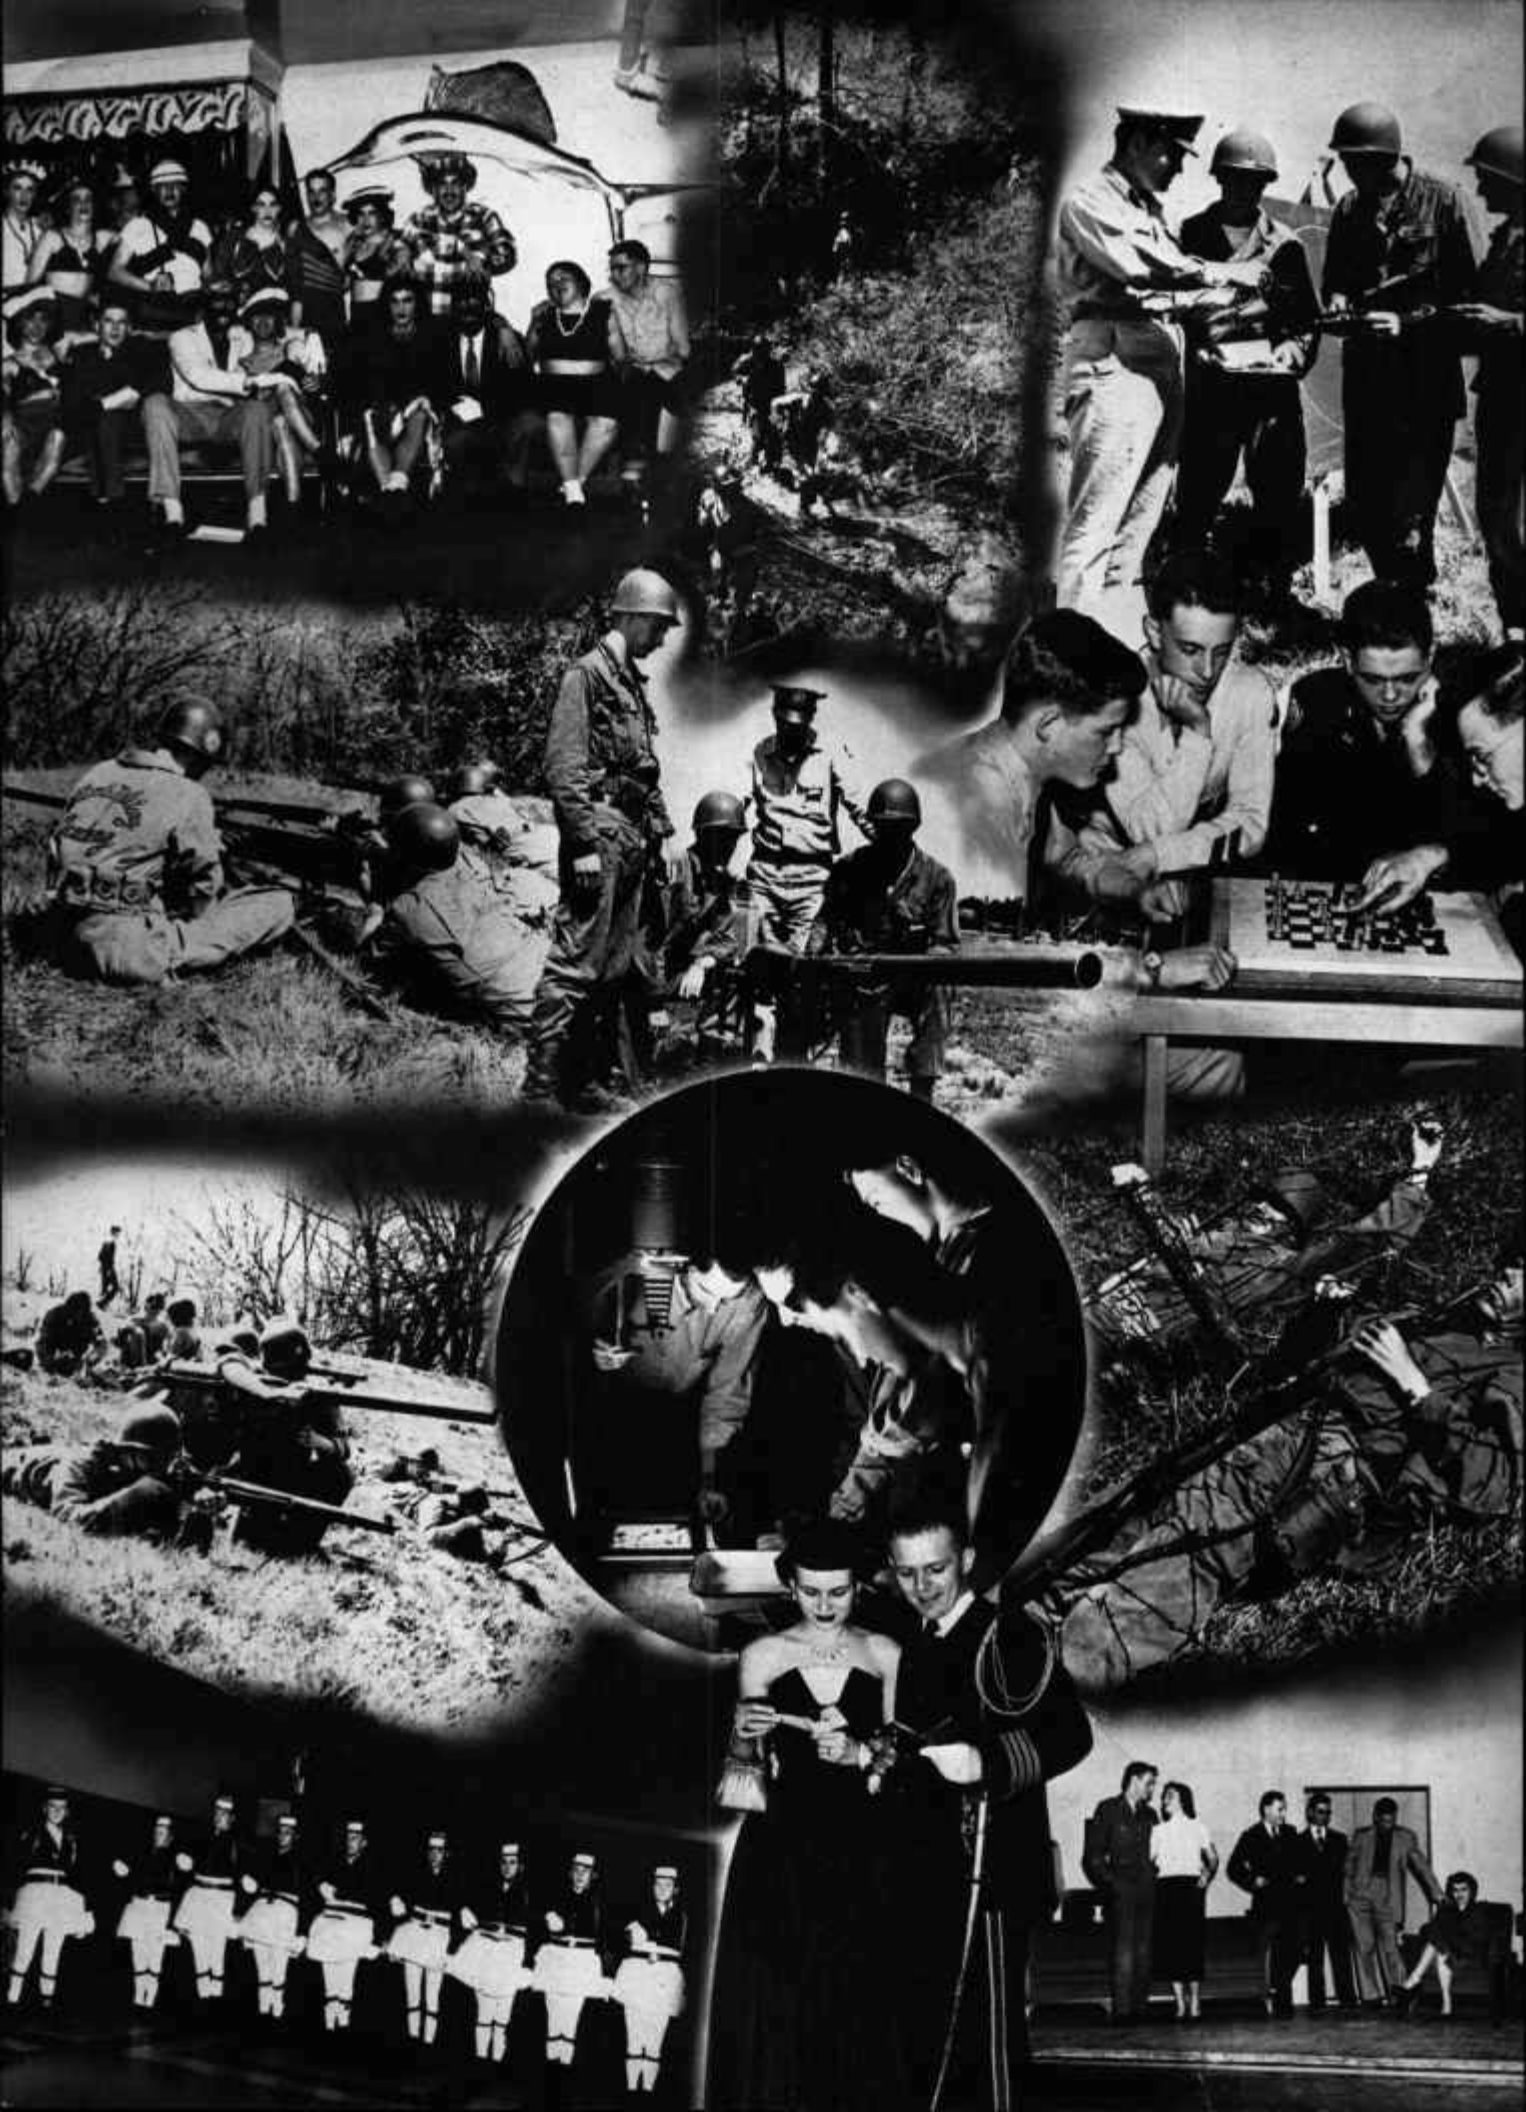

The scholastic department is divided into two separate and distinct units: the high school, which offers four years of preparatory work, and the junior college, which offers two years of liberal arts and science. Each has its own organization separate from the other. Both divisions are fully accredited by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, an organization composed of the leading colleges and preparatory schools in twenty states. This recognition means that graduates of either department are eligible to enter any institution in the United States that receives students by certification.

It is our aim to see that each cadet masters every lesson thoroughly. To accomplish this, every student is taught correct study methods and thoroughly schooled in correct uses of libraries and laboratories. Classes are small, averaging from 8 to 15 students, which permits individual attention. Most of the faculty members live in the buildings with students. They are readily accessible for special help. From time to time a personal study is made of each cadet to determine his points of weakness and help him overcome them.

★ The laboratory for elementary classes in chemistry provides many costly instruments not provided for in many schools but which Wentworth believes are important to the proper study of chemistry.

★ The laboratory for the advanced chemistry classes is even more completely equipped.

A RECENT AVIATION FLIGHT TRAINING GROUP

AVIATION

Wentworth participated in the Civil Aeronautics Administration Civilian Pilot Training Program from its inception in 1939 through the change to C. A. A. War Training Service until June, 1943, when all but 80 out of 712 colleges and universities throughout the country were eliminated due to curtailment of this type of training. However, the academy administration, believing aviation training to be very important now and in the future to the youth of the nation, secured permission from C. A. A. officials to continue flight training on a civilian basis and at the expense of the trainee.

Wentworth operates in conjunction with the Lexington Airport as a certified flying school fully approved by the C.A.A. The flight training program including ground school, far surpasses the minimum requirements set forth by the civil aeronautics administration. It consists of instruction in both dual and solo flight time and ground school courses in navigation, meteorology, civil air regulations, and operation of aircraft.

The records of the graduates of the Wentworth Flight Training are outstanding. During the war the graduates of this training program fought in every front where Americans were in combat.

A DAY

AT WENTWORTH

NO TWO days at Wentworth are quite the same, for a widely varied program of scholastic, military, athletic and other activities is used to keep the interest of the cadets at high pitch and their appetites for learning well whetted. Furthermore, no two students have quite the same duties to perform throughout any given day. There is, however, a definite routine that all cadets follow each day. It is used to instill perfect regularity and promptness in attendance upon all duties prescribed for one and all cadets alike.

While it requires some adjustments for new students to become accustomed to this routine, any slight hint of monotony is soon lost in the kaleidoscopic whirl of the school year.

To give parents and others a better insight, the following pages have been used to set forth, pictorially, the day's activities from Reveille to Taps, of a typical Wentworth boy whom we will designate as Cadet Harlan.

The pictures in this section were taken fifteen years ago. However, since they illustrate life at Wentworth of today, they are still timely. They are retained because so many of the cadets shown served in the Armed Forces of their country and so well illustrate the value of military training as received while at Wentworth.

Since the importance of military preparedness is becoming increasingly evident by the changing world situation, the training illustrated in this picture section has a special significance.

There have been some uniform changes as may be seen by referring to the section on Wentworth uniforms.

★ Harlan—a typical Wentworth cadet.

HERE is Harlan, a typical Wentworth cadet—a fine young American—manly, scholarly and upright. His respect for duty and responsibility has won for him the rank of sergeant. He may have come from a large city or a very small town—that makes no difference to the democratic spirit that prevails at Wentworth. He may be from a wealthy family or a family in meager circumstances—most of his classmates would never know, nor even be curious, unless he chose to tell them. But he typifies all the fine qualities of a deserving and ambitious youth as he goes through the tried and age-proved Wentworth process of becoming a real man, a real asset to himself, his family and friends, and society as a whole.

Harlan, like all the others, participates in many activities besides those shown. But let's follow him through a typical day.

★ ★ ★

Harlan "Butch" Haffelfinger, who graduated in the class of 1937 and posed as the model cadet in the view book, served as a Major in the last war.

His brother, Hugo, another Wentworth alumnus, also a Major, and served with distinction with the Rangers.

Artie Haffelfinger served with the Navy Air Corps as an Ensign.

* Harlan's first duty is a thorough, refreshing wash before breakfast.

"CAN'T GET 'EM UP," blows the bugler, but he does, and at 6:35 o'clock another day is under way. Cadet Harlan goes first to the sanitary lavatory on his floor. A good washup is part of the routine, for a cadet is expected to keep himself clean at all times. At 6:50 he goes to a well-prepared breakfast.

After breakfast, rooms must be cleaned. One of the basic aims of our system is to form personal habits of order. Each morning Harlan makes his own bed, puts his clothes in order and helps his roommate clean the room.

* Harlan makes up his own bed.

Strict inspection of quarters is a daily routine. Formal inspection of Harlan's person, room and equipment occurs on Sunday morning. At this time unusual care must be taken in cleaning the room. Our friend sees that hidden corners are carefully dusted, chairs polished, and everything put in order. Then he takes care of his person. There's brass to shine, leather to polish, hair to brush, and whiskers to be removed. A certain time is allotted for this preparation and all work must be done within that time. This young fellow knows that any deficiency in this work receives what is known in Academy language as a "skin"—which counts against one's company in color competition.

* Harlan is ready for the inspector — brass gleaming, shoes shined—room as clean as the proverbial "hound's tooth."

* Here Harlan delves into things scientific. Modern equipment is provided for all laboratory work.

AT 8 O'CLOCK in the morning, classes convene. Harlan makes his way to a small class on his schedule where personal attention is his at any time it is needed. Our cadet is carefully instructed in the handling of delicate scientific equipment. He is not forced to grope blindly for information. That which is true of the science laboratories is equally true in all other classrooms.

Time passes rapidly in the classroom or laboratory because the work is interesting. The scholastic day is divided into two equal parts, with four classes in the morning and two in the afternoon.

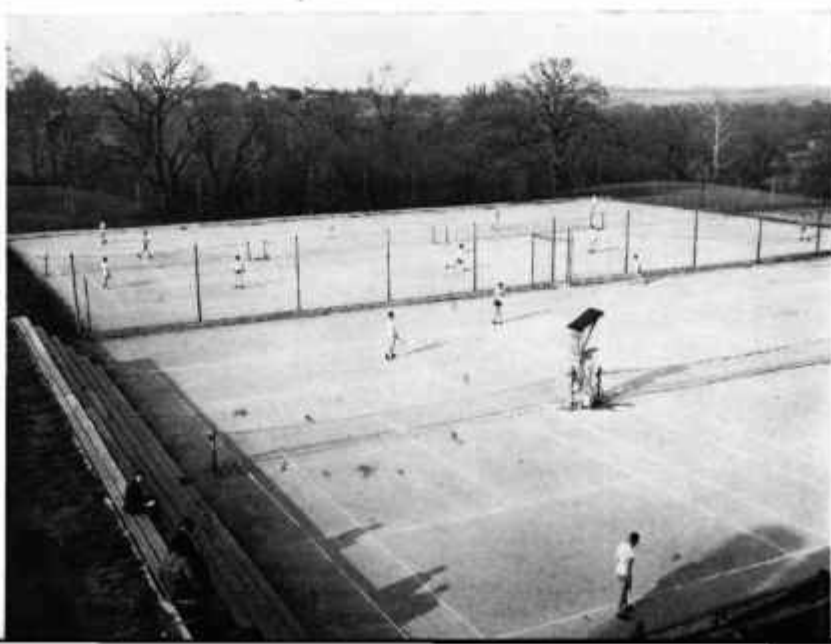

* Our Cadet goes through a course of calisthenics to promote grace and health.

All the cadets shown in the picture were in the Armed Service.

CALISTHENICS play an important role in the physical education of Cadet Harlan. No effort is made to indulge in this or any other exercise in the early morning hours when the body is at its lowest ebb. All such exercises are taken by our cadet after a hearty breakfast and morning classes. The exercises are intended to promote graceful movement as well as better health. The calisthenics used by the United States Army are followed. They are led by senior cadet officers.

So long as the weather permits, the calisthenics are held in the open, but they are taken in the large gymnasium, where an entire battalion may take part at the same time, when rain or cold is in the air.

* The ten excellent tennis courts are always popular.

* Cadet Harlan reports to the Professor of Military Science and Tactics for drill duty.

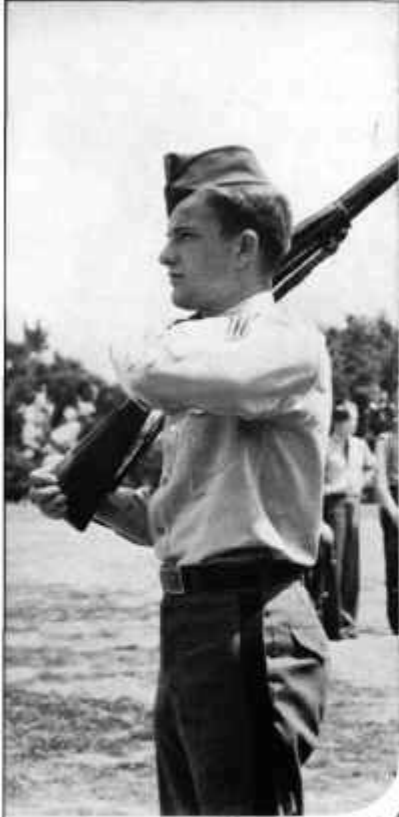

Cadet Lieutenant Jack Ramsdell commanding the platoon shown in these two views, participated as an officer in the landing on North Africa. He was decorated with the Silver Star for heroism in action and Purple Heart.

DRILL is a very formal affair. It is on the drill field that Harlan learns much of courtesy, discipline and alertness. He, with his entire battalion, is thoroughly schooled in good citizenship; taught the proper respect for superiors and trained in leadership.

Learning to drill a squad is the first training in leadership. Throughout the year squad drill and competition is a part of the regular military routine. The squad is the smallest military unit and consists of nine to twelve men, two of whom are sergeants. All instruction is conducted by cadets under the personal supervision of members of the military faculty.

Although military work takes but one hour each day, the training is intensive and much more thorough than that found in larger units. Personal attention is given the individual cadet on the military field as well as in the classroom, and each cadet has an equal chance to advance to important positions in Wentworth's military realm. In the army, the navy and the marine corps Wentworth is glorified by its alumni who have received their commissions and are distinguishing themselves in official capacities of these respective branches of service.

Like many other cadets, Harlan finds the extended order drill more interesting. This drill consists of combat methods. He is taught to make use of cover, to advance and to fire. No actual firing is done during this drill, however, for all the ammunition used is dummy material. Initiative and leadership are required in this work. Situations arising in the problems furnished by the War Department call for quick thinking and immediate action.

Here our typical cadet finds extended order drill interesting and instructive.

The Cadet Officer using the field glasses was Captain Woodrow Wylie, U. S. Army, who participated in the fight on Bataan.

The cadet about to insert the cartridge in his rifle is Lieut. Colonel Milton Moran, U. S. Marine Air Corps. He has participated in considerable action in the South Pacific.

★ Eating — an always-popular "sport" with Harlan and his fellow cadets! Meal time is always a time for good food and good fellowship.

The Faculty Officer at the head of the table is now an aviation instructor on the West coast. Five of the cadets facing the camera were officers in the United States Army. Two of them were fliers.

FOLLOWING the morning classes comes lunch time and our cadet is ready to eat. Academy menus are always varied and pleasing. Meals are carefully planned to suit the needs of all cadets. They are healthful and nutritious and just what active, hard-working boys require. Meal times are at 7:00 in the morning, 12:10 and 6:10. This schedule is varied only on Sunday, when dinner becomes a more elaborate meal served at 12:30.

After dinner there is a recreation period during which Harlan and other cadets may do pretty much as they choose. The recreation room is a popular place at this time.

* Maybe Harlan is "behind the 8-ball" here! Like all other cadets he takes part in zestful competition in the recreation room.

* The television set in the recreation room enables cadets to enjoy their favorite programs.

THE recreation room proves a haven of rest, relaxation and zestful indoor competition. Pool, billiard and ping-pong tables are provided. A few try their hand at bridge, while others read, or relax in comfortable chairs.

* (Right) Our friend attends a chapel period, held twice each week.

* (Below) "We must get in there and fight!" says Harlan as he makes a short "pep" talk on the eve of a game.

CADET HARLAN attends interesting, informative and inspirational meetings in the chapel, immediately before lunch on Wednesdays and Saturdays. These meetings are conducted by the Academy Chaplain, but are not strictly religious. Travel talks, health lectures, scientific demonstrations and short sermons, presented by outstanding speakers, are frequently on the program. The service is opened with a hymn, prayer and responsive readings, and closed with the singing of "Wentworth," the Academy song.

"Pep" meetings, preceding important athletic contests, are also held in the chapel. These are always occasions of great fun. Students and faculty make rousing speeches. The cadet band furnishes gay, martial music and everyone anticipates the big game on the morrow. Athletic contests are important recreational events. Every cadet attends them.

* While a majority of the faculty members live in the barracks with cadets, some live in residences such as this on the campus.

* Our Cadet receives personal attention from a faculty member in the library.

In this picture, the Tactical Officer, James Simmons, graduate of Wentworth, is now a Lieut. Col. in the United States Army. He participated in the capture of Attu and Kwelelain.

Next to him, Lieutenant Orman, paratrooper, who took part in the Sicilian campaign and the capture of Naples. On the right, Captain James L. Gist, Army Aviator.

PERSONAL attention is not confined to the classroom nor to the evening study periods. Harlan and many other cadets seek assistance in the spacious Academy library. The faculty officer in charge is always ready and willing to help any student, no matter what his problem. Whatever the subject, the faculty officer is qualified to give the guidance needed.

Wentworth's library is one of the most important places on the campus. It contains more than 8,000 books on nearly every subject one could imagine. Reference books include the famous Oxford English Dictionary and many sets of encyclopedias.

* All shined up for Sunday inspection.

* Harlan plays football—and mighty well, too! No wonder! His uncle was an All-American at Yale.

* In winter months our boy turns his attention to basketball and other indoor sports.

TRAINING for leadership is important on the football field as well as everywhere else at Wentworth. More than fifty cadets answer the varsity call each year and large squads turn out for company teams. All players receive intensive training, both in the art of the game and in clean sportsmanship.

Football ranks as the number one sport, and the Red Dragon elevens are consistent winners. The fine spirit of players and corps is credited with being a strong determining factor in every contest.

In the winter months basketball comes into the spotlight. Again there are the varsity and company teams and a place for every cadet who desires to play. Home games are played in the spacious gymnasium where there are two courts and ample space for spectators.

Wentworth is a member of the Junior College Interstate conference, an athletic association numbering six schools as members. The Wentworth High School teams are members of the Pony Express Conference of Western Missouri. Almost every major and minor sports are on the Wentworth program—all played under competent coaches—and every cadet is required to participate.

*The gymnasium is 220 x 55 feet. It contains two regular basket ball courts, a large stage, a swimming pool 20 x 60 feet, locker rooms, showers and gymnastic equipment.

* Here our man-in-the-making is ready for his daily plunge in the pool.

THE sparkling, crystal-clear water of the swimming pool is inviting to cadets the year 'round. The pool is of regulation size (20x60) and is the scene of frequent water sports and aquatic meets. It is the purpose to teach every cadet to swim well. The water is warmed to a healthful temperature and kept pure by efficient filtration and chemical treatment.

* (Above) Hi-dee-ho! Harlan and his friends tune in a radio program during the recreation period immediately following the evening meal.

* The orchestra provides musical diversion both for members of the group and the corps.

* (Below) Perfect study conditions prevail in Harlan's room. (Note the latest type of reading lamp.)

Just before the evening study period is the favorite tune-in time for Cadet Harlan and other radio devotees. Permission to have a radio in the room is regarded a privilege, the abuse of which causes the student to lose this favor.

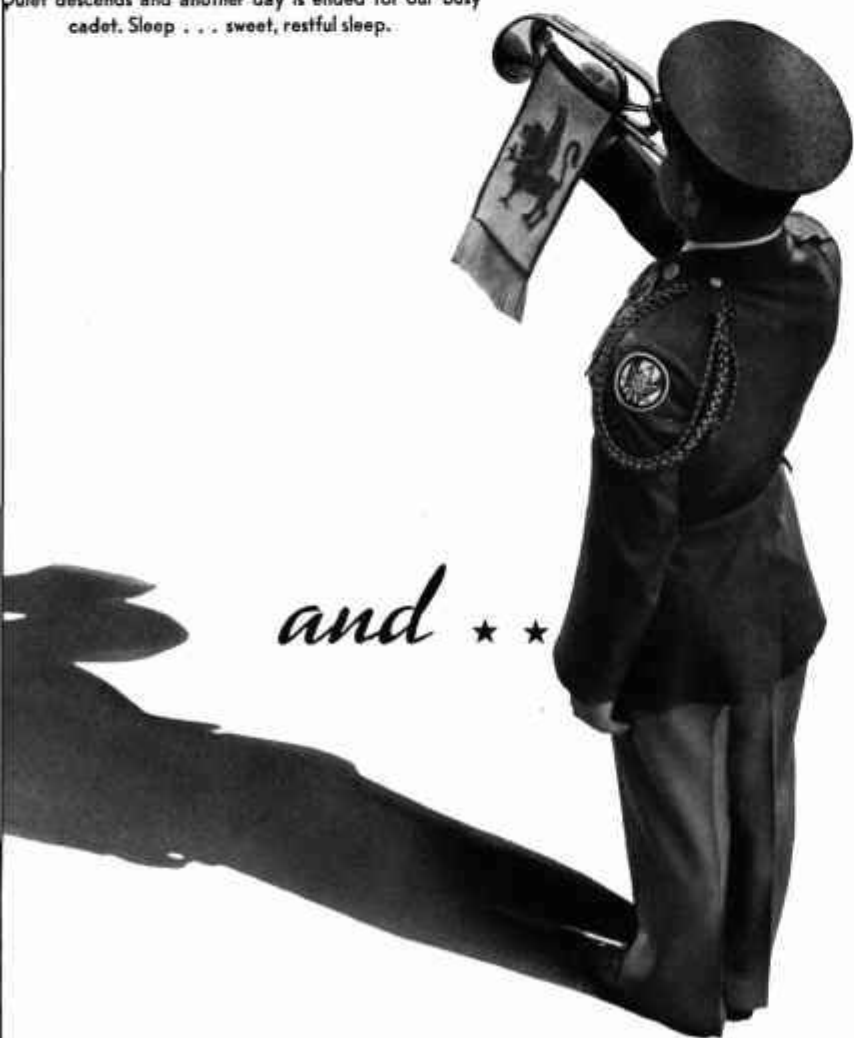

After thirty-five minutes of recreation following the supper hour, evening study is begun at 7 o'clock. Each cadet retires to his own room for a two-hour period of quiet. There is no stuffy, noisy hall in which cadets are confined. Instead, individual initiative is encouraged. Faculty officers are in constant attendance throughout the period, giving advice where it is needed and encouragement at all times.

Quiet descends and another day is ended for our busy cadet. Sleep . . . sweet, restful sleep.

TAPS, at which time all lights must be turned out and all cadets remain quiet, is sounded at 10 o'clock. The soft notes of the bugle call to close the activities of an eventful day and the peace of slumber envelops healthy young bodies until another dawn.

* Mixed parties are regular Saturday night features.

* The Fountain adjoining the Recreation Room is popular during dance intermission.

All five of the cadets in this picture were Army officers, and three of the young ladies are now wives of former cadets, now officers on active duty.

* Off for a canter at the Country Club.

A well organized program of instruction in social usage is a required course for all students, and advanced classes are available for those who desire them.

Ease of manner in any situation thus becomes natural to a Wentworth Cadet. Many occasions such as these pictured here afford ample opportunity for the Cadets to practice their social graces.

WENTWORTH UNIFORMS

The Wentworth uniforms are made of the finest materials. Beautifully fitted, they are suitable for every occasion, and they include every item a cadet may need.

* The cadet full dress—the officer full dress and the cadet full dress with overcoat.

* Fatigue with and without Combat Jacket the athletic uniform.

Officer and cadet in the semi-dress

* The coveralls field uniform—cadet full dress and raincoat—the cadet fatigue uniform with battle jacket.

The purpose of this book has been to give you an accurate, but necessarily inadequate glimpse of the Wentworth Military Academy and cadet life. In order fully to appreciate the Academy, it will be necessary for you to visit the campus in person, see the beautiful grounds and buildings and meet members of the faculty. The Administration offices are open the year 'round and your visit will be welcomed at any time.

SUMMER SCHOOL—A military summer school and camp of 8 weeks duration begins in early June. Activities are divided equally between scholastic work and recreation. Instruction is on a tutorial basis and nearly any subject may be taken.

MEMORIES OF 1952-53

September 7—The new boys started arriving today. A warm Missouri sun is beaming down on these cadets, who are in for one of their busiest years ever.

September 8—The remainder of the new boys arrived today and several old boys came too, to help the new cadets get settled.

September 9—The first day of drill. You should have seen the drill field. The poor new boys, who now have blisters, will look back on this day with much amusement later.

September 10—Old boys started pouring in, registering for classes, and fixing up rooms with a homey touch.

September 11—The first issue of The Trumpeter came out today. We signed up for fall athletics in the afternoon, and in the evening we had a football show, introducing players and coaches to the corps.

September 12—This was our first day of classes. It is not enjoyable to start back to school again, but after all that's what we're here for.

September 13—Old boys started trying out for rank today, with the two hour drill period.

September 14—Boy, it really was hot today, but Wentworth held a parade, as usual.

September 15—Classes, activity period, athletics, and study. This is the pattern set for the year, which we carried out to the letter today.

September 16—The hot weather continues, but it cools off at night, so I guess we can't complain too much.

September 17—Today is processing day. A complete physical examination of all cadets is made, requiring the whole day.

September 18—I went to the country club to shoot a bit of golf. My shots were not too good. Guess I'm not used to these sand greens.

September 19—My first permit of the season, and I went to a drug store for a big, rich, banana split. Umm, it was good at the time, but not later.

September 20—Only an hour of drill today because a heavy down-pour drenched the drill field.

September 21—I went to the movie with my roommate, and found to my surprise, that the price has gone up. I guess I'll go to fewer movies this year.

September 22—Today I tried out for platoon leader. Every third year cadet is required to try out for platoon leader, and first sergeant. I hope I get some kind of rank this year.

September 23—Lab. in physics today was accompanied by many laughs, because of a certain part of the experiment. I enjoy this class so much. It is a real riot.

September 24—Well, today I'm first sergeant. I'll bet that platoon was glad to get rid of me (and likewise, I'm sure).

September 25—Late breakfast, except for the new boys who were up shining shoes and brass. I'll bet they don't get up that early later in the year.

September 26—Today I am trying out for battalion sergeant major. My head is really spinning. Just when I get used to trying out for one thing, they switch jobs on me. But this is a terrific job, best yet, and I hope I get it.

September 27—Being from Colorado, I was quite proud of a 21-21 football score between Colorado U. and Oklahoma. I collected quite a few bets from fellows from Oklahoma.

September 28—Today was one of the hottest days of the year. The thermometer registered 94 degrees, and in the last of September!

September 29—A monstrous Latin assignment today. But I did amazingly well.

September 30—I went to Kansas City to see "Ivanhoe," a magnificent show. It was wonderful to get to the city for a change, too.

October 1—The first day of October brought no change in the ordinary routine, except for a nice, heavy rain in the afternoon, but it was long awaited for, and well received.

October 2—A letter from home brought good news, but no money. Dad and Mother said that they were going to come for the annual Dad's Day event in a few weeks.

October 3—Physics, that demon course proved interesting for a change, as we had an experiment. The night was spent in the stadium seeing the High School absorb a 26-13 beating at the hands of Lafayette High of St. Joe.

October 4—Maj. Stafford gave an inspiring address at his chapel service. Later, it was on to two and one-half hours of drill. The new boys are improving very rapidly with their drill, and I think we are much more ahead of last year's cadet corps.

October 5—Ouch, the weather finally turned cold. The clouds blew in, and Mother Nature is really brewing up something special, I can see.

October 6—Autumn is still on the rampage, and so am I. For the first time this year, I am in Study Hall. I must admit it saves money, but I like permits too.

October 7—The Episcopal Church was host to a number of cadets at a dinner at the Victory Cafe tonight.

October 8—Dr. Purdum was the guest speaker at the assembly today. He is here all week for conferences with cadets as well as teachers. Guess I'll see him on Friday.

October 9—Had a round of golf at the Country Club today, and I only lost three balls (on four holes).

October 10—Maur Hill came here to defeat the Jr. Dragons tonight at the stadium, although we really out-played them.

October 11—Today I tried out for Company Personnel NCO in the hectic race for rank. Those files are really hard to keep up, and I don't envy the five cadets who will eventually have the job.

October 12—Today was picture day in my book. The wonderful weather prompted me to take some color shots of friends and the campus. If they turn out, they will be the only decent pictures I have of Wentworth.

October 13—A STOP DAY, those wonderful words were announced by Col. Wikoff at the noon meal. The movies sounded good, but I decided to watch TV in the Recreation Room; so instead of getting any rest; my eyes got that TV bulge.

October 14—An hour's extra sleep and no preparation for classes today, made a night of complete rest. 'Tis wonderful—these stop days.

October 15—A visit to Barb Keeny, the school barber, as he is called; and I got caught up on all my comic and magazine reading.

October 16—Basic II proved interesting today. We discussed something that was not in the text book.

October 17—Well, the high school team is getting better. They only lost by 27 points tonite. I traveled to St. Joe for the game, which was the homecoming for Central. The host school had a real neat dance after the game.

October 18—This is Dad's Day, and WMA is crowded with fathers, and even a few mothers. The banquet was held with a record crowd in the gym, and Mr. Richard Myer, of kitchen fame, had a good meal prepared. But the college football team could not make it a perfect evening. The Red Dragons lost 32-7 to Graceland, as the lowans really had it "on the ball."

October 19—Parade was held thirty minutes later today. I traveled over to Excelsior Springs for dinner, and barely made it back for parade. Had a real good time that afternoon with my folks, and saw them for the last time 'till Xmas. (Oh, I hope it comes fast.)

October 20—Ugh, back to class work! Only three tests today too! Looks like I'll be back in study hall again.

October 21—Another crack at the game of golf today. I really am improving, as they say you will. Maybe some day I can go out and not lose a single ball!

October 22—Well, look who's here again—POST! But, one encouraging thought that I'm officer of the day, and it may be a sign of my future rank. (I hope.)

October 23—Same old story, and no love or glory.

October 24—Here we go again—WMA JC O, and Principia 14. Oh, well, they always say the Kemper game is the big one.

October 25—Today at drill I caught up on my strength-sheet files, and snooped around for some Special Orders, which I did not find. Maybe they aren't going to "make" anyone this year.

October 26—A permit as usual on Sunday. So I went to the show. It was a stinker, so I left early.

October 27—A note on the weather—dry and humid—boy, I wonder about this Missouri weather sometimes. But it seems to be abnormal in all states this time of year.

October 28—It happened! Officers' orders came out today, and I just made it. WOW, and were there a lot of officers! It seems as though we will have to salute everyone now.

October 29—Same old routine.

October 30—Tests in all classes, and no joy.

October 31—WENTWORTH 19; KEMPER HI 6—a happy corps as we watched the Junior Dragons beat the Yellowjackets. There was joy in the Wentworth camp tonight.

November 1—Came back in the wee hours this morning after going to an open house and dance at Cottey College with forty other cadets last night. Some cute chicks at the Nevada, Mo., school.

November 2—Captain Johnson reports that this year's band consists of 54 cadet musicians representing twelve states and a foreign country.

November 3—Interest in dancing classes picked up considerably when Mrs. Beth Hepler, our charming hostess, explained that a number of Lexington girls had volunteered to act as partners during the practice sessions.

November 4—My roommate's sister dropped down for the weekend. I made a big play for her and I believe that I made a hit.

November 5—The Honor Guard is functioning again. Cadt Capt. Francis Pearson is commander of the group, and Cadet 2nd Lt. Clarence F. Watts is second in command.

November 6—The Methodist church is very well represented here, leading all other denominations, according to Major Brown.

November 7—The call of the wild was sent out by Capt. Spence McClain, who is forming an Indian group. He got a good response, including six lads from my company.

November 8—I had two free periods, so I spent them in reading Hemmingway's "The Old Man and the Sea," a book that I have decided to report on in my English class. Wish I could have a hamburger and malt before going to bed—oh well, I'll eat a hearty breakfast.

November 9—Another Special Order and 32 cadets get promotions. Oh, happy day!

November 10—The first six weeks Honor Roll was published, and yours truly made the special distinction list. Must get my brain from Dad.

November 11—Ninety-eight cadets are playing company football this year, with Company A as the defending champion. I'll bet a bottle of soda pop that the Hilltoppers win again.

November 12—I am one of the 30 cadets attending the 1952-53 Kansas City Philharmonic concerts this season. Mom sure was surprised but tickled pink.

November 13—A letter from Darlene today, asking why I had not written lately. If she only realized that instructors here see to it that we do not get too much free time.

November 14—Instead of writing, I called Darlene. She told me that all is forgiven, but I must be a better correspondent from now on.

November 15—Homecoming Day with gobs of grads here. OMA broke a five-year jinx by hitting the win column and smashing the Red Dragons, 19-7.

November 16—Tactical Officer Jim Tabb is one of three Missouri national guardsmen named as a candidate to West Point. Congratulations, Jim. I know you'll pass the competitive entrance exams.

November 17—A new instructor, Capt. Hayward Wood, joined the staff as a political science instructor. He seems to be a pretty good Joe.

November 18—Already cadets are making plans for the Christmas vacation that starts on December 19. Just a month and a day to go!

November 19—The advance dope is that this year's educational tour will be made to Mexico. Wonder if I can talk Dad into letting me go!

November 20—Three tests given by three meanies. Well, I guess that is one way they can determine what grade a fellow deserves.

November 21—The Cavaliers are well organized now, and they are getting in some good practice sessions in anticipation of the many engagements they will fill between now and June 1.

November 22—The entire corps is looking forward to the visit to Boonville on Thanksgiving Day to back up the team in its grid battle with Kemper.

November 23—I have just learned that four important people are Honorary Colonels in the Wentworth corps. They are Mary McCormick, Joe Reichman, Hon. James P. Kem, and Hon. Forrest Smith.

November 24—Mrs. Hepler started to make plans and train reservations for boys going home at Christmas. Another month, then Christmas eve and Santa Claus!

November 25—Picked up a few demerits by having the radio and light on while out of my room.

November 26—Sprucing up for the big jaunt to Boonville tomorrow. The battle cry—"Beat Kemper!"

November 27—A cold, cold day for a football game. We went to Boonville as per schedule. The courageous Red Dragons fought the Kemper squad to a 7-7 deadlock.

November 28—Paul Cavaliere sure receives all sorts of attention and compliments. The tiniest cadet in the corps, the girls think he is cute.

November 29—The folks wrote to say that they will be down next week. Something pleasant to look forward to.

November 30—Mrs. Hepler has offered to teach me to play bridge. Terry and Stalker want to learn too, so that will give us a nice foursome.

December 1—Four months of this term have gone by, and today we start on No. 5, something that is hard to believe.

December 2—Yehudi, Company D's Ace Window Peeper, reports that Captain Madden spends a lot of his free time helping the office girls. Could be that he just drops by to chat with Linda Lou?

December 3—The PR office is taking beauty queen entries for the Military Ball in February. Gee, do you think that Darlene has a chance?

December 4—Forty lucky cadets made the Honor Society, an honor that pays off with an extra furlough.

December 5—The band went to Sedalia today to participate in a Christmas parade sponsored by that city's Junior Chamber of Commerce.

December 6—Two members of the Wentworth faculty, Captains Ben Johnson and Leroy Carroll, served as chairmen of sectional meetings at Junior College Day on the University of Missouri campus today.

December 7—The 1952-53 version of this year book took first place honors at the annual meeting of District VIII, American College Public Relations Association at Kansas City, Kans.

December 8—Well, the Christmas decorations are going up. Bill Braun and his crew started to decorate the front of the Administration Bldg. this morning. Looks nice, Bill!

December 9—The college Dragons overwhelmed Highland, Kans., J. C., 74-51 in roundball play here this evening.

December 10—I treated myself to a T-bone steak this evening, my monthly splurge, you know.

December 11—Clarence (Mel) Fisher, center on this year's college football team, has been elected captain of next year's squad. The prep boys could not make up their minds on any one leader, and settled on three captains—Lew Calkin, end; Dick Miller, tackle; and Terry Schuetz, back.

December 12—Getting all excited about Christmas. If only everyone else would stop talking about it constantly.

December 13—I went down town and did some Christmas shopping. I took care of everything except Darlene's gift. I wonder if that gal at Cottey is expecting a present from me!

December 14—Sixty-five members of the Iowa club held their annual Christmas supper-party in the "Rec" room. Girls from Lexington, Independence, Richmond and Carrollton attended the shindig.

December 15—Thought for the day, borrowed from The Trumpeter's "Campus Capers"—"A fool and his money are invited places." Why be a wallflower just because you have the do-re-mi?

December 16—Just heard from the hometown postmaster who tells me I can have a job as postal clerk next week.

December 17—The band presented its annual Christmas concert. It was climaxed by the Wentworth carol take-off . . . "Hark, the Herald Angels Shout! Two More Days 'till We Get Out!"

December 18—The last night here calls for last minute packing, checking timetables, sweating out the weather . . . after all, we could be snowbound.

December 19—A rocket ship could not have taken me off the campus any faster this morning after the last classes. Captain Heghin drove us to Kansas City. He made it to Union Station in 56 minutes flat. Merry Christmas, gang! See you next year!

January 5—Everyone made it back from furlough. All reports were the same—"had a wonderful time."

January 6—The Military Department announced that Chuck Foster and his orchestra will play at the Military Ball next month.

January 7—We have a new basketball team this year, a junior high squad coached by Lt. Bernie Landau.

January 8—Captain Ellis was informed that his high school cagers won the sportsmanship trophy at the Warrensburg tourney.

January 9—The instructors are starting to talk about first semester exams, advising us to get on the ball. That we certainly shall do.

January 10—Today is the deadline for entering girls' pictures in the Military Ball beauty queen contest. I was one of the last group to submit an entry. Hope I draw a winner!

January 11—Took in a movie after parade. Followed this up with a two-hour study period, for after all the semester tests must be passed.

January 12—The band and Honor Guard went to Jefferson City to participate in the inauguration ceremonies honoring Missouri's governor-elect, Phil M. Donnelly.

January 13—Colonel Wikoff is scouting around for talent for the presentation of the Wentworth Show in Kansas City next month. Too bad that I am not talented, but some of the boys in my company are working on an act, "Old Soldiers Never Die."

January 14—Twenty-one cadets qualified for berths on the rifle squad. Yes, I am one of the twenty-one.

January 15—The Wentworth Indian group was featured in a dancing and singing program before the Men's Bible Class at the Waverly Baptist Church.

January 16—The new summer camp catalog was delivered here by the printers. Sure is a honey. I think I'll send it on to my kid brother, Larry. Maybe he can talk Dad into enrolling him for the summer term.

January 17—It was announced that Company D established a new school record during the past grading period by winning three guidons—Scholastic, Military and Disciplinary.

January 18—Approximately ninety cadets who attend the Methodist church here were guests at a church chili supper.

January 19—Three of our Golden Glovers, Jim Tabb, George Manley and Bill Thayer went to Chillicothe this evening to fight in the tournament there.

January 20—M/Sgt. Gilbert H. Cottrell reported here for duty as an enlisted instructor. I am to have him in one of my military classes.

January 21—Radio Station KCMO of Kansas City officials informed the school that they will again broadcast the highlights of the Military Ball. Dal Stallard will be emcee.

January 22—Cramming for tomorrow's semester math test. I hope that Captain Park is in a cheerful frame of mind when he grades the papers.

January 23—I am just bushed. All I want to do is hit the sack, and I am going to do that right now.

January 24—While walking up town to get a haircut, who came along to offer me a lift but Major Brown. Nice to ride in a car for a change!

January 25—Today I was informed that I am on the Military Ball Decorating committee. We start work on the gym in a day or two.

January 26—Not a single letter today. Bad, isn't it?

January 27—Took my radio downtown because it has been acting up. A new tube put in by the technician put it in working order again.

January 28—We learned today that Actress Virginia Mayo is judge of the Military Ball queen contest.

January 29—Spare ribs for supper. Why can't we have them more often?

January 30—What a job I had getting rooms for Mother, Dad, the girl friend, Mrs. Hepler finally got the rooms for me. Next time I'll make my reservations way in advance.

January 31—I am taking a new course this semester, English Survey under Captain Canning. It sounds interesting, but it is also pretty rough.

February 1—The semester honor roll was published today. Much to my relief, I made it.

February 2—The Honor Guard worked out today. Boy, Captain Pearson can really put you through the paces.

February 3—Took a permit tonight. Sure was an excellent picture. I shared my popcorn with a little blonde from Lexington high school.

February 4—Jan Bullock has been living in the clouds since he learned that his girl, Dixie Ann Walker, has been chosen battalion queen by Virginia Mayo.

February 5—The band boys are whooping it up because Headquarters Company won the disciplinary competition for the last three weeks as well as the first semester.

February 6—On permit tonight, but instead of going anywhere, I am going to bed. Resting up for the Military Ball tomorrow night.

February 7—The Military Ball was wonderful and I would not have missed it for anything. Must have been around 2,000 people there.

February 8—Restful sleep. Boy, what a night. It started to rain about 2:00 a.m., and has been falling since, causing parade to be held indoors.

February 9—The big ball is over. The girls are gone and all is back to normal until February 20, when the entire corps goes to Kansas City.

February 10—I am broke after giving Bill Giblin $3.50 for the corsage that he ordered for me last Saturday night.

February 11—Something to look forward to. Today is was announced that spring furlough would begin on March 11 and extend to retreat time, March 16.

February 12—Since this is Thursday, we get to sleep an hour later. That calls for late BRC and more of those good cinnamon rolls.

February 13—Friday the thirteenth. Bad luck eluded me despite my lack of a four-leaf clover or a lucky horse shoe.

February 14—Called the girl friend to wish her a happy Valentine Day. She told me it was always a happy day for her whenever I called her.

February 15—Rain again today and an indoor parade. I went down to C Company to play a game of cribbage with Captain Simpson. Yes, he won.

February 16—Dick Rapaport was elected president of the campus chess club and Harvey Present was chosen vice-president.

February 17—No permits this week because I did not keep my grades up. I'll get that English or else.

February 18—We had a briefing on the Wentworth Show coming up in Kansas City. My roommate is going to be in the machine-gun attack problem.

February 19—Major Stafford, our chaplain, left this evening for Chicago to attend a two-day meeting of the Midwestern Section of the Biblical Instructors Association.

February 20—The third annual Wentworth Show in Kansas City, and 6,500 spectators on hand. I had fun at the informal dance following the show. Charles Eacock fixed me up with a lovely K. U. sophomore.

February 21—Today we had drill as usual. Come . . . or high water, we drill.

February 22—Had a nasty cold today, so I made sick call. Doc Payne assured me that I'll live.

February 23—Wrote to Darlene. I have been neglecting her lately. Better keep her in good spirits, as I want to do some dating with her during spring furlough.

February 25—Decided to take in the movie, "Stars and Stripes Forever." Dropped by the "Maid Rite" for a hot dog and coke on my way back to the barracks.

February 25—Fried chicken for luncheon, and since Chester Crouch wasn't feeling well, he asked me to eat his chicken too. How could I refuse!

February 26—I took the compulsory school swimming test today and passed. It wasn't too hard.

February 27—I passed my Spanish test today. It was hard.

February 28—Dad wrote today. Said he just completed a big real estate deal. Maybe this would be a good time to put the bee on him for that new sport coat that I would like to wear during spring furlough.

March 1—James L. Wikoff, son of Col. and Mrs. Lester B. Wikoff, will join the Wentworth staff as a social science instructor starting September 1.

March 2—The summer school catalog was made available for distribution today. This year the school for the first time is issuing separate summer camp and summer school books.

March 3—A change in the educational tour chaperon. Major Ungles will have charge of the cadet group going to Mexico this month.

March 4—I have heard so much about Mrs. Westphal's (The Duchess) collection of glassware and buttons, and today I made up my mind to go over and look at it. She sure has a lot of money tied up in the collection.

March 5—Dad wrote to tell me that he has enrolled me for next year. Good! Now I can get together with Major Brown and reserve the room that I want.

March 6—Earl Howey and Keith Kretschmer are working on a student directory. They plan to give every cadet a free copy when the directory is printed later in the term.

March 7—Captain Johnson is attending a music educators conference at Springfield.

March 8—A number of Wentworth summer camp representatives are here for a three-day orientation session.

March 9—Mrs. Gibbons left by plane for Manitowoc, Wisc., where she will visit with alumni and interview prospective students for next year.

March 10—We have been informed that the annual government inspection will be held April 13-14—less than a month away.

March 11—Spent most of my free time getting ready for spring furlough.

March 12—Spring furlough starts at 11:00 a.m., and I am all set to check out. We appreciate the five-day break. Tonight I'll see Darlene again. I hope Dad won't be using the family car.

March 16—Back to the salt mines after a wonderful rest. Now that I am back, it seems that I have never been away.

March 17—The educational tour group left for Mexico this morning on a special Braniff air lines plane. I couldn't quite sell Dad on letting me go this year, but he said that he would think seriously about letting me go next year.

March 18—Al Montaudon's sister, Nelliesue, has been elected Saviour Queen for 1953 at the University of Missouri.

March 19—The winter sports awards were announced today. I won a company basketball letter. I might even make the varsity some day, who knows!

March 20—Danny Croy has been named a principal candidate for a United States Naval academy appointment. Congratulations, Danny boy!

March 21—The Wentworth Cavaliers furnished the music for an informal spring dance at the youth center in Raytown. The Cavaliers sure have been in demand this year, and they should be for they are really good.

March 22—Gordon Harris has been named junior college basketball team captain for next year. Dick Hudson and Jerry Neeley will be the prep team's co-captains.

March 23—Col. and Mrs. Sellers are in Washington. Colonel Sellers is representing Wentworth at the annual meeting of the Association of Military Colleges and Schools of the United States.

March 24—The school athletes are now working hard on the next campus event, the 1953 Whiz Bang Follies to be staged on April 10. I understand that Dick Hudson will be featured as a girl singer in one act. What a doll he will make!

March 25—Major Buck is conventioning again, attending the annual meeting of the American Junior College association in Dallas.

March 26—The cadet tourists returned tonight after a ten-day excursion to Mexico. Major Ungles really has a nice sun-tan to show for his trip.

March 27—Took a permit, but I did nothing exciting. Spent a quiet evening at Jack Gueguen's house listening to some of his new records.

March 28—A rifle inspection during drill period. Mine was found to be in good shape.

March 29—The folks came down and mother brought me one of her specialties, a cake with chocolate-fudge icing. Will we put on the feedbag in my room tonight!

March 30—Captain Park pulled a surprise test in math. Frankly, I'm a little worried, for I am not the world's best math student.

March 31—Spring must be here. I saw Mrs. Gibbons planting flowers down near the Scholastic Bldg. That woman certainly likes to putter around in the dirt, but then that is because she loves flowers.

April 1—A nice little redhead has joined the office staff. Wonder if she has a boy friend!

April 2—Fourteen high school cadets have been initiated into the National Honor Society, a prep scholastic fraternity.

April 3—Charles Young has been appointed to the Plymouth Drama Festival's 20th Anniversary season. This marks the second consecutive year that a Wentworth cadet has won such an appointment.

April 4—A few members of the Dramatics club went up to Kansas City to witness a performance of "Point of No Return." They also went back stage and had an interesting chat with members of the cast.

April 5—After parade I sat down and answered quite a few letters. Took a nap then and slept 'till SRC. The nap was just what the doctor ordered.

April 6—Today the dean's office published the list of candidates for graduation. It is hard to realize that commencement isn't too far away.

April 7—The military department is bearing down in preparation for next week's government inspection.

April 8—The "W" Club initiation activities started this week. All of the faculty members are being asked to autograph eggs. If a candidate breaks an egg, he starts from scratch collecting faculty signatures again.

April 9—Prof. Vest Wright resigned because of ill health. He is moving to Brandon, Fla.

April 10—Graceland beat us in track and tennis this afternoon but the cadets romped over the lowans in the golf competition.

April 11—The annual "W" Club dance. Lt. Bryce Harrison gets our vote for having the most colorful costume.

April 12—No parade today. Instead we staged a review in preparation for G. I. We spent most of the day in cleaning our rooms and polishing our brass.

April 13—The annual government inspection is under way. The inspectors were really rough today, but the boys were sharp and I think they made a favorable impression on the examining officers.

April 14—The inspection ended around noon. The entire corps marched down to the stadium after luncheon for the taking of the panoramic corps-faculty picture.

April 15—No assembly today. Instead we had Saturday's fourth period classes during the regular assembly hour.

April 16—Saw the little office redhead today. I said, "Hi!" and she said "Hi!"

April 17—The Dramatics Club put on its final presentation of the year, "Charley's Aunt," starring Mrs. Arthur W. Hodges and Charles Young.

April 18—We had a "tactical walk," under direction of the Military Department. Seemed more like a cross-country hike to me.

April 19—The band performed before the Men's Bible Class at the Ivanhoe Masonic Temple in Kansas City, the world's largest Men's Bible class.

April 20—Commencement invitations have gone on sale at the Q.M.

April 21—Went out on the golf course today. Results—a score too bad to print and loss of two balls.

April 22—A letter from Mom. She says Dad traded in the family car for a new Buick. I have no objection to driving a new car this summer.

April 23—I have been slaving away on a composition that I plan to enter in the Patriotic Essay Contest. Sure would be nice to win that gold medal.

April 24—Picked up ten demerits for asking Major Brown if he ever voted the Democratic ticket. Never will I make that kind of a mistake again with a 100% Republican commandant.

April 25—Colonel and Mrs. Wikoff returned to the campus after a two-week trip to Georgia and Pennsylvania.

April 26—Went horseback riding after parade. Neither the horse nor I would give up, if you know what I mean.

April 27—Burning the midnight oil, because we have a biology test tomorrow.

April 28—Just learned that Major Harper returns to civilian status on July 1. Wentworth sure will miss him.

April 29—Invested in a pair of loud pajamas, the red-bold stripe type advertised in Esquire this month.

April 30—A perfect day. No demerits. I knew all the answers when called on in my classes. Not a dog growled at me. And to top off everything, I beat Captain Simpson at cribbage for a change.

May 1—Captain Pirhalla and a group of The Trumpeter staff members left this morning for Columbia to attend the annual meeting of the Missouri College Press Association.

May 2—The U. S. Marine Corps aviators from the Olathe Air Base joined with the Wentworth cadets in the staging of a ground-air attack problem at the Lexington battle field. What a thrill watching those planes zoom down and then sweep up into the clouds again!

May 3—My roommate's dad came down for the day. After parade he took the two of us over to Excelsior Springs for dinner at the Elms. We made a tour of the Hall of Waters before we started our return trip to Lexington.

May 4—Everything was calm today. Not much cooking in the way of excitement.

May 5—Paul Stalker and I went to a movie this evening and saw a real exciting shoot-em-up cowboy feature.

May 6—Since I am up on my studies, I decided to spend the evening watching TV programs in the "Rec" room.

May 7—I was on "post" duty today, so I had very little free time. I hope this about winds up my "post" duties for the year.

May 8—The usual routine—classes, athletics and study.

May 9—Took time out for a haircut. Barb Keeney kept up a constant stream of chatter during the operation. That guy never runs out of conversation, good, bad or indifferent.

May 10—Quite a few out-of-state cars were seen around the campus at parade time. I also noticed a number of prospective students and their parents making tours of the campus.

May 11—The weather is ideal, and everyone is playing tennis, golf, sun-bathing, or just relaxing.

May 12—Captain Johnson and the band boys are getting in many good licks in practicing for their final concert which will be held at commencement time.

May 13—I tried to take on John Haynes in a few rounds of tennis this afternoon, but he was just too good for me.

May 14—Most of the instructors are conducting a number of review sessions, so as to help get us ready for the semester finals.

May 15—A note from Dad. He has lined up a summer job for me with a construction gang back home. He says the job should help toughen me up for football next fall.

May 16—This is banquet time. With about two weeks to go, the different campus organizations are holding their annual banquets and special dinners.

May 17—Mrs. Hepler has put out a notice that cadets should act now if they want to reserve rooms for parents coming down for the commencement exercises. I saw Mrs. Hepler this evening. Mom and Dad are all set now.

May 18—The campus is a pretty sight at this time of the year, and we're being urged to keep off the grass.

May 19—Putting the finishing touches on three term papers. They should help bring up my grades.

May 20—Started to read a book, "A Man Called Peter." Much to my surprise, I like it.

May 21—Quite a few boys are skipping permits. The reason, of course, is the semester exams which start next week.

May 22—Friday, and a fish day. My roommate doesn't care for fish, but I just love it. Of course, I like it best when Dad and I catch 'em and Mom cooks 'em.

May 23—Drill wasn't too hard to take today, since it was the last regular Saturday drill session.

May 24—A momentous week ahead. I even said an extra prayer at church today, for I might need a few prayers to help me pull through the finals.

May 25—Visited with Mrs. Robert Beretta, our registrar. I discovered that she is a stamp collector. I told her she should join the Wentworth stamp club, but she replied that our meeting hours conflicted with her working hours.

May 26—Two tests today, English and physics. Sure is a relief to get them out of the way.

May 27—Stocked up on film. I expect to take quite a few shots the next few days especially of my friends who are graduating.

May 28—With the tests out of the way, I wiled away my free time engaging in bull sessions and reminiscing on the wonderful year which is drawing to a close.

May 29—Quite a few parents arrived for the commencement exercises which really get started today. Most of them attended the band's annual spring concert tonight.

May 30—Mom and Dad arrived this morning. They attended the luncheon for visitors at the Country Club, took in the awards convocation, and then had fun at the big commencement ball.

May 31—This is Commencement Day. Baccalaureate services in the morning, final parade in the afternoon, and awarding of diplomas in the evening. After the commencement exercises we drove down to the Auditorium Cafe for a snack.

June 1—It's here! For the graduation class, it is hard to take. It is hard to say goodbye to some of the boys, knowing that this is life's final meeting. A beautiful flag ceremony—tears—suppressed tears—then Cadet Lt. Col. Melvin Chubb sings out "Dismissed," and the year comes to an end. So long, gang. See you boys—who are returning next September.
