HOW ABOUT A ...

LITTLE CHANGE!

To live is to grow. To grow is to change.

Wentworth has experienced many "growing pains" as it moves towards a new century.

Wentworth's Degree of Change extended to girls boarding

Cleon Wiggins and cadet discuss upcoming events.

LTC Rick Cottrell,
High School Principal

Of the several changes made at Wentworth this year, staff changes are probably the most obvious. New positions were added and old jobs were filled with new personnel. The two positions available for the first time were an all new high school principal and academic tac officer. Filling these two positions were Col. Richard Cottrell and Capt. Cleon Wiggins.

Col. Cottrell, formerly Capt. Cottrell, was appointed high school principal beginning in January. However, he still holds his current position as college business teacher. Col. Cottrell says, "I like the job a lot; it's a real challenge."

Along with his new job and desires. "I'm back to get more hours for Administration," he came new responsibilities in school taking classes certification in School says.

Academic Tac Officer Cleon Wiggins took the opportunity to work with the cadets at WMA. "The bottom line why I took this job is because I love working with the cadets," states Capt. Wiggins. "I really enjoy it a lot; there's never a dull moment."

Capt. Wiggins' previous job was with the Air Force for 12 years working with personnel and office administration. He retired as an E-6 (staff sergeant). His new job has not affected his life much as of yet, but he notes, "I don't think that I've been here long enough for that since I started on February 24th, but I'm sure my opinion will change!"

THERE ARE DIFFERENT VIEWS OF THE FRESHMAN CLASS by cadets who are old boys and cadets who are new this year. Old boy Stephen Gilliam thinks that freshman classes are not any harder than his junior high classes. New boy Scott Rose thinks that the classes at WMA are considerably harder than his public junior high classes.

Cadet Gilliam thinks that the high school company Charlie is much harder and more disciplined than the junior high company Foxtrot.

For Rose, it's a new experience going to school with such a variety of ages. He likes that fact that the age range gives the younger cadets "big brothers", or "little brothers", if you're the older one.

Cadet Steve DeVore utilizes the new mailboxes in the QM.

MAILBOXES PROVIDE PRIVACY There have been some changes in the mail delivery system. Previously a company officer went to the Quartermaster store and picked up the company mail. Then the officer would deliver the mail to the cadets during formation or whenever convenient.

The new mail system incorporates a wall of mail boxes in the entrance of the Quartermaster store. The boxes have combinations that only the cadet who is assigned to the box knows. The mail is delivered straight from the workers in the QM into the boxes.

Whether the new system is better or worse depends upon the person. Cadet Casey Johnson, senior, says he gets other cadets' mail in his box, and wonders if others get his mail in their boxes. Another drawback is that the lock must be cleared by turning the knob completely around several times. If the lock is not cleared, then the box can be easily opened.

There are good points about the mail box system. Mrs. Thompson, a worker in the QM, states that if the cadet clears to lock, no one else will be handling the mail. This keeps mixups and lost mail to a minimum. The mail box system gives the cadets the security of being the only one to put their hands on their mail.

114th Corps of Cadets:

In recapping the year, I can only say that it has been an eventful voyage. The 114th corps of cadets encountered challenges that no previous corps has ever faced. Among the challenges there were: FEMALES, an obstacle that has never truly resolved thanks to the help of Segura L., day students no longer playing the role of a day cadet, though when they did they were only a detriment to the corps, the liberty beginning, for the most part on Friday, a change that I am sure we all appreciated.

With such drastic changes, one might expect the corps to unravel and descend upon the headstones of its' founders, but such actions would be contrary to tradition and we all are bound by the Wentworth ways. With that, I would like to thank all of the cadets, leaders, officers and NCO's alike, who put forth their time and effort in seeing that the 114th corps of cadets would be a model for others to follow.

Alpha Company - Those of us who remember the notorious words like Crenshaw and Watts remember the trouble, but fun times that Alpha faced last year. In my honest opinion I feel that Alpha company was the most improved company by far this year. As a company, you even went an entire week without receiving a stick. An accomplishment by far.

Charlie Company - After coming off of two straight Basore award winning years, I suppose the company decided that it was time to give another company a chance. Though the company did not maintain its' high standards of previous years, no one is to fault for that. The leadership positions within that company rotated more than the starting quarterback for the Kansas City Chiefs.

Delta Company - Though no company is guaranteed the honor of possessing the coveted Basore award, you all have given 110% in trying to obtain it and for that I commend you all. Though there were a few occasions when the company started to unwind, you all were truly above the rest for the duration of the 1993 - 1994 school year.

Foxtrot Company - Look out there's a sniper on the roof.. Well little chaps, under the tutelage of C/CPT Chirwood, C/ILT DeSaro and Smith, and C/SGT Carroll I hope you all have learned a little more about yourself and what being a mature young man constitutes. Though it is not easy to leave your parents and loved ones at such an early age, I feel that you all have made the transition well. Cadet Griffin would even be proud of you.

Headquarters Company - To elaborate on this company, I can merely say that you all were blessed with a little of everything: a little Edgington, a little Morris, and a little Martin G.

Battalion Staff - This year's battalion staff was a complement of 101 different personalities. From Briscoe, to Wheat, to Hayes, you had different people with different ideas. By the way, "What was so endowing about Wheat's old room." No matter who occupied it, the inhabitant was always guilty of sleeping through B.R.C. and many other formations. With the year being as demanding as it was I would like to send praise out to the following staff members-. C/MAJ Gourlay, C/CPT Wayanko, C/ILT Jackson, C/ILT Rish, and my right hand man Command Sergeant Major Rodriguez.

Well my tenure as Battalion Commander is over and now I must depart in search of more quantifying voyages. With that I say, tomorrow is a new day, but you'll never forget yesterday.

Battalion Staff - A. Rish, B. Dillingham, C. Wyanko, D. Gourlay, A. Gold, A. Rodriguez, S. Jackson, R. McClatchey

ALPHA COMPANY

Mighty Alpha:

"Listen up people! This is your Company Commander!" To the greatest company on the campus - I commend you for a year well done.

Although at times it appeared as if I wasn't the most available of folks, I really appreciate the effort that was put out by you all. You guys pulled Alpha out of the god awful, tarnished, mud hole that former leaders have pushed us into. You guys have turned a social experiment gone bad into a high-speed, low drag, highly motivated unit that has proven beyond a reasonable doubt that we can outshine, out clean, out march, out party, out...

Despite the fact that every company has sent us all of the people they weren't mature enough to handle, we accepted those people and made a unit that became the backbone of our corps.

If I could do it again, if I was given all my other opportunities of "advancement," I would still take Alpha, the only company worth being in.

To my Company Staff: I couldn't have done anything without you guys. The company never would have survived. Even though some of you shammed a little harder than others, your effort and dedication is note worthy.

CHARLIE COMPANY

At some point in the life of every organization, it will hit a high-water mark and then sink into a pit until it rises and later falls again in a continuous cycle.

Such is the case with Charlie Company and the 114th Corps of Cadets.

Because of uncontrollable changes in the leaders within the company, motivation was at an all-time low. For those of you who are true "Charlie Cadets", I would like to congratulate you on a job well done in the company. For those who ran the middle of the road, I hope that you improve yourself and give more to the company next year in a positive manner. For those that remain, with some motivation and self-discipline, you can help the company become the best in the corps.

Alas, Wentworth, I bid you farewell with a prayer.

Dawgs on the Prowl, Sir!

To My Family: Who let the dawgs out? Who? Who?

It's amazing how much progress you've achieved. I'm proud of each and every one of you! You have done what few others could do, and what many refused to do, and what countless could not hang!

We broke you down and gave you a new foundation. We gave you a huge heart with pride, honor and dignity to fill it. We taught you to be the best, showed you how to be the best, and we told you that you were going to be the best. You learned it, lived it, and loved it, and that's why DELTA is second to none!

I want to thank all of you for these memories. You'll never forget anyone; you're friends for life.

Also, thanks to the ones who stuck it out with me since last year: Habibi, Abdallah, Miranda, Ferrer, Farmer, Maguire, Schell and Kennaugh. To my staff Lind, Alverado, Jeffrey, Kennaugh, Habibi, Marshall and Miranda: I couldn't ask for a better staff. If it wasn't for you, I wouldn't be a commander.

You are brothers forever and Dawgs for life. Remember, Delta Dawgs never die!

HEADQUARTERS

Rockin' Steady, Sir!

To Mighty HQ:

You did very well this year and made me extremely proud.

Like I told you the first day, you are the most active and diverse of any company on campus. You ranged from 14 years to 23 years old, participated in band, Color Guard, Honor Guard, sports, APO, etc. There was not an event on campus that did not have an HQ member in it somewhere.

To the Falcons: I wish you the best of luck, even though you aren't going into the army.

The females did extremely well and paved the way for many to follow.

You all can be proud of your performance at AFI, Military Ball, band contests and concerts, and at graduation.

I care about each and every one of you very, very much and it hurts to say good-bye. You are a very find group of young men and women and you deserve the Special Distinction status you earned on Graduation Day.

FOXTROT COMPANY

Stay and fight, sir!

Gentlemen:

As the year comes to an end, it is now my turn to give a synopsis of F. Co.

Although throughout the year there have been a few bad times, all I can remember are the good ones. Your performance is commendable and I am damn proud of each and every one of you. You have surpassed your peers in self discipline, common courtesy, and overall respect for others.

But most important you have learned a lot more about yourselves by being here. Only by being in an environment where high standards are expected will you perform to the best of your ability.

Next year some of you will return and some of you will move on. For those of you staying, instill in the new RATS the traditions of this school of which you are now a part. For those of you leaving, take with you the fundamentals you have learned while being a cadet. Most of all, don't forget your friends and the bonds you have now made.

As you go through life, keep your head held high and your feet firmly planted on the ground, and when times get tough, hold your ground and STAY AND FIGHT!

Till we meet again,

ATHLETICS AT WMA

All Cadets at Wentworth MUST Participate in at least one sport per year.

Participation in athletics at WMA is stressed a great deal. All cadets must participate in at least one sport per year. Among the several sports offered are football, soccer, basketball, wrestling, swimming, track, tennis, golf, as well as several other intramural sports.

Being on a team can change a cadets attitude to work together as a unit. It can also change the cadets self-esteem as they progress and become better. Teamwork helps improves minds as well as bodies. Athletics at WMA can make a cadets stay at Wentworth more challenging and enjoyable!

College Sports Comes to an End of an Era at WMA

Among the several changes that occurred this year at Wentworth, there were some changes made that will affect WMA in the upcoming years as well. Junior college athletics at Wentworth will no longer exist after this year.

Football Coach Dick Gwinn said, "I really feel that athletics has been a major role here at Wentworth and it will be missed by both the cadets and faculty."

Coach Hughes stated, "I think that everyone will miss the exciting arch rivals, Kemper and WMA, go at it in their head to head football and basketball battles. There's nothing that beats the excitement of the crowd roaring as WMA displays an outstanding performance. I know that I'll miss it!"

High School

The 1993 High School Dragon Football team produced a very exciting season with a (4 - 4) record. Of the four games lost there was a combined points spread of 12 points, losing three games by two points or less in the last few minutes.

This season produced excitement as well as some great stars. Nathan Proctor ran for 1,231 yards, breaking the school record set in 1985 by Bill Sellers. Proctor was also elected first team CRC running back and kicker, and was elected to KMZU Dream Team. Senior Peter Lind, Co-Captain with Nathan Proctor, was nominated honorable mention for his efforts at fullback and defensive lineman. Senior Craig Jeffrey was nominated honorable mention for offensive lineman. The Dragons placed 2nd in the military state tournament after a narrow loss to Missouri Military Academy 19-20, and then returning to defeat Kemper with a score of 46-6.

"Soccer at WMA kicked off to an exciting and spirited season," says Rafael Miranda.

"The whole team was so excited when we won our first two games!" However, a lot of enthusiasm disappeared when we tied our second and third game. The entire season went just about average if you glance at our 5-5-3 record, but if you look at the season from a different point of view, you'll see that we achieved a lot more than our record shows." Coach Johnson, WMA soccer coach, took over the team this year after coaching the college team for several years. He helped improve the season by bringing a 500 record, as opposed to last years losing record. A high point of this years season was when WMA beat Kemper at Kemper with a score of (6-6). "Most players agreed that the busrides were games and adventures in themselves!" The players enjoyed each other's company, and sharing their excitement about a glorious victory or an upsetting loss," stated Kevin Wheat.

Philip Manning said, "Excellence was displayed on the field at all times, and everybody gave 100%." Receiving an honor for the most goals this season was Horacio Cevallos. Rafael Miranda was nominated as an all district player, and David Mendoza was nominated as honorable mention in district play. The team took second in the Military State Soccer Tournament.

PARENTS WEEKEND

Sports, Academics, and Social Life

On October 15-17, WMA held it's annual Parents Weekend sponsored by the Parents Club here at Wentworth. Most parents visited the campus and spent the weekend with their cadets. They engaged in various activities which were occurring around campus, and received reports of their cadets progress from WMA staff and faculty.

Some of the activities which parents and cadets participated in were watching the high school football and soccer games, visiting with teachers, a breakfast meeting with the general, a Parents Club banquet, and dinner with their cadets.

"The weekend was a complete success! It was a joyous activity which went just as it was planned. You could tell by the expression on peoples faces that they were having the time of their lives!" stated Mrs. Mary Ann Florence.

MILITARY BALL

"A Star Spangled Evening"

The familiar slogans of World War II combined past and present to highlight Wentworth's annual Military Ball, March 12 in the Academy's Wikoff Fieldhouse.

The Wentworth Parents Club and Academy service fraternity transformed the fieldhouse into the good ole' red, white and blue, including Wentworth's own huge Garrison Flag from the forties (with only 48 stars). The colors and decorations continued the American theme of The Parents Club Gala Auction's "A Star-Spangled Evening", held Friday, March 11, at the Westin Crown Center Hotel, Kansas City.

As always, the Jimmy Tucker Orchestra led the dancing off with the big band sound of the forties, followed by the popular rock of disc jockey Dave Cooley '76.

The 1994 Military Ball, Queen judge was Kansas City Chiefs football star, Derrick Thomas, who selected Aurelia Sorrel, Phoenix, Ariz., as Battalion Queen.
