

WENTWORTH MILITARY ACADEMY

ESTABLISHED 1880 — LEXINGTON, MO.

HIGH SCHOOL AND JUNIOR COLLEGE

WENTWORTH'S PURPOSE

It is the purpose of Wentworth Military Academy to provide the best conditions possible for the all 'round development of worthy boys and young men.

To attain this high purpose, the Academy places greatest emphasis upon these four points:

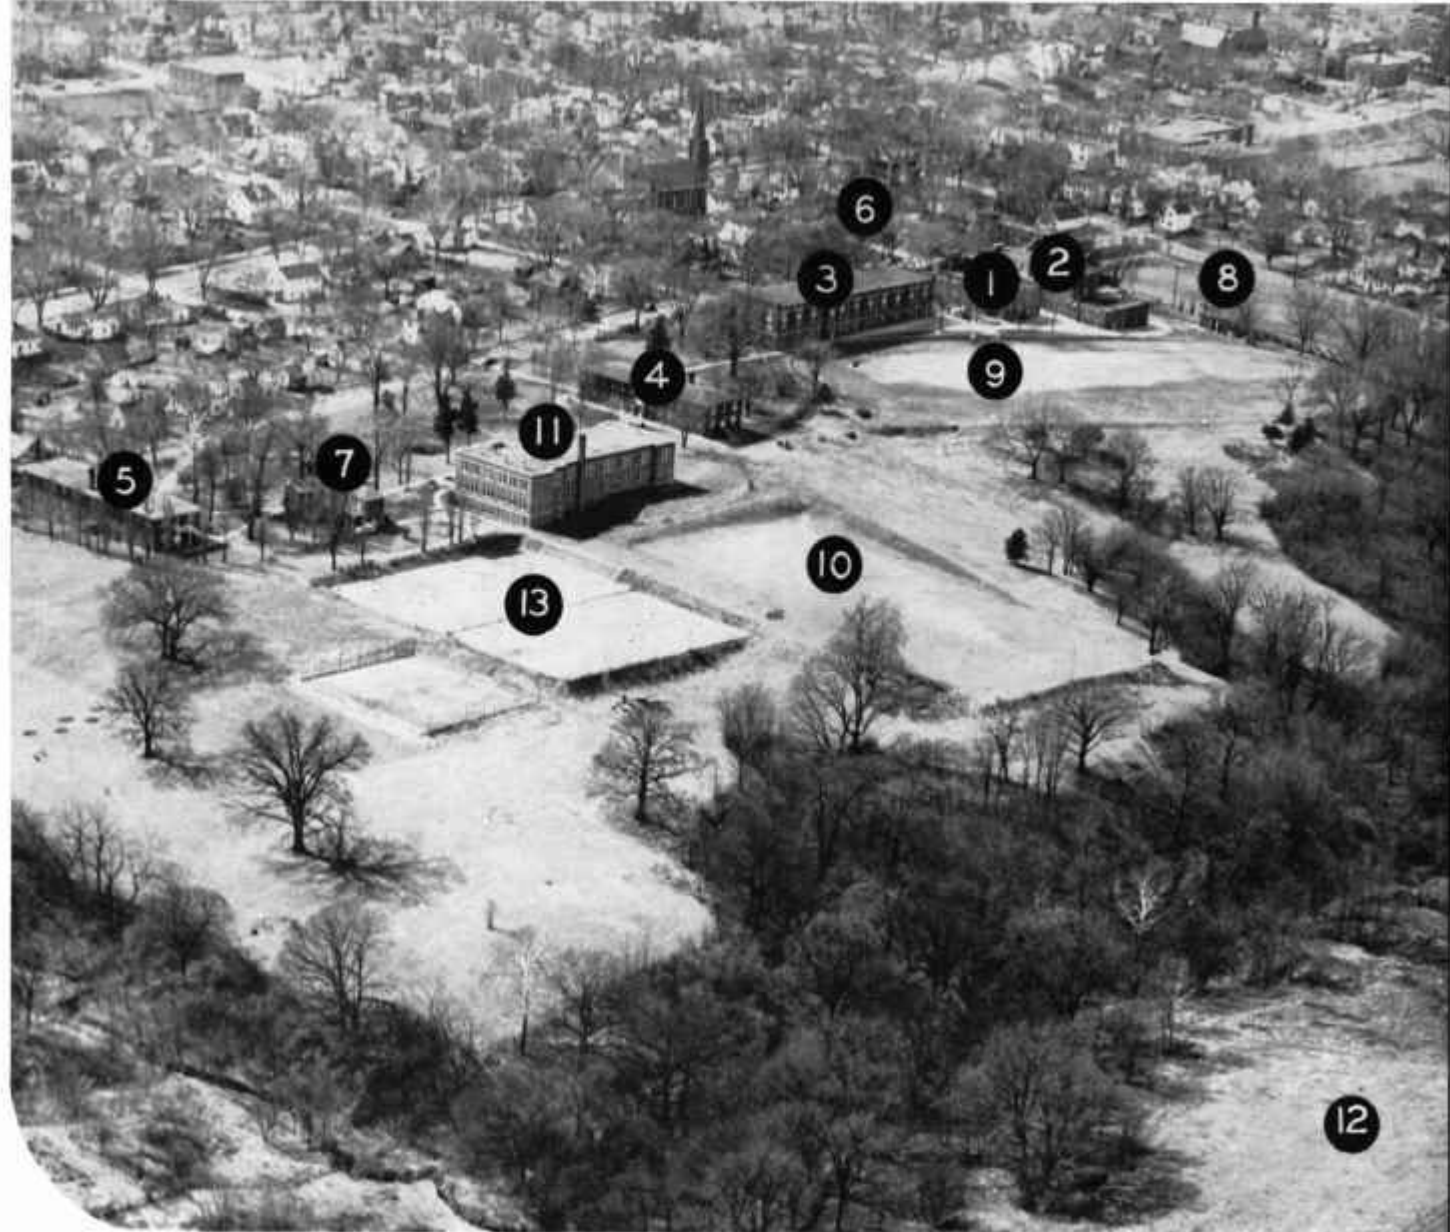

First, it is the Academy's aim to assemble only the highest types of students—deserving youths of good parentage—to assure wholesome associations and greater progress. Every precaution is taken to keep undesirable boys—all those that might prove detrimental to others—out of the Academy.

Second, to employ only men of highest character and ability for its faculty. It is not enough for a Wentworth faculty member to be merely a scholar and a splendid instructor. He must also possess a spirit of friendliness and a sincere desire to give kindly help whenever necessary. He must thoroughly understand the innermost problems of boys—be patient with them—and be ready to serve each boy to the best of his ability.

Third, to provide the very best equipment throughout every department to the end that every boy will have all those things necessary to his health and happiness and that none shall want for anything that will help him to make progress.

Fourth, to provide a program for each day that will best serve the interests of every student.

* Colonel James M. Sellers, A. B.,
Superintendent.

Wentworth 1912, University of Chicago, A.B. 1917, Phi Beta Kappa 1918; Sigma Xi; Beta Theta Pi; Major U. S. Marine Reserve 1917-1920; Distinguished Service Cross; Navy Cross; Silver Star; Purple Heart; Croix-de-Guerre; Past President of Association of Military Colleges and Schools of the United States; Past Grand Master of the Grand Masonic Lodge of Missouri, A. F. & A. M., and Past Grand Commander of the Grand Commandery of Missouri.

From the beginning the late President Sellers surrounded himself with the ablest faculty available—strong men of proved qualities and Christian character. Under his wise and forward-looking direction, Wentworth has grown steadily. Each year has shown marked improvement over the preceding year. Today Wentworth stands as one of the truly great educational institutions of our country—second to none in the opportunities it offers boys and young men for thorough preparation for professional studies, business and for life.

SINCE EIGHTEEN EIGHTY

One of the chief reasons why Wentworth has been able to achieve its lofty purpose lies in the fact that the Academy has been under one continuous administration since its founding. For nearly three-score years, Colonel Sanford Sellers was president of Wentworth. He enjoyed one of the most enviable records in the history of American education.

The Academy was founded by Stephen G. Wentworth, scion of a distinguished English family and a prominent Lexington banker, in 1880, as a memorial to his deceased son, William Wentworth. Mr. Wentworth immediately vested control of the institution in the hands of a board of trustees composed of a duly elected representative of each of the Evangelical churches of Lexington, and a president. Colonel Sellers was called to the new school in its first year and remained as its active head until 1938. Mr. Wentworth served as president of the Board from 1880 until his death in 1897.

It was the firm conviction of the founder, his board of trustees and President Sellers that a military boarding school provides the most effective possible means for giving young men the thorough mental, moral and physical training necessary to develop in them the highest traits of manhood. Thus, Wentworth became the first military school in the Missouri River Valley.

AN HISTORIC BACKGROUND

Throughout over half a century the Wentworth purpose has remained unchanged. The ideals which led to the Academy's founding and which have carried it steadily forward, shine just as brightly today as ever: the desire to give each youth every opportunity to develop fully his own individual personality; the aim that every cadet shall acquire a keen sense of duty and responsibility, both to himself and toward others; that he shall have the mental and moral power to make accurate judgments between right and wrong and the physical power to stand by his convictions.

These high standards have dominated Wentworth for generations. But to maintain them and assure their full and continuous application, it has been found necessary to limit the enrollment. Wentworth today is a relatively small school—many times larger than in 1880, to be sure, yet small enough that every individual student is given the private attention so essential to his all-round development.

The surrounding country affords a wealth of historically important Civil War sites and the town of Lexington itself retains much of the tradition of the old south. Here enthusiasm for the reminders of our country's glorious past is combined with the enthusiasm for modern adventure to promote the rapid development of the boy's mental, moral and physical resources.

YESTERDAY

Above is pictured the first company ever assembled at Wentworth. From this humble beginning, the Academy has marched forward over a trail of development that has placed it in the front rank of America's best military schools.

and TODAY

The Wentworth Military Academy of today is vastly different from the Wentworth of 1880. From year to year it has enlarged its facilities, increased its enrollment and changed its physical appearance until there is little to remind one of the early days. Numerous modern and attractive buildings have been erected as they were needed. Old buildings have been torn away when they were no longer useful. Spacious military and athletic fields have been added. One of the finest gymnasiums in the country has been built. Every new method in teaching that has been found definitely superior to older methods has been adopted. Yet, some of the fundamental principles that guided the first company are adhered to just as strictly today.

MILITARY DEPARTMENT

MILITARY training at Wentworth has always been a strong feature, but it is never permitted to interfere with the scholastic work of the Academy. It can be shown, moreover, that military discipline has a decidedly advantageous effect upon classroom work.

In recognition of the superior military work done at Wentworth, in 1889 the Academy became a post of the Missouri National Guard. Graduates of the Academy who resided in Missouri, became eligible for commissions in this organization.

Wentworth has been under the direct supervision of the War Department of the United States Government since 1895, when the first active army officer was detailed to the Academy. Now 3 officers, 4 non-commissioned officers and one civilian assistant are in charge of military instruction. In addition, the War Department furnishes around $50,000 worth of equipment to be used for instruction purposes. Wentworth is one of the original Honor Schools of the United States, the highest rating given by the War Department. The Academy has been a unit of the Reserve Officers' Training Corps from the time that organization was established.

* This monument, erected on the campus by the Alumni Association, to the memory of Wentworth cadets who died in the World War No. 1, typifies the loyal spirit of generations of former Wentworth cadets.

* Patriotism is no sham at Wentworth. Every cadet is taught the real meaning of our flag. Each day, with appropriate ceremonies, the Stars and Stripes are raised and lowered on the towering flag pole.

The cadet whose face shows under the curve of the flag is now Ex-Lt. Wm. Bates, who flew a bomber in the European theater of operations; controlling the flag ropes is Kenneth Winters, late of the Navy. The bugler is the former Lieut. Max Condron.

ADMINISTRATION BUILDING

Within Wentworth's Administration Building are handsomely furnished parlors, corridors and reception rooms. Among its furnishings and decorations students and guests alike find many articles of interest and rare beauty. Its comfortable furnishings amid peaceful surroundings afford a homelike atmosphere where the new cadet readily adapts himself to a wholesome, happy experience. Here in an atmosphere of quiet dignity, every student is privileged to entertain his guests or to spend his leisure moments as governed by his daily schedule. None of the comforts of the modern home have been excluded in Wentworth's plan to provide the finest training and quarters available.

About the CAMPUS

★ Marine Hall.

Nature and man have joined forces at Wentworth to produce a campus of outstanding beauty. Magnificent trees, of many varieties, blend in perfect harmony with modern, attractive buildings and spacious grounds. The Academy is located just at the edge of Lexington and covers 52 acres. The front campus extends over four city blocks and is dotted with massive elms and glorious flower banks that provide enchantment and inspiration. The back campus includes athletic and military fields and the new stadium. There are eight thoroughly modern buildings on the campus, each built for the exact purpose it serves. They are of brick and stone construction and are heated by steam and hot water.

THE WENTWORTH COUNTRY CLUB

Located on one of the most beautiful spots overlooking the Missouri River, the Golf Course and Country Club add variety to the many facilities available to the Wentworth students. The nine-hole golf course is most attractive and sporty. The club house, with its catering equipment, is ideal for many informal parties held throughout the year. And in the stable are found horses suitable for the tyro as well as the expert rider.

* Teeing Up

* Two stylish mounts. Every Wentworth student will ride.

* Interior of the Club House—available for many informal gatherings.

* One of the spacious, well lighted and immaculate corridors in the Sellers-Wikoff Scholastic Building.

SCHOLASTIC

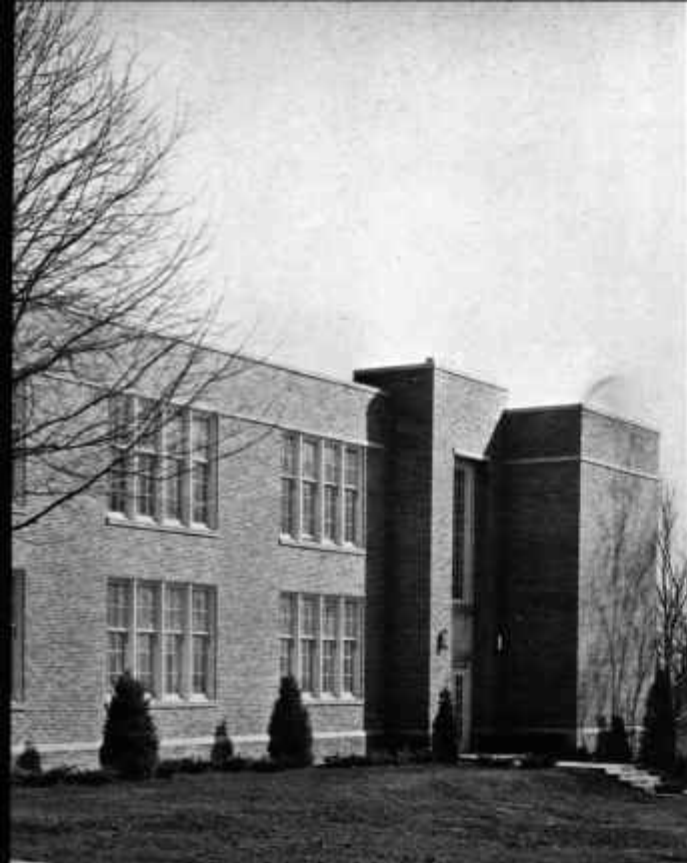

Wentworth's up-to-date Sellers - Wikoff Scholastic Building is the nucleus of the scholastic department. This magnificent structure contains one of the most splendid libraries possessed by any institution of this kind. Four completely equipped laboratories provide excellent facilities for the practical study of the sciences. In addition to classrooms for all classes, it houses the Dean's and Commandant's offices. It is with justifiable pride that Wentworth points to this new achievement in its effort to provide surroundings which are conducive to academic advancement.

* The attractive library contains thousands of volumes, providing every necessary supplement to the student's texts and manuals.

* Visual Aids are being used to a great extent to supplement lectures by instructors. The Academy has the best equipment available and has established a liberal budget for rental of motion pictures for class work.

★ Geology is a science of particular interest to boys of the Midwest.

DEPARTMENT

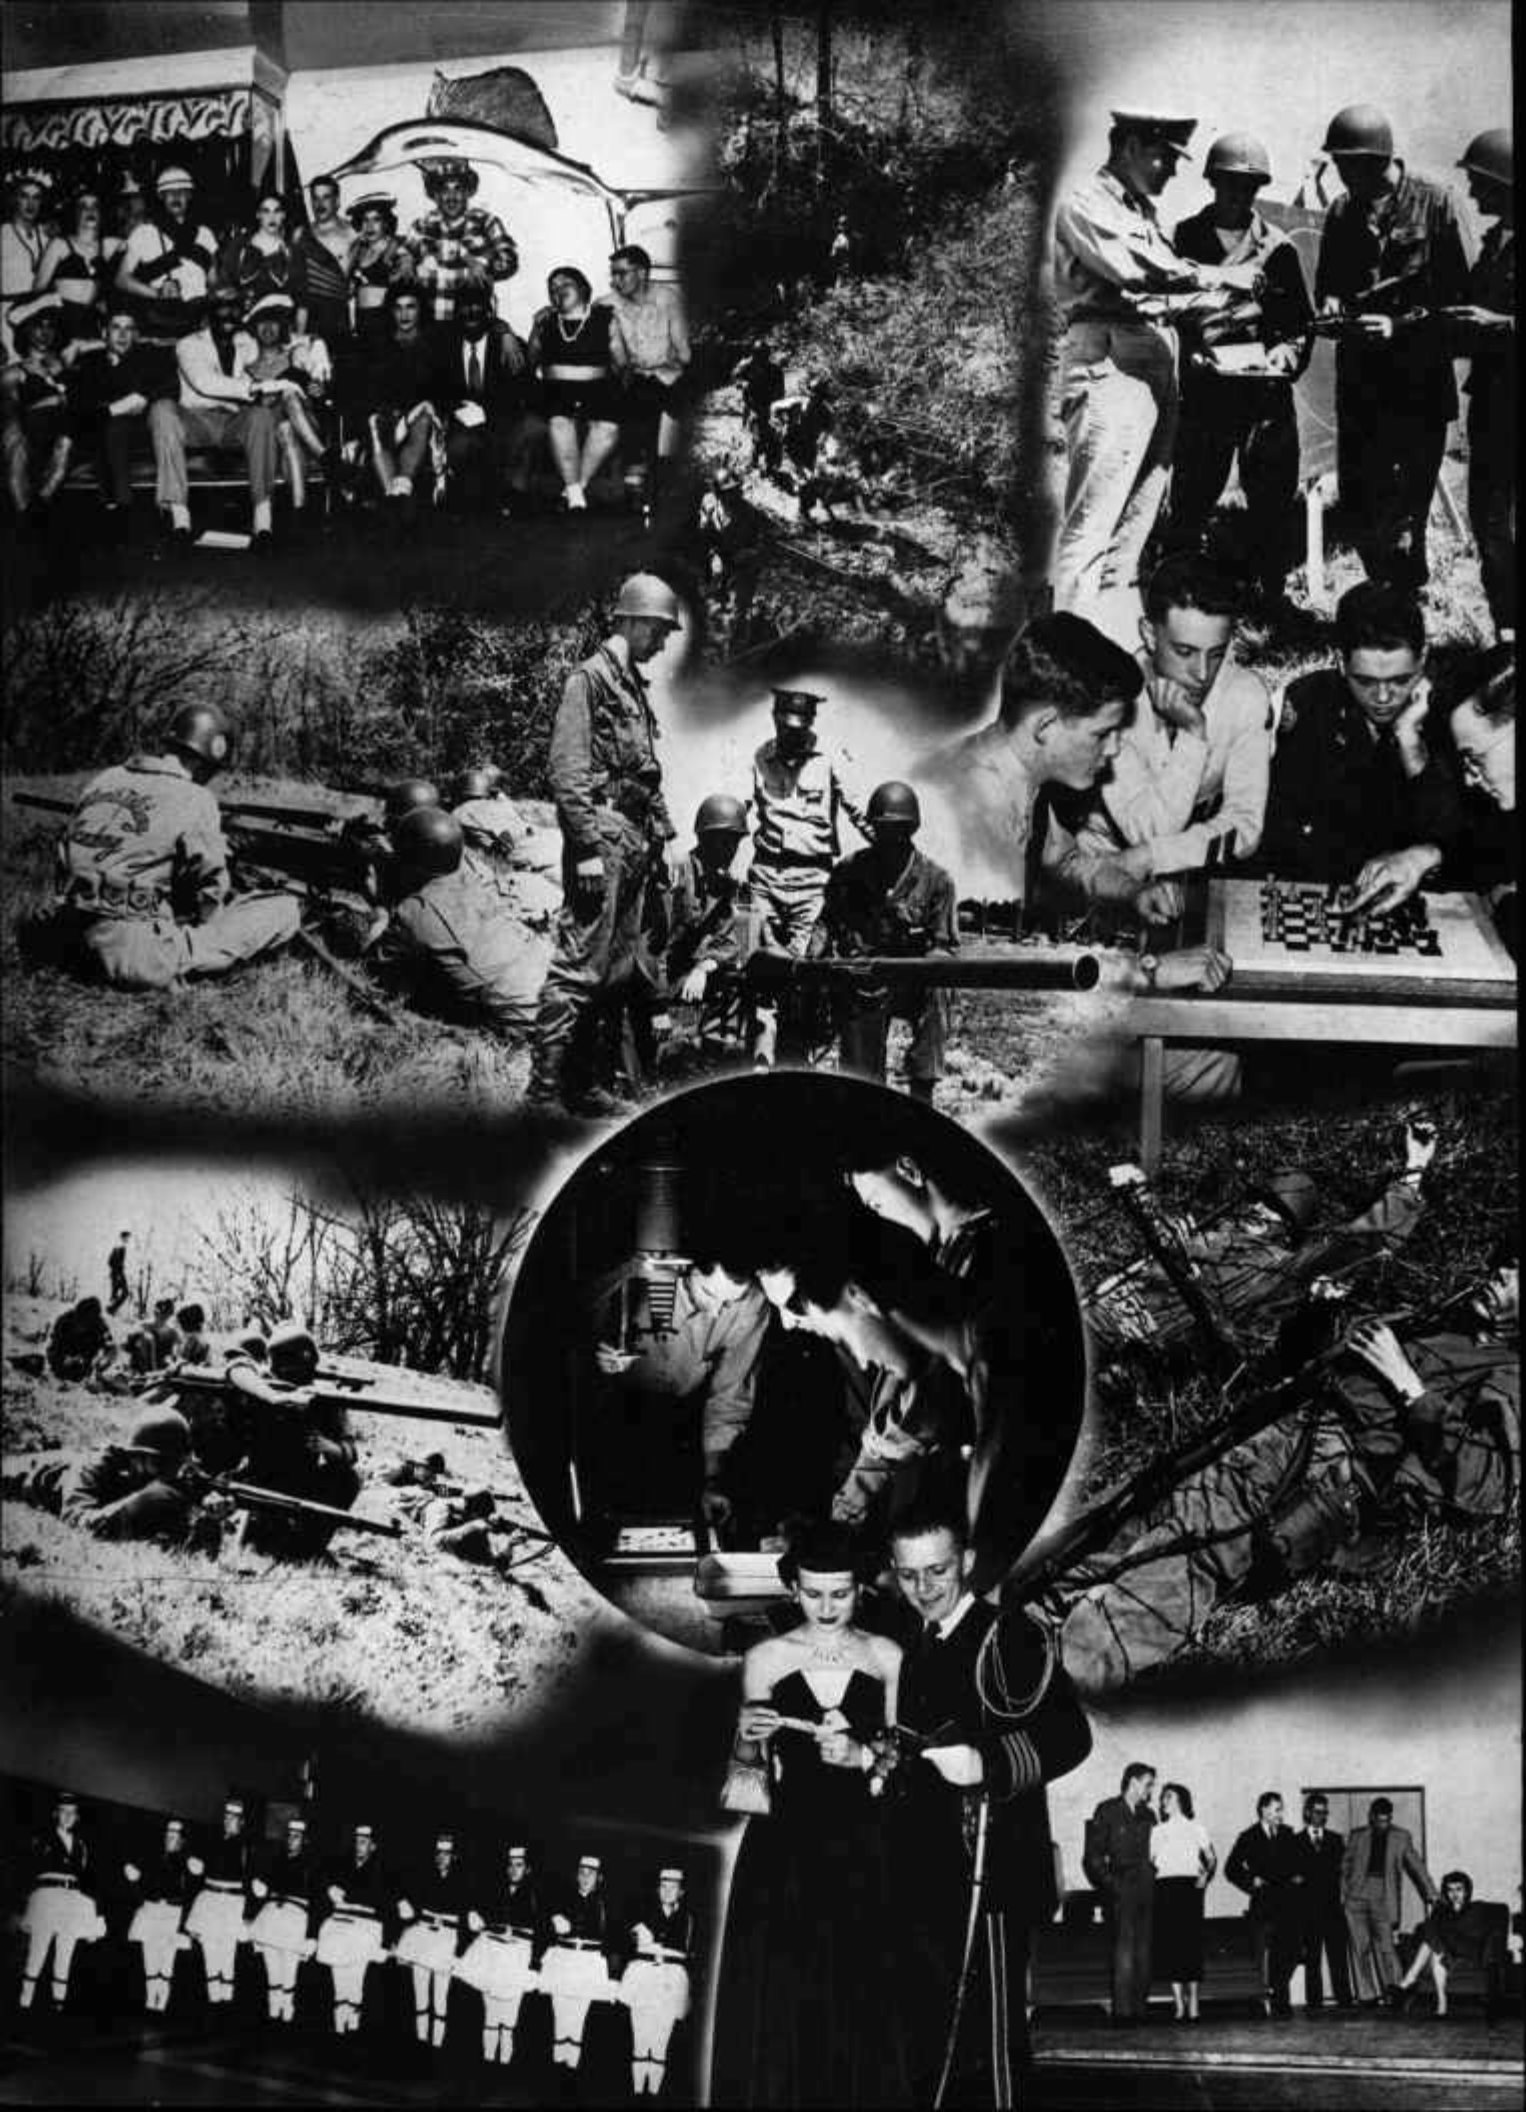

The scholastic department is divided into two separate and distinct units: the high school, which offers four years of preparatory work, and the junior college, which offers two years of liberal arts and science. Each has its own organization separate from the other. Both divisions are fully accredited by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, an organization composed of the leading colleges and preparatory schools in twenty states. This recognition means that graduates of either department are eligible to enter any institution in the United States that receives students by certification.

It is our aim to see that each cadet masters every lesson thoroughly. To accomplish this, every student is taught correct study methods and thoroughly schooled in correct uses of libraries and laboratories. Classes are small, averaging from 8 to 15 students, which permits individual attention. Most of the faculty members live in the buildings with students. They are readily accessible for special help. From time to time a personal study is made of each cadet to determine his points of weakness and help him overcome them.

★ The laboratory for elementary classes in chemistry provides many costly instruments not provided for in many schools but which Wentworth believes are important to the proper study of chemistry.

★ The laboratory for the advanced chemistry classes is even more completely equipped.

A RECENT AVIATION FLIGHT TRAINING GROUP

AVIATION

Wentworth participated in the Civil Aeronautics Administration Civilian Pilot Training Program from its inception in 1939 through the change to C. A. A. War Training Service until June, 1943, when all but 80 out of 712 colleges and universities throughout the country were eliminated due to curtailment of this type of training. However, the academy administration, believing aviation training to be very important now and in the future to the youth of the nation, secured permission from C. A. A. officials to continue flight training on a civilian basis and at the expense of the trainees.

Wentworth operates in conjunction with the Lexington Airport as a certified flying school fully approved by the C.A.A. The flight training program including ground school, far surpasses the minimum requirements set forth by the civil aeronautics administration. It consists of instruction in both dual and solo flight time and ground school courses in navigation, meteorology, civil air regulations, and operation of aircraft.

The records of the graduates of the Wentworth Flight Training are outstanding. During the war the graduates of this training program fought every front where Americans were in combat.

From REVEILLE TO TAPS

A DAY

AT WENTWORTH

NO TWO days at Wentworth are quite the same, for a widely varied program of scholastic, military, athletic and other activities is used to keep the interest of the cadets at high pitch and their appetites for learning well whetted. Furthermore, no two students have quite the same duties to perform throughout any given day. There is, however, a definite routine that all cadets follow each day. It is used to instill perfect regularity and promptness in attendance upon all duties prescribed for one and all cadets alike.

While it requires some adjustments for new students to become accustomed to this routine, any slight hint of monotony is soon lost in the kaleidoscopic whirl of the school year.

To give parents and others a better insight, the following pages have been used to set forth, pictorially, the day's activities from Reveille to Taps, of a typical Wentworth boy whom we will designate as Cadet Harlan.

The pictures in this section were taken fifteen years ago. However, since they illustrate life at Wentworth of today, they are still timely. They are retained because so many of the cadets shown served in the Armed Forces of their country and so well illustrate the value of military training as received while at Wentworth.

Since the importance of military preparedness is becoming increasingly evident by the changing world situation, the training illustrated in this picture section has a special significance.

There have been some uniform changes as may be seen by referring to the section on Wentworth uniforms.

* Harlan—a typical Wentworth cadet.

HERE is Harlan, a typical Wentworth cadet—a fine young American—manly, scholarly and upright. His respect for duty and responsibility has won for him the rank of sergeant. He may have come from a large city or a very small town—that makes no difference to the democratic spirit that prevails at Wentworth. He may be from a wealthy family or a family in meager circumstances—most of his classmates would never know, nor even be curious, unless he chose to tell them. But he typifies all the fine qualities of a deserving and ambitious youth as he goes through the tried and age-proved Wentworth process of becoming a real man, a real asset to himself, his family and friends, and society as a whole.

Harlan, like all the others, participates in many activities besides those shown. But let's follow him through a typical day.

★ ★ ★

Harlan "Butch" Heffelfinger, who graduated in the class of 1937 and posed as the model cadet in the view book, served as a Major in the last war.

His brother, Hugo, another Wentworth alumnus, also a Major, and served with distinction with the Rangers.

Artie Heffelfinger served with the Navy Air Corps as an Ensign.

*Harlan's first duty is a thorough, refreshing wash before breakfast.

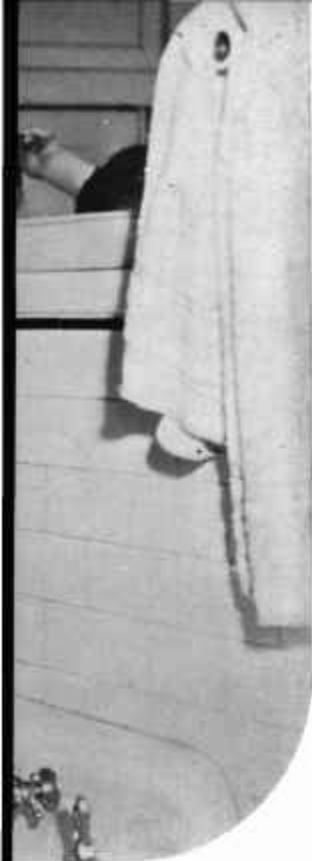

"CAN'T GET 'EM UP," blows the bugler, but he does, and at 6:35 o'clock another day is under way. Cadet Harlan goes first to the sanitary lavatory on his floor. A good washup is part of the routine, for a cadet is expected to keep himself clean at all times. At 6:50 he goes to a well-prepared breakfast.

After breakfast, rooms must be cleaned. One of the basic aims of our system is to form personal habits of order. Each morning Harlan makes his own bed, puts his clothes in order and helps his roommate clean the room.

*Harlan makes up his own bed.

Strict inspection of quarters is a daily routine. Formal inspection of Harlan's person, room and equipment occurs on Sunday morning. At this time unusual care must be taken in cleaning the room. Our friend sees that hidden corners are carefully dusted, chairs polished, and everything put in order. Then he takes care of his person. There's brass to shine, leather to polish, hair to brush, and whiskers to be removed. A certain time is allotted for this preparation and all work must be done within that time. This young fellow knows that any deficiency in this work receives what is known in Academy language as a "skin"—which counts against one's company in color competition.

* Harlan is ready for the inspector — brass gleaming, shoes shined—room as clean as the proverbial "hound's tooth."

* Here Harlan delves into things scientific. Modern equipment is provided for all laboratory work.

AT 8 O'CLOCK in the morning, classes convene. Harlan makes his way to a small class on his schedule where personal attention is his at any time it is needed. Our cadet is carefully instructed in the handling of delicate scientific equipment. He is not forced to grope blindly for information. That which is true of the science laboratories is equally true in all other classrooms.

Time passes rapidly in the classroom or laboratory because the work is interesting. The scholastic day is divided into two equal parts, with four classes in the morning and two in the afternoon.

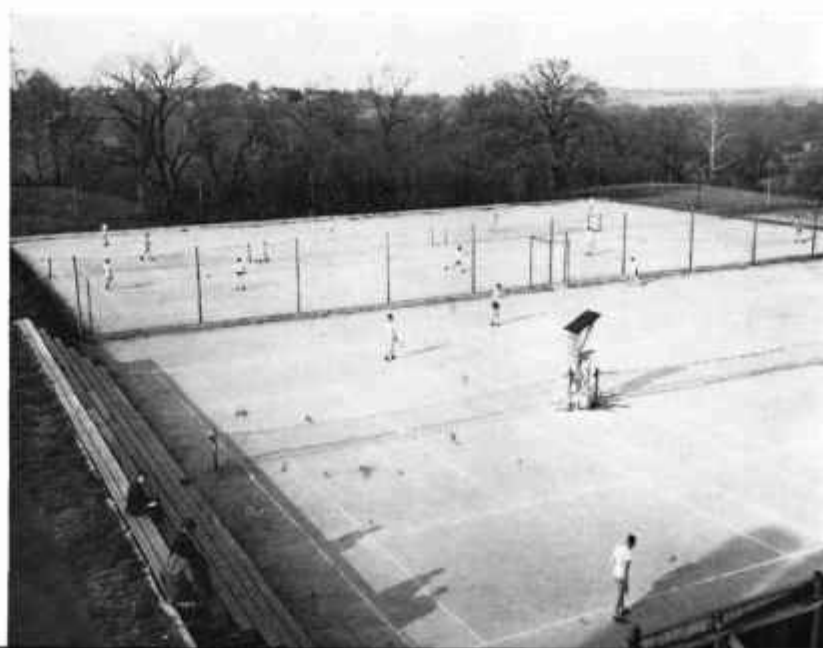

* Our Cadet goes through a course of calisthenics to promote grace and health.

All the cadets shown in the picture were in the Armed Service.

CALISTHENICS play an important role in the physical education of Cadet Harlan. No effort is made to indulge in this or any other exercise in the early morning hours when the body is at its lowest ebb. All such exercises are taken by our cadet after a hearty breakfast and morning classes. The exercises are intended to promote graceful movement as well as better health. The calisthenics used by the United States Army are followed. They are led by senior cadet officers.

So long as the weather permits, the calisthenics are held in the open, but they are taken in the large gymnasium, where an entire battalion may take part at the same time, when rain or cold is in the air.

* The ten excellent tennis courts are always popular.

* Cadet Harlan reports to the Professor of Military Science and Tactics for drill duty.

Cadet Lieutenant Jack Ramsdell commanding the platoon shown in these two views, participated as an officer in the landing on North Africa. He was decorated with the Silver Star for heroism in action and Purple Heart.

DRILL is a very formal affair. It is on the drill field that Harlan learns much of courtesy, discipline and alertness. He, with his entire battalion, is thoroughly schooled in good citizenship, taught the proper respect for superiors and trained in leadership.

Learning to drill a squad is the first training in leadership. Throughout the year squad drill and competition is a part of the regular military routine. The squad is the smallest military unit and consists of nine to twelve men, two of whom are sergeants. All instruction is conducted by cadets under the personal supervision of members of the military faculty.

Although military work takes but one hour each day, the training is intensive and much more thorough than that found in larger units. Personal attention is given the individual cadet on the military field as well as in the classroom, and each cadet has an equal chance to advance to important positions in Wentworth's military realm. In the army, the navy and the marine corps Wentworth is glorified by its alumni who have received their commissions and are distinguishing themselves in official capacities of these respective branches of service.

Like many other cadets, Harlan finds the extended order drill more interesting. This drill consists of combat methods. He is taught to make use of cover, to advance and to fire. No actual firing is done during this drill, however, for all the ammunition used is dummy material. Initiative and leadership are required in this work. Situations arising in the problems furnished by the War Department call for quick thinking and immediate action.

Here our typical cadet finds extended order drill interesting and instructive.

The Cadet Officer using the field glasses was Captain Woodrow Wylie, U. S. Army, who participated in the fight on Bataan.

The cadet about to insert the cartridge in his rifle is Lieut.-Colonel Milton Moran, U. S. Marine Air Corps. He has participated in considerable action in the South Pacific.

* Eating — an always-popular "sport" with Harlan and his fellow cadets! Meal time is always a time for good food and good fellowship.

The Faculty Officer at the head of the table is Captain Robert D. Hepler, assistant dean. The lady is his wife, Mrs. Beth Hepler, the academy's hostess and social director.

FOLLOWING the morning classes comes lunch time and our cadet is ready to eat. Academy menus are always varied and pleasing. Meals are carefully planned to suit the needs of all cadets. They are healthful and nutritious and just what active, hard-working boys require. Meal times are at 7:00 in the morning, 12:10 and 6:10. This schedule is varied only on Sunday, when dinner becomes a more elaborate meal served at 12:30.

After dinner there is a recreation period during which Harlan and other cadets may do pretty much as they choose. The recreation room is a popular place at this time.

* Maybe Harlan is "behind the 8-ball" here! Like all other cadets he takes part in zestful competition in the recreation room.

* The television set in the recreation room enables cadets to enjoy their favorite programs.

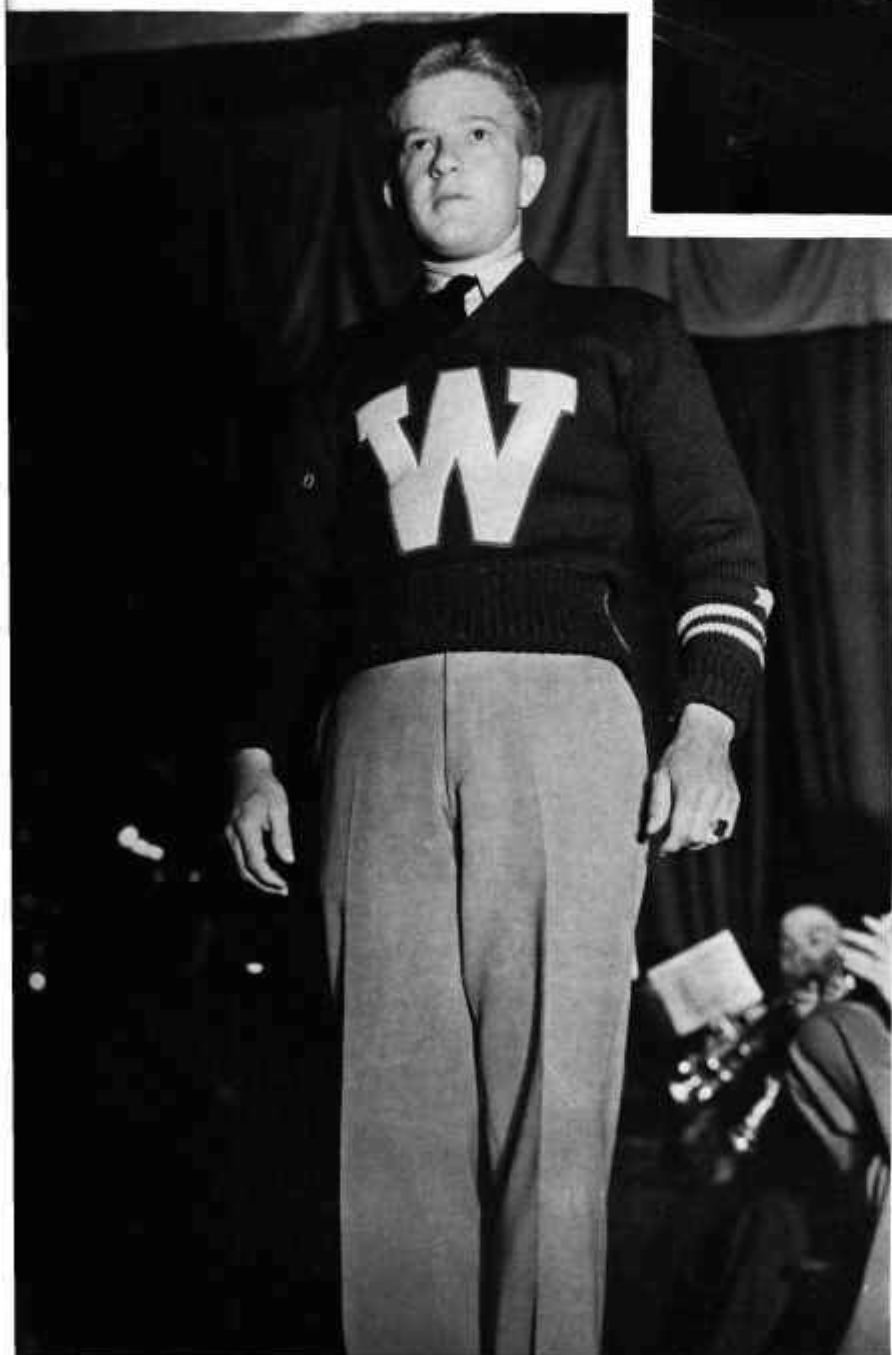

THE recreation room proves a haven of rest, relaxation and zestful indoor competition. Pool, billiard and ping-pong tables are provided. A few try their hand at bridge, while others read, or relax in comfortable chairs.

* (Right) Our friend attends a chapel period, held twice each week.

* (Below) "We must get in there and fight!" says Harlan as he makes a short "pep" talk on the eve of a game.

CADET HARLAN attends interesting, informative and inspirational meetings in the chapel, immediately before lunch on Wednesdays and Saturdays. These meetings are conducted by the Academy Chaplain, but are not strictly religious. Travel talks, health lectures, scientific demonstrations and short sermons, presented by outstanding speakers, are frequently on the program. The service is opened with a hymn, prayer and responsive readings, and closed with the singing of "Wentworth," the Academy song.

"Pep" meetings, preceding important athletic contests, are also held in the chapel. These are always occasions of great fun. Students and faculty make rousing speeches. The cadet band furnishes gay, martial music and everyone anticipates the big game on the morrow. Athletic contests are important recreational events. Every cadet attends them.

* While a majority of the faculty members live in the barracks with cadets, some live in residences such as this on the campus.

* All shined up for Sunday inspection.

* Our Cadet receives personal attention from a faculty member in the library.

In this picture, the Tactical Officer, James Simmons, graduate of Wentworth, is now a Lieut. Col. in the United States Army. He participated in the capture of Attu and Kwelelin.

Next to him, Lieutenant Orman, paratrooper, who took part in the Sicilian campaign and the capture of Naples. On the right, Captain James L. Slet, Army Aviator.

PERSONAL attention is not confined to the classroom nor to the evening study periods. Harlan and many other cadets seek assistance in the spacious Academy library. The faculty officer in charge is always ready and willing to help any student, no matter what his problem. Whatever the subject, the faculty officer is qualified to give the guidance needed.

Wentworth's library is one of the most important places on the campus. It contains more than 8,000 books on nearly every subject one could imagine. Reference books include the famous Oxford English Dictionary and many sets of encyclopedia.

* Herlan plays football—and mighty well, too! No wonder! His uncle was an All-American at Yale.

* In winter months our boy turns his attention to basketball and other indoor sports.

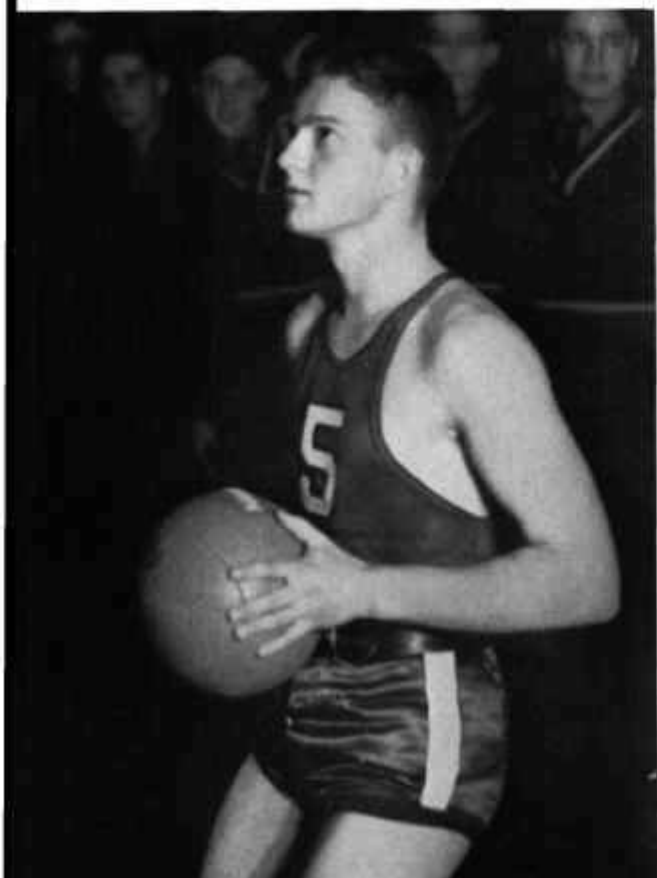

TRAINING for leadership is important on the football field as well as everywhere else at Wentworth. More than fifty cadets answer the varsity call each year and large squads turn out for company teams. All players receive intensive training, both in the art of the game and in clean sportsmanship.

Football ranks as the number one sport, and the Red Dragon elevens are consistent winners. The fine spirit of players and corps is credited with being a strong determining factor in every contest.

In the winter months basketball comes into the spotlight. Again there are the varsity and company teams and a place for every cadet who desires to play. Home games are played in the spacious gymnasium where there are two courts and ample space for spectators.

Wentworth is a member of the Junior College Interstate conference, an athletic association numbering six schools as members. The Wentworth High School teams are members of the Pony Express Conference of Western Missouri. Almost every major and minor sports are on the Wentworth program—all played under competent coaches—and every cadet is required to participate.

*The gymnasium is 220 x 55 feet. It contains two regular basket ball courts, a large stage, a swimming pool 20 x 60 feet, locker rooms, showers and gymnastic equipment.

* Here our man-in-the-making is ready for his daily plunge in the pool.

THE sparkling, crystal-clear water of the swimming pool is inviting to cadets the year round. The pool is of regulation size (20x60) and is the scene of frequent water sports and aquatic meets. It is the purpose to teach every cadet to swim well. The water is warmed to a healthful temperature and kept pure by efficient filtration and chemical treatment.

* (Above) Hi-dee-hol Harlan and his friends tune in a radio program during the recreation period immediately following the evening meal.

* The orchestra provides musical diversion both for members of the group and the corps.

* (Below) Perfect study conditions prevail in Harlan's room. (Note the latest type of reading lamp.)

Just before the evening study period is the favorite tune-in time for Cadet Harlan and other radio devotees. Permission to have a radio in the room is regarded a privilege, the abuse of which causes the student to lose this favor.

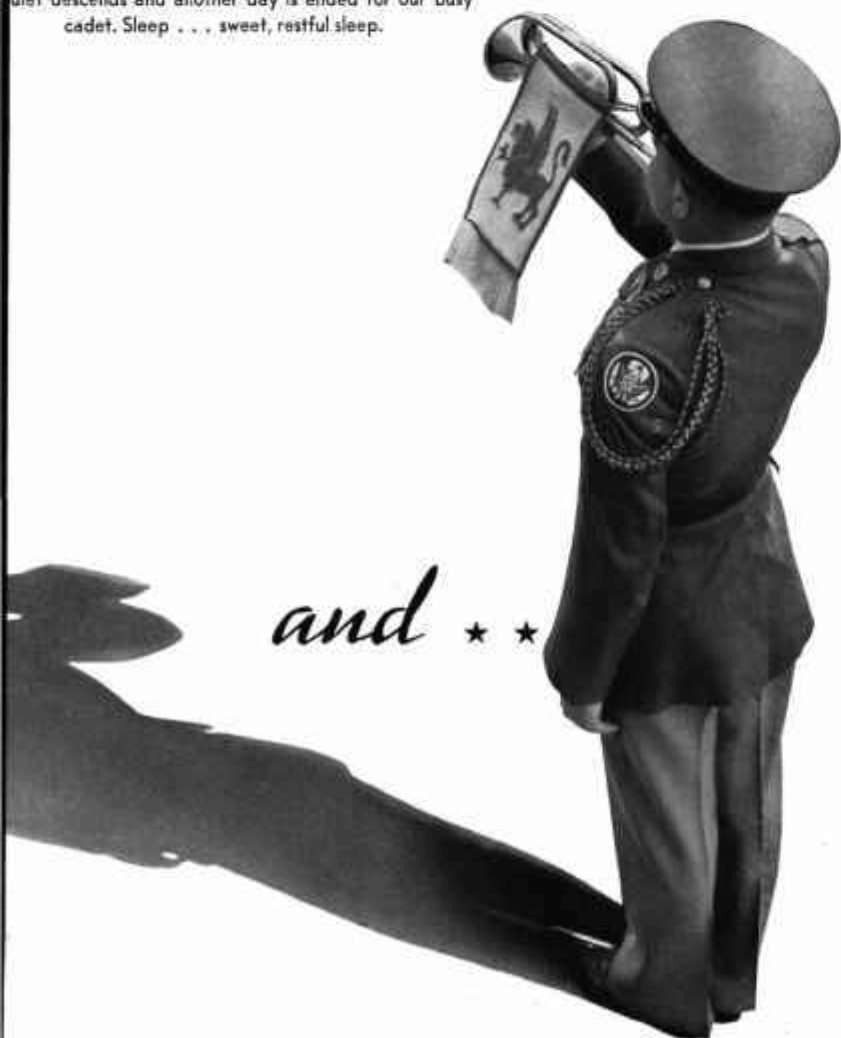

After thirty-five minutes of recreation following the supper hour, evening study is begun at 7 o'clock. Each cadet retires to his own room for a two-hour period of quiet. There is no stuffy, noisy hall in which cadets are confined. Instead, individual initiative is encouraged. Faculty officers are in constant attendance throughout the period, giving advice where it is needed and encouragement at all times.

TAPS, at which time all lights must be turned out and all cadets remain quiet, is sounded at 10 o'clock. The soft notes of the bugle call to close the activities of an eventful day and the peace of slumber envelops healthy young bodies until another dawn.

Quiet descends and another day is ended for our busy cadet. Sleep . . . sweet, restful sleep.

A well organized program of instruction in social usage is a required course for all students, and advanced classes are available for those who desire them.

Ease of manner in any situation thus becomes natural to a Wentworth Cadet. Many occasions such as these pictured here afford ample opportunity for the Cadets to practice their social graces.

WENTWORTH UNIFORMS

The Wentworth uniforms are made of the finest materials. Beautifully fitted, they are suitable for every occasion, and they include every item a cadet may need.

* Fatigue with and without Combat Jacket the athletic uniform.

* The coveralls field uniform—cadet full dress and raincoat—the cadet fatigue uniform with battle jacket.

The purpose of this book has been to give you an accurate, but necessarily inadequate glimpse of the Wentworth Military Academy and cadet life. In order fully to appreciate the Academy, it will be necessary for you to visit the campus in person; see the beautiful grounds and buildings and meet members of the faculty. The Administration offices are open the year 'round and your visit will be welcomed at any time.

SUMMER SCHOOL—A military summer school and camp of 8 weeks duration begins in early June. Activities are divided equally between scholastic work and recreation. Instruction is on a tutorial basis and nearly any subject may be taken.

MEMORIES OF 1953-54

September 6—Looks like things are perking up around here again. About half of this year's new cadets arrived for registration and processing.

September 7—New boys still arriving. No sooner do they get their military clothing issued to them, they get into uniform. The soldier suits give the newcomers a new look, the kind that girls like.

September 8—I draw James Fillmore of Wichita Falls, Tex., for my roommate. He seems to be O.K., and I know that we are going to get along swell.

September 9—Kelly D. Shannon, a genial lad from Santa Fe, N. M., has been announced as cadet battalion commander. He's been around here long enough to know the ropes, and I know he'll do a good job.

September 10—I decided to try out for The Trumpeter. Who knows, I might even be editor some day.

September 11—The first classes were held today. Leave it to me to sign up for the rough courses. Oh well, I guess I will just have to settle down after that three months vacation.

September 12—Seventy-six cadets are trying out for the varsity football teams. The high school squad looks particularly sharp in the workouts, and Coach Jean Madden seems to have gobs of enthusiasm.

September 13—Bill Braun, superintendent of grounds, today told me that his department carried out a $25,000 improvement program during the summer. His workmen used 500 gallons of paint to beautify the place.

September 14—Mrs. Arthur W. Hodges, dramatics coach this year, served a picnic supper at her home to returning members of last year's drama club. Naturally, I attended the party and had a wonderful time.

September 15—I learned today that Gill C. Evans' dad, Dr. Luther H. Evans, has been selected to be Director General of the U. N. Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization. He formerly headed the Library of Congress. Congratulations to your dad, Gill!

September 16—Capt. V. M. Willoughby, alumni secretary, announced today that a queen contest would be held in connection with this year's homecoming celebration. This will mark the first time in many years that Wentworth is having a homecoming queen.

September 17—Mrs. Hildegard Harper, wife of Capt. Max Harper, became a U. S. citizen in a ceremony before U. S. Judge Richard S. Duncan in Kansas City.

September 18—The public relations office today disclosed that there are 67 Missourians registered here this year, the largest from any state. I am one of the nine youths here from Oklahoma.

September 19—I rated my first permit of the year tonight. Didn't do much exciting though, as the girl I dated last year is now attending William Woods college and I have not yet selected another girl to pal around with this year.

September 20—Thirty-two cadets enrolled in the Advanced I class went to Ft. Leavenworth for medical examinations.

September 21—Although the annual Wentworth Show in Kansas City is five months away, Colonel Wikoff is already scouting around for talent. I'll have to tell him about Fillmore and his organ playing. My roomie should be given a good spot in the show, at least I think so.

September 22—For the first time in the school's history we have a junior high school football team. Capt. Jim Wikoff is the coach. The squad is to play a regular schedule with schools in this area.

September 23—I have a book report coming up in English IV on the first of the month, so I spent an hour browsing in the library for a suitable selection. I hope Capt. Canning approves the book I have picked.

September 24—Three letters today, including one from Durant, Okla. Now why can't the postman do this for me every day!

September 25—Major Brown passed my military haircut. Another thing off my mind.

September 26—Colonel Wikoff was in a good humor in class today, a good thing too, because I did not put in the time that I should have in preparing for his class.

September 27—Watched TV in the rec. room this afternoon. The first time that I have done this in a coon's age.

September 28—Capt. Canning was on the warpath today, but I escaped his wrath as I knew the answers to the questions he asked me.

September 29—Bill Dimmitt is trying to interest me in a blind date at Cotter college for this coming weekend. Sounds interesting. I may try it.

September 30—One month gone by. Eight more to go, and I hope they go by as quickly as this one.

October 1—Today was a usual Thursday with late breakfast and first athletic period omitted. The day started the right way, as we had hot cakes and sausages for the morning meal, and that suited me fine.

October 2—The Junior College team dropped its football game to Burlington, Ia., this evening, but then the Iowans are loaded this year.

October 3—The prep Dragons battled to a tie in their first PEC game. Larry Phillips and his band played at the first dance.

October 4—The usual Sunday inspection and parade. I took advantage of my free time and saw a double bill at the Main Street Theatre.

October 5—Blue Monday and hard to take after a relaxing weekend.

October 6—At today's assembly the cadets who won Honor Society membership on the basis of last semester's work were awarded their certificates. Max Oreamuno talked on his country, Costa Rica, before the local Rotary club.

October 7—Boy the homework! Can't even take time out to make any long entries in this journal.

October 8—Late breakfast today and the second athletic period omitted.

October 9—Two drill periods kept us busy this afternoon. Afterwards I went downtown on a shopping expedition.

October 10—Called the folks and learned Dad is trading cars again. Even promised to let me drive it some at Christmas time.

October 11—Lt. Vance Frick, Old Boy who was shot down and made a POW while on a mission over Korea, was honored at parade today.

October 12—Dancing classes started this evening. This is the second year that I am taking the dancing course, chiefly because I like the cute little tricks who act as partners.

October 13—The instructors were goodhearted today and went easy on the homework. Naturally, I signed out for a permit and took in a movie.

October 14—Lt. Vance Frick discussed his experiences as a prisoner of war of the Reds at today's assembly.

October 15—A Thursday, so we were permitted to sleep an hour longer.

October 16—We had an exciting game here this evening, even if St. Joe Central poured it on the Junior Dragons, 18-6.

October 17—Capt. Etter participated in a panel discussion devoted to the teaching of the biological sciences at a meeting at the University of Missouri.

October 18—A red-letter day. Yes, mother and dad came up to visit me. After parade they drove my roommate and me to Kansas City where we stashed away two of the biggest steaks the Hotel Continental chef could find.

October 19—The junior high gridders beat Richmond, 31-0. Captain Wikoff was quite elated. He expected to win but not by such a lopsided score.

October 20—I learned today that Capt. Leo Ellis has a twin brother living in town. That explains why I thought I have seen the Captain in civies uptown so many times this month.

October 21—Drill and then free time. I decided to take a nap instead of doing anything exciting.

October 22—The first stop day was held today, something that all the cadets really look forward to, I just relaxed and had fun.

October 23—Colonel Sellers addressed the Masons at Mexico, Mo. Also the high school grid squad edged Northtown 7-6 in a very tense game.

October 24—The J. C. football team played a wonderful game against Principia, but the Indians were too tough and clipped the Dragons 21-7.

October 25—Sunday inspection, and Major Brown decided to give C Company the works today.

October 26—We had our third dancing lesson this evening and I had fun. Mrs. Hepler is teaching us the Bunny Hop in addition to the other steps. I don't make a very pretty bunny, but I sure try to hop like one.

October 27—Work, work, work. All this effort better pay off when the grades for the six-weeks grading period are published.

October 28—We were very much disappointed today when a scheduled lyceum act did not show up.

October 29—Late breakfast, late classes, and no activity period. Although I like the extra sleep, these Thursdays seem much longer than other days.

October 30—All cadets are hepped up about Dad's Day which will be held here tomorrow. I am looking forward to drilling my pater. He can make it very easy for himself, if he slips me an extra five dollars though.

October 31—Dad's Day was a huge success. After giving dads a workout on the drill field, taking them to class, and then making them stand retreat, we enjoyed each other's company at the father-son banquet. Dad and I were together at the football game that followed. He was quite pleased that he could sit with me in the press box where I was helping to cover the game.

November 1—Sunday! Church, followed by a fried chicken luncheon, and then the regular full dress parade. I just relaxed in my room after parade, reading and listening to the radio.

November 2—Three tests today. Boy, those teachers can really think up dillies!

November 3—Extended order drill was on today's schedule. It really takes a lot of thinking to get those formations right. My platoon did the best job, according to Lt. Col. Arthur W. Hodges.

November 4—Just six weeks before Christmas furlough. I am going to have to be on my good behavior and avoid picking up any demerits during the next few weeks.

November 5—Late breakfast and a delayed schedule. Outside of that everything was normal.

November 6—The postman brought me a box of goodies from home. The word is out, and consequently I have been getting quite a few visitors here this evening. No wonder, all the boys like Mom's date-nut cookies.

November 7—Drill, and the weatherman fouled us up. It turned cold during the night and we really had to keep moving to keep warm.

November 8—Sunday, but I'll spend my free time right on the campus, as I am broke after taking that new doll to the movies last night.

November 9—The instructors poured it on. They just wanted to make certain that we were following through with the assignments they made over the weekend. I did fairly well except in biology.

November 10—The cadets are beginning to count the days before Christmas. Just 38 days till we get out.

November 11—Went to the barber shop this afternoon and let Barb Keeney work me over. Hope my friends can still recognize me!

November 12—A pep meeting was held after supper. Captain Willoughby talked to the corps and the cheer leaders tried to pep up the corps.

November 13—Another letter from home today. It sure does a fellow good to hear about the things that are going on down in Oklahoma.

November 14—I had two free periods today, my regular free period, and then again an extra one when my English teacher decided to stay home for a couple of days to doctor his cold.

November 15—Everyone is conjecturing about the special orders. I hope that I am in line for a promotion. Should be!

November 16—Went over to the dispensary to chat with the Duchess, and I enjoyed giving her collection of antiques the once over. I'll have to make sure that mother gets to see some of the items, as she too is a collector.

November 17—I went swimming today. I sure like that pool. I am not good enough for one of the varsity teams, but I do enjoy recreational swimming.

November 18—Mrs. Hepler announced today that she is now taking train and plane reservations for Christmas furlough.

November 19—Nut rolls, the boys love 'em, for breakfast today.

November 20—The Company all-stars and Company B gridders, the intramural champs, fought to a 6-6 standstill this afternoon.

November 21—I went downtown today to get started on my Christmas shopping this afternoon. I want to complete all my buying before I leave on the furlough, so I can have more time to enjoy myself at home.

November 22—The weekly parade rolls around in a hurry. After the big parade, I went downtown and took in a cowboy movie featuring Roy Rogers.

November 23—Today marks the fourth straight day that I have been able to go along without picking up a single demerit.

November 24—The weather has taken a turn for the worse. Looks like snow. Hope it holds up till after homecoming.

November 25—Called mother and dad today. They are going to be down soon. Maybe I can give them an idea or two on what I would like to have for Christmas.

November 26—Borrowed Capt. Willoughby's Esquire and decided to read a few articles during activity period. This is one of the few times that I can do such light reading, for we have to stick to text books during the study periods.

November 27—Jim Murray and I spent considerable time in the rec. room admiring the many trophies that various Wentworth teams have won in sports events over a period of years.

November 28—I helped the roommate straighten up the place for tomorrow's inspection, just in case Major Brown does the inspecting; he never misses a thing.

November 29—Took the day in its stride, since I have worked hard lately. Nothing unusual, just a good day.

November 30—The last day of the month. Looking back, I certainly have enjoyed the last three months and I know that most of the cadets feel the way I do about life here on the campus.

December 1—The Military Ball queen contest starts today. I plan to enter my girl's picture. As beautiful as she is, she certainly should have an excellent chance of winning.

December 2—Mel Fisher and Tom Anderson, two of the college grid squad stalwarts, have been named to the Interstate Conference all-star team.

December 3—Truman Bowzer was elected president of the North Missouri club. He's a live wire and should make a good officer.

December 4—Master Sergeant George E. Lewis has been assigned here as assistant to Colonel Hodges.

December 5—It was announced today that Bermuda has been chosen as the spot for this year's educational tour. Wonder if I can get Dad to sign me up for the tour. Surely, there is no harm trying.

December 6—The preps won the championship in the fourth annual high school cage tournament at Warrensburg last night when they beat Clinton 32-23 in the final game in the Green Division.

December 7—Capt. Wikoff took his college Money and Banking class to Kansas City for a tour of the First National Bank. The cadets were allowed to hold a stack of bills amounting to $100,000, and they also saw a $5,000 bill, rare experiences for most people.

December 8—Bill Braun and his crew are putting up the holiday decorations and trimming the Christmas tree in front of the Administration Building. I really am getting Christmas minded now.

December 9—The Wentworth college basketball team tripped Highland, Kans., Jr. College, 47-43. Jackie Olds led the scoring with 14 points.

December 10—The Midgets bowled over Hardin 38-9, in their season's debut.

December 11—I am one of the 143 cadets who made the honor roll for the second six weeks grading period. I was a little worried, but Capt. Etter came through with that S in biology and that cinched the deal.

December 12—Captain Madden played the role of Santa Claus at tonight's Christmas dance. His girl from Kansas City was down here and she got a big bang out of him in the Santa role.

December 13—The last parade before the Christmas holidays. Next week I'll be home enjoying Mom's cooking again and driving Dad's new car.

December 14—I picked up a bad cold, so I hiked over to the hospital to get doctored up.

December 15—Picked up my civilian clothing at the tailor's shop. I think I'll wear sport clothes on the trip home. Of course, I'll take my blues along, just in case the girl friend wants to show me off at some of the Christmas parties we are going to.

December 16—A math test tomorrow, so I'd better do some hard concentrating tonight.

December 17—We had our Christmas dinner this evening. Everyone was in a happy frame of mind. Who could be otherwise at a time like this?

December 18—Homeward bound. Boy, am I glad to be headed for good ole Oklahoma. I'll have a long layover in Kansas City, so I think I'll take in a movie or two to pass the time away. I'll reach the old hometown about 4:30 tomorrow morning—a rather ungodly hour, if you ask me. But despite the hour, I know the folks will be at the station to meet me. So, if I don't see any of you, here's a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

January 5—Most of us made it back in time for retreat formation. Everyone reported a wonderful time. Now to buckle down to work again.

January 6—Dr. Charles N. Kimball of the Midwest Research Institute of Kansas City spoke at assembly, giving us the lowdown on careers in various fields of science.

January 7—It was announced that Capt. John Readecker was resigning as coach of the college football team so that he could devote more time to direction of the school's intramural sports program.

January 8—Next major event is the Military Ball, but before we can look forward with any pleasure to that event, there are the semester exams to be reckoned with.

January 9—An ambitious Trumpeter reporter broke down the college cage roster and came up with the information that eight states are represented on this year's team membership.

January 10—After parade I returned to the barracks intending to take a cat-nap. Instead, I slept up until supper time. I guess I really needed the rest.

January 11—Two instructors reminded us about term papers due. Now I wish that I had completed mine before the Christmas holidays.

January 12—I felt that a permit would do me good, so I put in for one and then took in a movie.

January 13—The Trumpeter was published today, and I was pleased to note that two of my stories were printed in this edition.

January 14—The Royal Scots, a singing group, appeared here today in a program of folk songs, American ballads, and novelty vocals.

January 15—The Military Ball queen contest ended today. All companies are represented in the competition. Hope my girl wins.

January 16—The big news today is that Tommy Reed and his orchestra will play for the Military Ball. I heard him play in Chicago last summer, and I know the cadets will enjoy his music.

January 17—The new summer school catalog is out and it contains many improvements over last year's books.

January 18—It's definite. My roommate, Jim Fillmore, will be featured in a special organ number at the big Wentworth show in Kansas City next month.

January 19—Capt. Leo Ellis said today that the prep squad would compete in the Warrensburg regional basketball tournament, March 2-6.

January 20—Tactical Officer Kyle Klemme was commissioned at today's assembly, Col. Hodges and Maj. Brown doing the honors. It's Second Lieutenant Klemme now.

January 21—A box of goodies from home today, and the package was chuck-full of my favorites. Good to know that Mom still thinks of me.

January 22—Cadet Max Oreamuno talked about his native Costa Rica at a Rotary club in Braymer, Mo. Col. Wikoff reports that Max did a very outstanding job in talking before the group.

January 23—Dal Stallard will again be the emcee when Radio Station KCMO broadcasts the Military Ball . . . My last semester exam today. Hot dog!

January 24—Nineteen new cadets registered for the second semester today, and it did not take them long to become integrated into the corps.

January 25—Capt. L. D. Romani, Sesser, Ill., joined the staff today, replacing Capt. Leroy Carroll as Professor of Spanish.

January 26—Col. L. B. Wikoff made two talks at Springfield, Mo., today, one before the Rotary club and the other before a Wentworth Alumni club there.

January 27—Will Rogers, Jr., is picking this year's queens. Tomorrow he will be designated a Wentworth alumnus in a special ceremony at Kansas City, with Col. L. B. Wikoff, inducting him into the Wentworth association.

January 28—The big news break on the queens selected by Will Rogers, and the queen of queens is none other than pretty Dee Park.

January 29—Tired. I can't wait to hit the sack, but I guess everyone feels that way sometimes.

January 30—Hamburgers for supper. Fudgicles for dessert. I gave my ice cream bar to Bobby Seitz.

January 31—Made reservations for the family for the Military Ball weekend. The folks haven't missed a Military Ball since I've been here. They think it's a grand party, and I agree.

February 1—Maj. Frank W. Brown and Maj. Dallas C. Buck went to Kansas City to speak at a dinner-meeting of the Wentworth Parents club there.

February 2—Seven cadets received bids to join the Phi Theta Kappa fraternity. The cadets who rated the invitations include Frederick Bastron, Richard Jahn, William H. Johnson, Rod Dale Leech, Byron Marsh, Jay Lawrence Milne, and Thomas Stewart.

February 3—William Simon, manager of the Starlight Theatre in Kansas City, spoke to the corps, stressing the importance of diplomacy in dealing with people.

February 4—The dramatics group presented a one-act play in the gymnasium tonight. It was an old-fashioned melodrama entitled, "Curse You, Jack Dalton."

February 5—I found out today that I made the first semester honor roll. That should make the folks happy.

February 6—The Military Ball came off in fine shape. Tommy Reed and his orchestra played for the big dance.

February 7—Parade was a half an hour later today to give visitors a chance to get fed downtown. A tea in honor of the military ball queens was held in the parlors after the parade.

February 8—It was rough settling down to class routine after two days of social activities. Fortunately, the instructors were at the ball too and as a result they were not too hard on us. I'll bet though, they start cracking the whip tomorrow.

February 9—Capt. Spence McClain and his Indian Dancers put on two performances for public school children at Independence, Mo.

February 10—The Advanced II military class started to meet at 7:00 a.m. Glad I'm not in that class. I'd never make it that early.

February 11—We're all concentrating on perfecting our acts for the big Wentworth show in Kansas City on February 20. I'm to appear in a hand-to-hand combat act.

February 12—I spent most of my free time in the library working up a special report for Capt. Canning's English class.

February 13—Most of the drill period was devoted to polishing up the military acts for the big show in Kansas City a week from tonight.

February 14—took in a movie, and then went to the Victory cafe where I treated myself to a T-bone.

February 15—The new camp catalog arrived here today. Sure is a nice job and should help many youngsters decide to register for the academy's summer camp.

February 16—Forty-eight cadets were named to the Wentworth Honor Society. Lucky boys, but then I guess they worked hard to make the grade.

February 17—Made my reservation today for pullman space for spring furlough next month. It pays to do these things early.

February 18—The prep cagers ended their season with a 48-44 victory over St. Joe Benton, a win which gives them third place in the Pony Express Conference.

February 19—Sergeant George Lewis returned to duty after being hospitalized in Kansas City following a traffic mishap.

February 20—The corps put on a fine show before 6,000 spectators in Kansas City. It was a grand party, but we sure were tired when the buses got us back to Lexington.

February 21—I'm completely bushed. Instead of going anywhere after parade, I took a two-hour nap.

February 22—Dad surprised me by dropping in for a short visit. He was in Kansas City on a business trip and decided to drop by and visit with me a while.

February 23—Just another day. Nothing unusual to record.

February 24—Cadets who attend the Methodist church were guests of the official board of the church at a chili supper. I understand that over 90 cadets attended the big feed.

February 25—Captain Readecker announced that the Wentworth college basketball team has drawn Joplin as its first opponent in the regional tournament at Jefferson City early next week.

February 26—I did a little window shopping downtown, looking over the sports clothes. Dad says I can buy a new sport coat for spring furlough.

February 27—After drill I watched some of the Company C boys work out on the track. If you ask me, I think we're going to have a good high school track team.

February 28—I went out to the country club and indulged in a little horseback riding. The horse and I got along swell.

March 1—Today was the usual Monday, with the exception that this being March 1, all cadets realize that spring furlough is just around the corner.

March 2—Nothing much today, except a few snow flurries. Come to think of it, we have had very little snow this winter. In fact, we have had a very mild winter.

March 3—Warren Mollencamp, former old boy who served as pilot with the Marine Corps during the war, spoke on his war experiences at today's assembly.

March 4—The rifle team left for Boonville to participate in the Little Camp Perry matches, and Colonel Wikoff and a group of cadets left today on the school's educational tour to Bermuda.

March 5—Bill Rhoades and Dick Hudson were named to the Pony Express conference all-star basketball team.

March 6—The rifle team returned to the campus. It was announced that Jim Frush won two medals for his excellent marksmanship.

March 7—Lynne Anderson and I had a date with a couple of Kansas City girls after parade. We went to the movie and then took the girls strolling. An interesting diversion for a change.

March 8—Major Buck left today for the annual meeting of the American Association of Junior Colleges, being held this year in St. Louis. A former member of the Canadian Mounted Police briefed us on the duties of the mounties at today's assembly.

March 9—I learned today that Tactical Officer Earl F. Caster has received an alternate appointment to West Point. Good! He should make an excellent army officer.

March 10—Well, I have just finished packing and I am ready for the "go" signal tomorrow when spring furlough starts.

March 11—Homeward bound again. Is everybody happy?

March 16—Spring furlough ended this evening. There is much to be done between now and the time that we go home at the end of this school year.

March 17—Company basketball letters were awarded and Ed Ellis, Old Boy who is now coach at Wyandotte High school in Kansas City, Kans., discussed his years as a cadet at Wentworth.

March 18—Late breakfast and activity period omitted. Lots of activity on the track this afternoon, with both the college and high school men getting workouts on the cinder path.

March 19—Put in for a permit and took in a show. Captains Madden and Romani sat in front of me. They offered me some of the popcorn they were munching.

March 20—I liked Major Stafford's sermon at chapel today. I think it was his best yet this year.

March 21—This is a special day, my birthday. Was I surprised at supper time to discover that the folks had arranged with Mrs. Hepler to have a big cake at my table.

March 22—Work, work, work. The instructors poured it on today.

March 23—Still work, work, work. Anyway, I took a permit but remained in the barracks to study and I accomplished a lot.

March 24—Our own music department under Captain Johnson's direction put on today's assembly and they came through on a very enjoyable program. I didn't realize we had so much talent in this year's cadet corps.

March 25—The chapel construction is to start this month. Colonel Wikoff said that the contract was let today to the same firm that built our scholastic building.

March 26—Drill was a little rugged, but then we are getting ready for the annual government inspection and the military department is not trusting to chance. They are making certain that we pass with flying colors.

March 27—Took a permit and watched television programs in the "Rec. Room." Imogene Coca sure was good tonight as was her colleague, Sid Caesar.

March 28—Mrs. Brown's mother died here this morning and the corps is sad about it.

March 29—Colonel Sellers is in Washington attending the annual military school conference which opened today. He and Mrs. Sellers and son Fred plan to tour Virginia and Kentucky before they return to the campus.

March 30—Phi Theta Kappa chapter here sponsored the showing of an Italian movie, "The Fish Peddler and the Lady."

March 31—Spring sports coaches were announced today and the winter letter awards were given out. Looks like Captain Wikoff is going to have to try to put up with me, for I am trying out for a varsity tennis berth.

April 1—Strong rumor has it that Capt. Jean Madden is to be married this summer. We didn't think he would remain a bachelor for long.

April 2—The Military Department has been working us hard because of the annual Government Inspection which starts Monday.

April 3—Spent most of the day scrubbing and polishing the floor in my room. Everything has to be spic-and-span for Monday and Tuesday.

April 4—Instead of a parade we put on a review. Not many parents were down, as it was announced earlier that we would have very little free time today.

April 5—Well, the inspectors gave us a work-out today. Hope tomorrow's inspection program goes as smoothly as today's.

April 6—The inspection ended at noon. We were told we did a swell job. We were given the afternoon and evening off as a reward for our fine performances the past two days.

April 7—Thirty major sports letter-winners were admitted to the two "W" clubs. The lettermen rehearsed the 1954 Whiz Bang Follies in the gym this evening in preparation for their big show Friday evening.

April 8—Four eight-boy cabins are now being erected in the woods on the southeast corner of the campus for use by campers this summer.

April 9—You should have seen the chorus line in tonight's "W" club show. The fellows sure made a big hit with the crowd in their girlie-girlie outfits.

April 10—Quite a few college girls were on hand for the apron-overalls dance. I had a good time. I particularly enjoyed doing the Bunny Hop.

April 11—The college banking class made a tour of the Lexington Savings Trust Co. First time I've ever been inside a bank vault.

April 12—I went down to check the progress being made on the construction of the new outdoor rifle range. It is to be used for firing all the infantry weapons.

April 13—Dick Meyer, our popular dining hall manager, has been promoted, being sent to Indianapolis, where he will supervise eight cafeterias. James L. Donahue, who formerly managed the coffee shop at the Hotel Muehlebach in Kansas City, is replacing him.

April 14—Jack Olds made the Interstate conference basketball all-star team. Gordon Harris rated an honorable mention.

April 15—Picture Day! The school photographer was here today to shoot various group pictures for the 1953-54 viewbook. I happened to be in three of the pictures.

April 16—The preps lost a track meet to William Chrisman, despite the fact that Wentworth captured eight of the fourteen events.

April 17—The Kansas Club held its annual organizational meeting at the Victory cafe. Claude Heath was elected president. Mike Bartlett and his electric guitar and Todd White and his accordion provided the entertainment.

April 18—Mom and Dad were here and attended the Easter services with me at the Presbyterian church. We drove over to the Elms at Excelsior Springs for dinner after parade.

April 19—Major Buck was elected president of the Lexington Rotary club. Captain Wikoff was selected to serve as a board member.

April 20—The University of Missouri Junior college committee was here on an inspection tour. I am sure they were pleased with what they saw.

April 21—Dad wrote and said that he has enrolled me for next year, which, of course, is O.K. with me.

April 22—Colonel Wikoff is representing Wentworth at a meeting of the Private Schools association at Chattanooga, Tenn. Wish I could be there with him.

April 23—The college basketball team couldn't get together on a team captain for next year. They finally selected three captains—Pat Hannan, Dick Mittelstadt and Lee Grube.

April 24—Took a permit, but I did nothing exciting. I met Major Stafford while downtown, and he invited me over to the Auditorium cafe where he treated me to a coke.

April 25—Commencement invitations have gone on sale at the Q.M. It's hard to realize that the end of school is just a little over a month away.

April 26—The usual routine, classes, athletics and study. Another Monday and Mondays are usually rough days for me.

April 27—Received a special delivery from home. The letter contained a check for ten bucks from Dad. I wrote for the money so that I could buy a Mother's Day gift.

April 28—Captain Pirhalla acted as campus tour conductor for a group of high school children from Sugar Creek.

April 29—Played tennis with Dick Dow. He beat me, 6-2, 6-4.

April 30—Some of The Trumpeter staff members went to Columbia today to attend the annual meeting of the Missouri College Press association at the University of Missouri.

May 1—Saturday, and another day of drill. My platoon was the best, of course.

May 2—It is beginning to get hot. The parade went off in good fashion, but as yet we don't know the results of the judging of the lines.

May 3—We had a stop day today, and most of the cadets took advantage of the break to take in a picture show. It was a good Who-Dunnit and I enjoyed it tremendously.

May 4—Wednesday afternoon with the usual free time after drill. I went downtown to do some shopping.

May 5—We had a late breakfast today. They omitted the second athletic period, giving me more free time.

May 6—Got a letter from home today and the information that my brother bought a new car. He's going to be down next week, and we are going to take a ride into Kansas City.

May 7—Three tests today, and all of them lulus!

May 8—Have an essay to get in by tomorrow, so after drill I will concentrate on it so that I can meet the deadline.

May 9—My room passed Sunday inspection like a breeze, but for a while I was worried.

May 10—Another Monday and everything was as quiet as could be. May be the quiet before the storm, as the end of another grade period is close, and that means tests.

May 11—Today I helped Mrs. Gibbons carry some of her geraniums out to be planted in the pots by the love seat.

May 12—It is rumored that the end of school is near, but you can't tell it by our activities here. We are busier than ever.

May 13—Those April showers have sure brought about a change in the campus. The flowers, trees and grass are all looking very pretty in their new coat of green splashed with colors.

May 14—Captain Johnson is beginning to get the band ready for its concert at the end of the year. It is the first in the commencement activities scheduled.

May 15—The grape vine has it that Captain Finley will inspect, so the barracks is a beehive of activity. Boy, can he find the dirt! But a little elbow grease can take care of that.

May 16—My brother was down today and we took a trip to Kansas City in that new car. It sure drives like a dream.

May 17—The Trumpeter staff held its annual dinner at the Victory cafe. Yep, big steaks with all the trimmings.

May 18—A set of Special Orders came out today, making several cadets happy, for SO's usually mean promotions for those who are on the ball.

May 19—For drill today we practiced combat formations in preparation for next week's squad problem.

May 20—I wrote several letters today. That is something that must be done regularly if one hopes to get letters back from home.

May 21—Took a permit tonight and went to the movie. I sat next to Capt. George Simpson. He gave me a ride back to the barracks after the show.

May 22—Nothing new today—three classes, chapel, and then drill today. In passing by the Scholastic Bldg., I was impressed with the progress being made by the contractors who are building the new Memorial Chapel.

May 23—Went out to dinner with one of my friends whose parents were here for the day.

May 24—This is one of those days when nothing goes right. I got stuck twice, got to watch out for excess.

May 25—Another stop day, probably the last one of the year. They are very good morale builders.

May 26—Today we had a military problem which all the squads had to go through. We really killed that enemy.

May 27—Today I went swimming after the sixth period. It sure felt good after this hot day in uniform.

May 28—Took another permit, but this time I had too much studying to do, with finals on, so I remained in the barracks and worked like a demon.

May 29—We are now in the midst of commencement activities. Everyone is excited about going back home and enjoying a good vacation.

May 30—The baccalaureate service was held this morning and diplomas were presented to the grads this evening. I acted as an usher at the morning ceremony.

May 31—At last! Home! We are sorry to leave our many friends, but we know they will always think of us. The flag ceremony did not take long. Before we realized it Cadet Lt. Kelley Shannon yelled out "DIS-MISSED," and we are on our way home. See you next September, and as for the grads, we'll see you at future alumni meetings, we hope. Have a nice summer, gang! Boy it has been a great year!
