Lexington, Missouri 64067

www.wma.edu

Wentworth Military Academy and College was founded in 1880 by Stephen G. Wentworth. Today, Wentworth is the oldest military academy west of the Mississippi River.

Wentworth Military Academy & College is a private co-educational boarding military high school and two-year college.

For 9th-12th graders, Wentworth provides an exemplary college-prep education, which builds self-discipline and self-confidence. In our college, small class sizes and personal interaction with faculty allows our traditional and military students to achieve success in academics and in life.

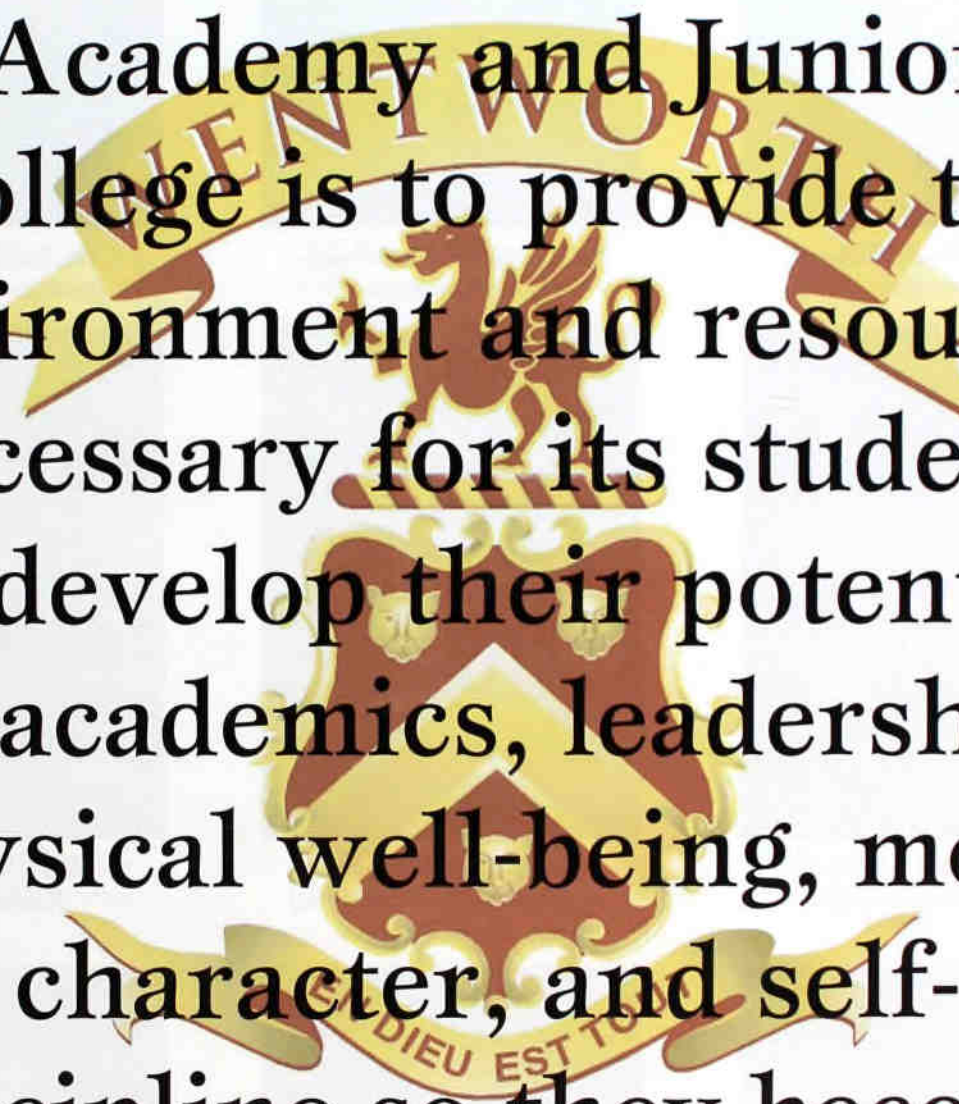

Wentworth is one of only five schools in the country to offer a commission as a second lieutenant in the United States Army after just two years of college.

Wentworth provides a high quality education to our young men and women. The military environment allows our cadets to learn and practice the basics of leadership each and every day, developing important skills they carry with them the rest of their lives. All Wentworth's students participate in athletics. A clear set of rules means our cadets are free to focus on achievement without the distractions so common in most schools today.

Wentworth produces mature young men and women who are self-motivated, well-educated, highly principled, self-confident, respectful of others, and loyal to family, friends, and country.

"The mission of Wentworth Military Academy and Junior College is to provide the environment and resources
necessary for its students to develop their potential
in academics, leadership, physical well-being, moral character, and self-discipline so they become productive citizens in a diverse, global society."

"Although we didn't have the winning record that we would all love to have this first year...it was a great starting point for what will definitely be a strong program in the future. Our goal was to make our opponents forget that we were a first-year college program and we achieved that goal. We competed on a high level and built a very strong foundation for future Red Dragons college soccer teams."

Coach's Corner

"Volleyball is such a sport of momentum and energy. Whatever team has the most is generally on the winning side of the ball. This year, we had an extremely exciting season building the college volleyball program from the ground up.

The student athletes were very attentive, worked hard athletically, and stayed in good spirits throughout the season even though our record was not the strongest. The young women came to practice ready to learn. Their work ethic was impressive day in and day out."

-Coach Lindsey Mesner

Coach Mesner and the team talk strategy before the game at William Woods.

Most Memorable Moment:

"My most memorable moment as a coach was watching our team play in our regional match in St. Louis. Every learning experience throughout the season seemed to shine that day and the ladies played their hearts out in the last game of the season. It was truly a wonderful sight to see them put all they learned to good use. I also enjoyed exploring St. Louis and the Gateway Arch following the match as a team."

Even though we met many trials throughout the season, we all fought as wrestlers to be better everyday. Each of my wrestlers brings something completely unique to the team and accomplished great things on and off the mat. I will always be proud to say I coached these men."

But more than that, we were able to provide our opponents and our fans with a glimpse of things to come. Our players played hard, they never gave up, and they never quit. This was a special group of young men. The teams that follow in years to come will be able to thank them for sticking with it to get our program off the ground."

JC GOLF

Coach Eric Anderson, Daniel Razumovsky, Michael Blackmon, Steven Heitmeyer

"The college golf season got off to a slow start with only a handful of players and not many had even picked up clubs before. So, the call was to make this more of a club team and get the soon to become officers able to play a round of golf and get them set for a lifetime of playing. Because we were a little late in starting the inaugural program, there weren't any games scheduled and the only opponent was the Commandant's Staff, that talked a big game, but only beat us by 10 strokes. We had military conflicts with several of our golfers, so the final roster was whittled down to three. "

---Coach Eric Anderson

"One of the most memorable moments came when Cadet Zane Westfall and the team were over at the driving range. Zane was on the far left side and teed off to within three feet of a little kid on the same driving range and at the other far end. We apologized to the parent, and on the next drive, Zane did the exact thing. It was after that that no one stood to the right of Cadet Westfall when he teed off."

SILVER DOLLAR SALUTE

The tradition of a newly appointed officer giving a silver dollar to the first enlisted person to salute them has its roots in the British regiments originally stationed in colonial America. The salute itself demonstrates a deference to the senior rank of the individual being honored. Newly commissioned British officers were assigned an enlisted soldier to train them, teach them the regiment's history and traditions, and ensure their equipment met appropriate standards. Grateful lieutenants often expressed their gratitude by informally compensating the enlisted soldier with a small sum of money.

In 1816, American second lieutenants received a monthly pay of $25, a $3 ration allowance, and $1 for an enlisted advisor. Lieutenants today are no longer assigned an enlisted advisor, but the responsibility for teaching the newly commissioned officer is embodied in the unique relationship formed between a second lieutenant and his or her first platoon sergeant. During our commissioning ceremony, the awarding of the silver dollar for the first salute symbolizes the new lieutenant's acknowledgement of the enlisted soldier's knowledge and expertise from which they desire to learn—for which they will compensate that soldier one silver dollar, representing the historical amount paid to that enlisted advisor almost 200 years ago.

Homecoming 2011

This years' Homecoming events were outstanding. Starting it off was the Friday night pep rally. All of the fall sports teams were introduced. Even though there was no bonfire due to the dry weather, everyone enjoyed the evening. Saturday brought the Homecoming Parade. The Corp of Cadets, dressed in full blues, showed the town Wentworth pride in the march through downtown Lexington. Then it was on to the football game. Even though the Dragons lost, they still worked hard and played well. The Homecoming Queen and Princesses were introduced. The Homecoming dance was that night. The Corps was pumped for the dance. For three hours we showed off our moves on the dance floor. Smiles were on everyone's faces and we were able to relax and hang out with our friends and classmates. It was a long, but fun weekend full of memories that we will never forget.

Miguel Ortiz (22) jumps through the banner, leading the team onto the field.

Ethan Hannah blocks for the Dragons.

Coach says...

"This season was an exciting one for Wentworth. For the first time in years, we had a full boys team plus a partial girls team...also, we have three runners coming back next year which will form the basis for a stronger program. It is the first year that I have coached where every runner either lettered or medalled in a race. Each individual runner showed improvement as the season progressed."

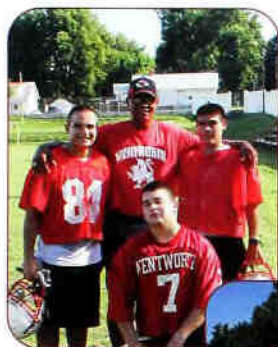

--Coach Don McEwen

Dragons keep cool under pressure

The Dragons went into the season full of hope and excitement. The new lights were installed on the field over the summer, & WMA could once again host Friday night games.

As injury after injury threatened to shorten the Dragons' season, the players held their heads high and achieved the honorable.

I would like to say that I am very proud of the way the players presented themselves over the course of the season. It was a very up and down year where there seemed to be new obstacles for the team to overcome each week. We learned very much about the game of football and the game of life during this season!

-Coach Josh Barge

Team Captain Ethan Hannah (senior) is all over the competition.

OUTstanding Athletes

The 2011 Red Dragons had five athletes selected to the All-District team. The players were selected based on their performance on the field during the three District games. ### Most memorable moment:

"My most memorable moment was the first time the Lady Dragons stepped onto the court. It was during the Conference Tournament and we were playing Kingsville. The ladies from Kingsville were not expecting much of a game, but the Lady Dragons brought the heat. At numerous times during the match, the Lady Dragons were either tied or winning. Although it ended in a defeat, I was truly proud of the girls; they played with a lot of heart."

Challenging season makes Lady Dragons stronger, on and off the court.

Eleana Phillips #23 gets the rebound.

The Dragons offense makes a run down the court.

"The young ladies on the team set out at the beginning of the season on a journey they knew would be challenging. Their goals were to get the girls basketball program started again, compete hard as a team and to learn as much about basketball as they could, improving their skills and scoring more points as the season passed. I believe that not only have they improved their playing, they have also learned some very rewarding lessons along the way, on and off the basketball court."

All I've got to say is that it's been quite a year, but we endured and conquered. You'll probably be reading this in a year or two so wherever you are and whatever it is you're doing, never give up, don't lose control, and keep striving to improve. To Alpha Company.

For the second year in a row I found myself appointed as Alpha Company Commander. My expectations were quite different since the type of people I had in my company were for the most part different from last year. However, I will leave you with the same message I left Alpha with last year. All you need to do to be successful in life is work hard and do more than what is expected of you. Just keep your head up and continue leading the way.

Bravo,

Although I joined the Company late, being the CO for Bravo has been a great experience for me. In a year of transformation on campus we took what we had and made the best of it, of course we had our ups and downs but if being a cadet was easy everyone would do it. I know we have all heard this at one point while here at Wentworth but remember the times spent as a cadet because whether you want to believe it or not you will remember this company and the times you had here at Wentworth for the rest of your life. I want to thank each and every one of you for not only the opportunity to lead Bravo Company but also allowing me to be a member of the brotherhood, it was truly an honor. I will leave you with this, never be afraid to fail because failure is simply a class in life, work for what you want and be grateful for what you have because life is what you make it.

Headquarters Company,
Thank you all for a great year. I really appreciate the challenging experience as Company Commander of HQ. You all have taken a step up from the beginning of the year and you were definitely one of the better Headquarters companies in years past. Keep up the good work and continue to strive for success.

Tango Tango Tango,

What can I say. There were times this year when I'm sure everyone wanted to leave and never see each other again. But when you leave I know that you will miss the bonds you made here. Thinking back, you'll realize that even though you went through some bad times, at least you went through them with the girls to your left and right. Keep in touch with these people, because there are things that you share with them that you will never find with anyone else. For those who are coming back, take what you learned this year and make things better. Keep the things that worked, ditch the things that failed miserably and never lose sight of whatever your goals are. Most of all, work together and don't let this thing tear you apart.

Overall I am thankful I had each and every one of you in my company for one reason or another.

Best of luck,
Amber Lynn Aubertin
