WENTWORTH MILITARY ACADEMY

STUDENT IDENTIFICATION
NOT FOR PROOF OF AGE

John Stabloner
NAME

1982-83

The single most important structure here at Wentworth is the cadet corps. Without it, Wentworth simply would not be. Each new year, the corps takes on a new personality because of the annual change in leadership but the one thing that never changes is the camaraderie. Unlike most other schools, the men at Wentworth truly live together. Every aspect of school life promotes team work which in turn develops everlasting bonds of friendship.

YESTERDAY AND TODAY

The Wentworth Military Academy of today is vastly different from the Wentworth of 1880. Enrollment has increased and numerous attractive buildings have been erected as they were needed.

In 1981 a Second Century Development Fund was initiated to update the campus needs. A building plan was started where the fire of August 7, 1975, mercilessly left only a shell of what was old "D" Company. Along with it, the band room, the rifle range, the military department, our maintenance department, and part of the administrative offices were lost.

Today with the support of alumni, parents and all of those who Wentworth holds a special meaning to, a new building is presently being erected.

Yet from year to year, Wentworth, as it always has, obtains one major goal: "To succeed in giving the best education it possibly can."

U.S. ARMY ROTC

MILITARY DEPARTMENT

Each Thursday, after classes, cadets attend drill from three to five o'clock. During this two hour time span, we learn military skills such as repelling, first aid, bayonet training, to the employment of the M-17 protective gas mask. The drill classes are prepared and taught by Military Science III and IV students, supervised by the Military Department. This gives the MS students a chance to teach a class to other cadets while receiving guidance from experienced military personnel. This is important, since most of our MS students are on their way to a commission as a 2nd Lieutenant in the United States Army. Drill is both a learning and teaching experience for all. Drill can be a lot of fun, too!

The Sellers-Wikoff Scholastic Building, built in 1940, is still turning out well educated cadets, the result of the ceaseless efforts of some of the best educators in the teaching field. The building houses two departments--high school, a four year preparatory course, and junior college, two years of liberal arts and sciences. Both are fully accredited by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

Adjoining the scholastic building is Wentworth's beautiful Memorial Chapel. Not only is the Chapel a place for cadets to periodically join together in worship, but it is also the place where assemblies are held. Assemblies consist of informational topics, honors, awards and entertainment.

Hey guys, we're late again!

Wonder what this assembly is about?

Glad that's over!

Classes are held Monday through Friday in the Sellers-Wikoff Scholastic Building starting at 7:50 in the morning. There are six periods a day, where a variety of courses are offered, many of which are required. The first four periods are in the morning, the last two in the afternoon. The morning classes are separated from afternoon classes by lunch, better known as DRC, and noon inspection. Cadets march in formation to the Quadrangle with their company, sounding off their mottos and chants.

When they reach the Quadrangle, Battalion Staff calls up the Corps and gives the order to Prepare for Inspection. Noon inspections consist of brass, shined shoes, appearance, uniform, hygiene and knowledge of "Fact Sheets". After inspection cadets march to the drum beat into the mess hall. After lunch comes the best part of the day for most cadets, "Mail Call".

Stop! Right There!

Don't drop it!

This is not a Wentworth belt buckle.

Zelaya, are you in trouble again?

Throughout over half a century the Wentworth purpose has remained unchanged. The ideals which led to the Academy's founding and which have carried it steadily forward, shine just as brightly today as ever: the desire to give each youth every opportunity to develop fully his own individual personality; the aim that every cadet shall acquire a keen sense of duty and responsibility, both to himself and toward others; that he shall have the mental and moral power to make accurate judgment between right and wrong and the physical power to stand by his convictions.

These high standards have dominated Wentworth for generations. But to maintain them and assure their full and continuous application, it has been found necessary to limit the enrollment. Wentworth today is a relatively small school--many times larger than in 1880, to be sure, yet small enough that every individual student is given the private attention so essential to his all-'round development.

The surrounding country affords a wealth of historically important Civil War sites and the town of Lexington itself retains much of the tradition of the old south. Here enthusiasm for the reminders of our country's glorious past is combined with the enthusiasm for modern adventure to promote the rapid development of the boy's mental, moral and physical resources.

Let me tell you about Farragut!

Some guys have all the luck!

Moments to remember

1 - 2 - 3 - Play

Do they have to play so loud?

The party's over.

What do you mean the party's over?

Me and my Teddy Bear

At 6:20 the bells ring to start another day at Wentworth Military Academy. Cadets start their day by washing their face, brushing their teeth and combing their hair. At 6:40 they march on to breakfast, which starts the official beginning of the new day. After breakfast, general details must be done and rooms must be cleaned. One of the basic aims of our system is to form personal habits of order. Each morning, cadets make their own beds, put their own clothes in order, and help roommates clean the room.

The Mess Hall is the melting pot of Wentworth. Here cadets, faculty, and other members of the school staff gather around the table to eat. Meals at Wentworth are still served in the traditional family style. The food is not prepared by the school any more; now a professional company, specializing in serving big institutions, cooks the food serving annually approximately 1,260 meals. Regardless of the changes created by the passing of the years one can still see Col. Sellers, Sr. sitting with his wife at the head table and every now and then grasping the microphone and relating to the Corps one of his moralizing stories.

Please send more money!

Will you accept this Queen entry?

Get that camera out of here!

Hurry!! Maximo is dying!!

Drink and be merry.

Up -- up and away

The Tower of Staff

And now for a peaceful moment

The favorite pastime of most cadets is recreation. The time is spent in various ways, such as visiting the snack bar, watching television, perhaps a soccer or football game on the practice fields, or just sleeping. On Monday, Wednesday and Friday afternoon the activity changes to mandatory recreational sports. The cadet has his choice of sports which includes volleyball, swimming, softball, physical training, basketball or tennis.

SPORTS

Sizable problems

Soccer at Wentworth this year was disappointing but never boring. Coached by Capt. Randy Mock and led by co-captains Al English and Chris Reed, the team had many fast and exciting games. The two most memorable games were the ones against Calvary Bible which Wentworth won and Central Methodist which the Dragons almost won. Ahead by four points in the first half, Central Methodist came back to win by one. All in all, the team worked very hard and carried high spirits despite bitter losses. High goalers were Francisco Sanchez and Salah Al-Arfaj.

What's that that just went by?

Lack of Experience

This year's football team was not a very successful one. The team was led by Chris George and Grant Rieger, who along with Richard Jorgensen and Andres Serrano were the only returning starters. The team was coached by Maj. Paul Butherus with Capt. Jay Allard as his assistant.

The average weight of the team was only about 150 pounds. Regardless of this adversity the team gave the parents a show by beating Kemper in a very close game on Parent Weekend. Honors went to end Darryl Griebel and center Garren Allard by the receiving of a certificate of Honorable Mention on the Central River All-Conference team.

Hold on to the ball, Hill.

Junior High Football

The junior high football team ended the season with a winning record of three wins, two losses and one tie. The team was coached by Capt. David Johnsen and led by its captains, John Maggard and Bill Sellers. The Dragons dominated the offensive and defensive lines because of their size and ability. The high scorers were Maggard, Sellers and David Crabtree. The reserve lettermen show promise for an excellent season next year.

The Junior High Basketball team had a lot of tough competition this year, but we were a very competitive team. High scorers were Ulsaker, T.A., Mooney, Liles, and Schetter. The most rebounds were snagged by Liles, Serrano, M., Lainez, and Ulsaker. Coach Wood taught us a lot of good plays that got us out of a number of tough situations, and gave us control of the ball. We were looking forward to a return of seasoned players next year.

Go Lainez!

I wonder if we'll get to play.

The Military Department at Wentworth plays the active role in the military training of all high school and college cadets in Leadership Development or Military Science. In addition to classroom training, the Military Department sponsors a Thursday afternoon drill which gives cadets "hands on" experience in activities such as first aid, water survival, and communications. Also cadets sometimes compete in recreational sports during drill.

Cadets can also take advantage of the Army's early commissioning program and in just two years be commissioned a Second Lieutenant. This year Wentworth commissioned 25 cadets - 12 were recognized as Distinguished Military Students.

Two cadets, Marc Thompson and Ike Skelton, completed airborne school. Also this year a Ranger Platoon was inaugurated under the direction of CPT Samuel Alexander. New personnel were LTC Allan Greene, SGM Valentin Martinez, CPT John Gibbons, SSG Ron Leffler and SSG Bessie Smith.

COMPANIES

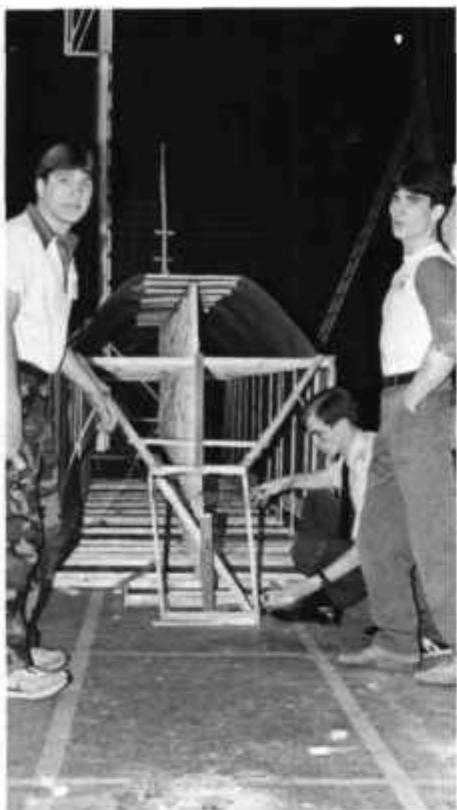

ALPHA

Looking back on the 1982-83 school year in Alpha Company, we all recall many fond memories. Remember the accidents, the pranks, and the many events that took place this year. For instance, the new cadets' first day here--Rats found out what it was to be a Rat and the Old Boys settled into their new positions.

The monotony of our daily routines was occasionally broken by pranks or funny incidents. Who could forget the dark halls at the end of a hard day of studying, and CPT Roberts tripping over the desk in the middle of the hall. Better yet, at one company meeting, remember SSG Hoggatt falling through 1SG Payne's door. We all certainly remember the night of the Homecoming football game when Alpha somehow possessed Delta, Echo, and even Honor Guard guidons.

This year was full of humorous events, yet there were serious times, backed with hard work and determination--that shows the spirit of Alpha Co. Remember when we supported, contributed and won the APO's Ugly Man Contest? Those all-nighters--whether it was studying for finals or working on Homecoming floats to our most challenging project, the Space Shuttle designed in 1/4 scale model by our engineers, SGT Hudson and CPL Knollmueller. They were bold and challenging projects, and WE DID IT!

It was nice to see CPT Humes at an occasional breakfast formation. Even though he wasn't very visible, he had a definite hand in leading us to a successful first semester-- two steak dinners and the honors of having the Disciplinary and Military Plaques hanging in our halls for excellence in those respective fields.

The most valuable accomplishments this year have undoubtedly been the friendships which we have made. As our friendships grew, pride in Alpha Company grew. We all learned, under able leadership, how to pull together and make the most of this year. With pride and a feeling of accomplishment, we made it!!

CHARLIE

Times were fun, now and then, and here are some of them to remember:

- Jerry's kids gave him a bath
- Spiva going A.W.O.L. to be a mercenary
- Three naked Indians in the Battle of Lexington
- The 3 A.M. breakfast
- SGT Back shaved!
- The great Charlie "set ups" that failed
- Charlie won a guidon
- The day shades were reg
- The day Yoder shaved -- he went too far and got all of his head
- The day Echo's guidon turned up in Charlie
- 4 of 5 starters of the Conference 1st Place Basketball were from Charlie
- Toilet paper as a deadly weapon
- 3D CQ parties
- Rats in season
- The brown bucket on the flagpole.

DELTA

If we think back to the beginning of the year, we think of the fun we had. As time progressed, things got more serious. This year does have a lot of memories.

Remember:

- when Smith was tied.
- when the laughing machine went off in the mess hall.
- when Zelaya was thrown into the bushes just because Capt. Serrano didn't get a letter.
- what happened to Lt. Fittro.
- Worlds of Fun.
- when it rained in Monk's and DeLlano's rooms and snowed in Lt. Clancy's room.
- singing Christmas carols in Echo Halls.
- the big "83" on the quadrangle (D Co. seniors).
- the night Capt. Allard lost his paddle.
- the night Capt. Serrano's key mysteriously ended up in Uppole's room.
- the handcuffs.
- the retired Lt.
- the after taps observation point.

Memories--we have a lot of them. Even though we did not finish this year as the family we once were, all the good times will be remembered by one and all. So, see you at Fittro's for a Toga Party.

ECHO

Remember:

- when Meltzer was Company Commander on Rat Day.
- when 1SG Jarrett and Lt. Sand used the phone 24 hours a day.
- when Forest was put in a laundry bag and rolled down the stairs.
- when 1SG Jarrett lost his ring.
- when Maj. Butler finally found our inter-company TV room.
- when Capt. hung Meltzer out his window.
- Anglen's hot date for Military Ball.
- when Broyles tried plugging in his cup warmer during an electrical storm.
- when everybody got their radio taken away because Hassenstab played his too loud.
- when Hunsicker broke his foot to get out of waiter duty.
- when the guidon got stolen (Rouse).

FOXTROT

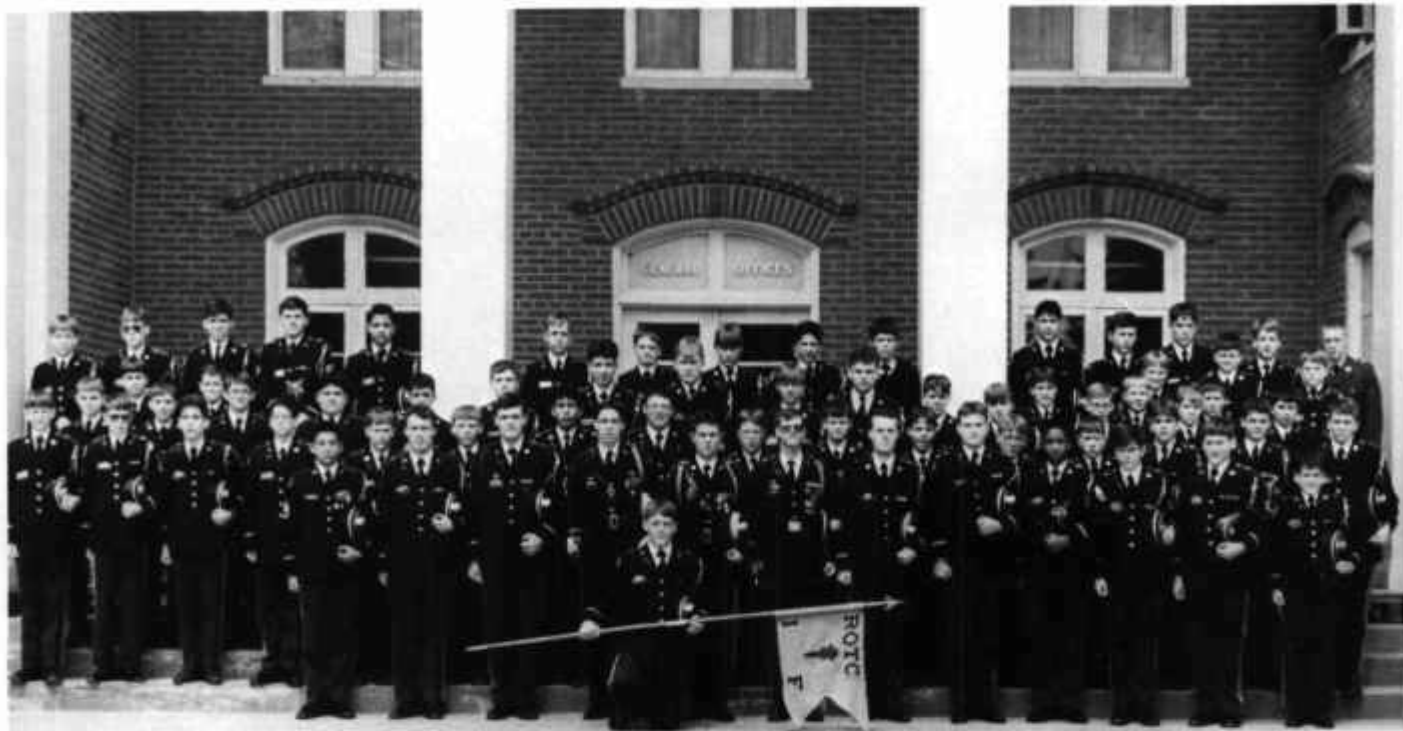

Foxtrot was full of energy. In sports the F-troopers pooled these energies to come out ahead for the athletic guidon nearly every time.

Remember 1SG Hawver's "Downstairs, people - 10, 9, 8, 7, 6, 5, 4, threeeeeee, 2, 1, 0, you're stuck!" and LT Mullins' little first platoon rat get-togethers. Great fun, huh?

And finally, remember all of CPT Bennett's good ol' parties--pizza, skating, popcorn, and swimming. That's what we liked best!

We'll be around for the next few years to make Wentworth a great place to be.

HEADQUARTERS

Remember when a few select individuals felt that Mahrle needed to change his hairstyle and did something about it? Or when Chapmon shaved rings around Richard's legs, LT English and his concepts on Saturday morning discipline, how Bierer and Barton's room was more commonly known as the company lounge, Markes and all his imitations or the Ralph Bowles kickoff, LT Reed's bandroom theatricals, or how CPT Frueh kept everyone's backs off the edge of the chairs, when we had 32 players and 31 horns at the snap drill performance at Kemper Arena, the band trip to Texas and how Buchanan demonstrated how blues were not water repellent, all the beautiful females at the Quality Inn and the rekindling of acquaintances at Six Flags? Yes, these and many more good memories will be cherished by us for a long time. From the Military and Scholastic Guidons to the Basore Award at the end of the year, long live the spirit and price of Headquarters....Headquarters #1.

HONOR

The Wentworth Honor Guard of 1982-83 has had its ups and downs throughout the year, but it has held together through the glories of victory and the agonies of defeat. The trophies won at St. Louis led to much celebration, and the let-downs of Missouri and Nebraska took the immediate party and fun out, but not the spirit of competition. At the National Drill Meet held at the United States Air Force Academy, the Wentworth Honor Guard once again proved its quality. This year the Honor Guard has also managed to acquire guidons and plaques not seen in the guard's halls for many years--the Scholastic and Disciplinary plaques.

Memories were made this year that will never be forgotten. Remember when John had the key to everything. Remember when the tree attacked Manily's weapon, and the weapon that stayed home. Remember the cake on the basketball floor. Remember when the beds in room C went to watch TV, and when Al's room was simultaneously hit by a tornado. Remember when Pat moved to the arms room, and the teddy bears hanging around to watch. Remember the weekend when Marc went wood hauling. Remember when Oscar stayed in Nebraska. Remember the Homecoming Team Line. Remember when Pat decapitated himself in parade. Remember when Rob couldn't eat a hot dot without getting a black eye. Remember what Alpha halls look like at three o'clock in the morning. Remember when Rob and Don were the best of friends at practice. Remember the lopsided Lieutenant at Missouri State. And Remember When....

SPECIAL EVENTS

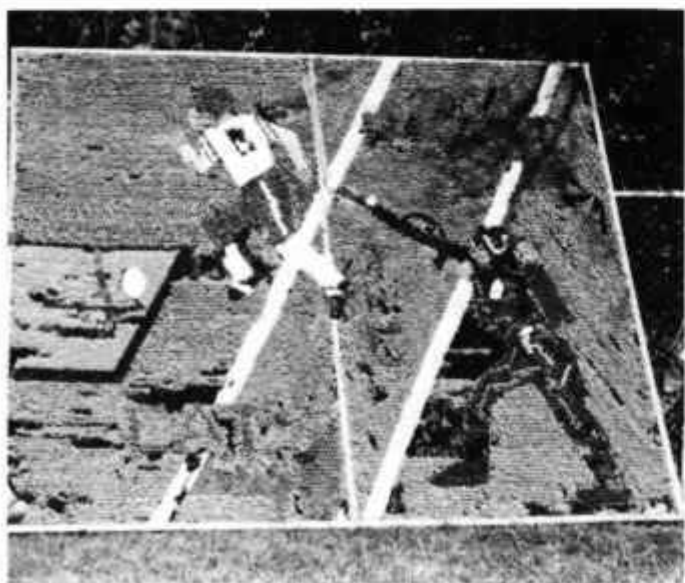

Homecoming

Homecoming was highlighted by honoring the classes of 1955 through 1959. For them the weekend was like a time machine because for periods of time, the Old Boys felt just as though they were back as cadets.

For the cadets, faculty, alumni and guests the weekend included a pep rally, a bonfire, judging of company decorated panels, the parade of the cadet corps downtown Lexington, the football game in Alumni Stadium and the traditional Homecoming Dance.

Allison Allen of Lee's Summit, Missouri was Homecoming Queen, escorted by Chris Irving. Princesses were Rachelle Jorgensen, sister of Richard Jorgensen of Harlan, Iowa and Marie Olga de La Iglesia of Miami, Florida, escorted by Andres Serrano.

Fall Parent Weekend

Over 400 parents, other family members and guests registered for the annual Parents' Weekend on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, October 29-30-31.

Following the Friday evening banquet, the cadets and visitors attended the football game between WMA and the Yellowjackets of Kemper. WMA 28-Kemper 12.

On Saturday following the scholastic visitation by parents to their son's classrooms and lunch in the dining hall, the annual Dads' Drill was held in the fieldhouse. Robert E. Morgan of Radfield, Virginia was judged the best-drilled dad.

A QUOTE FROM
COL J. M. SELLERS, SR.

"Cadets, let your parents know how much you appreciate them.

Parents, let your sons know you love them.

Faculty, remember the care and the trust these parents have placed in us."

Headquarters

Gentlemen of the Band of the 103rd Cadet Corps, it has been a great honor to command the Joe Basore Outstanding Company of the year. The initial key to our efforts seemed futile but on other occasions our achievements such as in Texas, Kansas City, neighboring towns, and of course at Wentworth generated enough conceit to fill Kemper Arena. Nevertheless, this band has left their mark on this institution and they will continue to carry on the tradition of excellence.

When you turn the pages of this annual remember the countless parades, wild bus rides, endless practices, witty songs, clashing personalities, authorized and unauthorized well deserved furloughs and weekend passes, beautiful women of Texas, enthusiastic basketball games, involuntary wrestling matches, nightly two-mile runs, entertaining band trips, group study sessions, cautious chaperones, egotistical pips, punishments, pep talks, failures, successes and most of all the true friendships which will endure forever.....

Commencement

"Excellence in leadership" will be required from the 1983 Wentworth graduating class and others of their generation, Congressman Ike Skelton said in his address to the graduating classes of the 103rd Cadet Corps at annual commencement exercises on Sunday, May 22.

Congressman Skelton of Missouri's Fourth Congressional District, told the graduating class, "Today is the day of your final formation. Today is the day of your final parade. Today the flag will be passed in the traditional flag ceremony, and you will sing the refrain, 'Wentworth, Wentworth, Bless Your Heart,' for the last time. In so doing, you will join the long line of cadets who have gone before you. Your predecessors had challenges; yours will be even greater. The hopes and dreams of a bright tomorrow rest upon the leadership you will provide."
