The Yearbook staff and the Class of 2008 proudly dedicate this yearbook to LTC "Coach" Bob Levy. Thank you for all you do for us, Coach! LTC

Principal, Football Coach, Disciplinarian,
Mentor, Friend

COACH LEVY

That's him!

ABOUT COACH LEVY...

LTC (WMA) Robert Levy was born and raised in Lexington, attended Wentworth and earned his Associate of Arts degree in 1968. He is a member of the Wentworth Athletic Hall of Fame. He received his BA and MA degrees in Secondary School Administration at Northeast Missouri State University, now Truman State. He received his Specialist degree from Lindenwood University.

LTC Levy has fourteen years experience as a high school principal, in addition to his eighteen years experience as a coach at both the college and high school level. While principal at the Chillicothe, Missouri High School, that school achieved the Missouri GOLD STAR rating for meeting stringent criteria in continuous improvement of test scores and school climate for 2005.

His school also attained the very demanding standards of the federal government's No Child Left Behind law.

LTC Levy brings a high energy level, experience, high standards, and exceptional concern and compassion for the young people placed in his care. He and his wife Carol reside in Lexington. They have two sons.

"There's so many things about Coach Levy it's hard to clarify, to put into even one phrase. That man has stuck with me since day one. He has been like a second father to me. I love him through the good times and the bad times we've been through. He is the most courageous and dedicated man I know. I look up to him as not only a mentor, but a hero."

-Cadet Chad Wilson
Class of 2008

LTC Levy took groups of cadets Christmas caroling to spread good cheer around the community.

"Giving of himself to help young men and women be successful in their lives has been a life long goal for LTC Bob Levy. His enthusiasm, his caring attitude, his extreme high energy level each day to set a high standard for the cadets/students is a way of life for him. Giving anything other than his all is just not acceptable for him. His commitment to being a coach, teacher, mentor, and a friend is what makes him rise above the rest of the crowd. We are very thankful to have him on our staff here at the Academy. And I am proud to call him my friend!"

-COL Michael Lierman,
Executive Vice President/Chief of Staff

COL Lierman and LTC Levy serving the food at the Christmas dinner.

Coach Levy talks with Cadet Jorge Bujdud in the hallway between classes.

"Coach Levy is the backbone of the academics. He is the most dedicated person to the success of the Cadets here at Wentworth, as well as the success of the Academy."

- Capt. Pam Grohs
HS Registrar

Our Thoughts on the Wentworth Football Team 2007

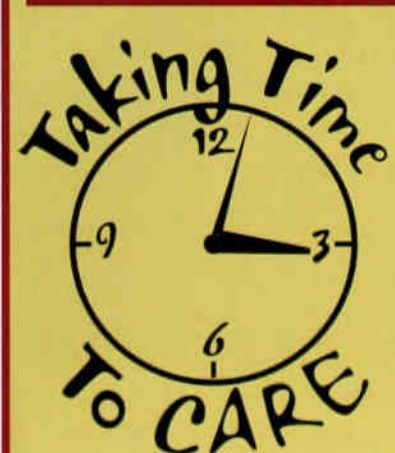

My words are going to sound familiar and probably somewhat cliché, based on the feedback I have been reading regarding the football team this year and the coaches we are lucky to have at Wentworth. No matter how cliché or repeated, I feel they are worth saying. Each week of the football season it was difficult to explain to people the sense of victory we felt after watching the team play. Only one week did we outscore our opponents, but every week we saw victories in our team.

This all starts with Coach Levy. Only when friends and family came to watch were they able to see what we had been telling them about. They, like us, would come to the game expecting to see your typical football game. What they couldn't explain as the game ended, was how a team that normally looked overmatched and outnumbered played so hard. "They never quit"... I wonder how many times those words are spoken at a Wentworth game. In the middle of it all is this iron of man...

...Our first trip to Wentworth....We were touring campus on a hot, very hot August day. Our son was interested in going to Wentworth and football had topped his interest. As we walked by the field we saw Coach. He broke away from practice & made his way up the hillside. As he neared us his gray shirt was soaked with sweat, his face red, but the two things that defined this man were evident..... a huge, sincere, full of energy and life smile and a Wentworth Dragon emblem worn across the T-shirt. He put his hand out and has never let go of my son. My wife asked him "How do you stand this heat"? His reply, "I LOVE IT!!!"

Now, that all sounds great. We have all heard of people that love football, are great people and love kids. But that is just the surface of this man. He does this for every kid he comes in contact with. He tells them when he loves them and that he will always love them, but he also lets them know when they are in pain in the ..., well you know. He tells parents to call him anytime, "I don't sleep much", he says. When you call he answers his phone and helps you. Sometimes the parents (I speak for myself especially) can be a bigger pain in the... well you know, than the kids. But you would never know by the way Coach talks to you. As time goes by you realize how he achieves his victories. Why anytime a person watches Wentworth Football they realize the team doesn't quit and they see this remarkable person leading them into life victories every step of the way. Coach teaches victories in life lessons. He considers helping people victories, and he hates to lose. Losing a chance to help a kid or a family is not an option.

I Think I Can I KNOW I Can

Each family and team member can probably recount examples of this experience with Coach. Whether it is benching a player for discipline or poor grades, giving the official an ear full when his players are being treated unfairly, or pulling his players around him, down in the game with no chance to win, yet Coach clapping his hands saying these familiar words, "Ok, ok, we're ok now. Come on now, play hard. Lets get this one". Then the unexplainable happens; 11 players, beaten and bruised, come roaring out of the huddle, finish the game and hug each other, congratulate the other team, and walk back to the locker room. The next week, they come back out and play hard again. We drive back home and brag to our family and friends about our Wentworth football team.

Standing beside him all the way is Coach Grosso. If you want to know the truth about something, ask Coach Grosso. He is a man that will not candy coat it for you. He knows exactly what needs to be done to win, yet understands that it isn't a perfect world at Wentworth. You don't have kids that have played together since 5th grade. You also don't have kids that will be able to play on Friday regardless of what their grades or discipline status may be. Now, I say he understands it, but he doesn't like it. It isn't because he wants to win for him, he wants to win for his players. You see, Coach and him share a common bond. They love people, and they see kids as people. Maybe the key at Wentworth starts with the common belief that these two men share, starting with the football player, but echoing throughout the halls of the classrooms they go to as well. They believe that people are good first, make them prove to you that they aren't before you condemn them, then don't condemn them, still believe they are good and help them. This is why kids play for them, learn for them and love them.

If someone were to ask me what my wishes for the future it is simple..... I want to see Doak, Duke, Nick, Anthony, Chad and the rest of the team at an alumni weekend, some of them fitting into their letter jackets nicely, others wearing it a little tight around the middle from the passing years. Some with gray hair and others with no hair. Maybe one of them is a doctor, another a lawyer, maybe one of them getting ready to retire from the military. They are walking the campus, remembering the rules they used to break, the trouble they got into, all the good times they had and friendships they made. Maybe I am around, maybe Coach is too, or maybe we have had our time. I can see these young men, now older with families, who have all made differences in the future. And maybe just one of them looks up to the heavens and says, "Thanks Coach, we won."

Sincerely,
Bruce and Annie Wilson

Don't be afraid to dream big!

In Memory of Jim Cook

Jim's first year at WMA was with the 100th Corps of Cadets. In the many years that followed, he truly came to value and love the school, staff, and cadets. He took the task of creating a photo history for a school so steeped in tradition very seriously. Jim received the Wentworth Distinguished Service Award in 2001.

—Mrs. Susie Cook

Jim Cook Photography has been taking pictures of cadets at Wentworth for 28 years. It was always a pleasure to work with Jim through the years. Jim was more than just the Academy's photographer. He was a friend to the cadets and the staff. Jim had a way of making you smile when he took your picture, no matter if it was an individual picture or a whole Corps picture. He would talk to you and when he saw the best shot, he took it. He always made the effort to arrange the schedule so it worked out for the Academy. He provided a great service to us and the thousands of cadets he photographed. We truly appreciate all that Jim and Susie have done for us through the years here at Wentworth.

Speaking for all of us here at Wentworth Military Academy, we salute Jim for a job well done....we will miss him each photo day in the future.

—Colonel Michael Lierman, Chief of Staff

Old boys will remember the small, fiery photographer who drove the latest model "hot" cars and showed up with his wife, Susie, when it became a "Kodak Moment" for yearbook photos and special events. Driving from their studio in Basehor, KS, Jim and Susie would eat lunch with the corps on those days and Jim swore if the kitchen staff saw him coming they served "scroodles and noodles". Wentworth was the only place he ever, ever ate them, and he questioned even that.

Jim passed away on February 3, 2008. He was very dedicated to Wentworth and worked countless hours. He truly looked at life through the lens of a camera. To Jim,
"We salute you ole friend, you will be sorely missed!"

Note: Susie is going on with the help of his niece, Ashley, to continue serving Wentworth. For that we are lucky.

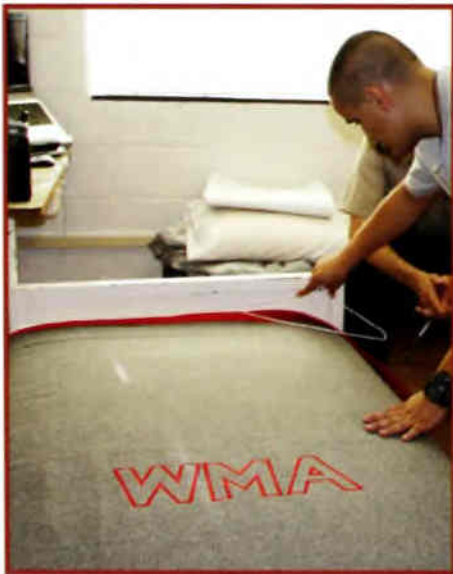

—Norma Maring, Alumni Director Emeritus 35

Rat Training

This is where.....

.....the fun begins!

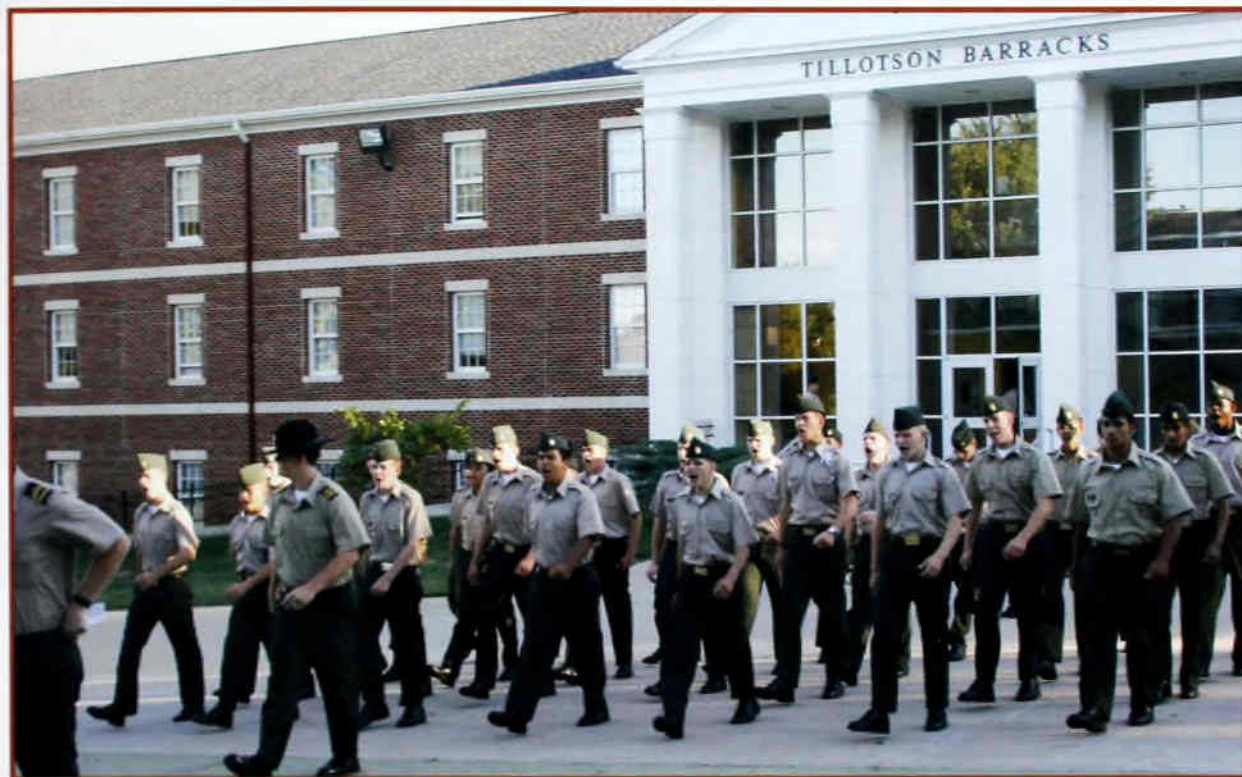

This is where the fun begins. The Recruits At Training (RATs) learn the policies and procedures they'll need to know to be successful at Wentworth. They will experience drill and ceremony, shining parties, room drills, shower drills, mess hall drills, and PT. RATs are required to learn the RAT facts in order to receive their hat brass, which is the first step in succeeding at Wentworth.

Food, Fun, and Friends Steel Beach Picnic

A Steel Beach picnic is a time honored Navy tradition that allows hard working Sailors to take an afternoon break from the round-the-clock operation of a warship at sea. For a few hours, Sailors are relieved of their duties and participate in an open-air cookout with fun and games, and perhaps even a dip in the ocean. The Steel Beach picnics for WMA Cadets had all the trappings of a Navy event, except for the gray ship and the ocean blue!

THE BIG GAME: WMA RED DRAGONS vs. MMA COLONELS
Missouri Military School Championship Game. Many Old Boys came back for the big football game. It was a hard fought game, but Wentworth was devastated with a loss. It really upset the whole campus including the team. The final score was 46-6.

HELICOPTER COMMEMORATION

This year marked the 20 year anniversary of the Vietnam Memorial that is dedicated to all WMA Alumni who lost their lives in the Vietnam War. New flagpoles were erected and flags of each branch of the military flew proudly over the Memorial. Major William Adams' family returned to WMA to help Major Ratcliffe present the wreath in honor of all who fought and lost their lives in the War.

HOMEcoming ROYALTY

Cadet Jenna Hansen was chosen as Homecoming Queen. Cadets Mary Kuntzman and Jessica LaJaunie were the Homecoming Princesses.

WMA FOOTBALL

GET UP, LOOK UP, NEVER GIVE UP!

AND THE CROWD GOES
WILD!

Throughout the season, the team had their ups and downs. They hung in there and fought until the end like all Dragons do. They were determined and when things didn't go the way they would've liked, they saw what they needed to fix and that made them work harder. That is all you can do to make yourself better at doing things. The coaches were an awesome support to all of the football players. The coaches were Coach Bob Levy, Coach Dan Grosso, Coach Chris Brooks, and Coach Sam Ratcliffe.

Coach Levy: "This football season presented a number of interesting challenges. Balancing academics & athletics has always been a fine line and with our rigorous academic standards this issue was very demanding. I am so proud of those players who made the sacrifice and showed the dedication to excel on both levels. As the season progressed we grew into a team, a real band of brothers with great energy and focus."

Coach Grosso: "The boys played hard all year round and they showed great character by not giving up. Even when it looked hopeless during the fourth quarter, they still stuck in there. Our record doesn't reflect the success we had this year, but these kids learned how to work for a common goal under adverse conditions and for that they are winners in my eyes."

BATTALION STAFF

"It's been a great year! I am honored to have been your Battalion Commander for the 128th Corps of Cadets. A lot of things have changed throughout the year, but I am proud to say that the Corps never failed its expectations. There were rough times in our Corps, no doubt, but there will always be rough times, ladies and gentlemen. Keep your head up and keep up that Dragon fire that burns within the Corps. As Coach Levy always says, "Never say never, and never say can't." For the 128th Corps, I am proud of every single one of you, I truly am. For the incoming 129th Corps, pick up the fight and good luck. En Dieu Est Tout...."

Fourth row: Adenis Colon. Dejohn Tyler, Bobby Mullin, Vincent Mantia, Darryl Mullikin, Emosi Time, ScottWilliamson, and Jeffrey Smith.

"Brothers, I believe that this word holds new meaning to each man in Alpha Company. A man can be a brother to another by blood, by a marriage, or by the spirit. Alpha Company possessed this year the third form. This brotherhood, forged in hardship, tested by adversity, and enjoyed in contentment. Each person in this company has their mark on Alpha, each person marked by the company. We could compare ourselves to others, other companies, other groups of men. We should instead compare ourselves to what we were when we started. There is our true reward, there is our victory. There is Alpha.

Like all good things in this life; they come to a close. The sun is setting and soon this corp will end, the company will end. Yet those who were in it will remember. Remember who we were, what we did, and what we stood for. Then your day will come. I will not be there, nor will the other leaders, only you. You and new cadets of Alpha, who like you, knew nothing of it and are yet unchanged by it. You will teach them and train them. They, in time, will become brothers to you. Brothers to Alpha.

I am reminded of what William Shakespeare said through Julius Caesar in his play. The day of climatic battle, Caesar tells his men, "Tis impossible to know the end of this days business before it comes. But it's enough that the day will end, and then the end be known. And if we meet again, then we'll smile. And if not, then this parting was well made."

Good luck Alpha. I pray for a kind providence to find you all the days of your life. I pray that we may meet again and smile. But if not, our parting is now well made."

---Cadet Captain John Beynon

"Bravo,

I can honestly say that this was one of my favorite years at Wentworth. Leading you guys was an honor that I cannot put into words. Even through the hard times, I appreciated the fact that you put your trust in me and my cadre, and the bond that we shared as a company was unrivaled. Some of you will return to Wentworth and I hope that you make the right decisions, productive to the mission of the Academy that has done so much for those of us who have stood in ranks on the quad. For those of you that graduate, I hope that you utilize the virtues that I have tried to instill in you to succeed in the world outside of the Corps. I thank you for allowing me to call myself your Company Commander, because I am proud to call you my boys."

"It took me until final review to realize and appreciate everything this Academy has done for me. As I looked across the parade field at Charlie Company, it took all I had to keep from tearing up. We have risen to the standard and surprised the Corps time and time again. As a 'New Charlie', the all RAI Company placed first in academics, discipline, and esprit-de-corps, at one time or another. I am strongly convinced that each of you possess the knowledge, skills, and motivation to accomplish whatever you choose as a profession in life. I personally thank each of you for the trials, tribulations, the love and hate. I owe my leadership growth and development to you. The success I may have in the Army as a commissioned officer is because of the lessons and skills developed leading you. It was a fun ride, Charlie--Good Luck, Stay Strong, Air Assault."

"Dear Headquarters Company,

It has been a pleasure to get to know each one of you. This year has had its rocky times, but we have persevered and finished strong. I have learned a great deal from my experiences this year, and I sincerely hope you have gained experience that will help you to become great citizens and leaders in our country.

Above all else, I hope you take away a few lessons that will make you excel above your peers in any environment. First, your integrity is an incredible valuable possession. Keeping a tight hold on your personal integrity will ensure you have the trust of those who surround you, and that trust is essential in any personal or professional relationship. Secondly, you have complete control over your destiny. Only you can choose to rise to the occasion when you are presented with the challenges life throws you. Thirdly, and this goes hand in hand with the previous point, there is no limit to the things that you can achieve if you press on until the end, and never give up. The quality of perseverance will carry you far in every circumstance. And finally, you must believe that no matter what happens to you, everything will work out for the best in time. This faith will sustain you during life's many trials and give you the drive to keep going when all else seems to fail.

I am honored to have served as your commander, and sincerely wish you all the best in your lives and careers. I pray God will bless you in all aspects of life."

Sincerely,
C/CPJ Daniel Sandoz

"Ladies of Tango Company-

Can you believe that the 128th Corps is already over? Seems like just yesterday I was pinning these ranks on as your brand new company commander. Back then I had no idea what I was doing. But now, thanks to you ladies, I have grown as a leader, we all have. We have all, over the course of the year, grown and matured. We have formed a sisterhood and a bond with each other that will never completely fade away. It's a very unique love/hate relationship that we share. The year has had it's ups and downs. We have all made our share of mistakes along the way. But that's okay because the only bad mistake is the one that we don't learn from. Take the lessons you learned here at Wentworth and carry them with you for the rest of your life. No one will care that you could once march in step, or that you could shine your belt buckle down to silver. What they will notice is your professionalism, mannerism, dedication, discipline, but most of all, your pride....

I just wanted to say that I am proud to be your CO this year, this last year, and you should be proud, too. We were the last Tango Company. Congratulations on all of your accomplishments and may you never cease to succeed. You all have amazing potential to make your life whatever you want it to be. Be strong and never give up."
